POWER POLE CRASH KNOCKS OUT ELECTRICITY

Electricity to parts of San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax was cut off at 10:25 last night when a car driven by Jane C. Pierard, 50, of 26 Belle Avenue, San Anselmo, severed a San Rafael power pole carrying 12,000-volt lines. She was not injured. San Rafael policemen Charles Brobeck and Ronald M. Averiette (left), inspect the tangled wires. A Pacific Gas and Electric Co. crew worked this morning (right) to remove the pole and restring its lines on a new pole. Most service was restored by midnight, PG&E said, but a few customers were to be without electricity until mid-afternoon today.

Detroit Ties Series With 13-1 Win In Delayed Game

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The aroused Detroit Tigers clobbered St. Louis pitching for a record-tying 10 runs in the third inning today and squared the World Series at three games each with a 13-1 victory behind Denny McLain, a two-time loser.

Jim Northrup's grand slam homer off relief pitcher Larry Jaster was the big blow in the third when the Tigers sent 15 men to the plate against loser Ray Washburn and three others.

It was the biggest Series inning since Hack Wilson misjudged a fly ball at Philadelphia in 1929 and opened the gates for 10 runs by the Philadelphia A's against the Chicago Cubs. The A's, trailing 8-0 at the time, also sent 15 men to bat.

The final score didn't quite match the New York Yankees' 18-4 rout of the New York Giants in 1936.

Julian Javier's single with two out and two on in the ninth saved the Cards from suffering the most lopsided shut out in series history.

Tigers first, 0

The lights were turned on. McAuliff struck out on three pitches. Stanley flied to Maris on the first pitch. Kaline struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals first, 0

McLain threw out Brock. Flood lined to Stanley. Wert reached high to glove Maris' bouncer and threw him out.

Tigers second, 2

Cash walked. Horton lined a double to the wall in left center, scoring Cash. Northrup struck out. Freehan singled to left, scoring Horton, and went all the way to third when the ball skipped past Brock for a two-base error. It was Freehan's first hit in 71 trips to the plate in the series. Wert walked on a full count. With a 1-0 count on McLain, Cardinals' pitching coach Billy Muffett visited Washburn at the mound. McLain grounded into a double play, Maxvill to Javier to Cepeda.

Two runs, two hits, one error, one left.

Cepeda drilled a single to left. Kaline made a running catch of McCarver's looping fly to short right. Shannon bounced into a double play, Stanley to McAuliffe to Cash.

McAuliffe walked on four pitches. Stanley singled to left, McAuliffe stopping at second. Kaline lined a singled to center, scoring McAuliffe and sending Stanley to third. Larry Jaster, a left-hander, replaced Washburn. Cash singled to center on Jaster's first pitch, scoring Stanley and sending Kaline to third. Horton walked on a full count, filling the bases.

Northrup hit a grand slam homer into the upper deck in right field, scoring Kaline, Cash and Horton ahead of him to put the Tigers ahead 8-0. It was the eleventh grand slam in Series history. Joe Pepitone of the New York Yankees it the last one in 1964 against the Cardinals.

Ron Willis came in to pitch for St. Louis. Freehan walked on four pitches. Wert was hit by a pitch. McClain sacrificed, and was out Shannon to Javier, who covered first. McAuliffe drew an intentional walk, filling the bases. Stanley bounced to Cepeda, who threw to McCarver, forcing Freehan at the plate.

Kaline singled to left center for his second hit in the inning, scoring Wert and McAuliffe with Stanley taking third. Dick Hughes replaced Willis on the mound for the Cardinals. Cash bounced a single over Cepeda's head down the right field line, Stanley scoring and Kaline moving to third. It was Cash's second hit in the inning. Horton hit a liner that deflected off Hughes' glove and beat it out for a single, Kaline scoring and Cash taking second. Northrup flied to Brock.

Ten runs, seven hits, no errors, two left. (The 10 runs tied the all-time Series record for one inning set by the Philadelphia Athletics against the Chicago Cubs in the 7th inning on Oct. 12th, 1929.)

Cards third (0)

Javier flied to Kaline. Maxvill flied to Northrup, Dave Ricketts batted for Hughes and lined a single to center. Brock flied to Kaline.

Board Opposed To Oil, Gas Drilling

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County supervisors want no part of the oil and gas drilling operations in San Pablo Bay, even if the drilling platforms are camouflaged with shrubbery, live or plastic.

On a motion by Supervisor Peter H. Behr and a second by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, the five-man board yesterday unanimously asked the California Lands Commission either to (1) reject the drilling operations or (2) hold a public hearing in Marin to get the public's reaction. (Other supervisors' stories, pages 12 and 14.)

Members of commission are Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy and Finance Director Caspar W. Weinberger.

Behr said he is concerned about the effect of 8,000-square-foot platforms on the esthetics of the bay. "I do believe that it is important to have Mr. Finch and Mr. Flournoy exposed to our public here. Let them come down into our area and hold a little old hearing."

Supervisor John F. McInnis wanted the county to let the lands panel know "we oppose this development."

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said he opposes the drilling operations from the standpoint of pollution. "As long as they're putting up platforms and people are working, there will be litter."

The action followed a briefing by D. J. Everitts, assistant executive officer of the commission.

Everitts assured the supervisors that the platforms will be low over the water, about 15 feet high at most. "All operating sites will be landscaped and screened with srubbery."

"Now how are you going to water all of the landscaping on the platforms?'' asked Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Everitts replied that imitation and plastic trees could be used.

"Are you serious?" asked Kettenhofen.

"They've used plastic palm trees in Southern California," Behr broke in.

"I was just thinking about that," said Everitts. "Personally

Coup Against Thieu Regime Is Thwarted

SAIGON (AP) — A coup aimed against President Nguyen Van Thieu's government was thwarted last night, the government said today.

(In Washington the State Department had no immediate comment on reports today of an attempted coup against the Saigon government. , Officials who were closely following the reports advised caution in evaluating any effort to upset the government of President Nguyen Van Thieu at the present time.)

The report of the attempted uprising followed by hours a government announcement that South Vietnam's armed forces were on full alert. The official spokesmen claimed no knowledge of a coup attempt.

But one spokesman said: "You can expect a lot of people to be arrested in the next few days, all as a result of the coup attempt that failed."

Other sources said several high ranking Vietnamese Marine officers—majors and colonels—had already been arrested. A source close to Marine commandant, Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, said he knew of no such arrests.

The president's office said Thieu was in the palace and also denied any knowledge about a coup attempt.

The government source who told of the coup said details still were fuzzy and that it was not yet known who was behind it or how widespread it was. From all indications did not get far.

Terra Linda Branded Seedbed For Anarchy

"Terra Linda is a breeding ground for anarchism,'' according to Gary Peter Davis, who conducted a summer program for teen agers at the Terra Linda Recreation Center.

His warning was contained in a report to the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District Board last month, which was received by the San Rafael Board of Education last night.

Davis, a student at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, noted that one of his self-imposed duties during the summer was talking to teenagers "about anything and everything."

"In these conversations one recurring theme appeared which frightens and chills me . . . anarchism," he reported.

"Terra Linda is a breeding ground for anarchism," he said. "I did not believe it until teens told me seriously that they had often thought about blowing up water towers on the hills or burning down stores in the shopping center or using the rec buildings for bonfires.

"They were not kidding. They would do it given the right circumstances," Davis reported.

Breeding grounds for anarchism have been societies which were repressive, impersonal and strictly and unjustly legalistic, he contended.

"Anarchism is in the minds of

DIRTY WORDS DEBATE

College Students Warned Not To Peril Freedoms

By MARY LEYDECKER

"You're threatening academic freedom," Marin Junior College District board president, Theodore C. Wellman last night told College of Marin students who defended the use of obscenities in the college newspaper.

Although the students had earlier charged that adults who objected to the words were more "hung up" with semantics than with the war in Vietnam and oppression in the ghettoes, Wellman told the students that a "backlash" could do them a great deal of harm.

Speaking at a workshop held by the college board of trustees to discuss matters of interest with students, Wellman said, "Don't push the community too far."

Referring to discussion by the students about raising more money for the college in the community, Wellman told the students that if they provoke the community, the chances of getting more money are slim.

"You've discovered the shock value of four-letter words," Wellman said, "but you don't want irate citizens to end academic freedom."

The students, who had vehemently defended their point of view during a two-hour discussion which has held without formal rules or a

Peace Prize Goes To France's Cassin

OSLO (UPI)—The 1968 Nobel Peace Prize was awarded today to French legal expert Rene Cassin.

Cassin was awarded the prize for his work in writing the United Nations Declaration on Human Rights.

It was the first peace prize since 1965 and carried a monetary award of $70,000. The Nobel Peace Prize Committee decided not to award a prize for the years 1966 and 1967, and the $64,000 for those years will be added to the general Nobel fund.

The last person to receive the prestigious award was the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. He was selected in 1964. The prize went to the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) in 1965.

Cassin, 81, who was born in Bayonne in Southern France, was a member of the committee which in 1946 formulated the Human Rights Declaration together with the late Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

According to the Norwegian Nobel Committee, he has used the last 20 years of his life to work for the realization of the declaration, both on a universal and a European scale.

Norwegian observers said the decision to give Cassin the prize for his work in human rights emphasized the committee's concern over that subject——whether he is a Biafran starving, an American Negro seeking civil rights of a Czechoslovak Communist deprived of his rights by invasion.

Johnson Orders Negotiations With Israel On War Planes

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — Responding to a congressional call for sales of U.S. jets to Israel, President Johnson told Secretary of State Dean Rusk today to start negotiations with the Israel government.

Both Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey and Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon have advocated providing supersonic war planes to the Israelis.

Congress has passed an aid bill provision for such action if deemed necessary for Israel's defense.

Israel has long sought 50 F4 supersonic Phantom jets in the aftermath of the 1967 Arab-Israeli conflict while the Arab states were receiving war equipment from the Soviets.

Johnson made his action known in a statement upon his signing of the foreign aid authorization bill.

"I have taken note of section 651 concerning the sale of planes to Israel," Johnson said in referring to the legislative provision saying Congress favors steps to negotiate sales of aircraft to Israel.

Johnson's move will probably touch off more debate in the United Nations over the Mideast crisis.

Presently Arab leaders are giving the silent treatment to Israel's nine-point plan for peace presented yesterday.

Any of the 13 Arab League nations were entitled to the "right to reply" but none did.

The Israeli plan detailed in Assembly debate by Foreign Minister Abba Eban would give Israeli diplomatic recognition by Arab nations, something the Arabs have always refused.

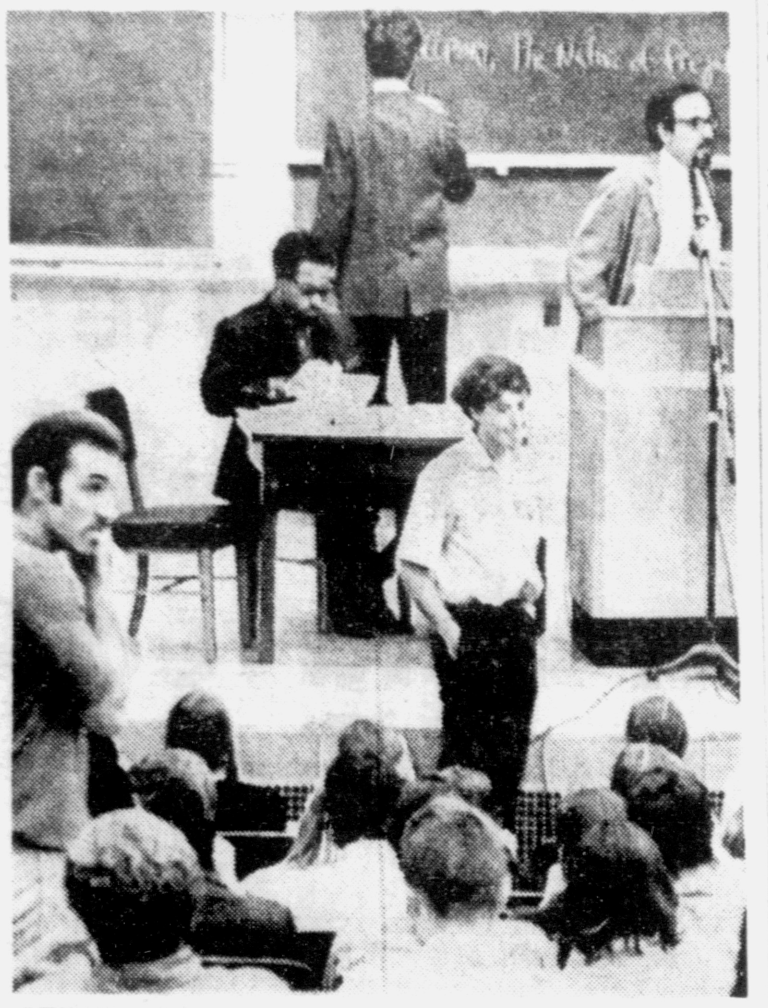
Cleaver Turns First U.C. Talk Into An Articulate Discourse



BEFORE LECTURE — Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver leafs through notes (left, at desk) prior to giving his first lecture yesterday on the University of California campus at Berkeley. (UPI Telephoto)

BERKELEY (AP) — Eldridge Cleaver, Negro militant, said "black is a connotation of evil in this country" as he opened his much-opposed lecture series yesterday at the University of California.

Neatly attired in a black suit, Cleaver, 33, a paroled convict, spoke courteously and avoided the obscenities that have filled his recent talks. He has 10 scheduled lectures on racism.

He noted that whereas the white dress of a bride symbolizes purity, black is for a funeral; a black beard means a pirate, and a black cat means bad luck.

"These negative connotations of blackness stigmatize the black man as having evil connotations," Cleaver told the nearly 100 enrolled in the noncredit course and about 300 others, some auditing the course for possible future choice.

Gov. Ronald Reagan and university regents ruled Cleaver could speak only once if the course, social analysis 139X, is given for credit. Cleaver says he will lecture again next Tuesday.

The crowd was so light in the 450-seat auditorium that monitors announced just before the lecture that any student with a student body card would be admitted. However, newsmen were barred.

Cleaver, the Panther's minister of information, spoke quietly and articulately. Those who attended said his references to Reagan and Max Rafferty, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, went no farther than the term "liar."

Reagan told newsmen at Inglewood last night he was "disappointed" that Cleaver spoke on campus.

Cleaver held a news conference after the lecture, urging votes for the Peace and Freedom Party, although he will not appear on the California ballot as its presidential candidate.

The U.S. Supreme Court on Monday upheld California Secretary of State Frank Jordan's ruling that at 33, Cleaver is two years too young to qualify for the office.

"The names on the ballot don't mean anything," Cleaver said. "It's the state that's important."

Meanwhile, a mass meeting was scheduled tonight to discuss a proposal to occupy the campus administration building if the regents do not reverse their no-credit ruling at their next meeting, next week (Wednesday and Thursday) at U.C. Santa Cruz.

As to why newsmen were barred from yesterday's lecture, the Center for Participant Education, the student group sponsoring the course, issued a statement saying the course is being given on the assumption it is a course for credit, and therefore the faculty can control admission.

Improvers Vote Nonprofit Status

The Homestead Valley Improvement Club last night approved the amendments to its articles of incorporation which will allow the club to apply to the state for nonprofit organization status, secretary Marilyn Tregoning reported.

The amended articles of incorporation will be submitted to the general membership for endorsement at the annual potluck dinner meeting Oct. 25, Mrs. Tregoning said.

The annual meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at Browns Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

A Quiet Night

LISBON (AP) — Ex-Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar spent a quiet night after suffering a circulatory collapse yesterday afternoon, reports from the Red Cross hospital said.

Neighborhood Police Panel Idea Vetoed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto has declined to go along with a proposal for neighborhood police commissions.

"We will not tolerate any split authority in management of the department," he said yesterday.

Three chapters of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had sought the commission as part of an 11-part plan being readied for presentation to city officials.

In another direction, Alioto said criticism leveled against the police department in recent months is "justified" and not politically inspired.

"A large group of legitimate and reasonable people have been justifiably disturbed by three incidents," he said.

Alioto listed them as the alleged attack on teen-agers in the Mission District by members of the tactical squad; the shooting and wounding of a neighbor by a police officer who fired out his window at a cat, and the fatal shooting of a man Sept. 29 by a police officer after a minor traffic accident. He has been suspended.

Canceling Of ROTC Is Up To Faculty

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— San Francisco State College President Robert R. Smith has ruled an Air Force ROTC course will continue to be given on the campus unless the faculty decides to cancel it.

Smith made the declaration yesterday after an angry crowd of 500 antiwar students marched on his office to demand ouster of the military course, a source of controversy on the campus for several years.

The student demonstration was precipitated by a "military information day" scheduled for yesterday, but armed forces recruiters failed to show up, leaving the field to Quakers and an antiwar student group.

A military spokesman contended the situation was "not suitable to our needs" and added: "We are not out to get into a debating society. We are out to recruit students."

A student group had threatened to picket the recruiters. Last year, a massive sit-in at the administration building followed similar picketing and demands that the ROTC course be thrown off the campus.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Get Together

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman, 75, D-Tex., married Mrs. Pauline Tucker, 71, today in Texarkana.

"She and I went togather for a couple of years when I was 21 and she was 17. Then she married and I married, had children and grandchildren. Now she's a widow and I'm a widower," Patman said.

Gear For March

BELFAST (AP) — Northern Ireland's government acted today to cool tempers and ward off street clashes in Belfast between Roman Catholic and Protestant demonstrators.

Hundreds of police were on alert in the capital as 1,500 Queen's University students gathered for a mass march today. The students, many of them Catholics, were parading to protest the way police broke up a civil rights demonstration in Londonderry last weekend.

18 Killed

SEOUL (UPI) — Two bus accidents killed a total of 18 persons in provincial areas of South Korea yesterday, police said today.

Coal Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of miners were on strike against the nation's 22-state soft coal industry today as their old contract expired with a new one reportedly on the bargaining table awaiting finishing touches.

The ranks of more than 40,000 United Mine Workers already on strike for a week were swelled as the midnight expiration passed and more stoppages were expected with subsequent shifts.

The 40,000 — about half the UMW membership covered under the old pact — walked off the job a week ago claiming that was the true expiration date. Most of those stoppages occurred in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, and Kentucky.

Honors Pius

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church today niversary of the death of Pius XII.

Pope Paul VI who for many years was Pius' aide and protege in the Vatican Secretariat of State, set today aside for special memorial services, including a Mass in the grotto below St. Peter's Basilica at Pius' tomb.

The Social Security Act was signed into law Aug. 14, 1935.

Seeks Split

LOS ANGELES (AP) — George Kennedy, who won an Academy Award last April as best supporting actor for his role of the tough-talking, soft-hearted convict in "Cool Hand Luke," wants to end his 1967 contract with Universal City studios.

In a Superior Court suit filed yesterday, he said the contract doesn't meet provisions of producers-Screen Actors Guild agreements.

Five Perish

ZURICH (UPI) — Fire roared through the Hotel Metzgerbraeu in downtown Zurich today, killing five persons and injuring seven other persons. Several guests leaped from windows to escape the flames.

Vows Exile School Duty

NEW YORK (AP) — Rhody McCoy, ousted administrator of Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville school district, went to his office this morning without incident and vowed to run a "sidewalk operation" if the board of education removed him bodily.

Police barred one of seven principals suspended with McCoy from entering a junior high school, however.

Ranks of police were deployed around the district's eight schools but no incident were reported.

"I will continue to run the schools from exile," McCoy said at a brief news conference in his office. "And the principals will remain on the streets outside, advising staff members to remain at their posts."

many young people in America not as the result of liberal teachers, fuzzy court decisions or Communism, but reather because of the ideas and actions of such men as the late Joe McCarthy, (Sen. Joseph McCarthy), George Wallace, the late Chief Parker, (Police Chief William Parker of Los Angeles), Richard Daley (Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago) and the man next door with a tin badge and undefined authority."

Davis also reported that the Terra Linda Recreation Center has "a bad reputation with teens throughout Terra Linda because it is known as a hangout for "greasers' or hoods."

Much of the substances of these charges have been cleared in the past year or two, but "still, the stigma of a bad reputation lingers and it will take a long time to erase it," he said.

He noted that most of those who participated in the program were from the vicinity of the center, and few from the area surrounding the Northgate Shopping Center.

The reasons, he explained, were first the distance from the shopping center to the recreation center and secondly that the teens "who frequent the shopping center and Oleander Park don't like to go to the recreation center for simple activities." These youths "want excitements and freedom, not a friendly basketball game."

Davis also asserted that teenagers were users of marijuana, LSD and opium. (The Independent-Journal reported his comments on drugs Sept. 12 after his report was submitted to the Recreation and Parks Board.)

Davis said the highlight of the summer was the realization that there was at least someplace for the teen-agers to go. "They appreciated this small thing greatly," he said.

He recommended that the summer teen-age program be included in the overall recreation program, and that the board explore the idea of having a coffee house during the winter.

Board members said Davis raised questions that should be considered by the San Rafael Recreation Department, and possibly there could be a meeting on the subject, involving young people in the discussions.

The report was forwarded to the San Rafael Board of Education because the San Rafael High School District contributed $400 toward the summer program.

Tigers fourth (0)

Steve Carlton pitching for the Cardinals, batting 9th. The attendance was announced at 54,692. Shannon threw out Freehan. Wert popped to Maxvill. McLain struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals fourth (0)

McAuliffe made a one-hand catch of Flood's pop fly down the right field line. Maris grounded a single off McAuliffe's glove and into right. Cepeda popped to Stanley. McCarver was called out on strikes.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Cardinals fifth (0)

Shannon struck out. Javier lined to Wert. Kaline made a running one-hand grab of Maxvill's high fly in the right field corner.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Tigers sixth (0)

Northrup singled to center. Freehan flied to Maris in short right. Carlton picked Northrup off first and in the ensuing rundown Northrup was hit in the back by Maxvill's throw and ruled out for interference. The play went, Carlton to Cepeda to Maxvill to Carlton, who received credit for the putout. Wert fouled to Cepeda.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Cardinals sixth (0)

Bob Tolan batted for Carlton and struck out. Brock's grounder took a high bounce over McAuliffe's head and went into right center for a single. Flood struck out. Maris popped to McAuliffe in short right.

Wayne Granger came in to pitch for the Cardinals, batting 9th. McLain struck out. McAuliffe walked. Stanley bounced into a double play, Maxvill to Javier to Cepeda.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals seventh (0)

It started to rain. Cepeda flied to Kaline. McCarver looped a single to right. Stanley back-handed Shannon's infield single but threw wild past second for an error, allowing McCarver to take third and Shannon second. Wert threw out Javier, the runners holding. Maxvill flied to Kaline.

No runs, no hits, one error, two left.

Cardinals eighth

Oyler now playing shortstop for the Tigers, batting 5th. Stanley moves to center field and Northrup to left field. Edwards batted for Granger and struck out. The rain was falling harder. With the count of one strike on Brock, the umpires called time and ordered the field covered.

The game was delayed 49 minutes. Play was resumed at 4:10 EDT. Brock struck out. Flood flied to Kaline.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Tigers ninth (0)

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

CONFLICT

chairman, applauded Wellman when he finished.

The subject of the dirty words was raised by a woman who identified herself as mother of two College of Marin students. Waving the most recent issue of the College of Marin Times, the woman said that "unless a stop is put to such things, I'll fight every bond issue proposed."

She then asked college president Louis H. Herkenhoff to read aloud the letter to the editor in the college paper which contained the

As the students evidenced their delight in this proposal by laughs and snickers, Herkenhoff began to read. Before he got to the offensive passage, however, he was interrupted by Director of Athletics Harry J. Pieper.

Pieper adamantly stated that no decent person should have to read the letter or listen to it.

"Define decency," a student shouted.

A discussion followed in which Pieper attempted through many interruptions to strike a blow for decency, and students defended obscenities as being necessary to gain attention, as part of the conversation of black students and as only words.

As the words in question had originally been used in a campus political speech and reported in the letter to the editor, the original speaker, Edward Schemberg last night said that he had used them in the college center "because you couldn't get those people to listen otherwise."

The premise that such words are the ordinary vocabulary of black students was also raised, but a woman present said she thought it "is insulting to black people to say these are the only words they understand."

"Does Vietnam affect you? Does black oppression affect you?" a student asked Pieper. After Pieper had agreed that indeed these matters did concern him, another student shouted, "My morality does not concern itself with words."

Before the dirty-word issue was raised, Students for Academic Freedom leader Michael McGinn had started the discussion with a statement of aims of his group. Dissatisfaction with the college's building program was expressed again, and McGinn decried the college's need to follow state building standards to be eligible for state funds.

McGinn, who said that only about $1 million of state funds was to be used for the ultimate $29 million building projects of the college, was corrected by college officials who said it will be about $17 million.

State space regulations are being considered by a junior college committee, the students were told.

McGinn also said that the college must raise more money from the community, with the board informing the community about the needs of the students.

Students want to be autonomous, McGinn maintained, and control student matters themselves. The recent move by student leaders to reduce funds appropriated for athletics provided money for a draft counsellor and a proposed tutorial program, McGinn said.

"We follow two philosophers," he later stated. "Sartre — man becoming man — and John Dewey, the pragmatist," he explained. "What we have done has worked," McGann concluded. "We have gained your attention," he told the trustees.

At the conclusion of the meeting Herkenhoff told the students that other such meetings will be held in the future.

Road Will Close For Freeway Job

Los Ranchitos Road at Puerto Suello Hill, between Highway 101 and Red Rock Way, will be closed next week, Marin Public Works Director Donald R. Frost announced today.

Frost said the road will be shut down for about a month to permit relocation of water lines in preparation for the highway widening at Puerto Suello Hill.

Residents on Red Rock Way will have the drive north on Los Ranchitos Road to North San Pedro Road to get access to Highway 101.

Tiburon Topics

Tiburon's proposed downtown plan, street lights and traffic control will be discussed at the Tiburon Property Owners Association meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon.

20-Hour Fight To Get Debate Bill To Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House fought an muddled its way through almost 20 hours of delaying tactics before taking up today a bill to facilitate a Hubert H. Humphrey-Richard M. Nixon- George C. Wallace television debate.

Records and precedents fell like tenpins during the continuous day-and-night struggle between Democrats bent on passing the bill and Republicans staging the House equivalent of a filibuster. (See other political stories, page 38.)

For the last two and one-half hours of preliminaries, members were physically locked in the House chamber by majority vote —the first such instance, veteran members said, in more than 50 years.

The idea was to block the favorite Republican delaying tactis— to partly empty the chamber and then force one time—consuming roll call after another to establish a quorum.

Before the motion to consider the bill could be called up there were 36 roll calls—by a wide margin a record for one continuous session. Thereafter Republicans continued to find ways to force roll calls, each consuming about half an hour.

The Democrats had charged filibustering Republicans with trying to prevent the presidential debate and at the same time shield their candidate from blame for ducking the encounter.

The bill Democrats support would allow networks to arrange the debate without giving equal time to numerous minor candidates.

At a midmorning news conference, Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford denied a Democratic charge he had been in contact with Nixon while the House was in session.

Reps. Donald Rumsfeld of Illinois and Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio, leaders in the delaying tactics, also said they had not talked to Nixon.

Rumsfeld reiterated what he said was the reason behind the filibuster: To get the House to act on election reform and congressional reorganization measures.

OIL

I don't think they're unattractive."

The lands commission is conservation oriented and people oriented, said Everitts. He said all safeguards are takken to prevent pollution of the waters or shoreline with oil, tar or other debris.

Even if the whole 77,000 acres of San Pablo Bay were productive, there would be at most 24 platforms in the entire bay, Everitts reported. However, to find the whole bay productive is impossible, and a more realistic figure would be about one-tenth productivity, he declared.

Everitts produced a sketch of a drilling platform prepared by the Standard Oil Co., showing platform about 60 feet wide and 120 feet long.

Kettenhofen took one look and shook his head. He said he has sometimes been accused of being anticonservation, "But even I don't like it."

With advances in technology, Kettenhofen wondered if one platform could not serve the entire San Pablo Bay. Everitts replied this was economically unfeasible because lines would have to stretch too far.

"A platform that lies low in the water . . . I don't see how it would affect the scenic value," Everitts maintained. And at night, said Everitts, some people prefer to see lights in the bay from the drilling platforms rather than stare into black darkness.

Besides, the county would gain revenue from gas and oil royalties, he added.

Larkspur Chamber Sets Pre-Yule Event

The Larkspur Chamber of Commerce board yesterday scheduled the annual open house for downtown merchants for 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Nov. 3.

The occasion will launch the city's Christmas shopping season, members said, and most merchants will serve refreshments. Mrs. Bette Wallace, trustee of the Tamalpais High School District attended the chamber meeting to inform members about the $10.9 million district bond election Nov. 5 for the construction of two new high schools and additions to existing schools.

OBITUARIES

Helen B. Ketchum Dies At 60

There will be no funeral for Helen Butler Ketchum, 60, noted artist who died Monday at her home at 1636 Hill Road, Novato.

Born in Madison, Wis., she achieved a reputation as an artist there before moving to southern California 22 years ago. She was known for her murals on buildings and for her miniatures on ivory.

She had lived in Novato for the past four years.

Mrs. Ketchum had been ill for the past three weeks. Mrs. Floyd Bradley of 707 Bradley Avenue, Novato, and Mrs. Boyd Lindsey of Sonoma, friends of hers, were with her at the time of her death, according to the Marin County Coroner's office.

SHe was a member of the Christian Science Church.

There are no survivors.

Following creamation, her ashes will be scattered over the ocean, according to the Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato which is in charge of the arrangements.

Survey Of Commuters Is Proposed

Seymour Kashin, manager of the Marin County Transit District, disclosed his staff's proposal for the survey at a meeting of the committee at the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District Administration Building. The committee is composed of representatives of Marin and San Francisco boards of supervisors, and the bridge district.

Kashin said he would present his proposal to the transit district board when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Civic Center.

Kashin explained that the survey would be made by distributing mailable cards to commuters at the bridge by toll takers and aboard Greyhound buses by the drivers. He estimated 25,000 questionaires would be sufficient but bridge district Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring suggested that at least 40,000 would be needed.

The cost of return postage would be borne by the transit district, Kashin said.

The committee also voted to invite representatives of the state Department of Public Works and of the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission to appear before it Nov. 13 to discuss proposals to reserve a lane on Highway 101 for buses.

An attorney for the Department of Public Works advised in August that special legislation and amendment of the state constitution would be necessary before a freeway lane could be reserved for buses.

Legislative Counsel George H. Murphy, however, advised in December, 1967, that only minor legislative changes would be required.

WALTER BEALEY

Private funeral for Walter D. Bealey, retired Larkspur real estate agent who died Sunday, was held today at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Inurnment followed at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Bealey, who was 75, died at his home at 12 Baltimore Avenue after a long illness.

A native of Washington, D. C., he had lived in Marin County 10 years. Before retiring he worked for Frank Howard Allen real estate firm in Mill Valley. Prior to that he was with the Federal Housing Authority in San Francisco.

A highly decorated flier, Bealey saw much action during World War I. He first enlisted in the British infantry in London at the outbreak of the war and was wounded in Belgium.

After recovery from his injuries, he joined the Royal Air Force and flew numerous missons over Germany. He rose to the rank of major in the RAF and was decorated many times by both France and England before being shot down in Germany in 1918.

After recovering from wounds suffered at this time, he toured the United States speaking of America's involvement in the war and telling of his experiences.

He is survived by his wife, Audrey, and a son, Radcliff Bealey of Los Angeles.

FRED A. STRAUSS

Fred Adolph Strauss, San Francisco motel manager, died, apparently of a heart attack, aboard his yacht in the San Rafael Yacht Harbor yesterday, according to the Marin County coroner's office.

Strauss, 53, went out on his boat yesterday with his wife, Dorothy, but they returned when he became ill. Mrs. Strauss told the coroner that her husband went to bed on the boat and later had trouble breathing.

He was pronounced dead at Marin General Hospital at 9:50 p.m.

Strauss was co-owner and manager of the Fisherman's Wharf Travelodge. He was born in Chicago, Ill.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

GEORGE GOETZE

Lots Split Gets Denial In Tiburon

The Tiburon Planning Commission Monday night denied a request to create two substandard lots on 1.75 acres of land at 15 Tanfield Drive, Development Administrator Phil V. Scott reported.

Scott said the commission suggested that applicant Nicolas Pedersen ask for a variance from the minimum lot size requirements instead of a lot split.

Pedersen's property is in a single family residential zone with a one acre minimum lot size requirement. He had asked to create two lots of .82 acres each, Scott said.

The Tiburon Planning Commission also:

HEARING — Set a public hearing for 8 p.m. Nov 4 to zone two parcels at Mar West Street and Tiburoin Boulevard, owned by Fred Zelinsky, which are in the process of being annexed to the city.

SETBACK — heard that planning consultant George Gatter is studying new setback requirements for the waterfront area along Mar West Street from the Caprice restaurant to the city limits to permit residential construction on some tideland lots.

RECRUITMENT — Established recruitment procedures for a new planning director.

STUDY — Approved a job description for a feasibility study of the commercial square footage in the city's proposed downtown plan. The description will be submitted to several planning consultants to bid on the job.

HOUSING PLAN — Heard that Gatter is compiling statistics on type and quality of housing in Tiburon and the income spectrum of the city to meet a state requirement that a housing plan be included in the city's master plan.

MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Nov. 4 at city hall.

Hobby Show Slated At Hamilton Chapel

A 433-year-old Bible and 2,000-year-old clay jar handle are among the items to be displayed tomorrow at the third annual public hobby show in Chapel One at Hamilton Air Force Base, sponsored by the Protestant women of the chapel.

The exhibit will be on display from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Included will be a Bible collection of 350 volumes in more than 50 languages. Chaplain Lt. Col. and Mrs. Lewie H. Miller Jr. have collected the volumes over the past 16 years.

More than half a million college students borrowed $425 million in 1967-68 to finance educations.

New Air Guard Chief Of Staff

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Brig. Gen. George W. Edmonds, deputy adjutant general for the California Air National Guard the past two years, was appointed yesterday as chief of staff of the Air Guard.

Edmons, who has served more than 20 years in the Air Guard, will fill a vacancy left by the death of Maj. Gen. Clarence A. Shoop.

Maj. Gen. Glenn C. Ames, state adjutant general, also announced the appointment of Brig. Gen. Raymond J. Kopecky as deputy chief of staff under Edmonds. Kopecky is commander of the Air Guard's 146th military airlift wing based at Van Nuys.

Hub Corporation Aims To Rejuvenate Stores

A group of San Anselmo citizens, determined to lift a lagging downtown business section by its own bootstraps, have joined to form the San Anselmo Business and Economic Redevelopment Corp.

Composed of 13 members, the committee — in cooperation with the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce — has declared in a letter that the shopping habits of the city's residents have changed, but the shopping area has not.

"Downtown San Anselmo has failed to progress because some property owners have not been willing to modernize, and many tenants have been forced either to leave, or fall behind, as their facilities were not able to provide the environment people want to shop in," the letter says.

It adds that if the business district were owned in part by local citizens and in part by private owners willing to meet their obligations, the situation could be corrected.

With the Small Business Administration willing to loan $80,000 on every $20,000 raised locally, according to the letter, the local development company could acquire and improve selected downtown properties for "progressive tenants."

Stock in the company can be purchased by individuals, with no person or small group controlling the company, the group has determined. The citizen investor, however, should realize a return on his investment as the improved buildings in the corporation's ownership become more valuable, according to plans.

An organizational meeting for the proposed corporation will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the multi-purpose room of the Wade Thomas School at 115 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Drug Abuse Consultant Is Approved

The Marin County Board of Education Monday night hired James F. T. Bugental, research associate at Stanford Research Institute, as consultant for a two-day teacher workshop on drug abuse education in Marin.

The workshop, for teachers who also attended the "inundation" workshop last June, will be at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday in a classroom to be later designated at Sir Francis Drake High School. Bugental will receive $100 for his work.

The Marin County Board of Education also:

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Pauline Bradley, teacher of educatable mentally retarded children, for $7,837 annually; Theodore Dudek, audio-visual distributor, $474 monthly; Ann Hermstad, teacher assistant, $2.80 an hour; Natalie Lenn, teacher of deaf and hard-of-hearing pupils, $4,751 for half-time work annually; Ann Nadel, also a teacher for the deaf and hard-of-hearing, $3,918 for half-time work; Ross McDaniel, teacher assistant, $2.42 an hour, and Shirley McHale, secretary, $523 a month.

CERTIFICATES — Approved 48 temporary teaching certificates.

DIPLOMAS — Approved 11 life teaching diplomas.

CREDENTIALS — Approved issuing Merrill Hoover of Oakland a teaching credential for a person of outstanding eminence to teach Afro-American music at College of Marin.

DELEGATES — Elected board member L. C. Richardson Jr. and William Burke, member of the Alameda County Board of Education, as delegates to the California school boards delegate assembly.

Driver's Injuries Minor In Accident

Robert G. Alcayaga, 22, of 404 Wellesley Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was treated for cuts and scrapes at Marin General Hospital Monday after his pickup truck struck a van and overturned on Highway 101 in Alto, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Alcayaga told them he dozed off while driving south at 3:15 a.m. and awoke just as his truck hit the rear of a southbound van driven by Harold Coate, 44, of 315 K Street, Petaluma.

Deputies Report Vehicles Taken

Marin sheriff's deputies yesterday reported two vehicle thefts from the unincorporated areas of the county. They were.

Theft of a 1961 Chevrolet, belonging to Fred Davidson of 12 East LeVerne Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, Saturday or Sunday from the Almonte intersection.

The theft, over the weekend, of Eric I. Anderson's 1964 Honda motorcycle from his driveway at 121 Morningsun Drive, Tamalpais Valley.

San Anselmo Drafts Larger-Lot Ordinance

The San Anselmo City Council last night introduced an ordinance amendment to require an increase in minimum lot sizes in new subdivisions from the existing 5,000-square feet to at least 7,500-square feet.

Recommended by the planning commission after a long study, the amendment to the zoning ordinance affects all residential zones. It also changes the average lot width for new construction in single and two-family residences from 50 to 60 feet, and neighborhood apartment areas from 50 to 75 feet minimum.

The council adopted an ordinance amendment making the property owners dedicate street right-of-way before a building permit can be obtained.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

MEETING — Changed the scheduled meeting next Tuesday with the park and recreation commission to 8 p.m. Oct. 29 in council chambers to discuss planned uses of the Robson-Harrington Park.

HEARING — Denied the request of Cecil B. Norton to rezone property at 1437 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from single-family residence to two-family residence.

SIGN — Approved an application by Eilene H. Casady for a free-standing sign advertising her business, "Sewing Circle," at 705 San Anselmo Avenue.

RAMP — Gave notice to Houston Alexander that he must complete repair of a ramp at 745 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by Oct. 31 or condemnation proceedings as a hazard will be taken.

RETAINING WALL — Passed a resolution to initiate abatement proceedings against Andrew Clem if a wooden retaining wall at 60 Calumet Avenue isn't removed or replaced with one meeting city requirements.

PERMITS — Granted Merz Brothers, San Anselmo excavating firm, permission to blast in a road and construction project at Sunny Hills, 910 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

CLAIM — Denied and referred to its insurance carrier a $50,000 claim for damages by Hortencia V. Sanchet of 1382 San Anselmo Avenue for injuries she allegedly suffered Aug. 23 on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Sais Avenue.

APPOINTMENT — Postponed an appointment to replace Irene Busch on the parks and recreation commission until the 8 p.m. meeting Oct. 22 of the council. Mrs. Busch has resigned.

REPRESENTATIVES — Named Col. Reuben Smith Jr. as delegate from San Anselmo to Fair-Marin. He previously had been named an alternate delegate.

AMBULANCE — Directed that a letter be written to the county board of supervisors requesting that good ambulance service be required in the board's consideration of signing an emergency ambulance contract for the county.

POOL — Tabled until the Oct. 29 meeting with the parks and recreation commission a suggestion by Councilman Robert M. Scott, that a swimming pool and teen-center complex be again considered.

MARKERS — Agreed to hire the civil engineering firm of Rhodes and Burton, of Mill Valley, to install street markers at the uncompleted White subdivision near the 500 block of Redwood Road, then bill the project's bonding company for the cost.

PENALTY — Refused a request by Ghilotti Brothers, contractors, for return of $1,859 kept by the city as a penalty for failure to complete the widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard within the specified time limit.

RETIREMENT — Adopted an ordinance amendment increasing former employees' retirement benefits from 2 to 12 per cent, depending on how long they worked for the city.

ORDINANCE — Adopted an ordinance amendment permitting the city to charge property owners for trimming tree limbs which are obstructions.

DUST CONTROL — Held first reading of an ordinance amendment which would prevent property owners from parking anywhere on their lots other than approved driving areas.

ROOFING — Awarded to the lowest of two bidders, McLeran Roofing Co., Inc., Corte Madera, a $785 contract to do roof repair on portions of city hall.

About 90 per cent of the cars made and sold in the U.S. are equipped with automatic transmissions.

Columbus Day Broadcast Set

A Columbus Day program will be presented at noon Saturday over Radio Station KTIM, presented by Our Lady of Loretto Council 3950 of Novato.

The program will commemorate the 86th anniversary of the Knights of Columbus. It will include a background of the fraternal society and some of its charitable work.

The winning essay in the annual Columbus Day essary contest held at Our Lady of Loretto School in Novato will be read. The theme of this year's contest is "The modern day Columbus."

The program will be directed by M/Sgt. Joseph Tannerome Sr., a member of Our Lady of Loretto Council, who is assigned to the community relations branch of the information office at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Del Mar Meeting

The Reed School District's citizens committee on finances and programs will meet at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School, not Granada School as previously announced.

Permit System Voted For City's Hub Parking Lot

A city-owned lot near the Hub will be developed to provide free two-hour parking and monthly half-day and all-day pay parking, the San Anselmo City Council decided last night.

On motion of Councilman James R. Reed, the council unanimously agreed to have an ordinance drawn up that would charge $2.50 a month for persons wishing to park four consecutive hours, and $5 a month for all-day parking.

Hours requiring the pay permits, to be issued at city hall, will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. The near-acre parcel, located behind Kaufman's department store at 540 San Anselmo Avenue and known as the creekside parking lot, has heretofore been used for free, uncontrolled parking.

Councilman Robert M. Scott said the fees for persons using the lot beyond the two-hour free period may eventually pay for developing the lot.

At present, the council agreed, it will leave the partially-paved lot as it is, with City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani, and William A. Trewhella, chamber of commerce manager, requested to make a study of the lot's development needs.

The council also asked the three to make a study of which nearby streets not already restricted in parking time should be limited and marked to two-hour maximum free parking.

Fuller paving, water and electrical installations, and other development of the lot will be considered at next year's budget sessions, the council said.

Recommendation of the permit-purchase system was made to the council by the chamber of commerce after a lengthy study. Trewhella said the lot, properly developed and marked, could hold up to 120 cars.

Date of beginning the pay system will depend on when the ordinance is adopted and effective, councilmen said.

Notary Issued

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced issuance of a notary public commission to Kathryn L. Barksdale of 5 Upper Oak Drive, San Rafael.

Clausen Ballot Leaders Named

Robert B. Lagle of Novato has been named Marin County chairman of the Committee to Re-Elect Congressman Don Clausen.

A. J. Bianchi of Point Reyes Station and William F. Nave Sr. of Novato were named finance committee chairmen of the campaign.

The appointments were announced by Gerald Misner of San Anselmo, general chairman of the districtwide committee. Clausen, a Republican, represents the First Congressional District.

Campaign headquarters at 802 Fourth Street, Santa Rosa, is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Juvenile Authorities Get Muir Woods Case

Howard Lee Handy, 19, of 341 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was referred to juvenile authorities from Marin Municipal Court yesterday for possible trial in Juvenile Court on charges of burglary and possession of stolen property.

Handy allegedly stole purses from a car in Muir Woods July 31 and had stolen merchandise in his car when it was searched by sheriff's deputies. His case was continued until Oct. 22.

School Buses Leased To Ease Pupil Jam-Up

Charles L. Condrotte, business manager, reported that San Rafael City Schools is now operating 19 buses over 49 different runs twice daily for a total of 98 trips transporting 2,300 students each day.

As a result, some of the students, including educable mentally retarded, must ride as long as 90 minutes, he reported. Some students arrive at school as much as an hour and a quarter before their class time, and some wait as long as 30 minutes before boarding a bus after school, Condrotte noted.

Board members authorized a contract with Martinez Bus Lines Inc. of Contra Costa County, to furnish the two buses at a cost of $24 each per day for four months, with the contract renewable until the end of the school year. The four-month cost was estimated at about $4,000, reimbursable by state funds.

Condrotte noted that the district had a additional busing load this year because it is operating its own program for educable mentally pupils. Previously Marin County conducted the program and furnished the transportation. Supt. John F. Plank noted that the educable mentally retarded program was more expensive to the district under the county program "even with the additional costs" for buses.

Condrotte also reported there was an additional busing load this year because of the busing of students from the Terra Linda High School area to San Rafael High School.

Board members urged administrators to seek changes in bus scheduling so that students won't have long waits before and after their school day.

Condrotte said the board also faces the long range problem of replacing five buses that are 15 to 16 years old, and considered by the California Highway Patrol as no longer serviceable.

Board Member John C. Pfeiffer suggested that administrators check with Greyhound Bus Co. to see it if will provide school busing under contract.

At the close of their session, board members reviewed preliminary plans for a new six-classroom building at the Short School site to replace the old building, which did not meet the state's earthquake-resistant standards.

Architect Chester Bowles Jr. of Marshall and Bowles of San Francisco, displayed the plans which would accommodate an open space concept suitable for non-graded classes.

Bowles said the open space also could be closed off to provide the traditional, separate rooms.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

PROPOSITION 9 — Received notice that a debate on Proposition 9 will be held at Olney Hall, College of Marin, at 8 p.m., Oct. 24 with Jeremy Ets-Hokin, San Francisco businessman, for the proposition, and M. O. Hill of San Rafael, an oil company executive, opposing it.

DELEGATES — Voted for Dorothy C. Brown of the Dixie School District Board, Lauress Wise of the Redwood City School District, David Carr of the Burlingame School District, and William Jow of the San Mateo City School District as delegates to California School Boards Association from Region 5.

EVALUATION — Postponed until Oct. 22 first hearing on revision of board policies regarding teacher evaluation, after Mrs. Alice B. Gately, president of the San Rafael Teachers Association, requested more time for teachers to evaluate the proposed revisions.

HIRING — Approved the hiring of Ada Fitzsimmons, teacher, social studies, high school district at $9,683 a year; Mrs. Margaret McConnell, cooperative nursery school teacher, $2,400 a year; Mrs. Virginia Cochran, shorthand teacher, adult education, $6.50 per hour; and Mrs. LeDean Varner, bus driver, $2,013 a year.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Gail Pepper, first grade teacher, MacPhail School, and Phyllis Temple, bus driver.

LEAVE — Granted Alforetta Bain, school secretary at San Pedro School, leave from Oct. 1 to Nov. 15.

STORAGE SPACE — Asked that administrators further review their proposal that the board authorize leasing a warehouse for school supplies, such as papers, pencils, erasers and custodial materials, at a cost of $6,000 a year. Board members suggested that administrators consider other ways to get storage space.

GIFTS — Accepted as gifts $130 from the Coleman School Parent-Teacher Association for library books at Coleman School and $50 from West End Parent-Teacher Association for library books at West End School.

STUDENT FUNDS — Received reports that the Terra Linda High School Student Association fund totaled $12,769 and the San Rafael High School Student Association fund totaled $4,716, as of Aug. 31, 1968.

JOURNALISM — Received a letter from Robert M. Strebeigh, city editor of the Independent-Journal, on the use of stories written by high school journalism students and suggested that those involved strengthen liaison with the newspaper.

RAFFERTY LETTER — Received a letter from state Supt. of Public Instruction Max Rafferty that any school administrator or teacher responsible for the presence of pupils at talks by Eldridge Cleaver would jeopardize his credentials and the school district would risk loss of state school aid based upon average daily attendance. Board Members asked for an opinion from the county counsel's office whether Rafferty has the power to lift credentials.

INNOVATIONS — Took under study a report from the Council for conomic Development on "Innovation In Education: New Directions for the American School."

Board member Herman L. Childress was absent.

Ross Library's Future Is Topic

A preliminary discussion of whether the Town of Ross should continue in the county library system or go in with San Anselmo on a new library will be held by the Ross Town Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the town hall.

A public hearing on this matter will be held later this fall, according to Councilman Natalie G. Lewis.

Also on the agenda is the introduction of an ordinance requiring undergrounding of utilities in any future subdivisions in Ross.

Sentence Set On Marijuana

Andre Brezeau, 27, of no fixed address, will be sentenced Oct. 28 for conspiring to sell marijuana Nov. 30 on Throckmorton Ridge.

Brezeau was convicted by a jury Friday of that charge, but the jury was unable to reach a decision on a second charge that the man sold the marijuana. Judge Thomas F. Keating dismissed that charge.

Brezeau's codefendant, Francis Mitchell Orella, is scheduled for jury trial in the week of Dec. 2.

Annexation Asked For Three Parcels

The Tiburon Sanitary District board has asked the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission to approve the annexation by the district of three parcels on Tiburon Boulevard near San Rafael Avenue.

The parcels, part of the Weeks subdivision, will contain three home sites which are to be served by the district, Edward P. Ward, board secretary, reported. The board met Tuesday night.

Touring Teacher Reports Russia, Asia Far Behind

Russia isn't even No. 2 to the United States, according to Albert Gautraud, chairman of the Social Science Department at Terra Linda High School.

Gautraud, who visited Asia, the Soviet Union, Middle East and Africa during a 1967-68 sabbatical leave, reported on the trip last night before the San Rafael Board of Education.

He described the Soviet Union as "a society in which the entire population must conform."

"The United States is so far ahead of all countries, including the Soviet Union, that we are in a world of our own," he noted in his written report.

As for life in Russia, it's miserable, he said.

He found in countries in Southeast Asia and the Middle East that people "are too weak to pull themselves up." Most of the people "in most of the world are not living, they are just surviving," he said.

He said that it is a myth that Ghandi's philosophy prevails in India. "All I spoke to advocated the theory that violence brings action faster," he said.

Young people in India are always ready to revolt, and their protests have resulted in the closing of universities, he said. Teachers strike and students strike and set fire to school buildings, Gaustraud said.

"The plight of the millions of poor people is inhumane, degrading, pitiful and hopeless," he contended. India, Indonesia and much of the Middle East will never catch up to the West, he said.

Lands formerly held by European powers were pitiful to see, Gauteaud said. "The years of systematic, deliberate, economic and social exploitation have left nothing but chaos and ruin."

Cadets Honored

Cadets Thomas Jobson, William Morris and Michael Thomas have received certificates of commendation from the National Merit Scholarships Awards Association, according to officials of San Rafael Military Academy, where they are students.

Johnson Thanks Pentagon Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, saying "you are very special people to me," has thanked the defense establishment's military and civilian personnel for their support in what may be his farewell address to them.

"You have been with me in sunshine and sorrow and you have given me strength when I need it most," Johnson told some 5,000 defense people at the Pentagon yesterday.

Johnson appeared for what he said might be his last appearance at the Pentagon as commander-in-chief for a ceremony honoring those responsible for defense economy measures.

Larkspur Trustees Due Library Report

A report on school library services will be given by librarian Barbara Dillon, at 8 p.m. tomorrow before the Larkspur School District board at the district offices, 20 Magnolia Avenue.

Kay Gillis, district nurse, will report on the scope of nursing services for the schools.

Interschool Visits Urged By Student

A bid for better communication between high schools was presented to the San Rafael Board of Education last night by Rick Mulhaupt, president of the Terra Linda High School student body.

Mulhaupt suggested that there be day-long visits by students of one high school to the other, first within the district and later to other districts.

He also supported expansion of vocational education curriculum to provide students who are not bound for college. A lot of the noncollege students are potential dropouts and a better vocational program would provide incentive for them, particularly training which would lead to employment upon graduation, he said.

He also asked the board have benches in the amphitheater area at the school repaired as soon as possible. The benches are splintered and in bad condition, he said.

The board heard a report from Jeff Godwin, San Rafael High School student body president, at its Sept. 24 session.

Two Burglaries In Rural Marin

Marin sheriff's officers yesterday reported two burglaries occurred Friday in the unincorporated area of the county.

Stanley Long of 325 Las Colindas, Terra Linda, said someone broke into his house through a window that night and stole $6 in change, some beer and cookies.

Hub Library Board Votes For New Books

The San Anselmo library board Monday night voted to purchase about $500 worth of new books, mostly fiction, this month and next month.

Col. Reuben Smith Jr., board member, said it also was determined to add snow skiing magazines to the library.

Marinwood Fireman May Earn Overtime

Marinwood fire commissioners last night recommended overtime pay for firemen who work beyond their shift or who are called out specifically for a fire or emergency when they are off duty.

"But all this is contingent on whether funds are available," said commission chairman Larry D. Newman. The recommendation will go to the Marinwood Community Services District.

Fire Chief Albert F. Anderson also asked for a 10 per cent wage increase for his men. The commissioners took no action but referred the request to the salary and benefit committee, composed or representatives of the fire commission, park and recreation commission and the services district.

The commissioners asked Chief Anderson to review the fire department's $70,000 budget to see if any extra funds are available for overtime pay and for pay increase

The commissioners recommended to the services district a $171 outlay for purchase of a new refrigerator for the firehouse.

Redwoods Park Funds Bill Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee approved today the administration's $92 million supplemental budget request for purchase of private land for the Redwood National Park in California.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., said the committee also approved the full $290,000 requested by the National Park Service for administration and operation of the Redwood Park.

The House Appropriations Committee earlier this week cut $39 million from the $92 million total land acquisition authorization for the Redwood park land on the ground that the cash outlay requirement might be reduced through exchange of government owned timberland.

Apollo 8 Creeps Onto Launch Pad

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —A mammoth Saturn 5 rocket rolled slowly to a launch pad today as the three-man Apollo 8 crew that may ride it into orbit about the moon in December watched.

At the same time preparations moved flawlessly toward Friday's launching of the three-man Apollo 7 crew on a marathon earth orbit flight.

"The Apollo 7 prelaunch activity is going as smooth as we've ever seen for a manned space flight," commented an official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The two events—rollout and preparation—demonstrate that after 20 months this nation's man-in-space program has recovered from the tragic fire that killed three astronauts and once again is on the course to the moon.

The 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 lumbered at a snail's pace out of a cavernous assembly building. With the Apollo 8 spaceship perched on top, it rode upright on the back of a diesel-powered transporter that resembles a giant mechanical turtle.

The Apollo 8 crew—Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders —observed the rollout and posed for news photographers with the gigantic rocket in the background.

The astronauts' hopes of flying Apollo 8 into orbit around the moon depend on the results of Apollo 7, which is scheduled to ride a smaller Saturn 1B rocket into earth orbit at 8 a.m. (PDT) Friday.

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham are to check out all spacecraft systems as they race around the globe for 11 days in the Apollo 7 ship.

If they demonstrate conclusively that the Apollo craft can safely carry men a quarter-of-a-million miles to the moon and bring them back, the Borman crew plans to take off Dec. 20 on an eight-day trip in which they are to orbit the moon 10 times during a 24-hour period.

Armed Gunman Loots Market Of About $200

A lone bandit armed with a black automatic pistol last night robbed the Tamalpais Market at second and D streets of approximately $200, San Rafael police reported today.

Police said market co-owner Lester Mason was on duty at 9:15 p.m. last night when the robber walked in and asked for a paper bag. When Mason handed him the bag, the man pulled a pistol and ordered him to dump the money in the bag.

Mason complied and the robber fled on foot, jumping two fences to disappear through a parking lot.

Police and sheriff's department patrol cars searched the area but could not find the robber, who was described as a white man about 30 years old, five feet nine inches tall and weighing 155 pounds.

School Board Hires Leader Of Hiring Screening Board

In a surprise move, the new Shoreline Unified School District board last night bypassed its five finalist applicants for the post of superintendent and instead chose the chairman of the screening board.

Unanimously selected was Charles E. McCully, 30, who is deputy superintendent of the Marin County Schools office and who has been acting superintendent and screening chairman for the Shoreline district.

Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county schools superintendent, said today that the surprise appointment came about because the board could not reach a unanimous or near-unanimous decision on any of the five finalists despite their excellence.

CHARLES E. McCULLY
Shoreline's superintendent

He said that because unanimous backing is highly desirable, the board president, Roy A. Parks, called him after a Saturday screening session, disclosed how well regarded McCully was by the board and asked if Hollis would consider releasing him from his county school's job to take the new post.

Hollis, who last June named McCully as acting superintendent and screening chairman with the understanding McCully was not a candidate, said he considered the request, talked with members of the county board of education, then last night in closed session with the Shoreline board agreed to release McCully from the stipulation that he couldn't be a candidate.

He termed McCully as a man the entire Shoreline board could and would lend "instant support," and cited this as essential in a newly-formed district. "It's somewhat embarrassing to be in charge of the screening committee and then be chosen," he said, "but in this case the circumstances overrode that."

The screening committee had 57 applicants. The field was narrowed to the five. McCully was named superintendent in open session following a closed session. His salary was set at $21,500 a year. He begins Jan. 1.

Hollis said he will now search for a replacement for McCully in his own office, that the new deputy will be hired by or before Jan. 1.

McCully received his early education in Ohio, graduated from Ohio University in 1960, took his master's degree at San Francisco State College in 1965, taught in Canton, Ohio, and Sebastopol, was principal at Kenwood Elementary School in Sonoma County from 1964 to 1966, when he moved to his present post

The Shoreline district becomes effective July 1 of next year.

Collision Hurts Petaluma Youth

John S. Topolewski, 18, of 125 East Court, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital.

Police reported he struck the side of a car driven by Leon B. Poole, 60, of 4050 Middle Two Rock Road, Petaluma. No one was cited.

Clothing Stolen

A blue suit, white shirt and two ties valued at $162 were stolen Friday from a car parked at 110 Palm Street, San Rafael, and owned by William Edward Grady of 34 Wildwood Way, San Rafael police said today.

HOW TO MAKE
"Ugly apple"

PIPPIN PIE

If you like apple pie,
it's quite possible that you'll go completely insane
over "Ugly Apple" Pippin Pie.
The "Ugly" California Pippin Apple
with the beautiful flavor is the secret ingredient.
Apple lovers love our California apples because they're so firm and full of juice. Perfect for pie.
And that's exactly why people
who know their apples call ours "Ugly."
How else can you be sure they'll be in the market when you want them?

"Ugly apple" pippin pie

Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie
6 cups thinly sliced, pared tart California cooking apples
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup light flavored honey
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

On a lightly floured surface roll out pastry into an 11-inch circle. Use to line a 9-inch pie plate. Refrigerate with balance of pastry while preparing apples. Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Slice pared apples into bowl; toss with lemon juice. Combine cornstarch with spices and salt. Blend into apples then fold in honey. Turn into pastry shell, mound high in center, dot with butter. Roll out remaining pastry. Make several slits for steam vents. Adjust top crust over apples. Trim and seal tightly. Place pie on foil or cookie sheet. Bake at 425 degrees (hot) 15 minutes, reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 40 to 45 minutes or until apples are tender and crust is brown. Makes 6 servings.

THE LATEST NEWS — Betsy and John Bauer of Greenbrae crank out the latest edition of the Greenbrae Gossip Weekly, a newspaper conceived to let neighbors know what's going on. Now that the youngsters have paid back their father for the duplicating machine they use, they are looking forward to profits. (Independent-Journal photo).

GREENBRAE WEEKLY

Youthful Editor Covers The Area

Twenty-two Greenbrae families get a special chance every week to find out the latest — who went to whose party, which dog chased what deer and even who's romancing whom.

Called frankly "The Greenbrae Gossip Weekly," a little newspaper which is the work of a 13-year-old boy assisted by his 12-year-old sister has been appearing faithfully every week since the beginning of summer.

John and Betsy Bauer of 100 Via Navarro say they started the paper "for something to do" during the summer. Although John admits it's more difficult to get it out now that homework has re-entered the scene, he is definitely committed both editorially and in a business way.

Saturdays he and Betsy call around their neighborhood to find out "the gossip," John said. Their gleanings range from the fact that the furniture of some new neighbors has finally arrived to a romance which John reported was probably "not serious."

John, who does all the writing, editorializes frequently but not unkindly. A neighbor, Mr. Geissberger, who, John wrote, came in 10th in a golf tournament, probably had fun anyway, he concluded.

The young editor could not restrain his joy when the Stone family removed a fence from their lawn — "For almost the first time this entire summer, you can actually walk on it. Isn't that neet?"

Such misspellings are not too common in the Gossip Weekly, because older sister Polly, 15, proof reads. "When she doesn't do it, you can really tell," laughed John.

Not only a creative enterprise, the Gossip Weekly has also served as a business venture for John and Betsy. They print it on an old duplicating machine which their father, Robert, a J. C. Penney Co. executive, found for them.

"We just finished paying for the machine," Betsy said. The nickels they charge for each paper have faithfully been put into a fund to pay for the machine, which cost them $7, and for paper and duplicating liquid.

Now that their initial capital outlay has been paid for, the youngsters, foresee some profits.

"Of course, my subscribers and my family think it's just fine, but I don't," John wrote to the Independent-Journal about his paper. He would like to find a way to transfer photographs on his duplicating machine, he said.

Upon being informed that this process is not possible with his kind of machine, John decided he would stick with the two-color line drawings which he now uses to enliven the paper.

As John wrote in one of his recent issues, "A year ago I couldn't spell 'printer,' but now I am one."

Marinites Help Heart Transplant

Thirteen residents of Marin County gave blood for the most recent heart transplant at Stanford University Hospital, where 54-year-old Georgette Larson received a new heart last weekend.

Officials of the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank reported yesterday that they received a special request for fresh Group O, Rh positive blood for the heart recipient and relayed the request to the bank's Marin Blood Center.

Marin Disease Rate Declines For Week

Marin County residents were apparently healthier than normal last week with a relatively low number of communicable diseases reported to the Marin County public health department.

There were 17 cases of stretoccocus infections, one of mumps; two, tuberculosis; two, salmonella; four, infectious hepatitis, and four, shigella.

Novato High Sets Homecoming Events

Three days of activities for homecoming at Novato High School were announced today by Diane Halpenny, commissioner of public relations.

Activities start tomorrow with auction of football players at 9:40 a.m., the money to go to the student body activity fund. Football players will be slaves for a day to the girls who buy them.

Friday, there will be a pep rally at the sixth period at 11:30 a.m. and in the afternoon the powderpuff football game between the junior and senior girls.

Voting for the homecoming queen will be Friday from among seven candidates selected by the football squad: Pam Alverson, Penny Alverson, Tommie Holt, Wendy Kanoff, Debbie Links, Eileen Reusche, Penny Alverson and Deedee Jones.

Saturday at 11 a.m. the homecoming parade of decorated cars will go from South Novato Boulevard and Diablo Avenue, down South Novato Boulevard to Arthur Street and then to the high school.

The junior varisity game will start at 11:45 a.m. with the varsity game scheduled for 2 p.m., both with Redwood High School.

The queen will be crowned at halftime while the decorated cars parade around the field.

The queen will reign at the coronation ball from 9 p.m. to midnight in the old gymnasium, she said.

Free Trash Pickup Slated In Sausalito

The Bay Cities Refuse Co. will collect free of charge three cubic yards, or 21 regular garbage cans of trash, from each of its Sausalito customers next week as part of the city's annual fall clean up week, City Mgr. George M. Patterson has announced.

The collection will be made the same day as the regular garbage pickup and the extra trash should be out on the curb by 5 a.m. bundled or in disposable boxes, Patterson said. No dirt, rocks nor cement should be included.

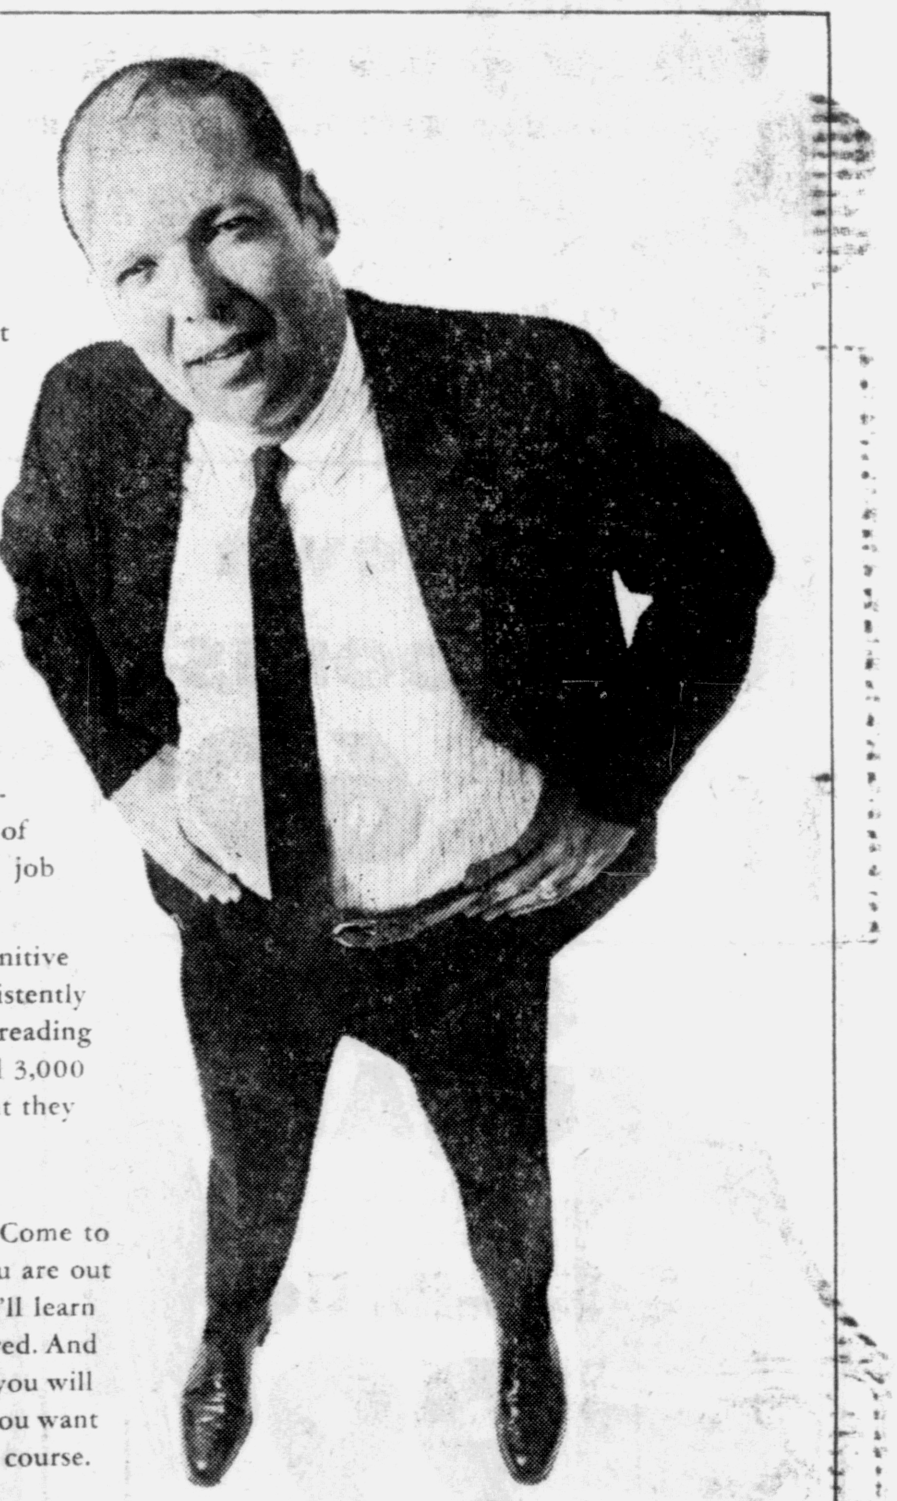
Special Section • Sat., October 19

This one will grab you! Latest in home furnishings, new styles, new ideas. Marin merchants and the I-J are making this Special Section a real doozler! Watch for it. Good reading!

☆ Remember, comes out Saturday, October 19 ☆



"I read 250 words per minute and I got through college. If that was good enough for me, it's good enough for my kid."

Sure, you can still get through college if you're a "normal" student reading at the average rate of 250 to 400 words per minute. It just means that throughout your college career you'll spend over 5,000 hours doing just your required reading! And that's a shame, because you could save at least 3,700 of those hours. How? By learning to read at least three times faster.

For five years now the Reading Dynamics Institute has guaranteed to at least triple your reading speed or refund your entire tuition. Thousands of people throughout the Bay Area have taken up this offer and are now reading 3 to 10 times faster. Results? Hundreds, even thousands, of irreplaceable hours saved for them to invest as they choose. Businessmen and professional people now spend more time in productive work. High school and college students have time for campus activities and taking "want to" courses, raising their grade point average, or holding down a part-time job. Imagine, if a student could cut 3,700 hours of his required reading time and invested only 2,500 of those hours in a job that paid $1.75 an hour, he could earn $4,375.00.

Reading Dynamics is an incredible education breakthrough. It is the definitive rapid reading method in the world today because their graduates consistently surpass the 450 to 600 words per minute rates aspired to by conventional reading courses. Most Reading Dynamics graduates can read between 1,000 and 3,000 words per minute. Many go higher, and all understand and appreciate what they read at these staggering speeds.

FREE READING DYNAMICS MINI-LESSON

Does Reading Dynamics really work? Well there is one way to find out. Come to one of the free Reading Dynamics Mini-Lessons listed below. Whether you are out of school or in, you'll find the Mini-Lesson an exciting hour well spent. You'll learn what Reading Dynamics is all about and all of your questions will be answered. And since the Mini-Lesson is a miniature version of a Reading Dynamics class, you will probably leave reading a little faster than when you came in. Of course, if you want to read a lot faster for the rest of your life you will have to sign up for the course.

Decline To Back Boycott Of Grapes

Marin supervisors declined. 4-1 yesterday to endorse the growing boycott of California table grapes.

The majority generally agreed that action on the boycott was not within the purview of the board.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, lone dissenter, said the board had taken stands previously on state and national issues — "We're the only board in the country that I know of that has a peace resolution on Vietnam" — and that grape pickers were not receiving "their fair share."

After the vote, on a resolution offered by A. Miguel Rodriguez, coordinator of the Marin boycott, Storer said he thought the board should be aware that the California State Chamber of Commerce, to which Marin annually contributes $500 in tax funds, was opposing the boycott in a statewide mailing campaign.

The board expressed surprise at this and asked staff to invite a representative of the chamber to the supervisors' next meeting Tuesday to explain the chamber's action.

Rodriguez, of Point Reyes Station, asked for support of the boycott in behalf of the Unitef Farm Workers Organizing Committee and the Marin County Labor Council, which recently sanctioned informational picketing of Marin grocery stores continuing to sell grapes.

A motion to table Rodriguez' request, endorsed by Behr, John E. McInnis, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and William A. Gnoss, said that "this board believes that it should not, except in very rare occasions, go beyond matters of local concern."

Automobile Stolen Near Base Theater

A 1953 blue Chevrolet was stolen from in front of the base theater between 8:30 and 10:30 p.m. yesterday, according to officials at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The car belonged to A/1C James R. Kelly who lives in base barracks. The car had New Jersey license MNO-125.

Elderly Housing Plan Wins Conditional Nod

A 40-unit housing project for the elderly in Novato won conditional approval from County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill yesterday.

Smith and Haley Construction Co. of Berkeley plans to build the project on three acres of land at thee northwest corner of Carmel Drive and Fourth Street, Novato.

Known as a Turn-Key project, the housing units would be built by the developer, then turned over to the Marin Housing Authority.

Cordill said he granted the use permit for one year, during which time all arrangements must be completed for eventual take-over by the housing authority. "It will not be valid unless the developers work out arrangements for acquisition by the housing authority," said Cordill.

The zoning administrator denied a request for a restaurant on the east side of intersection in a building formerly used as the Eugene McCarthy for president headquarters."

Cordill ruled that a restaurant there would be detrimental to the residential character of the neighborhood. Joseph A. Alber of San Rafael planned a restaurant, mostly for take-out service.

Manpower Report

A report on the manpower training program will be presented to the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council at 8 p.m. today at the multi-service center, 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

Baar Challenges County's Vacations, Cites Survey

A private survey of all 67 Marin firms employing 50 or more persons found none which gives three weeks of vacation after only one hear of service, Louis H. Baar, candidate for Marin supervisor in the Fourth District, said today.

Baar, critical of the supervisors since they voted in July for the new vacation policy, noted that his opponent, incumbent Thomas T. Storer, voted for the benefit.

The supervisors' action "angered many long-time county employees," said Baar, adding that the benefit "is just poor business practice."

All of the companies surveyed grant either one or two weeks of vacation after one year of employment, he said, and most granted three weeks only after five years.

The supervisors who voted for the benefit, he said, "have done the taxpaying public a great disservice. I think that this kind of disregard for the feelings of loyal county employees and lack of financial responsibility with the taxpayers is an absolute disgrace," said Baar, "and if elected I will do everything I possibly can to correct this error at the earliest possible time."

(The three weeks of vacation has been incorporated into contracts between the county and unions representing county employees.)

Marin City Youth To Superior Court

Marshall Ewin Craig, 19, of Marin City, was held to answer in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge he possessed marijuana Aug. 23 in Sausalito.

Judge Hadden W. Roth ordered the youth to appear in Marin Superior Court Oct. 21 to answer the charge.

Woman Is Injured In Three-Car Crash

Gloria Martinez, 24, of 119 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a bruised forehead received in a three-car collision in northbound traffic on Highway 101.

The California Highway Patrol said a car driven by Betsy Rae Sherman, 23, of San Francisco, slowed in traffic near the San Pedro Road exit and was hit from the rear by a car driven by Barbara Jean Finnigan, 21, of 625 Adrienne Street, Novato. The Finnigan car, the patrol said, was then hit by a car driven by Mrs. Martinez' husband, Luis Francisco Martinez, 27.

Supervisors Decide On Kappas Levees

Kappas Yacht Harbor levees, extending into Richardson Bay, may be raised by fill to keep out high tides, but the filling must not be wider than 24 feet, the Marin County Board of Supervisors decided yesterday.

The 24-foot limitation was recommended by the Richardson Bay Fill Committee, composed of the county public works director, county counsel and the planning director.

George Kappas, who won a court ruling on Aug. 6, allowing him to "maintain existing facilities," wanted to add fill to a width of up to 50 feet in some locations.

Attorney E. L. Regalia, representing Kappas, and Mrs. Helen Woolf, Kappas' daughter, argued that the 24 feet would be too narrow to permit tenants to park or turn their cars around.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr moved for approval of the fill with a width limit of 24 feet. Supervisor Thomas T. Storer seconded the motion, which passed unanimously.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

AIRPORT RENTAL — Approved the rental of office space for the county airport manager from Marin Aviation Inc. for $100 per month at Gnoss Field.

BRIDGE — Endorsed a resolution of the Redwood Empire Association, asking that the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and its assets be kept intact so that bridge funds can be used to help solve Marin-San Francisco transportation needs.

HALL OF JUSTICE — Awarded a $32,330 contract to Floortrends Inc. of San Francisco to provide carpeting in the court area, and a $25,816 contract to Heywood Wakefield of Michigan to provide 587 courtroom seats.

PROPOSITION 9 — Asked Administrator Alan Bruce to place on a future agenda discussion of Proposition 9 and 1-A, two November election proposals for property tax relief.

SCHOOL BOND — Authorized the sale of $15,000 worth of Lagunitas School bonds to Bank of America at a 4.9 per cent interest.

PATROL RADIO — Approved an $800 outlay to install radio equipment in the patrol car of a newly authorized resident deputy in West Marin.

4-H — Received certificates of appreciation from 4-H Club representatives Mary Kovats and Stanley Thomas, both students at College of Marin.

HOUSEBOATS — Asked for weekly staff reports on the progress of health and building code enforcement at houseboats in Richardson Bay.

FAIR — Asked Marcelle B. McCoy, manager of the Marin Art and Garden Fair, for a report in six weeks on facilities needed for transfer of the fair to the Civic Center in 1970. Mrs. McCoy asked for tree planting on the Civic Center grounds.

AUCTION — Learned that Saturday's auction of county equipment netted $13,000 for the county's vehicle and road equipment payment reserve.

APPOINTMENT — Learned of the appointment of Cliff Den-Otter to replace James A. Holmes on the San Rafael Meadows Flood Control Zone Advisory Board.

YOUTH CORPS — Learned the U.S. Department of Labor has approved extension of the in-school phase of the Neighborhood Youth Corps, allowing young persons to work 12 hours per week while continuing their education. The board approved $9,220 as its share of the $33,950 project.

RAILROAD — Asked the California Public Utilities Commission to intervene before the Interstate Commerce Commission in opposition to the application by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad to abandon its Sausalito branch. The Marin County Transit District, representatives of four cities and affected shippers also have opposed the abandonment.

HEALTH — Named Frank E. Kirby as an administrative analyst in the public health department at $809 monthly.

BOLINAS — Set a hearing for 9 a.m. Nov. 5 on dissolution of the Bolinas Harbor District.

WEST MARIN — Set a hearing for Oct. 22 on extension of the interim West Marin ordinance to allow continued master planning and creation of zoning restrictions.

Dominican Displays Alumni Art Works

The works of six former Dominican College students are on display now through Oct. 28 in San Marco Gallery on the college's San Rafael campus, according to college officials. Hours for the exhibit are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

The show includes paintings, etchings, prints and ceramics by Sallee Stewart Field, Eugenia Gabel, Emily Burns Guttman, Sister Mary Joanne, Elizabeth Stetson and Cecile Grandjean Volin.

At a point near New Orleans, the Mississippi River reaches a depth of 214 feet.

A 21-year-old welfare applicant, apparently in good health, was given two weeks to get a job yesterday by Marin County supervisors.

The young man, a hippie-type living on Gate 5 Road, Sausalito, will be paid general relief at the rate of $38 a week until he obtains his first pay check, the supervisors said.

The young man's identity was withheld by the county public social services (welfare) department in accordance with its practice to spare embarrassment to welfare recipients.

William Pryor, a work training counselor in the social services department, told supervisors that the young man "has an aversion to working every day to support himself, but he does believe he can support himself with part-time work."

There were guffaws from the audience, but Supervisor Peter H. Behr said it was all right with him if the young man believed he could live on part-time work.

Supervisor John F. McInnis said the supervisors, who hold the power to grant general relief, would be doing the applicant a "terrible disfavor" if he were granted welfare without instructions to obtain work.

School Night

A "meet the teacher" night for the middle primary grades will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. today at Old Mill School in Mill Valley. The fall program will be outlined by principal David Erskine in the auditorium and an open house in the individual classrooms will follow.

Marin To Share Costs Of Drake Boulevard Sidewalk

The county will pay 26 per cent of the anticipated $23,500 cost of making Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae safer for pedestrians, a majority of supervisors decided yesterday.

Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Supervisor Thomas T. Storer described the heavily-traveled Drake as a county thoroughfare of "extraordinary concern" and were willing to have the county share half the cost. But Supervisors Peter H. Behr, and William A. Gnoss and John F. McInnis held out for a 26 per cent share.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost presented three plans to make Drake Boulevard safer between Eliseo Drive and Wolfe Grade: improvements within Greenbrae itself at a cost of $20,000 so that residents would not walk along Drake Boulevard; walkway improvements along Drake at a cost of $23,500, and walkway improvements on Drake with a wider separation from the road at a cost of $51,750.

Frost insisted that improvements within Greenbrae itself would be the wisest because this would discourage pedestrians on Drake.

Attorney William G. Fleckles, representing residents of Greenbrae, insisted that a safer pedestrian walkway be provided along Drake. He warned that the county would be exposed to damage liability if the condition is not corrected.

Supervisors finally agreed on plan 2, calling for a sidewalk along Drake between Eliseo Drive and the large retaining wall between El Portal and Bon Air Road; a walk protected by a chain link fence behind the retaining wall, and a raised sidewalk from the retaining wall to the pedestrian ramp near the end of Almenar Drive.

Astronaut Aid Treaty Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A treaty providing for rescue and return of astronauts and their spacecraft downed on foreign soil by accident or emergency has been unanimously approved by the Senate.

The 66-0 approval yesterday came just three days before the first orbital flight in the Apollo moonshot program, an 11-day earth orbit by three astronauts in Apollo 7 to begin Friday.

Russia earlier had ratified the treaty which was approved by the United Nations General Assembly last December and signed by 75 nations.

Elevators For BART Stations Recommended

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Bay Area Rapid Transit District's engineering committee is recommending elevators for all its stations.

The action yesterday was a step toward complying with a state law which effective Nov. 13 which calls for elevators, or suitable substitutes, to serve the handicapped in all public buildings.

Including elevators would cost BART about $7 million in addition to its present $143 million deficit.

Harring Lang, BART board member, told the Alameda County Board of Supervisors in Oakland, meanwhile, that he and other officials expect to meet with Gov. Ronald Reagan about the deficit within a week.

T/SGT. DANNY K. DUNLAP
Awarded Bronze Star

Bronze Star For Service In Vietnam

T/Sgt. Danny K. Dunlap, now assigned to the 1902nd Comminications Squadrom at Hamilton Air Force Base, has been awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in Vietnam.

Sergeant Dunlap who lives at 348 Sunset Parkway, Novato, won the award while assigned to the 1880th Communications Squadron at Binh Thuy Air Base.

His citation read in part: "From Aug. 5, 1967 to June 5, 1968, while exposed to hostile fire, Sergeant Dunlap's outstanding professional skill, knowledge, initiative and leadership contributed immeasurably to the operational effectiveness of air traffic control facilities used for control of tactical aircraft operating in active missions against an opposing armed forces in the Mekong Delta. The exemplary leadership, personal endeavor and devotion to duty displayed by Sergeant Dunlap in this responsible position reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

He is married to the former Margaret R. Mitchell of Coalburn, Scotland. The have one son, Kevin, 6.

Homeowners To Join In Novato Cleanup Drive

The Loma Verde Homeowners Association voted Monday to cooperate with the City of Novato in its cleanup campaign, according to publicity chairman Mrs. John Tindell.

Association members will clean up Ignacio Boulevard in the campaign this Saturday and Sunday, and Oct. 19 and 20.

The association also voted to sponsor the annual Halloween costume parade and contest at the Loma Verde School, she said.

The $31 left from the preschool program last summer will be used toward the Lois Curtin tot lot which the association is constructing, she said. Contractor Lawrence Thomas has agreed to donate grading for the park which is being constructed on land owned by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints on Calle Arboleda, according to Mrs. Tindell.

Marijuana Denied

Jesse Earl Boykin, 19, of Richmond, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court Monday to a charge that he possessed marijuana in Novato April 8. Preliminary hearing was scheduled for Nov. 4 in Municipal Court.

Will California Have Wide-Open Primaries?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — By the time the 1972 scramble for the White House gets under way, California may have a "free-for-all" presidential primary similar to Oregon's.

A bill to establish such a primary narrowly failed to make the law books this year — because of Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan's veto. But the measure's author promises to keep trying.

Gray-haired State Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, a Democrat from San Jose, said in an interview he believes the bill will pass again next year and Reagan will sign it.

WOULDN'T DARE

"I'm sure he would do so reluctantly. But I'm hoping I can generate enough pressure on him that he wouldn't dare veto it again," Alquist said.

If it happens, and if the national convention system remains basically unchanged, the California primary would gain in importance and Oregon's probably would lose some of the national interest it now enjoys. By 1972, California likely will be sending the nation's largest delegations to the conventions.

Currently, the Oregon primary in late May is the next-to-last before the conventions and California's and South Dakota's are the final ones.

NEITHER ON BALLOT

This year, neither of the ultimate nominees—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon—appeared on the California presidential primary ballot.

Reagan's favorite son candidacy froze out other Republican contenders under the banner of party unity.

Humphrey's California advisers told the vice president that an attempt to win California, where the campaigns of Democratic Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy already were well under way, would risk monumental embarrassment.

Alquist called it "a ridiculous situation."

"The nominee of neither party was on our California ballot. We had no opportunity to vote for either one of them."

REAGAN'S REASONS

When he vetoed Alquist's bill in June, Reagan said an Oregon-type primary "would place prominent political figures in awkward positions.

"The proposed new method forces a man to accept the alternatives of either raising money and campaigning against his will or accepting political defeat."

Alquist replied, "Any candidate for president already has made his decision. The fact he doesn't want to run in a state where he doesn't think he will do well is beside the point.

"The people have a right to determine this decision," Alquist said.

As in Oregon, Alquist's primary would require the secretary of state to put all publicly recognized candidates for president on the primary ballot. They could withdraw by signing a statement that they were not candidates.

CONVENTION CHOICE

The winner, if he got at least 40 per cent of his party's vote, would pick convention delegates early in July. The delegation would be pledged to him for at least two convention ballots, until he released the delegation or until the candidate received less than 35 per cent of the vote on a subsequent ballot.

SEN. ALFRED ALQUIST
Situation 'ridiculous'

If no candidate got 40 per cent of the vote, the state party convention would choose an unpledged delegation.

PRESENT SYSTEM

The present system for making the California primary ballot: a steering committee organizes a proposed slate of delegates — either pledged or unpledged — then gathers petition signatures to make the ballot.

Rallying behind Reagan, Republicans in the Legislature helped defeat Alquist's primary bill in 1967, when Reagan was beginning to organize his favorite son candidacy. The governor said one of his intentions was to keep out other contenders and thus avoid the type of intraparty fight that split Republicans in 1964 when New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Barry Goldwater battled for California votes.

1968 DIFFERENT

This year, Republicans felt no such commitment to Reagan since the bill couldn't have applied to the 1968 election.

In September, Alquist tried to muster the two-thirds margin required in each house to override Reagan's veto, but failed. He did get 23 votes in the Senate, just four shy of the required two-thirds, as close as the Senate has come to voting to override a Reagan veto.

Democrats and Republicans share a 20-20 split in the Senate. Democrats control the Assembly 43-38.

Reagan said, "The proposed legislation will tend to divide and splinter our major political parties. The strong, stable two-party system we have developed in our country is one of the cornerstones of American democracy. Legislation that weakens this system should be avoided."

But a statewide poll showed early this year that many California Republicans were unhappy they had no choice in the Republican primary.

Alquist commented, "Reagan would have been in a much stronger position if he had competition here and he had won a contested primary — which I'm sure he would have done — and gone to Miami with a much stronger hand than he did."

Reagan went to the GOP convention in Miami Beach as a technical noncandidate, then made an unsuccessful bid for the nomination.

Junior Horsemen Playday Sunday In Novato Arena

An open playday will be held starting at 10 a.m. Sunday by the Novato Junior Horsemen's Association at the horsemen's arena on Bugeia Lane in Novato, according to Mr. and Mrs. James Kimbell, advisors to the junior club.

There will be trophies for high point seniors of 18 years of age and over; juniors 18 to 10 years of age and pee wee under 10 years of age. There is an entry fee.

Events in the competition include: keyhole, pole bending, peewee pole bending, barrel race, novelty barrel race, quadrangle stake race, pickup race, two-man relay and ribbon race, according to the Kimbells.

There is no admission charge and refreshments will be available.

$500,000 Is Sought In GI's Death

Parents of a 19-year-old Novato soldier, killed last Dec. 22, by a shot from the gun of a San Francisco policeman who was struggling with another youth, have filed suit against the City of San Francisco for $500,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Smiley of 833 Wilmac Avenue, Novato, have asked the sum of money plus court costs for "wrongful" death to their son, SP/4 Harry James Smiley and have named Officer Norbert Gutierrez as negligent.

Gutierrez, a member of the San Francisco Tactical Squad, was responsible for Smiley's death because he and Officer B. John McKay, approached Smiley and two companions with drawn guns, according to Attorney Lois Prentice of San Francisco, representing the Smileys.

Charged with involuntary manslaughter in the case is Floyd Richard, 28, who, police officers say, was struggling with Gutierrez when his gun went off, killing Smiley.

Officers testified at a coroner's inquest that Richard threw away a marijuana cigarette and a matchbox, containing marijuana when Officer Gutierrez questioned him.

Police further testified that they had stopped Richard, Smiley and a third man, Herbert J. Fraser, 26, of San Francisco for questioning after Smiley had approached the other two. The officers said they suspected a sale of marijuana was taking place.

Tiburon Cocktail Fete To Aid Wornum

A public cocktail party to promote the candidacy of Michael Wornum for Marin Cogunty supervisor in the Third District will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parnell, 8 Felipa Court, Tiburon.

Mrs. Parnell, former Tiburon city councilman, supported Margaret Azevedo during the primary election.

Children's Drama School Approved

A use permit to conduct a children's school of drama and dance from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays at 176 Tunstead Avenue was granted Tuesday night by the San Anselmo Planning Commission.

Applicants were Joanne Coffrini, Rose Marie Codoni and Gerrie Kreeiger.

The commission unanimously denied the application by David Lavelle to rezone property at 29 Magnolia Avenue from central business to neighborhood apartment because, commissioners said, the change would be inconsistent with the city's master plan.

Dishes From A New Cookbook

Everything from hors d'oeuvres to dessert will be featured in a cookbook being prepared for the Greenbrae Relief Society's bazaar.

The society, which is affiliated with the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints, will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Greenbrae church.

An unusual feature of the cookbooks is the wooden covers being made by the women of the church. The covers are made of redwood, which the women have cut, stained and sealed.

The next step is to put the design on the cover, which is done in a five step silk screening process. The result is a brightly colored cover with corresponding color index pages.

In the meantime, the recipes are being printed, on one side of the page only, allowing space for notes and additional recipes. When the printing is finished the books will be laced together with leather strips, which can be removed so additional recipes can be added to the book.

In addition to the "Greenbrae Gourmet" cookbooks, the women will sell handmade wreaths, linens, decorated boxes, sewing kits, quilts, knitted booties, aprons, bulletin boards, wooden fruit plaques and Christmas stockings at the bazaar. They will also have works of art, numerous homemade foods and a special feature, quiet books, for sale.

The recipes in the cookbook are all favorites of the members of the Greenbrae Relief Society.

HERB BREAD

Soften 2 yeast cakes in ½ cup lukewarm water.

Pour 1¼ cup scalded milk over 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt and ½ cup shortening.

Beat in 2½ cups flour and 2 beaten eggs. Stir in softened yeast, also:

¼ teaspoon sage
½ teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon celery salt
½ cup grated Tillamook cheese
1½ cup rolled oats.

Add enough more flour (4½ to 5 cups in all) to make stiff dough. Turn on lightly floured board and knead smooth and satiny, about 10 minutes. Round into a ball, place in greased bowl and let rise in a warm place until double in size (about an hour). Punch dough down, cover and let rest 10 minutes. Place in two 8 inch greased pans. Brush lightly with melted shortening and sprinkle with caraway seeds. Cover, let rise double in bulk. Bake 375° about 35 minutes.

HALLOWEEN POPCORN BALLS

3 tablespoons of butter
3 cups of small marshmallows (or 36 large ones)
½ teaspoon of orange coloring
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 drop of peppermint flavoring
4 cups of popcorn popped

In a large sauce pan melt butter and marshmallows on low heat. Stir constantly. Then add coloring and flavoring. Stir in popcorn, butter hands, then shape into ball, place on wax-paper.

GUACAMOLE DIP

Blend:

5 avocados
2 tomatoes
1 small onion
Juice of 1 lemon
Part of one green chili cut up
Salt and pepper to taste

Serve with crackers or tortilla chips.

FRUIT DIP

2 tablespoons apricot jam
1 cup sour cream
¼ cup flaked coconut
½ cup chopped walnuts

Mix well, let stand in refrigerator to meld flavors.

Serve with fruit to dip into this mixture. (Bananas, pineapple, or melon balls.)

WATERCRESS ROLL UPS

Remove crusts from sandwich loaf and slice thin. Spread pimiento cheese spread, then mayonnaise. Sprinkle with chopped watercress. Roll. Anchor with toothpick. To serve, remove picks and tuck sprigs of watercress in ends of sandwiches.

PARTY TORTE

Bring 8 egg whites to room temperature.
Add 1½ teaspoon vanilla and 1 teaspoon vinegar and beat until mixture forms peaks.
Add 2 cups sifted sugar (a tablespoon at a time)
Beat until mixture is stiff and all the sugar is dissolved.

Spread mixture gently into 2 nine-inch cake pans. (Line the pans with brown paper).

Bake in slow oven — 300° or less for an hour. Cool well in pans. Meringues will be delicately crusted on the outside, tender and a little moist inside.

Turn onto serving plate. Fold 1 cup crushed pineapple drained, and ¾ cup maraschino cherries drained and cut into quarters into 2 cups heavy cream whipped. Spread mixture generously over the meringue.

Top with second meringue. Frost with the rest of the whipped cream. Chill for 12 hours. Garnish with more cherries.

Pear, Blue Cheese Classic In A Different Salad Dish

Everyone's certain to like this quick and easy fruit salad. It's a new way to serve that classic dessert combination, fresh Bartlett pears and Danish blue cheese.

You toss the pears (sliced, of course) with crumbled cheese, onion rings, shredded lettuce, diced cucumber and rye croutons. Then you make a simple oil and vinegar dressing with a pinch of garlic powder, pour this over the salad and toss again.

PEAR SALAD DAMSK

3 fresh California Bartlett pears
1 small onion
1½ quarts shredded lettuce
1 cup diced cucumber
1 cup rye croutons
3 tablespoons crumbled Danish Blue Cheese
⅜ tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Pinch garlic powder

Halve and core pears; cut into slices. Slice onion crosswise; separate into rings. Place pears, onion, lettuce, cucumber, croutons and th cheese in salad bowl. Combine all remaining ingredients in jar with cover; shake well to blend. Pour over salad mixture; toss lightly and serve at once.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Flank Steak Is Dieter's Answer

For diet-conscious people who also happen to like the taste of steak, try beef kabobs for a delicious main course. Cut round steak into cubes, place on a skewer with onions, green pepper pieces, and mushrooms. Round steak has very little waste and is considered an economical cut. Because it has little fat it is perfect for dieters. Top round steak can be broiled and still be relatively tender if you buy the top grades — prime

Homemade Raisin Bread Perks Up The Appetite At Breakfast Table

Fragrant homemade raisin bread makes the breakfast scene. You can quickly stir it up while fixing dinner and bake it when the oven's free.

In fact, it's almost a complete breakfast, since it is made with a generous amount of seedless raisins, whole wheat flour and eggs. Bake it in empty No. 2½ cans and it will cut into toaster size slices.

Would-be teen-age breakfast skippers love it since it is just the right size to pop into the toaster and spread with peanut butter when it comes out.

RAISIN BREAD IN THE ROUND

1½ cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon soda
1½ cups graham flour
1 cup seedless raisins
1 egg
½ cup brown sugar (packed)
1½ cups buttermilk
¼ cup melted shortening

Resift flour with baking powder, salt and soda. Add graham flour and raisins. Beat eggs with brown sugar. Add buttermilk and shortening. Stir in dry mixture, mixing just enough to moisten flour. Spoon into 2 greased No. 2½ cans.* Bake in moderate over (350 degrees F.) 45 to 50 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes, then turn out onto cooling rack. Makes 2 round loaves.

IN EAST AFRICA

Mombasa—City Of Mixtures

Second of a series on a return trip to East Africa.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Pop!

Rich laughter greeted the near-miss as the dart punctured the cork target and another dark arm cocked to throw at the dart board. A British pub game—but that's nearly all that's left as the traces of white colonialism fade from a formerly British-run hotel near Mombasa. Now it's Indian owned and caters largely to Africans.

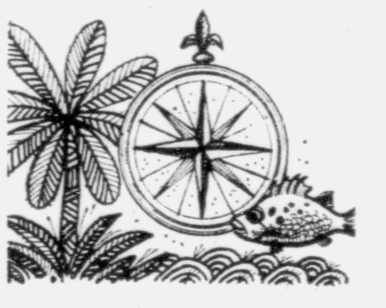
The small knot of young men and a few women nudged each other in glee as they scored the barrage on the dart board and ordered another quart of the Kenya-brewed Tusker beer. Motown sounds and Swahili pop music bounced from the jukebox, setting shoulders to swaying. Outside a warm tropical deluge poured down, carpeting the ground with splashing water.

The dart board, the hotels' custom of tea and the signs "Club—members only" are among the few visible reminders of the former "boy—sahib" colonial life on the Kenya coast. Less tangible colonial vestiges, though muted, are entertained in the heads of the few Europeans who still have permanent homes in East Africa. Often recalling the past, they are dubious about their futures, admitting sadly that someday they may have to leave their beloved Kenya to live in Canada, South Africa or Australia, as their farms and businesses are bought out and Africanized.

THE HISTORY OF a region is written in its people, and white faces are few in the busy streets of Mombasa, where a mixture of Asians, Arabs and Africans mingle during the business day. Porters move crates containing the bounty of East African produce—wheat, maize, coffee and tea, fruits and cotton—in and out of the seaport's warehouses, called go-downs, readying it to be loaded into the holds of ships anchored in the channel. Columns of smoke in the otherwise clean air mark factories near the city which produce cement, containers, tires and other products. Freight is unloaded in the form of coffee picked from the slopes of Mt. Kilimanjaro and Kenya and Uganda's beautiful hill country, coming off the railroad built along the old caravan routes that once brought slaves from inland to Mombasa to be sent by Arab traders to Persia, Arabia, Egypt or to the coast to work the clove plantations. The British built the railroad from Mombasa to Lake Victoria in 1895 to assist in suppression of the slave trade and give access to the navigable lake and headwaters of the Victoria Nile.

Laborers from India were brought over to construct the railroad which rises from sea level to 8,000 feet before dropping to the 3,700 foot high lake, and it is their descendants who make up the part of the large Indian population of East Africa. Now tradesmen and artisans, many of the Indians live in teeming compounds along Mombasa's streets, and the women can be seen hanging from the balconies of their two and three story concrete apartments watching their men play cards in the doorways by lantern light at dusk while the pungence of curries emanates from cooking pots in the dark interior. The crowding of the many contrasts with the well-to-do-Indians' homes surrounded by well-kept gardens in the tree-lined suburban streets. Today Indian merchants are among the wealthiest East Africans.

Both Indians and Arabs were regular traders to the East African coast for centuries, and the Hindus were the first to use the monsoon winds to steer their ships laden with coconut, wheat, rice, cotton cloth, sugar and ghee to East Africa. The Hindus came to trade and stayed, some exploring and charting the interior as well. And they shipped spices, incense and ivory home to India.



BUT THE ARABS, who sailed their dhows in lively trade, have had the most permanent influence on the Kenya and Tanzania coast, as the myriad dark women in Moslem black veils on today's city streets attest. While the religion of Islam is found throughout East Africa, the coast is a stronghold of Moslem society. Throughout the Arab business section Moslems garbed in robes and caps squat at their shop fronts having afternoon coffee, filling tiny cups with thick dark brew from conical brass samovars set on the sidewalks. And while black-robed barefoot women perform their daily housework among the shambles of tin-roofed single-story houses separated by narrow dirt alleys, it is strange to realize that it was the Arabs who first built stone houses in place of mud and straw African huts.

The veiled Moslem women—black Africans, Arabs or mixtures—mingle on the streets with sari-clad Indians as they do their daily marketing at open stands and small all-purpose dukas along the streets. Each shop is marked with the name of the owner along side a heavy, richly carved door which is slid across the shop at closing time. In the shallow darkness inside, shoppers examine the goods which line three walls to the ceiling and are reached eagerly by the owner and his family scurrying up ladders.

Outside, motorscooters and bicycles carrying purchases and produce clog the streets. Mombasa, the commercial port city, is as lively as any in East Africa. Built on an island, it draws a colorful stream of people into it by bridge and barge ferry from the green farming environs.

THE OPEN AIR African market at the city center is a blazing circus of pots and pans, plastic shoes and clothing, wood furniture and utensils all stacked on wooden tables several hundred feet long and covered on top with corrugated iron roofing to ward off sudden squalls.

You watch as a proprietor and two men seriously discuss merits and price of a white cotton bra being tried on by a woman over her brilliant yellow and green garments. The tiny dark face of the baby tied on her back eyes the whole with a polished brass plate batch of bras dangling from a wooden post like some strange white fruit on a dead tree. More talk, but no sale.

Across the dirt aisle vast piles of printed cotton yardage dazzle the eyes with their bright hot pinks, banana greens, deep earth reds, and blues. The rectangular pieces are stamped in a wild variety of designs, from the bold "African" to more subtle paisley, and form the wardrobe of nearly every African woman in Kenya, who wears one wrapped around as a dress, another as a shawl which holds the newest baby firmly on the back, and a smaller contrasting piece wound around the head. Each is of differing hue and pattern, creating a sumptuous feast of color against the deep brown skin as the owner walks with a stately air, balancing purchases unsteadied on her head.

"MOMBASA IS JUST a hot, commercial, not too attractive place," a Kenyan told us later while we sat having tea on the club veranda above the blue-water channel and crows cleaned up the biscuit crumbs.

But to the visitor the 2,000-year history of the coast is written here in the Arabic signs, the spicy air, the hooting of the ships' horns, the bare black feet of the chai-man bringing hot milk in a silvered pitcher for tea, and the monsoon winds moving a dhow out on the horizon.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Southern Marinites Staying On The Move

By MOLLY MARIN

The charm of ancient things, friendliness of the people and cleanliness of the countries they visited were highlights of the European trip the J. Paul Hurds of Mill Valley began on Aug. 31.

They flew to London, then bought an automobile in Hanover and drove 2,600 miles through Central Europe visiting Germany, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Luxemburg, Belgium and Holland. At Bremen they had the car shipped to this country and flew to Paris for three days before coming home.

Of special interest to Mrs. Hurd, who is noted for her floral arranging talents, was taking a cog train from Interlachen into the Alps to visit a wild flower garden containing 500 varieties.

In Heidelberg the Hurds joined the John R. Georges of Mill Valley and took a trip with them up the Neckar River in Germany and attended the annual wine and sausage festival at Baddurkheim.

BEING EXTENSIVELY entertained are the William B. MacLanes, who have sold their home in Mill Valley and will be moving to Portland, Ore., next week.

Mrs. MacLane is a retired Mill Valley school teacher, and Mr. MacLane is a musician and artist. His daughter, Mrs. George Kahler Jr., also lives in Mill Valley.

Musical evenings honoring the MacLanes are being planned for tonight by Mrs. Robert L. Schultz at the Schultzes' home in Mill Valley and for Saturday at their home in Larkspur by the Peter Altmanns; Sunday the Vernon Rowns of Corte Madera will be hosts at a dinner party for the MacLanes.

The couple were guests for dinner Saturday at the Mill Valley home of the Leonard Downings, and Sunday a farewell family dinner was given by Mr. MacLane's son, Alan MacLane, in Lafayette.

A reception will be held for the MacLanes Sunday following the 11 a.m. service at the Mill Valley Community Church.

LAILA FECKAY Sargis of Mill Valley has recently returned after a six week trip to the Middle East. She visited Lebanon, Syria, Egypt, Jordan and Saudi Arabia. She visited members of the Feckay family in Lebanon. A founder of the recently orgaized Action Committee on American-Arab Relations in the Bay Area. Mrs. Sargis contacted people of all walks of life during her trip. She said she was constantly impressed by the warm-hearted hospitality she encountered throughout the Islamic world.

MR. AND MRS. Edgar M. Giles of Fairfax recently sailed from San Francisco aboard the liner, SS President Roosevelt, for a two week's trip to Honolulu.

MR. AND MRS. Donald Marek of Incline Village, Nev., formerly of Lucas Valley, became parents for the fifth time. The baby, Donald Harper Marek, was born Sept. 10. He is the brother of Randy, Jeff, Jennifer and Allison.

HOME IN Sausalito after a year in London are Mrs. Robert M. Rosenberg and the Rosenbergs' three children Robin, 10, Terry Lynn, 9, and Kenneth, 8. The children attended school in London, and the group did a great deal of traveling all over continent. Marilyn is now working at Mount Zion hospital in San Francisco.

Bicycle Registration Set For Kentfield Youngsters

Bicycle registration at Adaline Kent School in Kentfield will be held on Friday from 3 to 5 p.m. and Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. A fee of $1 covers a two year period and entitles each owner to a duplicate form, an owner's card, basic safety rules and instructions on reporting a missing or found bicycle.

Students at Wolfe Grade School in Kentfield will register their bicycles on Oct. 18 from 3:05 to 5 p.m. and on Oct. 19 from 10 to 1 p.m.

The Peter Pan Chapter of Children's Home Society, maintains a current file and a 24 hour answering service is available to all local police departments with a view to establishing a central identification station and a clearing house for missing registered bicycles. For proper registration each bicycle must be brought, since all are listed by frame number, color, make and size.

Country Look Fascinates Male

The country look continues to fascinate the American male, no matter what part of the country, or city, he lives in.

The features which characterize this look are a preference for brown and other earth tones; husky fabrics, especially tweeds; and strong pattern, with emphasis on windowpane checks. Special tailoring details include leather buttons, buttoned flap pockets, bi-swing and belted backs, front and back yokes, lapel tabs. The September issue of "Gentlemen's Quarterly" says so and shows it in pictures.

The magazine's fashion seers feel this country squire look will find its way into many offices—if the boss isn't dead set against it.

Nurse First To Win Combat Decoration

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A Stockton, Air Force nurse is the first women to receive a combat decoration in the Vietnam war.

Lt. Jane A. Lombardi, 25, was honored Monday for showing "extraordinary and outstanding professional skill and personal calm" while helping to evacuate wounded from the base hospital at Da Nang while under heavy fire last Jan. 30.

She received the Bronze Star, the Air Medal and the Commendation Medal from General Bruce K. Holloway, commander in-chief of the Strategic Air Command.

Lt. Lombardi and other medical personnel helped remove 38 wounded troops, 26 of them unable to walk, to a hospital plane.

"They like to hit the wounded and the medics," she said. "It's their favorite target."

The lieutenant was assigned to Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha last April after serving 18 months as an air evacuation nurse.

Middle Age

Time appears to be a good remedy for middle aged depression, Swiss psychiatrists say. Among 555 patients hospitalized at least once for depressive disorders before age 65, some 80 per cent were either entirely recovered or only mildly depressed on re-examination after age 65, Medical Tribune reports.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Three Grown Children' Letter Brings Answer From Non-Writer

DEAR HELEN:

I'm the mother of "Three Grown Children" who told of their father having an affair with "Marilyn." They didn't write that letter. Marilyn did, to justify herself because she feels guilty for finding a young man and throwing over my husband. Naturally she wants me to take him back, so she won't be blamed. And she wants everyone to see it was all my fault because I was a cold wife.

Here's the real story.

He spent his time and money on Marilyn, leaving his loving wife at home alone. The letter said Marilyn had been more of a real wife than the wife. My children wouldn't say that! They know how I suffered.

Now I have found out that there were at least two other women. Confronted with facts, my husband says he'll reform. He repeats he has always loved me and none of the others — didn't want to marry them because "they weren't nice girls." Was he any better? Or considerably worse?

The writer asked you to persuade the wife to "take half a loaf" and accept her husband back, so that she can continue with her country club and posh living. I'm glad you put up an argument.

Even though my husband begs me to let him make it up to me and prove his love, I'm not having any, thank you. I now neither admire nor respect him and I'm a lot younger than he is. So I shall make a new life of my own. And I hope Marilyn's conscience never quits!

— MOTHER OF THREE GROWN CHILDREN

DEAR MOTHER:

Any similarity between you and the real "Mother of Three Grown Children" is purely coincidental. You two come from different parts of the country. Moreover, I changed the letter from "T. G. C." so much that the principals wouldn't recognize themselves.

Now for your problem. If you're determined to toss a third of your life down the drain, I can't stop you. But I can't believe a "loving wife" would be so sure. Perhaps "Marilyn" offered the excuse you've been looking for — a way out, minus guilt, for the "poor wronged little wife." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I often wonder why, when people talk of immorality, we assume "sex." There are so many other things which are far more immoral. Like cruelty, dishonesty, meanness. — SOL.

DEAR SOL:

Good question. Everyone should ask it. Perhaps then we'd see that illicit sex usually isn't as immoral as it is unwise, hurtful, and in the long run, often sad. Only when it is mixed up with those others — cruelty, dishonesty, meanness — can sex be called "immoral" — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Whyohwhy, again. My head grows bald. The hair in my ears increases. Also my eyebrows grow bushy. Why didn't nature let hair keep growing where it is supposed to grow?

— SENIOR SIR

DEAR SIR:

Some will say it's because you wear a hat on your head and not over your ears, but I prefer to think Nature is a tricky old dame who enjoys scrambling up our features. Why else would she turn a man's hair gray while his moustache stays black? — H.

Court Unit Has A New President

"The Marin County Juvenile Court Auxiliary was established to aid and abet the work of the Marin County Juvenile Court in the rehabilitation of delinquent and disturbed youths by providing volunteer services and funds," said says the auxiliary's newly elected president , Mrs. Gordon Henry Dohemann.

MRS. GORDON H. DOHEMANN

Karen Dohemann has been a member of the auxiliary for three years. She served as recording secretary for the organization, which is open to anyone interested in working with the children.

Projects and activities planned by the auxiliary include a Christmas program, a foster home program and a resource library program.

The Dohemanns have lived in Marin for eight years. They have four children: Jesse, 13, Linda, 12, Russell, 11, and Erik, 9-year-old. Karen attended school in San Francisco at Katherine Delmar Burke and also attended the University of California. She is a member of the Junior League of San Francisco, San Pedro Parent-Teacher Association, Davidson P-TA, the Country Club Guild of Sunny Hills, Marin Country Day School Parents Group and is a court hostess on Monday afternoons at the San Rafael Courthouse.

Party Advice 'Never Seat A Frenchman By His Wife's Lover'

By ELLEN BESWICK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Most hostesses can remember with searing shame at least one major misstep in their entertaining careers.

They can take heart.

They probably have never: seated a Frenchman next to his wife's lover; served pork (forbidden by the Moslem religion) to Arab visitors; or been called on the carpet the morning after by the President of the United States.

"Until a social secretary has almost single-handedly stopped traffic in the Suez Canal, she has not sinned effectively," reminisces Letitia Baldrige in her autobiography "Of Diamonds and Diplomats" (published by Houghton Mifflin Co.)

MISS BALDRIGE never does explain about the traffic problem in the Suez Canal, but she does present an extremely witty and fast-paced collection of anecdotes on her career through the halls of the great.

Her experiences as a social secretary in the U.S. Embassy in Paris, under Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce in Italy and to Jacqueline Kennedy in the White House give a special insight into the machinations and crisis-coping attendant on their public activities.

The life of a social secretary is far more hazardous on the entertaining side than that of most American homemakers, particularly where protocol and foreign guests are concerned.

Miss Baldrige recalls one of her first gaffes in the U.S. Embassy in Paris. She seated an important French official next to his wife's lover. It apparently caused quite a flurry since the affair was well known to everyone at the party except the social secretary.

AT THE U.S. Embassy in Rome, Miss Baldrige managed to feature Florentine beef at the Indian ambassador's dinner, an item which is forbidden by the Hindu religion, and serve a pork dish to a group of visiting Arabs.

Miss Baldrige notes that one in such positions must learn not to take their errors too seriously. The more experienced you become, the more grievous grow your mistakes.

To kick off her days with the Kennedy admnistration Miss Baldrige managed to schedule the first official party on a Sunday. Cocktails were served from bars placed strategically around the first floor of the White House. It was the first time liquor had been served at an official party with the press present.

The social secretary faced a tirade from President Kennedy the next day. It seems that Kennedy had already heard from three delegations of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and gotten calls from every congressman in the Baptist Belt.

MISS BALDRIGE once remarked to a White House cohort, "Don't worry, as long as we're not responsible for the start of World War III, we're all right."

Miss Baldrige's reminiscences, which she describes as "The Autobiography of a Happy Life" also includes some success stories.

She discusses the state dinner which the Kennedys gave for General Ayub Khan, the president of Pakistan, at Mount Vernon, an undertaking which one of the White House military aides remarked required planning similar to a full-scale military engagement.

The social secretary had in her command an augmented White House staff, units of the Army, Navy and Marines and the National Symphony Orchestra. Despite several preparty crises, involving mosquitos and poison ivy, the evening went off without a hitch.

The guests were ferried out from Washington in Navy yachts and a PT boat, complete with drinks, hors d'oeuvres and musicians. They were treated to a tour of George Washington's home and a military drill by the Army's Colonial Fife and Drum Corps in Revolutionary period costumes before dinner was served under a candlelit marquee overlooking the Potomac.

THE AFTERDINNER concert by the National Symphony Orchestra was also held out of doors and featured a program of American classics.

The author describes it as "a magic night, an unforgettable state dinner", and notes that she would never again, in her own entertaining, refer to anything as "a complicated party."

Miss Baldrige credits much of her expertise on party planning to her first boss, Mrs. David Bruce, wife of the U.S. ambassador to France, for whom she worked in Paris shortly after World War II.

"Mix the guests is the best rule," she finds. "Have at least one stimulating conversationalist. Have people who do not know each other. Have some handsome faces shining around, regardless of their lack of importance, and above all have someone on the same wavelength as the guest of honor."

Mrs. Joseph E. Foster Of San Rafael To Head Young Ladies' Institute 98

St. Anselm's Young Ladies' Institute 98 has elected Mrs. Joseph Edward Foster of San Rafael president.

A five-year-member of the institute, Florence Foster describes its purpose as assisting people spiritually and materially. Members are sending clothes and toys to the Indian children at St. Michel's Mission.

The organization is open to Catholic women over the age of 16. Members assist the pastor of St. Anselm's and also plan social events, which this year will include a Halloween party, birthday party, potluck dinner and a Christmas party.

Mrs. Foster has lived in Marin County for 35 years. She and her husband, who is retired, have three children: Joseph E. Foster Jr. of San Rafael, John W. Foster of Petaluma and Mrs. George Grubb of Klamath Falls, Ore.

The new president enjoys sewing, pettipoint, reading and her work as a sales clerk, but her greatest delight is her seven grandchildren.

MRS. JOSEPH E. FOSTER

Miss Maryana Bettencourt will serve as inside sentinal, Mrs. Paul Neese, outside sentinal. Organist is Mrs. John Eggisti, and the trustees include Mesdames Ralph Herold, Lawrence Antolini, Kenneth Wilson, Frank Wilson and Miss Loretto O'Rourke.

Women Told Stay Out Of White House

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shirley Temple Black, back from a confrontation with Soviet tanks in Czechoslovakia, believes women should stay out of the White House.

After speaking to some 500 persons at the Commonwealth Club on the subject, "I Saw Soviet Tanks in Prague," the former child movie star was asked when she thought a woman would be named a candidate for vice president.

"I don't know," she said, "But if they ever name one to be president, I'm going to move."

As for the tanks, Mrs. Black said she had never seen so many — nor had she seen them move so fast.

She said one car in the motorcade that took her and other Americans from Prague to West Germany was draped with an American Flag.

Czechs lining the streets waved and shouted when they saw the flag-draped car, she said. One even kissed the flag.

"It's not without irony," Mrs. Black said, "that those Communists kissed the American flag while here at home some Americans choose to desecrate it."

Pipes' Merits Argued Before Novato Council

Ordinances adopting the state unform building and mechanical and plumbing codes were introduced by the Novato City Council at its regular meeting last night, but not before considerable discussion on the use of plastic pipe in the plumbing code.

The council set 8 p.m., Nov. 12 for a public hearing before the final passage of the ordinances adopting the codes. The vote was 4-0 with Mayor Harley McAskill absent.

The city's building code committee had approved the use of plastic pipe for drains, waste and vent pipes, according to Carl S. Brown, chairman of the committee.

"No jurisdiction should shut the door on new materials," Brown said.

John P. Gorman, district manager for the Cast Iron Pipe Institute during the council meeting put on a demonstration and showed how certain substances could eat a hole in plastic pipe in 10 minutes.

William A. Smith of the Plastics Pipe Institute, countered by telling the council that the main enemies of the plastic pipes were the cast iron, copper and clay pipe manufacturers, but that many of them were now starting to manufacture plastic pipes.

Smith pointed out that 17 per cent of the houses nationally and 50 per cent in California constructed in the past year are now using plastic pipe.

The Novato City Council also:

UNDERGROUND — Introduced an ordinance setting up procedures for council to designate areas where overhead wires shall be placed underground, financed by a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. fund, set up by state law, for this purpose.

PAINTING — Awarded a $2,267 contract to Ove Hansen of Novato to paint the exterior of the Novato City Hall. This was the lowest of six bidders. The building department estimate on the job was $3,500.

COMMISSIONERS — Passed an ordinance limiting the terms of members of the Parks and Recreation advisory commission to two years. The vote was 3-1 with Councilman Douglas M. Merrill against. Merrill has constantly opposed the council action in cutting the terms from four to two years.

SCOTTSDALE — Approved plans for Glendale Homes to construct 51 fourplex structures in the Scottsdale development west of Highway 101 and south of Redwood Boulevard.

SIGNS — Introduced an ordinance starting proceedings to abate a sign of Sunset Petroleum Corp. on the west side of Highway 101 south of San Marin Drive and another sign of American Savings and Loan on the west side of Highway 101 at Novato Creek. The council set Nov. 12 for a public hearing.

REZONING — Passed ordinances rezoning from single to multiple family two and a half acres for Fabian Bobo and the northeast corner of South Novato Boulevard and Yukon Way and from agriculture to light industrial for three acres at 496 Olive Avenue for Fernando Clemintino and approved a site improvement agreement with Clementino.

ANNEXATION — Authorized the city staff to proceed with the annexation of 30 acres belonging to Paul Goldstone where the Los Robles mobile home park will be constructed and to see if adjoining lands such as the Marin County Humane Society and Soiland Co. would also annex to the city at the same time.

TRAVEL — Approved travel expenses for Councilmen J. Wayne Womack, Joseph Gargiulo and M. E. (Babe) Silva, and planning commissioners Robert Lagle and Lee Wise to attend the convention of the League of California Cities Oct. 13 to 16 in Los Angeles.

PROJECT — Heard a report from Clifford Temps, acting public works director, that the Diablo Avenue improvement project should be completed in about three weeks if the weather permits.

APPOINTMENTS —After a 20-minute closed meeting named Charles Thompson, 48, of 616 Plum Street and Marlin Kentapp, 26, of 1616 Novato Boulevard as maintenance men at $551 per month. The city had 51 applications for the two positions.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to Oct. 22 and also set a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 23 at the main fire station to meet with the Novato Fire District board to discuss ambulance service.

Round House Owner Asks Council Help

A Novato landmark, the round revolving house of Sam A. Harkleroad at 17 Harkle Road, may disappear in a freeway bypass construction scheduled for 1972.

Harkleroad last night appealed to the Novato City Council to help him delay the destruction. The state Division of Highways has started condemnation proceedings.

"We have had more than 4,000 people tour the house since it was completed five years ago, but it is among the first to be condemned for the bypass," he told the council.

He asked the council to write the state asking for a two-year delay. The council asked the public works department staff to investigate and report back.

Harkleroad said that he has five houses which will be removed by the bypass. The price set for the rotating house was $35,000.

Radiators Stolen

Thirsty used auto radiators valued at $300 were stolen sometime since Friday from Santa Brothers Garage, 45 Vivian Way, San Rafael police reported today.

Another Marinite On KQED Show

Robert O. (Bob) Bastian of Belvedere, San Francisco Chronicle political cartoonist for the past 14 years, has joined KQED's "Newsroom" staff as resident cartoonist.

A graduate of the California School of Fine Arts, Bastian has won many awards for his political cartoons.

On Newsroom, Bastian joins Mel Wax of Sausalito, KQED public affairs director, and Edward Radenzel of Mill Valley, San Francisco Chronicle foreign news editor for the past 28 years.

Burglars Invade Students' Cars

Four burglaries, including three in the College of Marin parking lot Monday night, were reported by sheriff's officers today.

Paul Chourre of 31 Ichabod Court, Sleepy Hollow, Michael McCarthy of 711A San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, and Bonnie Umberger of 10 La Brea Way, Santa Venetia, each reported stereophonic tape decks were stolen from their cars parket at the college.

Gil Pierson of 921 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, reported that someone stole $560 worth of clothes from his home sometime Monday, deputies said.

New Northgate Park Building Approved; Objections Puzzling

San Rafael planning commissioners, more puzzled than deterred by objections raised, last night approved an office building for construction at the entrance to Northgate Industrial Park.

Building designer Edward Hageman Jr. — speaking for San Rafael builder Ronald F. Antonioli — told the planning commission that the proposed 29,000-square-foot office building at 25-35 Mitchell Boulevard was identical in every respect to a structure already built by Antonioli on adjoining property.

San Rafael Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner, whose staff recommended approval of a use permit and design for the new office building, then read the objections raised by the Northgate Industrial Park's Architectural Review Committee.

The committee — in a letter signed by Gordon H. Dohemann, whose firm represents the industrial park developers — said that plans "were not complete enough for us to make an intelligent judgment," that "site layout does not conform to covenants and restrictions" of the park and that it had "not been given an adequate list of materials to be used."

Questioning by Commissioners Thomas R. O'Toole and Jorgen V. Lunding elicited from Hotchner the fact that the same committee had previously approved the similar design of Antonioli's existing building next door.

Hotchner, noting the contradiction of past approval and present disapproval, commented that the industrial park group "seems to be changing the ground rules."

O'Toole objected to viewing the matter in that light, but joined other commissioners in expressing puzzlement at the committee's objections to the one-story structure, which Antonioli later estimated to be an $850,000 project, including land cost.

The commissioners approved 4-0 the use permit and the architectural design and, on Lunding's suggestion, instructed Hotchner to advise the committee that if it intended to oppose future projects it "will have to come up with specific objections," spelling out such matters as covenants and restrictions being violated.

Commissioner Pat Hetherton was elected chairman pro tem at last night's session, Chairman Joseph J. Garbarino having been hospitalized earlier in the day for loss of two right fingers in the moving blades of his garbage truck. Vice Chairman Carl S. Brown and Commissioner Fred C. Robbins Jr. were absent.

San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

STREET NAMES — Approved and recommended for adoption by the city council a policy on naming of streets, aimed largely at avoiding similar sounding names and at designating as lanes, roads, boulevards, etc., those streets of appropriate size.

SETBACK — Approved for Anthony Montani a variance for an existing garage roof extension at his home at 50 Mary Street.

DUMP SIGNS — Approved three signs requested by Maggiora-Ghilotti for the Marin Disposal site at 1500 Block of Jacoby Street, two onsite signs unconditionally, one other sign at the Jacoby-Bellam intersection as a convenience to the public for a period not to exceed one year.

FILL — Put over to Oct. 22, a request by Glen Wirtz of Kerner-Bellam Realty for a use permit for fill which would not make him responsible for actions of those hauling small amounts of fill to his 110 acres of undeveloped land east of Kerner and Francisco boulevards. Commissioners wanted city counsel's opinion on control by existing ordinance of fill in excess of 1,000 yards.

ANTENNA — Continued to Oct. 22, a request of Maurice Picard to retain an existing 40-foot-high antenna at his home at 110 Ridgewood Drive, in order to give him time to win approval of neighbors presently objecting to it.

MEDICAL BUILDING — Approved conversion of existing medical building at 4 Frances Street into Group Care facility at request of Drs .John Manwaring and Warren Bostick.

HOME OCCUPATIONS — Adopted a policy statement liberalizing interpretation of home occupations permitted without a use permit under the zoning ordinance by noting such occupations are not limited the specific examples listed in the ordinance.

Shakespeare Fete Adds Directors

Nine new directors have been added to the Marin Shakespeare Festival board, according to John Brebner, executive director.

They are Richard V. Godino, Mrs. June Weden, Theodore B. Craig, Mrs. Sherm Bazell, Dr. Mary Wills, Arthur Knutson, Lucille Lecount, John W. Fearn and Rose Paul.

The board will now meet at the old Dollar mansion in San Rafael at 8 p.m. on the second Tuesday of each month, Brebner said.

Sonoma Philharmonic Planning Concerts

The Sonoma State College philharmonic has started rehearsals for its first series of concerts tentatively set for Dec. 6 and 7 at the center for performing arts.

Under the direction of David R. Sprung, works by Beethoven, Shostakovich and Sowerby will be presented. Sprung said openings still exist in violas, double basses, bassoons and trombones. Persons interested in joining should call the center for performing arts.

Shell Plant Faces Petaluma Lawsuit

Petaluma City Council threatened a court suit yesterday as they gave the Pioneer Shell Co. 90 days in which to curb its contribution to local air and water pollution.

City Atty. Edouard E. Robert was authorized to declare the company a public nuisance and bring suit if it doesn't comply within the given time. City officials said neighbors of the plant at 100 D Street, have been complaining for years about the dust problem. "We have housewives who say they must vacuum three times a day because of Pioneer Shell," City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer said.

City Engineer David Young said the company—which grinds oyster shells for calcium-fortified chicken feed—has installed a springler system to keep down dust emission, but uses it only occasionally. He said no steps have been taken to stop pollution on the Petaluma River.

"We shouldn't let them get off the hook after 90 days," Councilman Phillip Joerger said, noting other ultimates had been largely ignored in the past.

An agreement with the Atlantic Pacific Corp. was approved in which the city will pay costs for oversizing of sanitary sewer lines in South McDowell Boulevard by the Monarch Pacific development.

The city will refund $2,579 to the developers as the difference in cost between the installation of ten and eight-inch lines rather than six-inch lines. Young said this oversizing is part of the city master sewer plan.

Sewers for the Lakeville Highway area were discussed, led by Councilman Joerger who said when residents annexed to the city four and a half years ago, the city promised to install sanitary sewers. Some $18,000 has been budgeted in the 1968 budget for the project. He also noted the county health department has declared a health hazard exists with some overflowing septic tanks in the area.

Young noted that the plans are almost complete, but the holdup has been a matter of workload in his department. He said planning will continue through November with construction possible by spring.

The Petaluma City Council Also:

PAVING — Approved repaving of the Mary Street parking lot adjacent to the Bank of America building under construction. The center Island will be removed and wooden light standards replaced with steel poles at a cost of $750.

PREZONED — Prezoned proposed annexation area bordered by Ely and McDowell Boulevards as single family residential. A public hearing will be scheduled.

AGREEMENT — Entered into an agreement with the county of Sonoma to connect new county-installed sewer lines on Sunnyslope Avenue into the city sewer lines.

INSPECTIONS — Gave consideration to moving the Building Inspection Department out of the planning office into the Department of Public Works to better distribute workload. Will be discussed further at the Oct. 21 meeting.

COMMISSIONER — Named George De Long to fill vacancy on the water commission.

DENIED — Denied appeal of W. J. Peterson, 775 Cherry Street, of city engineer's decision to take ten feet of his property for future street widening.

Death Car Driver Not Intoxicated

I-J Special Report

SUSANVILLE — The driver of the car in which five high school girls were killed Sept. 28 was not intoxicated, the California Highway Patrol in this Shasta County town reported today.

Warren Martineau, an 18-year-old Shasta College student, had been drinking but blood samples showed he was not drunk, officers said.

Martineau died in the crash, as well as former San Anselman Shelly Jane Roberts and four other 17-year-old high school girls, when his car rounded a curve at 70 miles an hour and rammed a logging truck.

Plea Due Tuesday In Joyriding Case

Robert Charles Drolla, 22, of Strawberry, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a misdemeanor charge of joyriding Saturday in the car of Anselmo P. Pellolio of San Rafael.

His case was continued until Tuesday for entry of plea.

Schoolrooms Job Awarded In Petaluma

A near half-million-dollar contract for an addition to the Rancho Cotate High School was awarded last night by the Petaluma Board of Education.

Entering the lowest bid and receiving the contract was the Rapp Construction Co. of Santa Rosa with a bid of $450,400. Included in the project will be four classrooms, an auto shop, an arts and crafts complex, science complex of three rooms and a faculty dining room. Some built-in furniture and equipment was included in the cost estimate.

A contract for paving of play areas at Cherry Valley, Grant and McDowell elementary schools was awarded to the Don Dowd Co. which entered the low bid of $43,680. Most of the work will be done at the new McDowell school.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

RETAINED — Retained Reynolds and Chamberlain, architects, to do preliminary planning for additions to Kenilworth and Rohnert Park junior high schools, and Petaluma Senior High School.

PROPOSITION 9 — Resolved to oppose passage of proposition 9 on the Nov. 5 ballot as a threat to the economics of education in California.

BONDS — Announced the sale of high school bonds yesterday totaling $1,235,000 to Crocker Citizens National Bank at an average interest rate of 4.24028.

CHANGED — Changed scheduled Dec. 7 and Dec. 24 meeting dates to one meeting on Dec. 17 on account of Christmas holidays and a joint conference of the California School Boards Association in Anaheim, Dec. 7-10.

CLOSED — Went behind closed doors to discuss the case of a teacher who wants a leave of absence for a shorter time than is convenient for the school administration.

Film Figures In Draft Card Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Films which the FBI said show Lincoln Adams Robbins burning his draft card were considered by a federal judge in convicting Robbins, a 37-year-old Army veteran.

Wesley G. Grapp, FBI agent in charge, said Robbin was arrested after he appeared at a public gathering which was videotaped. The tape was enlarged. Grapp said it showed Robbins burning his draft card.

Sentencing of Robbins, believed the first Californian convicted of such a charge, was set for Nov. 4.

Novato Spotlighted In Cities Magazine

An article on citizen participation in civic affairs by Mrs. Carolyn Crabtree of Novato appeared in the September issue of Western City magazine, a publication distributed to city officials in 11 western states.

Mrs. Crabtree's article dealt with community work on the rehabilitation of the Novato Community House and Alfred W. Bowman constructing and donating the huge weathervane on top of city hall. The story gives a brief description and history of the city hall complex and the article has pictures of the city hall and community house with it.

Are Public Bodies Aiding Local Buying?

Do Marin's public bodies support "Buy in Marin" with the taxpayers' dollars as well as with resolutions?

Apparently they do, to some extent.

On Aug. 27, the Marin County Board of Supervisors adopted a resolution supporting the "Buy in Marin" campaign. On Sept. 3, the San Rafael City Council adopted a similar resolution.

Both were aimed primarily at cutting down spending in San Francisco, as an answer to imposition by that city of a 1 per cent tax on the earnings of commuters.

Marin County's payments to San Francisco suppliers dropped from $33,338 in August to $26,356 in September.

San Rafael's payments to San Francisco suppliers made a sharper decline —from $9,611.49 in August to $4,856.36 in September.

Meantime, San Rafael payments to Marin firms rose from $43,792.13 in August to $64,756.88 in September. No similar comparison was available for buying in Marin by the county.

In neither case, however, was the decline in San Francisco purchases necessarily a result of the resolutions. It may have been, according to County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell and San Rafael City Clerk W. C. Cornwell, that it was largely a matter of normal fluctuation in the bills presented for payment.

The San Francisco purchase figures of the county were extracted by Mitchell from 50 pages of county purchases for the two months.

The figures for San Rafael were drawn from warrant duplicates in the city clerk's files. Payroll and utility payments were not included.

Said Mitchell of the county figures: "This drop is probably coincidental; in other words, next month the payments to San Francisco may go up. . . . In most cases, where purchases are made in San Francisco, Marin does not have the type of industry that can produce the product."

Cornwell gave similar explanation of San Rafael's city purchases in San Francisco. The city makes a practice of buying locally where possible, he said.

O'Leary Names Aides

Donald J. O'Leary, candidate for Marin supervisor in the Third District, today appointed the following precinct captains in Tiburon: Rodney Friedman of 40 Juno Road, John Hoffmire of 583 Virginia Drive, Alan Thompson of 18 Southridge, Donald Loomis of 7 Venus Court, Henry Zimmerman of 55 Spring Lane, W. J. Washburn of 65-H Red Hill Circle, and Fennimore Cady of 3370 Paradise Drive.

Resignation Of Siemens Is Accepted

The immediately effective resignation of Dr. John C. Siemens as president of the Tamalpais Union High School District board has been accepted by the board.

Dr. Siemens is recovering from a heart attack suffered Sept. 5 and informed the board by letter Monday night that the illness "has made it mandatory to curtail some of my activities."

Gloria W. Melbostad, acting president, siad deadline for receiving applications for filling Dr. Siemens' post will be 5 p.m. on Nov. 7. The appointment by the board must be made by Dec. 7, district officials said. The term expires in April of 1971.

The Tamalpais Union School District board also:

FEES — Authorized without further comment the controversial payment of $3,406 to the San Rafael architectural firm of Gromme and Priestley for work done on high school portable classroom projects and survey of building needs of the existing three high schools. Controversy arose over alleged excessive architectural charges for the firm's services on a proposed San Geronimo High School site.

COMMITTEE — Named Arthur Carpenter of Bolinas and Jess Janssen of Lagunitas as additional members to the citizen's architectural advisory committee.

SCHOOL PLANS — Accepted the schematic plans for a proposed Tiburon High School and directed architects to proceed with preliminary drawings.

DANCES — Approved the holding by senior classes of dances in San Francisco again this school year.

HIRED —Employed Gordon S. Millar as a science and mathematics teacher at Tamalpais High. The salary is yet undetermined.

Herrera Witness Sentence Shorter By Three Months

Joe Henderson, the Marin County jail inmate who testified that killer Joaquin Antonio Herrera told him he was trying to beat a murder charge by feigning insanity, won an early release from jail yesterday.

Judge Thomas F. Keating, acting on the recommendation of Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino, released Henderson from the remaining three months he had to serve on a one year sentence for cashing a bad check.

Testimony at Herrera's trial showed Henderson to have also secured for the district attorney a statement by accused rapist Jerry S. Borst of Novato.

Zunino, who prosecuted Herrera, said yesterday that he recommended Henderson's release because other prisoners were harassing him by keeping him awake at night and by having friends on the outside pour sugar in the gas tank of his car while he was out on work furlough.

Drath Coffee Today

Bank Permitted To Use Trailer

Sierra Natioinal Bank will be allowed to operate its Kentfield branch out of a temporary trailer at the northwest corner of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Terrace Avenue, County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill ruled yesterday.

He granted a variance for the trailer in a multiple family residential area, with the understanding that the variance will be reviewed at the end of the year.

The bank plans to build a new structure at the corner as soon as the widening of Sir Francis Drake is completed.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

Fairfax, County Drop Deer Park Regional Proposal

Objections Over 'Outsiders,' Lack Of Access Kill Project

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Deer Park adjoining Fairfax will not be developed as a regional park.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors and Fairfax City Council killed the proposal after a three and one-half hour joint meeting last night in the Fairfax Women's Club.

The first board of supervisors' turndown, on a motion by Supervisor John F. McInnis, left the door open for reconsideration by Fairfax. But the city council closed the door by unanimous vote to oppose the development and hold no further discussion. The supervisors then voted to ask the county parks and recreation department for recommendation on use of the money elsewhere.

Present were all five councilmen, four of the five supervisors (William A. Gnoss was absent) and a large audience of Fairfax residents, predominantly from Porteous Avenue, which had been proposed as access route to the park.

The county had planned to spend $150,000, of which about half would be state park bond funds, on developing a 53-acre regional park on Marin Municipal Water District lands adjoining the City of Fairfax and embracing the Deer Park School site.

It was the matter of access via Porteous Avenue that killed the plan. It had previously brought a 4-1 turndown by the city council, and no vote was changed last night. After the supervisors' action, the lone holdout for the park, Councilan Adelaide P. Wilson, joined in voting to abandon further discussion.

There was much groping for compromise during the session. But, as McInnis and Supervisor Peter H. Behr pointed out, every suggestion for compromise involved leaving the park for purely local use with no increase in the number of visitors.

"You're trying to havs your cake and eat it too," McInnis told Fairfax residents.

"We're teasing everybody," said Behr. "Either we have access or we must put the park in another area of the county where the money could be spent with more good will on the part of the community."

As a parade of Deer Park residents walked to the microphone to oppose the development, council members inquired whether another access could be provided.

Pierre W. Joske, county parks and recreation director, said three alternatives had been considered. All three called for much road building through water district lands and would run the cost far beyond the $150,000 set aside, he said.

Most of the objections were directed specifically to routing more traffic via narrow, winding, sub-standard Porteous Avenue. And many of them included objections that developing the park would bring in "outisders."

Councilman Francis J. O'Connell, when the council vote on the proposal was finally called, commented: "Nobody except the park and recreation people of the city and county has come up actually in favor of it. . . . It's not only Porteous; it's people in the whole area. . . . My objection is you've got to get through the whole town to get to the park."

After the 4-1 council turndown, chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen of the board of supervisors said wishfully, "If we could possibly find a scaled-down park to be operated either by city or county or both — before we lose it. . . ."

This brought attempts, principally by Mayor Robert R. Souza and Councilman Frank J. Eggers, to find some formula for a smaller development which would still involve county funds — and would not create a traffic problem.

"I suggest you're on a very qestionable line if you're anticipating a joint venture with the county on the basis of a local park," said McInnis, pointing out that 10 other cities would then want the same thing. Supervisor Thomas T. Storer agreed.

Councilman Wilson, after several proposals died in discussion and voting, said there appeared to be no workable compromise. Mayor Sousa moved the city oppose the park with access road, finding "no alternative for further discussion." This passed by unanimous council vote.

The supervisors' vote to ask the parks and recreation department for recommendation on where else to use the money then passed 3-1, with Behr this time opposing.

Fairfax Takes No Stand On Tam Bond Proposition

The Fairfax City Council last night decided to take no action for or against the proposed Tamalpais High School District $10,900,000 bond issue, because of division of council opinion.

The matter came up preceding a joint meeting of city council and county board of supervisors last night on the Deer Park regional park proposal.

Mayor Robert R. Souza agreed, but said he personally endorses the issue. Councilman Cornelis van Vliet put in that he is "against any bond issue unless the state comes up with real relief for the property owner."

Waterfront Plan

The central waterfront plan will be the subject of a special meeting of the Sausalito City Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall. The planning commission will join the council in discussing the proposed plan for the downtown area, according to City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

LADY EXAMINER—Mrs. Nedra Bolton, one of the six women drivers license examiners in the state, explains test points to a young driver at the Corte Madera office of the Department of Motor Vehicles. The applicant was more disturbed by Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean's strobe flashes than by the woman examiner.

TESTS DRIVERS

Woman Joins Club Dominated By Men

By JOANNE GRANT

A woman who took a job in a once exclusively male domain recently is a little disappointed people aren't more surprised.

"They act like 'so?'," said Mrs. Nedra Bolton, one of the first six women drivers licence examiners in the state.

Mrs. Bolton of 177 Canal Street, San Rafael, has been stationed at the Corte Madera office of the state Department of Motor Vehicles since May, after she completed a month of intensive training in Oakland.

She gives driving tests and works in the registration department — wherever she is needed most.

Mrs. Bolton said both men and women have been courteous to her. "The public acceptance is a little amazing," she said.

The male examiners in the Corte Madera office have also accepted her well. "I couldn't ask for better treatment," she said.

No one has refused to have her as an examiner, she said, though the thought of it worried her at first. "I asked what I should do if soeone said no," she recalled. "They said 'then it's just no'," and she would have to get someone else.

People don't realize she is a rarity, Mrs. Bolton said. Most persons who take driving tests are either from out of state or are renewing their license and haven't been to the motor vehicle office in years, she explained.

Mrs. Bolton was not new to the business when she took the job. She had been with the department at Sacramento headquarters for 15 years. "I had a real head start," she said.

And her husband, N. J. Bolton, has been with the department for 20 years, most of that time as a drivers license examiner. He is now a driver improvement analyst in the Oakland office.

He didn't say much about her new job, Mrs. Bolton said.

Their son, Michael, an architectural major at the University of California at Berkeley, "thought it was great" she said.

Mrs. Bolton has learned a lot about drivers since she began giving exams. "It's a far cry from sitting in an office," she said.

"You can normally tell before you ever leave if a person is going to pass," she said.

And, if someone doesn't pass, he doesn't complain. "I think most people know immediately when they do something that's going to fail them," she said.

Mrs. Bolton has also found that teens are "really excellent drivers." She said they know the rules of the road and drive well, probably a result of driver training.

Most people are rather nervous, she reported. "You can tell by the way they act — they haven't got any saliva," she said.

California drivers license examiners — all men — have been testing since 1927, according to Verne Orr, director of the state department. The six women are on an experimental basis for now.

The reasoning ran that men had the necessary muscle to grab the steering wheel from a panicky applicant and that women examiners would encounter men who had other things on their minds besides proving they could drive, Orr said.

So far, Mrs. Bolton hasn't had a single close call.

And the men drivers? "I get the feeling they're more afraid of me than I am of them," she said.

Arrigoni Opposes Oil Well Drilling On Marin Shores

Supervisor-elect Peter R. Arrigoni has called on Marin County to "take a firm stand against commercial drilling for oil and gas in San Pablo Bay."

Arrigoni, who will join the board in January, wrote the board of supervisors:

"San Pablo Bay is a critical and necessary open space area. . . . The thought of 234 drilling platforms is beyond comprehension!"

Arrigoni also wrote the board to protest granting George Kappas a permit to place $1,100 cubic yards of fill in Richardson Bay.

"It is noted that the fill will be placed in an area which was previously filled to its present elevation without an approved permit," he wrote.

"To approve this current request would only compound the mess that has evolved in this area. This is a Kappas creation, and results are shockingly visible."

The supervisors yesterday approved the fill application, but said the width of the area to be filled in could not exceed 24 feet on the levee.

Truck's Occupant Denies Car Theft

Rex Ellis Barnett, 32, of no fixed address, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of car theft. Deputies reportedly found him Sunday on Mount Tamalpais, living in a truck stolen in San Francisco.

Preliminary hearing for Barnett was scheduled for Friday in Municipal Court.

Jury Trial Slated

William Paul Ferral, 20, of San Rafael and David P. Smith, 20, of San Anselmo, were told in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to appear Jan. 30 for a jury trial on charges they possessed alcohol and a device for smoking narcotics Sept. 15 in San Rafael.

Car-Truck Collision Hurts Santa Rosan

Dorothy Jane Irvin, 36, of Santa Rosa, was treated at Novato General Hospital yesterday for a back injury received in a car-truck collision on Highway 101 in Novato, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The highway patrol said Mrs. Irvin was almost stopped at 7:10 a.m. in heavy southbound traffic near the Olive Street crossing when her car was hit from the rear by a pickup truck driven by John Paul Muenzer, 76, of San Francisco.

Mill Valley Balks At Project 17 Plan

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The Mill Valley City Council, which last Wednesday appeared ready to exchange its Project 17 lands for an 11-acre Mill Valley School District site — the key to the district's "middle school" — early today balked at making the exchange.

Three of the councilmen were ready to sign the deed making the exchange, but, apparently hoping to pick up a fourth vote, gave in to Councilman George E. Wickham's request that the school officials first be asked if they could get along with 11 acres of city land now, with the remaining six to be deeded the district "as needed for joint recreational development with the city."

A special council meeting was set for 8 a.m. Friday in the City Hall to take another run at signing the deed, and City Mgr. Bert Balmer was asked to get an answer to Wickham's question.

During the 19 months that the city and district have been dickering over the joint prroject, the district consistently has maintained it needed all 17 acres to begin to meet state guidelines on the ratio of acreage to the number of students. The school is to have 1,200 students in sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

"I don't understand this eleventh-hour hemming and hawing," said Nan Hepp from the audience. Mrs. Hepp, an advocate of the school project, urged the council "to move ahead despite the bumps in the road.

"You can be assured that the citizens are watching the school trustees, and the council, and I am speaking for quite a few people," she said. She was the only person among the seven in the audience who spoke in favor of the exchange during the two-hour debate. No representatives of the school district were present.

The council's delay, however, was criticized this morning by the chairman of the school board, Joseph E. Bodovitz. The school district has been "proceeding in accordance with the agreement between the council and school board signed last April, and any delays in construction will be highly costly to the taxpayers," he told the Independent-Journal.

Wickham, noting the council's objections center around the inability of the district to spell out now just what recreational facilities it can afford to build, said "we need to put this on a basis that will stand up five, 10 and 100 years from now."

Mayor Dean N. Meyer and councilmen Rodric L. Robinson and Jerome C. Hauke were the three ready to vote to sign the deed, but each emphasized he was going to vote extremely reluctantly for the exchange.

"They're not committing themselves to anything," said Robinson of the school district, "and we're giving everything and receiving nothing in return."

Councilman Robert H. Andresen argued strongly against the exchange on the ground that the district had not honored its agreement to spell out recreational plans before the exchange was made. "I very much resent this council being cast in the role of the bad guy in this whole thing," he declared.

A member of the audience, Mercer Smith of 11 Sunrise Avenue, summed up the council's objections as "doing what you really feels is not right." Smith objected to the city's agreement to split the $40,000 cost of relocating the Community and Youth Center, arguing the cost should be paid from the district's $3.5 million bond measure passed June, 1967, to build the new school.

The council agreed that the deed exchange, if signed Friday, should include a provision that the Project 17 lands be returned to the city if the district cannot build the school for some unforeseen reason.

Hauke, however, commented that returning the land to the city would serve no useful purpose because the city cannot afford to develop the land anyway.

"Any attempt to hold up the project," he cautioned, "will lose us any good will that may exist between the two boards."

Council Issues Ultimatum To Developer Of Harbor

The Mill Valley City Council last night issued an ultimatum to the prospective developer of the city's harbor — sign a lease within four weeks, or the city will terminate negotiations with him.

The city and the developer, Paul B. Fischer of Los Angeles, have been negotiating for nearly three years, and Fischer has had a copy of the proposed lease since May without telling the city what he intends to do.

The council agreed with Councilman Robert H. Andresen's suggestion to have City Atty. Leland H. Jordan advise Fischer of the deadline "to show we mean business."

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

ENCHANTED KNOLLS — Deferred to Nov. 4 a proposed increase in density on the Enchanted Knolls ridgelands at the request of the developers and of a homeowners association. Also deferred to Nov. 4 was a proposal that some low cost housing be required in the development.

EMERGENCY POWER — Asked Balmer to study expansion of the emergency power system at City Hall, most of which was blacked out Monday night by a power failure.

BULKHEAD — Declared Ghilotti Brothers Inc. of San Rafael lowest of six bidders on a retaining wall at 397 Rose Avenue, with a bid of $6,769. City Eng. Stanley M. Bala had estimated the cost at $6,700.

NUISANCE — Ordered tearing down of a house at 329 Vista Linda Drive within three weeks unless the owner, American Savings and Loan Association, begins repairs of the house, severely damaged by a slide 20 months ago.

MINIBOARDS — Asked interested persons to submit their names for appointment to a regional "miniboard" proposed by the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

GOLF PRO — Signed an agreement with golf pro Malcolm Brown paying him $500 a month.

ALMONTE — Signed an agreement with the Almonte-Sanitary District to base the cost of trunk line maintenance and operation on the area served.

Petaluma Joint Talk Set On Park Plans

The Petaluma Planning Commission will discuss parks and school planning at 7:30 p.m. today at city hall.

Participating will be the Petaluma Parks and Recreation Commission and Petaluma School district, Old Adobe School District and Cinnabar School District officials.

Two Watches Gone

Mrs. Reitta Rosenblum reported to Sausalito police that two watches worth $250 were stolen from her home at 15 Atwood Avenue between 2:30 to 5:45 p.m. yesterday. The thief entered by breaking a rear kitchen window.

Charges Secret In Deputy Firing

Formal charges were filed last night in the case of Weldon C. Travis, the Marin deputy sheriff fired because he once helped work his way through college by posing nude as a photographer's model.

The charges, which will remain secret until Travis seeks an open hearing, were filed with Robert D. Elliott, county personnel director, by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

Travis, fired Friday when someone showed Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos a copy of a "figure study" magazine containing a photograph of his deputy, has 10 days in which to appeal his dismissal.

After his appeal is filed, the county personnel commission must hear his case within 20 days and decide on his appeal within 15 days after the hearing, Maloney said. Either Travis or the sheriff could appeal the commission's decision to the board of supervisors.

Travis said that, before the reason for his firing was announced, he received 34 telephone calls from well-wishers in the San Geronimo Valley, his beat before his dismissal.

After the cause of the firing was known yesterday, he was on the telephone with persons offering support from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m., he said.

The deputy said his callers included deputies, neighbors and perfect strangers. A Fresno man called this morning to offer support, he said.

"They all say they support me and urge me to contest the firing," Travis said.

Sheriff Mountanos has refused comment on the dismissal on the advice of county counsel.

Hospital Patient Jailed On Drugs

Arthur Hatter Jr., 19, of 1049 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, was jailed last night after a doctor at Marin General Hospital said the youth was under the influence of methamphetamine.

Hatter was left at the hospital by an unknown young man, the doctor told deputies. Hatter did not have "full and rational use of his mental and physical faculties," according to the doctor.

Deputies booked the youth on suspicion of being under the influence of drugs and bail was set at $35. He was still incarcerated this morning.

Marin Flier Eludes Injury In Smashup

Richard Alexander Baldwin, 23, of 16 Galleon Way, Terra Linda, escaped injury Monday at 5 p.m. when his airplane crashed at the Schellville Airport on Highway 121, near Sonoma.

Sheriff's deputies said Baldwin had been practicing take offs and landings at the strip when the engine stalled as he started to climb and the plane tipped over into a plowed field.

Official's Daughter Treated For Overdose

Lorraine K. Colin, 18-year-old daughter of Petaluma Vice Mayor Kenneth J. Colin was treated yesterday afternoon at Hillcrest Hospital for an overdose of aspirin.

Police reported Miss Colin, 2139 Curtis Drive, was treated for taking 15 to 20 aspirins.

College Picks Citizen Unit For Advice

The Marin Junior College District board, plagued by financial problems and student protests at College of Marin, has named a citizens' committee to review the district's finances and make recommendations for the college's future.

Both operating costs and capital outlay programs will be covered by the committee, according to board president Theodore C. Wellman. The first meeting will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Bank of Marin in San Rafael.

Dr. William K. Ramstad, last year's college president who resigned under faculty pressure but who is still under contract to the district, was named as executive secretary for the committee.

Rex T. Silvernale, San Rafael civic leader who has served as San Rafael Board of Education president, United Crusade chairman and on the Juvenile Justice Commission as well as in other activities, was named chairman of the new committee.

The students, some of whom have demanded that the college stop work on a new football field and build a library instead, will have one liaison member on the committee. The student executive council planned to make the student appointment today.

Wellman said that two faculty representatives, James D. Donlon Jr. and James Raynes, had been named but that one will have to be an alternate because the board only wants one faculty liaison member on the committee.

Other committee members are Jack Craemer, Harrison Dibblee Jr., Mrs. Jean Enemark, Francis T. Fogarty, Fred B. Galbreath, S. K. Herzog Jr., Henry L. Hicks, Fred D. Kerr, Dr. George M. Landrock, Byron W. Leydecker, Stephen McNamara, Robert L. Parish, Leo Souza, Edward P. Ward.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy will act as liaison for the board, and Wellman will be an ex-officio member.

Burglars Get $100 In Doctor's Office

Police said Dr. Lee discovered the burglary when he opened his office at 8:20 a.m. yesterday.

Few Worms Spoil Plan For Revising Constitution

The California Constitution Revision Committee has done a mostly commendable job in the second "package" of its updating of the state's old and cumbersome constitution, which will be presented to the voters on Nov. 5 as Proposition 1.

Unfortunately, a couple of worms got into the package.

The omnibus measure revises seven sections of the constitution.

Most of the public attention has been given to revision of Article IX, which covers the setup of the state school system. Among other things, this provides that the state board of education shall be elective and leaves to the Legislature the method of choosing the state superintendent of public instruction. This would make possible a state superintendent appointed by the elected board whom he would serve as administrative officer — a reform which the Independent-Journal has long advocated.

THE WORMS, however, are in another part — that which revises Article XI, covering county and city governments.

The present Section 5 of this article would be deleted. It says: "The Legislature . . . shall provide for the election or appointment in the several counties of boards of supervisors, sheriffs, county clerks, district attorneys. . . . It shall regulate the compensation of boards of supervisors, district attorneys and auditors. . . . The compensation of any county, township or municipal officer shall not be increased after his election or during his term of office."

In place of this, a new section would be included which reads:

"The Legislature shall provide for county powers and an elected governing body in each county and prescribe compensation for its members. The Legislature or the governing body may provide for other officers whose compensation shall be prescribed by the governing body."

MUCH SIMPLER, isn't it? But maybe it's too simple.

This revision specifies only that a county have a board of supervisors (governing body). What other officials it has would be up to that board of supervisors — or likely, in the growing tendency of elected officials to delegate their powers, to the county administrative officer.

Auditor, clerk, sheriff, district attorney would no longer be required. Moreover, the board of supervisors could make any of these it retained appointive, without asking the voters.

Further, the restriction on raising the pay of elected officials during their terms of office would be removed, The Legislature could raise the pay of supervisors while they are in office, and the supervisors could raise the pay of every other elected official (if any was left) every year if they so desired.

Judging from the raises given non-elective officials, an increase every year is far from an idle dream. In our own county, the ceiling on pay of a district attorney during his term of office has served on several occasions as the only deterrent to greater pay raises for some non-elective officials.

IT IS TOO BAD to have a couple of worms spoil an otherwise excellent product. But that appears to be the case with Proposition 1.

Because of those worms, the Independent-Journal cannot advocate a "yes" vote on this proposition.

Ever-Present Ant

Unless they invade our homes, most Marinites are seldom aware that their gardens and woods are accommodating thousands, perhaps even millions, of ants.

With the first big rains of fall, however, some poorly located nests are flooded and ants seek safety by the thousands in our homes. Then, suddenly, we are aware of this tiny species of busy life which constantly surrounds us.

One British entomologist reported a wood ant colony of half a million members. Marin's common household invaders, the Argentine ant and the Pharaoh's ant, probably do not have such large colonies. But they are certainly numerous enough to make a big impression if they find a dish of food that appeals to them.

Rafferty Warning To Schools And One Reason Behind It

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — At least one educator in California does not consider that listening to Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver constitutes "academic freedom."

This is Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction and candidate for United States senator on the Republican ticket.

Rafferty, in a letter to all city, county and district school superintendents in California, said in no uncertain terms that the furor over the Black Panther speeches that has rocked the University of California is not expected to be extended to the elementary and secondary schools.

"I DEEM that any school administrator, or other certificated employee, responsible for the presence of pupils at such an assembly, is guilty of unprofessional conduct, jeopardizing his credential, and that the school district risks loss of credit for average daily attendance," Rafferty wrote.

The state superintendent said his office had made a tape recording of a speech given by Cleaver at Sacramento State College.

"This is notice to you," the letter said, "that he advocated violent overthrow of the government to the extent that legislators be 'dragged out by the scruffs of their necks and thrown into the gutter'; that he grossly maligned, by name, the state's legislative and executive officers that he advocated disregard of law and the disobeyance of police regulation; that he extolled the teaching of Karl Marx; that he constantly uttered unspeakable obscenities.

"It is inconceivable that any rational person could consider attendance at such a demonstration by elementary or secondary students to come within the scope of academic requirement, or that such instruction in obscenity comes within the definition of free speech or academic freedom."

IN SACRAMENTO, high school students who had written permission from their parents were permitted to attend a Cleaver appearance.

Such attendance had severe repercusisions at the John F. Kennedy High School here for a couple of days after the Cleaver appearance. Students returning from the Black Panther hearing started demonstrating in the halls with Cleaver signs, which touched off a riot threatening to grow into major proportions before police took a hand.

The following day, more trouble started, some students and school employees were injured, classroom doors were locked, and a tight cordon of police surrounded the school, only recently opened in one of the better Sacramento areas. In addition, many students remained away from the school, fearful they would get caught in the rioting, and phone lines were busy all day seeking assurance from school officials that it was safe for the young people to attend classes.

Words For Driver Who Killed Dog

On Oct. 1, at 6:30 a.m., someone ran over "Sam" on Madrone Avenue in Larkspur. Sam was a large, shaggy, affectionate, good natured dog.

The guilty party knows who they are and has to live with their conscience. However, I would like to direct a few questions to the culprit.

Would you have stopped if it had been a human rather than a dog or would you have driven away even faster? Do you have any feelings at all or are you a robot? Is getting to work on time so important that it means leaving a dog dying in the street? I don't like the idea that a creep like you lives in my neighborhood. You are a disgrace to mankind!

University Faculty Shirks Responsibility

While the (University of) California regents are being criticized for abridging "academic freedom," there has not been the same outpouring of criticism for university faculty members who are abridging "academic responsibility."

It certainly is not a responsible use of university authority to dignify as an instructor a convicted felon whose language is strictly from the gutter.

As an object of study, Cleaver and his views may hold some interest but these can be quite adequately studied while the subject remains where the courts have decided he belongs — in jail.

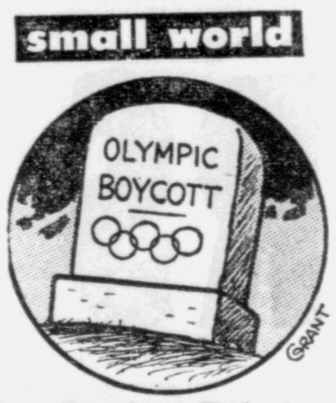
Grape Boycott Not Legitimate

A few comments in regard to the "informational" pickets which are being mentioned by the Marin Labor Council, regarding grapes.

I hope that the people realize that secondary boycotts are illegal under the Talf-Hartley Law. Certainly the labor leaders of this and all other counties realize that if Chavez had a legitimate cause, he wouldn't have to resort to coercion of shoppers and pickers and their families. If Chavez had the required pledge cards signed by the pickers, the National Mediation Board would require a union election for representation in bargaining.



REST IN PEACE

Did the people of Marin know that of the 5,000 pickers involved in the Delano area Chavez has less than 500 supporters? The other 4,500 are forming groups AGAINST Chavez. Their main problem is money to fight him off. Chavez has grants and pledges from established unions and draws from their treasuries (and mostly without the knowledge or consent of the rank and file.) . . .

The truth of the matter is that the pickers want no part of Chavez and his goon squads. They are happy with their piece-work, knowing that they can earn more this way than on an hourly basis.

If we allow these boycotts to become successful, it will be a powerful union organizing tool against the grower, the processor, and the housewife who is caught in the web and has no defense against it. Imagine the consequence if a handful of powerful labor union leaders, or any grouup, gains control of the nation's food supply!

Hospital Volunteers Merit Recognition

The board of directors, the medical staff and the employees of Marin General Hospital join me in expressing appreciation for the much deserved recognition given our Volunteers in the Marin Magazine of the Independent-Journal on Saturday, Sept. 28.

Not only do these wonderful ladies donate time and money, but most importantly, they are an inspiration to all of us — patient and staff member alike — offering that extra something which cannot be purchased or evaluated. They are truly examples of selfless dedication toward helping others, and they make us realize that any problem, overwhelming as it may be, can be solved if only people care enough.

Thank you for saying so well in word and picture what we at Marin General Hospital feel in our hearts.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

WHEN Benjamin Franklin visited London, he sought a meeting with Edward Gibbon whose "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" he had read and admired. Gibbon, however, was either too busy or too snooty to devote any time to an upstart from the colonies England just had lost. Mr. Franklin, understandably miffed, told Gibbon's secretary, "Tell Mr. Gibbon, please, that when he gets around to writing 'The Decline and Fall of the British Empire,' I'll be glad to head any appeal he makes to me for help."

MARQUIS CHILDS

It's Good Campaign For One Candidate–Edmund S. Muskie

LOS ANGELES. — Crisscrossing back and forth across the country, Sen. and Mrs. Edmund S. Muskie are having a ball Grim as Democratic prospects are and demanding as the schedule is, the candidate for vice president readily concedes that never before has he had such a facinating and rewarding experience.

His relaxed and friendly manner is reflected in the ever-increasing crowds that come out to see this hitherto unknown senator from Maine.

Again and again this reporter has heard both Democrats and Republicans say, "Of all four candidates I like him best." Recognizing that Muskie is one of the few pluses in his rugged uphill campaign, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has given him a free hand to direct his own course with a minimum of official coordination.

EARLY IN the game Muskie acquired a gentle but effective way with hecklers. First he listened. Then, as he began to do at Washington, Pa., where students of Washington and Jefferson College were booing aid to education, he got a leader to come up to the platform. What, you're booing aid to education? You, who are college students? With his mild irony he reduced them to silence.

Granted, of course, that his hecklers are nothing like as noisy and persistent as the young who disrupt Humphrey's meetings. Muskie carries far less of the burden of blame, as the young see it, for the administration's Vietnam policy. His, is a new face in a year when the two principals are old faces out of a past that the obstreperous young have completely rejected.

In what has become his standard speech, Muskie talks about the 40 million people who at the turn of the century streamed into this country. They came in search of freedom and, he says with quiet and yet moving dignity, they learned how to be free and how to use freedom. There are forces, he goes on, seeking to exploit the tensions and fears in society today, to build walls between peoples, and that can only lead to the destruction of the democratic system.

ONE OF THE flood of immigrants who came to the land of promise in the early years of the century was Muskie's father, a tailor in his native Poland. The father's last name was originally Marciszewski. But when he arrived at Ellis Island in 1903, knowning no English, the immigration officials followed a common practice and wrote him down as Muskie. The candidate's mother was a native of Buffalo, N.Y., where many Poles had settled.

The Muskie success story follows a familiar American pattern. He worked his way through Bates College in Maine, made Phi Beta Kappa and went to Cornell Law School. Because clients were scarce in Waterville, Me., when he started to practice law he went into politics. For a Democrat his rise in Republican Maine was spectacular. After the legislature he served two terms as governor. Following a nonpartisan course he achieved with a Republican legislature a number of educational and economic programs. In 1958 he became the first popularly elected Democratic senator in the history of the state.

He shows no signs today — a candidate for the second highest office in the land — of pride or pomposity. He and his wife the former Jane Gray, laugh over the fact that in one day they occupied, however briefly, three presidential suites in hotels in three cities. But as he moves in and out of his chartered jet with official parties and flag-waving crowds out to greet him at each stop, back of the shock of surprise still evident (you mean all this is for me?) is a shrewd awareness of what he adds to the beleaguered Democratic ticket.

MUSKIE KNOWS how telling is the contrast with Spiro Agnew, the Republican vice presidential candidate. While Agnew is at odds with his traveling press over Agnewisms that have made headlines, Muskie has established a friendly rapport with the reporters who follow him.

Entertained at the governor's mansion in Topeka, Kan., he noticed carved in the stone of the fireplace in the dining room the following inscription in Latin: Dom spiro spero. He translated it from his parochial school Latin as, "While I breathe there is hope." I haven't dared to use that yet, he says with an impish grin.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Local Polls Surprise With Wallace Showing

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON —Some local polls and surveys, conducted in communities across the nation, provide additional evidence that the presidential candidacy of George Wallace of Alabama is for real.

That is certainly the strong implication of opinion sampling by newspapers in Ypsilanti, Mich.; Houston, Tex., and at the Kansas State Fair. More heavily than the national polls, these local surveys underline the challenge of Wallace's independent candidacy.

Sponsors of the local polls stress their limitations. However, read in context they can be meaningful and, in these instances, they certainly show surprising Wallace strength.

KANSAS STATE FAIR — The Wichita Eagle and Beacon polled 3,387 fair-goers by voting machine in the week ending Sept. 21. The tally showed the Republican Nixon-Agnew ticket with nearly 49 per cent of the vote, Wallace with about 32 per cent, and the Democratic, Humphrey-Muskie, ticket with only 19 per cent.

The Eagle's voting machine did not tally voters who consider themselves "undecided" at this point in the campaign. However, the Eagle also reported on a 1,400-vote state fair survey conducted by the Hutchinson News. The News, published at the site of the fair, did count undecided voters.

The News survey showed Nixon-Agnew with nearly 50 per cent of the vote, Wallace with 21 per cent, and Humphrey with about 16 per cent. The undecided vote amounted to nearly 13 per cent.

YPSILANTI, MICH. — In a survey of political leaders, the Ypsilanti Press concluded that Wallace is a "formidable" local candidate. Bill Hubert, of the Press staff, who conducted the survey, suggested that Wallace also may be "a real and viable candidate nationwide, and he could hurt seriously both the Democratic and Republican parties."

Of the strong Wallace support, the Press survey reports that it is "as elusive as Ahab's great white whale.

"You know is exists; you can see and feel its presence. But to lay hands on it is another matter."

HOUSTON, TEX. — Of particular interest to Republicans is a poll conducted by the conservative Houston Tribune. The weekly Tribune is just four years old, and its subscribers were drawn originally from supporters of GOP candidate Barry Goldwater in 1964.

The Tribune carried a front-page ballot listing candidates alphabetically in its issues of September 12 and 19. Tallying the results in the Sept. 26 issue, with a total of 1,226 votes, the Tribuen reported Wallace leading Nixon by a margin of nearly four to one.

The Inevitable Finally Happens: Campus Unrest In Lower Grades

College activists are stirring up campuses to the extent that high school students are beginning to follow suit and it won't be long before elementary pupils get the knack.

Signs are "blowing in the wind," as the song goes, that the revolutionary movement has already gained momentum from the "Hot Dog Days" uprising.

"WHY CAN'T WE have tacos?," a second grader asked one day on the playground, and the discontent spread.

"How about peanut butter and jelly sandwiches?" cried an equally wild-eyed companion, and his following grew.

Within days, the protests began and up went the picket signs: "Hamburgers Si. Hot Dogs No."

Unfortunately, some of the younger pupils misspelled "hamburger," thereby losing the support of the intellectual wing.

Pamphlets mysteriously began to flood the playground urging pupils to "Take the Mustard and Leave the Hot Dog," "Sink the Orange Drink," "Don't Scream for Ice Cream."

When this failed to get the hot dogs off the list, the pupils started a brown bag campaign, carrying their lunches to school and leaving 4,567 uneaten hot dogs.

FLUSHED WITH this success, the pupils struck again by threatening to boycott the annual cupcake day sale. They demanded a say in what kinds of cupcakes should be sold and how many should have jelly beans on top.

School administrators, fearing a show of force at recess, agreed that 50 per cent of the cupcakes should be baked by pupils. Pupils hailed this as a victory, but it was short-lived because they ate all the pupil-baked cupcakes before the sale.

During the confrontation, Wild Willie, a legendary guerrilla fighter, gained famed when he tripped up six mothers carrying cupcakes to the school.

GATHERING STRENGTH, the pupils decided to move to loftier goals and ban Back to School nights.

"Why should parents go poking their noses into what we do at school?" said Willie. "We don't pay any attention to them at home."

"It's an infringement of our academic freedom," said Chunky Clyde, one of the more astute rebels, who had received an offer to lecture at the University of California at Berkeley.

The campaign spread underground, with small groups in the tanbark area, clusters of pupils at bus stops, and the recess rebels passing the word along.

The Back to School ban was successful beyond all hopes when none of the parents showed up, and Max Rafferty threatened to fire all teachers and administrators involved.

WHEN PUPILS returned to school the next day, the principal interrogated the revolutionary leaders, but none of them divulged the secret tactic.

It wasn't revealed until Wild Willie wrote his manual for elementary school revolution. "Why Johnny Won't Read." The secret to eliminating Back to School nights, he said, is not to take the notices home to parents.

The pupils haven't fully moved into the academic field yet, but there is a movement under way for pupil participation in sex education, as soon as they find out what it is.

Have You Childish Fear Of Bomb? Just Think Of It As Bowie Knife

WASHINGTON —One of the things that Gen. Curtis LeMay said at his press conference last week was that Americans seem to have a phobia about nuclear weapons. This struck home because I have to admit I've had such a phobia for some time. But only after General LeMay brought it up did I decide to do something about it. I went to see Dr. Adolph Strainedluff, a psychiatrist who specializes in nuclear weapon phobias.

"On the couch," he said. "Vat seems to be the trouble?"

"Doctor," I said, staring at the ceiling, "I have this fear of nuclear weapons. I know it's silly, but to me it's very real."

"AHA, VERY hinterasting. Ven did you first become aware of such a phobia?"

"I think it was around the time of Hiroshima or Nagasaki, I'm not sure which. I saw these photos of all these people killed and miles and miles of rubble, and suddenly I got this thing about atomic weapons."

Dr. Strainedluff tapped a pencil against his knee. "So tell me, how does this phobia manifest itself?"

"In peculiar ways, boctor. I get the feeling if I ever see a mushroom cloud, I'm going to die."

"Very hinterasting, very hinterasting. You know it's all in the mind, don't you?"

"Of course. That's why I came to you. I don't want to do anything stupid."

DR. STRAINEDLUFF said, "You are a very sick man. You think that just because an atomic bomb killed a few thousand people 23 years ago, you are threatened. You are amnifesting infantile repressed hostility toward the weapons of war. In psychiatry we call this a military-industrial inferiority complex."

"I know I'm sick. You've got to help me," I begged.

"All right. First you haff to get over this absurd fear of nuclear bombs. You must think of them as just another weapon in our vast defensive arsenal. Ve haff bowie knives and H-bombs, and in war, one is just as good as another. You're not afraid of a knife, are you?"

"Well, I don't think about it a lot."

"So vhy should you be afraid of an H-bomb? It's another form of a knife."

"I never thought of it like that."

"OKAY, so now let's look at some facts straight in the eye. In Bikini we blew up 20 bombs in an experiment. So ve thought everything vould be destroyed; that's how stupid ve were. Do you know that now after all the boom boom, the place is flourishing and the rats are fatter than they ever vas before?"

"It's good to hear."

"The coconuts are hanging from the trees, the fish are svimming in the lagoon and the voice of the turtle can be heard in the land. The only things that don't seem to be doing so good are the land crabs."

"I don't like land crabs," I said.

"So, then you don't haff anything to vorry about."

DR. STRAINEDLUFF started playing with the hand grenade which was attached to his watch fob. "If you're going to be a happy, normal human being," he shouted, "you're going to haff to stop with all these guilty peace feelings."

He was stomping around the room. "So get out of here vith your lousy phobias, and all this stuff about being afraid to die. If you're not villing to take a little fallout for the good of the country, then go back vhere you came from!"

In spite of Dr. Strainedluff's final outburst, he did cure me of my phobia. I'm no longer afraid of nuclear weapons. Now I'm afraid of him.

Dixie Trustees To Talk Salaries

Dixie School District trustees will discuss teachers' salaries with the Dixie Teachers Association negotiating council today at 8 p.m. in the administration office at 35 Trellis Drive, Terra Linda.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis will propose a change in the teachers salary schedule to insure that the district's intern teachers will be paid the minimum salary now required by the state.

Other items on tonight's agenda include the appointment of the 1968-69 finance study group, a citizens committee; and leasing of portable classrooms, one each at Miller Creek School and at Bernard Hoffman School.

Phosphorus matches were invented in France.

Beautiful Normandy Cottage

Excellent location and in beautiful condition. 2 bdrms., large kitchen with breakfast nook. Large living room, garage with plenty of storage, and a lovely terraced garden with a view. This alone makes the price of $23,500 a bargain. But the added value is in a large attic that is partially developed. The staircase, 2 dormers, windows and flooring are already completed. 2 bdrms. and another bath could easily be completed in this large area. This is a real charmer — see it and you will buy it.

Nixon Back In California After Making A Pitch For Young Vote

NIXON'S THE ONE!

JOINS BROTHER — The famous Nixon nose is apparent in Ed Nixon, 38-year-old brother of the Republican presidential candidate, as he speaks to a gathering in New York. He said in his talk yesterday he would stick around for a while if his brother is elected and then return to his telephone company job in Seattle. (AP Wirephoto)

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Richard M. Nixon held out a Republican welcome to the young yesterday, saying the Democratic party has rejected youth.

Before flying to California last night, Nixon addressed a packed house in the 8,500-seat Minneapolis Auditorium in the adopted home state of his Democratic rival for the presidency, Hubert H. Humphrey.

The campaign crowd was overwhelmingly friendly but included a small and vocal group of "we want peace" chanters. They interrupted Nixon several times but quickly were drowned out by cries of "We Want Nixon."

One young man, who left the hall under his own steam at the request of police, stopped the GOP candidate at the outset by announcing from the balcony, over a battery-powered megaphone, that "I have a few questions I want to put to you."

Many ofthe Nixon partisans were young people, too, and the campaigner had a special word for them.

He said Minnesota's Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy deserved much of the credit for their interest in politics and, referring to McCarthy's defeat for the Democratic presidential nomination, added: "Now that you've been rejected by the other party, we'll welcome you in ours."

With three rallies scheduled today in California, Nixon begins intensive concentration on the big-vote states—declaring he's not taking victory for granted.

In a speech prepared for a campaign meeting at Santa Monica, Nixon proposed a "children's antiobscenity act" that would make it a federal criminal offense to knowingly mail obscene matter to those under 16.

The GOP candidate plans to gradually increase his voting-seeking efforts in the most populous states until—in the week or so before the Nov. 5 balloting—they claim his exclusive attention.

For Nixon, these target states are California, Illinois, Texas, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. This week finds he visits all of them but Pennsylvania.

WALLACE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — George C. Wallace has a knack of turning to his own use the heckling that has become a fixture of the 1968 presidential campaign.

"Well, my goodness," said Wallace after a particularly noisy rally on the Boston Common yesterday, "I ought to know how to handle those folks, I've put up with them for 5 and one-half years."

Between paragraphs in his speech, Wallace, aided by powerful sound equipment, exchanged taunts with a chanting group of dissenters interspersed among the largest crowd he has drawn so far in his campaign.

"Why don't you hire the hall tomorrow and see how many folks you can get here?" jibed Wallace early in his speech, obviously pleased with the vast sea of faces spread before him.

Police estimates of the crowd ranged as high as 20,000, but in the imprecise art of guessing crowd sizes, other opinions went from 40,000 to Wallace's own judgment of 75,000.

"If you put all those people in Legion Field in Birmingham, they would have filled it," said Wallace. "And it seats 70,000."

Today, the third-party candidate was to speak in Scranton, Pa., and Albany, N.Y. He then is to fly to Evansville, Ind., where he addresses a rally tomorrow. Appearances at Peoria, Ill., and Duluth, Minn., are also scheduled tomorrow.

MUSKIE

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, campaigning in Florida, has condemned the policies of third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace.

The Democratic vice presidential nominee said yesterday that Wallace's philosophy is "an illusion which runs counter to all decent instincts."

"It would make the policeman a member of an occupation force among a hostile people," Muskie said.

Muskie was to campaign today in Philadelphia with two rallies, two speeches, a television interview and a groundbreaking.

In a day of speeches up and down Florida yesterday Muskie alternated between denouncing Wallace as a man with "the philosophy of violence and overkill," and criticizing Richard M. Nixon's economic and labor record.

WALLACE HECKLER
On Boston Common

Nixon carried Florida in 1960 against the late President John F. Kennedy while conservative Republican Barry Goldwater took 48.9 per cent of the vote in 1964.

AGNEW

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Despite his continuing attack on federal antipoverty programs established by the Democratic administration, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew indicates from his remarks that he probably would permit much of the program to continue in operation.

The Republican vice presidential candidate has made the programs targets of innumerable attacks during a two-day campaign swing through the South.

To make his point, he has repeatedly used the example of an antipoverty employee in New York City whom, he said, had never held a job more than 12 months, had worked under six different aliases, was hired under the antipoverty program for $19,000 per year and then was accused of embezzling $22,000.

When reminded the antipoverty program in New York City was administered by agencies under Mayor John V. Lindsay, a Republican, the Maryland governor replied that it really wasn't the fault of Lindsay's administration because "I've seen some of these community action programs almost be dictated through the Washington representatives of the War on Poverty."

LeMAY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay says he keeps abreast of developments in Vietnam "through friends in the Pentagon who give me defense information."

The retired Air Force general did not elaborate on the statement as he met newsmen yesterday. He told them that one reason he joined George C. Wallace on the third-party ticket was that Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon planned to stack his cabinet with left-wingers if elected.

He said he had seen press reports of the proposed Republican cabinet "in which every left-wing member of the Republican party was listed."

LeMay was to meet with his campaign advisers today before a speaking trip to Florida. He tomorrow at Orlando, Fla., and Friday at Raleigh, N.C.

McCARTHY

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has again rejected overtures that he support Democratic nominee Hubert H. Humphrey's presidential campaign and close ranks in the party.

The Minnesota senator, in his first major political speech since he lost the nomination to Humphrey in August, said last night the eall for party unity was no more acceptable to him now than when he entered the presidential race a year ago.

But he left the door open for Humphrey to possibly obtain his support before the November election. McCarthy listed three positions he said were crucial to him and his supporters, and indicated he hoped the vice president would adopt them.

McCarthy spoke at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner for New York Democratic senatorial nominee Paul O'Dwyer, a Vietnam War critic who has refused to endorse Humphrey.

A three-minute standing ovation greeted McCarthy when he mounted the dais before the 1,400 persons packing the grand ballroom of the New York Hilton. Then later, as he rose to speak, chants of "We want Gene, we want Gene" interrupted him.

In his speech McCarthy listed these conditions he thought should be met to change the direction of the Democratic party: a shift in Vietnam War policy, a restructuring of the draft system and of the party machinery.

RAFFERTY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Republican Senate candidate Max Rafferty may be running behind in the polls but he says he is not running scared.

With less than a month to go in his campaign with Democrat Alan Cranston, Rafferty does not foresee any change of emphasis in his drive.

"I run sort of a funny campaign," Rafferty said yesterday in an interview at his office here. "I really don't have anything to do with it."

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in his first bid for partisan office, said he trusts the judgment of his campaign managers.

"I have nothing to do with it," he said, "The only thing I do is tell people what I think about the issues."

"The purpose of a campaign is to develop techniques and devices to get the candidate's message across to the largest possible number of potential voters and our campaign from the very beginning has been gauged to this particular goal."

Moving-In Days Set For Hall Of Justice

An enlarged cafeteria is scheduled to open in the new Hall of Justice in December, but the rest of the building will not be occupied until January and February, according to tentative target dates announced by the county administrator.

Administrative analyst Michael A. Chrystal said the target dates were set after a discussion with the architect and with the prime contractor of the new building and are subject to change in case of bad weather or other unforeseen circumstances.

Here is the tentative schedule:

Dec. 16 — New cafeteria will open at the south end of the Hall of Justice, on the same level as the present cafeteria.

Jan. 13 — Department of Public Social Services will begin moving into the top two levels of the hall. (The various elevations in the new building have not been numbered as yet.)

Feb. 8 through 18 — The Hall of Justice will be fully occupied, except for the west side of the top floor, which will remain unfinished.

March 24 — Repartitioning of the present administration building will be completed.

The present second floor, where the cafeteria is now located, will correspond to the top level of the new Hall of Justice, which will house the new cafeteria, a part of the Department of Public Social Services, the county jail and exercise yard at the north end.

The second floor from the top will contain part of the public social services and the sheriff's office.

The courts will be located on the third floor from the top.

Below that will come several other levels for equipment and machinery space, entrance to the main lobby, and a receiving and storage area at the very bottom level.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Glaucoma Test Easy, Vital To Preserve One's Eyesight

VAN DELLEN

The tonometer is a quick and painless device used to test for glaucoma. Local anesthetic is dropped into each eye, and the instrument is placed on the orbits to measure pressure. We recommend that this test be done along with regular checkups even when there are no ocular symptoms.

Tonometry is a must for relatives of glaucoma suffers because these people are six times more likely to develop the ailment.

IN THIS over-40 disorder, pressure within the eye is so great that the nerves or sight are in danger of being crushed.

Blindness may occur unless the condition is detected and treated. Diagnosis is not difficult when glaucoma is at the acute and painful stage. The eyeballs become hard as stone and emergency care is needed.

CHRONIC GLAUCOMA, the common form, develops more slowly and is difficult to recognize because the tension may build up without warning signals.

It is suspected whenever vision is fuzzy or blurred or the individual finds it troublesome adjusting to the dark when watching a movie or TV. Other signs are loss of side vision and seeing colored halos around lights. Everyone with these manifestations should have the tonometer test.

The pressure can be reduced with special drops that unblock the drainage system of the eye which is holding back the outflow of eye fluid. Another method involves the use of diuretics that decrease the inflow of fluid into orbit.

Should these measures fail, a new drainage outlet can be formed via surgery.

CONTROLING glaucoma may be a lifelong project. Never forget to take the medicine when busy, sick, or on vacation. Avoid dark rooms as when watching TV. Also minimize stress and cut down on the intake of coffee, tea, tobacco, and alcohol.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

CAUSES FOR DIZZINESS

E. P. writes: Why does a person become dizzy when lying flat in bed? After a few minutes, he must turn his head to the left or right to clear the head. This also happens when standing, sitting, or looking at an object. Sometimes he feels as though he will pass out. Is this a common sensation?

REPLY

It is a common manifestation, but you should be examined because there are many causes for dizziness, including an ear disturbance, arthritis of the neck, or a circulatory disorder.

HAIR AND CHILDBIRTH

A reader writes: Why should a woman lose a lot of hair after she has had a baby?

REPLY

This condition is not uncommon for two to six months after delivery. It usually is worse in women whose hair already was thin. During pregnancy there is an overabundance of female sex hormones but after childbirth a temporary shortage develops and causes loss of hair.

AGE AND MAN POWER

A reader writes: At what age do men lose the power to breed?

REPLY

This is a moot question but nonagenarians and centenarians have made claims of this power.

PERIL IN DENTAL X-RAYS?

L. A. A. writes: At check-up time, our dentist X-rays the teeth. Is this a dangerous technic?

REPLY

Not if the equipment is good and is used properly.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINT — Self-medication may mask a serious disease.

Sounding Board Topic Will Be Proposition 9

The pros and cons of Proposition 9 (the Watson Amendment) will be discussed from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow on the KTIM Sounding Board, according to Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator.

Speaking against the proposition will be Dr. Elmer A. Weden, a San Anselmo School District trustee, and Edward Ward, Marin County real estate agent. John Winter, a member of the United Organization of Property Tax Initiative, will tell why he is in favor of the proposal.

Questions are invited for the program, which will be rebroadcast at 10:05 Sunday.

On Oct. 17 the Sounding Board speakers will be candidates for two seats on the Marin Hospital District Board, Dr. Gwendolyn M. Campion and George E. Croke, incumbents, and James R. Kilty and Jack H. Feller Jr.

Political Accounting

Political candidates and public officials who choose to disclose their personal finances now can have some standard accounting guidelines to use, thanks to the California Society of Certified Public Accountants. The forms are available from Robert J. Sonderblom of San Rafael, chairman of the society's Northern California unit.

TV REVIEW

CBS Holds Top Place On Mondays

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The season's first national television ratings in which the three networks' new shows competed head-on indicates CBS-TV's Monday lineup is still video's top powerhouse.

That lineup consists of "Gunsmoke," Lucille Ball, "Mayberry R.F.D.," "Family Affair" and Carol Burnett.

Covered by the national rankings in the week of Sept. 23-29, in which NBC-TV was broadcasting its second episodes, and CBS-TV and ABC-TV were offering premieres.

And although the ratings for the following week—in which there were no premieres—will perhaps be more indicative of viewer reaction, there seems little doubt CBS-TV's Monday series have held rather firmly against NBC-TV's attempt to unseat them nationally.

There is no question that NBC-TV's new Monday lineup—"I Dream of Jeannie," "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" and a movie—is doing much better than the network's original series of last season. And some observers feel this will help NBC-TV greatly in its effort to unseat CBS-TV as the perennial ratings leader.

But Monday on CBS-TV is still that network's cornerstone of ratings success. The top three shows in the national ranking were "Mayberry R.F.D.," Miss Ball's series and "Family Affair." Whether "Mayberry R.F.D." holds up is the only question. It is the successor to Andy Griffith's show, and since his fictional marriage was featured on the debut, it certainly accounted for the episode's great success.

Miss Burnett's series, meanwhile, finished in a tie for seventh and "Gunsmoke" was 20th. Every one of CBS-TV's Monday series finished in the top 20, a spectacular showing—and consistent with last season.

Boys Escape Hall

A 13-year-old Petaluma boy and a 12-year-old boy from San Rafael escaped from Juvenile Hall Sunday and were caught after attempting two burglaries in the Marinwood area, sheriff's officers said today.

Brundage On The Spot On Eve Of IOC Elections

Brundage, 81-year-old president of the International Olympic Committee, agreed yesterday to remain in that capacity—whether or not he is re-elected tomorrow—through the course of the strife-torn Games.

SEX TESTS

Additional controversy cropped up when it was announced that the International Swimming Federation has objected to girls taking sex tests, already passed by more than 500 girls.

Prince Alexandre de Merode of Belgium, president of the International Olympic Committee's medical commission, said late last night that every federation except swimming has agreed to voluntary tests, with 540 of the 962 girls here already passing them.

The blood or chromoscone tests, to determine the femininity of the girls, have been called shocking and degrading by Berge Phillips, Australian president of the Swimming Federation.

"We are still talking with the Swimming Federation about it, and we hope that finally they will agree," De Merode said.

The tests are not now obligatory, he said, but his comments stirred speculation that refusal to take the tests could lead to disqualification from the Games.

De Merode also said that if any athlete took dope he would be barred, and his team would lose all points gained in the event involved.

The athletes appeared unconcerned generally about the strife in Mexico City that has threatened the holding of the Games and last week produced a bloody battle about a week ago involving students that left more than 30 dead.

COMMENTS

Their comments all were in the athletic vien, though that of basketball Coach Henry Iba was vaguely pessimistic.

"I think we have an even chance," he observed. But this is from a coach whose country has never lost in Olympic competition. The biggest challenge this year is from Russia and Yugoslavia.

And the United States is lacking two of its top eligible players—Elvin Hayes of Houston, who turned pro, and Lew Alcindor of UCLA, who chose not to compete.

"This is the strongest Olympic field yet', Iba said.

The arrival of the powerful swimmers completed the U.S. team of nearly 400 and the swimmers are expected to reap the largest harvest of medals.

Although He's Small, Kevin Shows 'Em How

TINY TAR—College of Marin quarterback Kevin Wilson is so small that after a recent game a spectator approached Kevin's dad, Charley Wilson, and quipped: "Hey, you sure that kid's old enough to play college ball?"

Kevin always has been one of those little Giants in sports. I remember him when he looked too small to play Little League baseball, but he showed the bigger kids a few things.

ANSWERING SOME QUESTIONS:

Yes, there will be Marin County drivers competing in the Monterey Grand Prix auto races at Laguna Seca this weekend, including Bill Eve of Sausalito and Tony Settember of Mill Valley, according to publicist Jerry Diamond.

No, there are no Marin ticket agencies for the Grand Prix, except for military personnel at Hamilton Air Force Base. But you can get ducats at British Motors in S.F.

Three In World Series

Yes, there are three Marin County residents who have played in a World Series—Joe DeMaestri of Novato, Art Schallock of San Rafael and Charley Wensloff of Mill Valley, all with the Yankees. Also, Marin native but San Francisco resident Walter Mails played in the 1920 Series for Cleveland.

No, Sam Chapman of Greenbrae and Jack Wilson of San Rafael, both former big leaguers, never played in a Series.

No, the Cardinals' great Bob Gibson is not as unbeatable as his records suggest. The Giants whupped him thrice this year—3-1 on May 28, 3-2 on Sept. 6 and 1-0 on Sept. 17 when Gaylord Perry pitched his no-hitter. Gibson beat the Giants only once this year, 3-0 on July 6.

Yes, in 18-game series competition throughout the 162-game schedule, the Giants beat or tied their nine National League rivals—11-7 over Pittsburgh, 11-7 over New York, 10-8 over St. Louis, 10-8 over Cincinnati, 10-8 over Houston and 9-9 each with Chicago, Atlanta, Los Angeles and Philadelphia. The Giants were a respectable 46-35 on the road but a putrid 42-39 at home where charity is supposed to begin.

Not A Record . . . Yet

No, the Raiders' 14-game victory streak is not an American Football League record. The San Diego Chargers streaked through 15 games in 1960-61 and will be out to block Oakland's shot at their record this Sunday in Oakland.

No, Marin County hunters are not better shots than they were a year ago. Department of Fish and Game statistics show 514 deer killed locally during the 1968 season as compared to 535 in 1967. Local archers are getting better, however. They killed 3 this year and only 1 the previous season. No statistics available on how many the Robin Hoods wounded or maimed.

And finally, no, wise guys, the Mills team that Tamalpais High plays in non-league football Friday afternoon is NOT Mills College for Women. It's Mills High, located between Burlingame and Millbrae.

Charles Finley Lists 13 Of 15 'Untouchables'

OAKLAND (AP) — Charles O. Finley, owner of the Oakland Athletics, revealed yesterday the players he will protect from the major-league expansion draft later this month.

The Oakland Tribune reported that Finley has decided on 13 of the 15 players he will protect and will choose between three more to fill the remaining two spots.

THE LIST

The Tribune said Finley, now at the World Series in St. Louis, will protect:

Pitchers John Odom, Jim Nash, Jim "Catfish" Hunter, Chuck Dobson and Lew Krausse; infielders Danny Cater, Dick Green, Bert Campaneris, Sal Bando and Ted Kubiak; outfielders Reggie Jackson and Rick Monday, and catcher Dave Duncan.

The two remaining spots will be filled by minor league pitcher Rolly Fingers, infielder John Donaldson or outfielder Mike Hershberger.

FOR GRABS

Thus, all the other players on the Athletics' major-league and minor-league rosters could be chosen by the new Kansas City or Seattle teams that will field clubs for the first time next season.

Among those are relief pitcher Jack Aker, Paul Lindblad, Diego Segui and Ed Sprague; outfielders Jim Gosger, Joe Keough, Joe Rudi and Allen Lewis; infielder Ramon Webster, and catchers Jim Pagliaroni and Phil Roof.

BREAKS TRADITION

Finley and new manager Hank Bauer had been working on the list two evenings last week during the World series, the paper said.

Names of players protected in expansion drafts are traditionally not made public, either in baseball, football or basketball.

Hunter Safety Class Sign-Ups Monday

Registration for the San Rafael Rifle and Pistol Club's Hunter Safety Course will be held Monday at 7 p.m. at the San Rafael Pistol Range.

Cost of registration is $5. The course is for youngsters ages 12-18 and is a requirement for obtaining a hunting license.

Spitz Could Be Golden Boy

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mark Spitz, a lean 18-year-old marvel with swimming speed to match his confidence, could be the Golden Boy of the 1968 Olympics.

Don Schollander, his teammate on the Santa Clara Swim Club, was the outstanding aquatic star of the 1964 Games in Tokyo when he won four gold medals.

The handsome, dark-haired Spitz has a solid chance to win five and possibly six gold medals here because of the expanded swimming program.

The 6-foot, 160-pound kid with hands like shovels, will swim in the 100 and 200 butterfly events, the 100-meter freestyle, the 400-meter freestyle and medley relays and possibly in the 800-meter freestyle relay.

He holds the world record in the two butterfly events and is one of the best in the world in the freestyle.

Spitz qualified for the 800-meter relay team but Coach George Haines said he would have to wait and see before deciding whether his protege at Santa Clara will swim a 200 meter leg in that relay.

"He has the 100 butterfly final the same night and we'll wait and see whether he should try a double," said Haines.

Mark would like to give it a try.

"We all came down here to win," said Spitz, who arrived with the full swimming squad yesterday.

Spitz said he had a little cold during the high altitude training at Colorado Springs, Colo., but feels fine now.

"I've become acclimated to the altitude," he said. "I'm swimming faster now than I ever have."

Mark feels he has as good a chance as any for the gold medal in the 100-mter freestyle although he finished third in the U.S. Olympic trials with a time of 53.3 seconds.

Zach Zorn of Long Beach, won the event in the world record-tying time of 52.6. Ken Walsh, also of Long Beach, who had set that record at the Pan-American Games at Winnipeg in 1967, was second in 53.1.

Schollander, who broke his own world record for the 200 meters in the trials, was fifth in the 100 and thus didn't qualify to defend his 1964 title in the century.

"The 100 freestyle is like Russian roulette," said Spitz. "Anyone with a time of a second within the world record has a chance to take it.

"It's a power swim and if someone gets off just right he can take it. World records don't mean a thing. I'll have to prove I'm the best in the fly (butterfly) even though I hold the world records."

Seals Ready For Friday Opener

Undefeated, uninjured and all signed was a coach's description of the National Hockey League club awaiting Friday's season opener at home against Minnesota.

The Seals were entirely free of injuries after a successful series of exhibition games in which they won six and tied two in eight contests. They finished their initial season last year in the West Division cellar.

Basketball Triumph

Marin Catholic High School's Class C basketball team opened Marin County Athletic League play yesterday by beating Redwood a 43-23 behind Brian Little's 11 points, at Marin Catholic. The loss evened Redwood's league mark at 1-1.

UGLY LETTERS

Gibson's Life Not All That Rosey

By VITO STELLINO

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Bob Gibson, World Series hero, seems to be one of the luckiest men alive.

But Bob Gibson, man on the street, knows his life isn't as golden as it looks to many outsiders.

The pitching star of the St. Louis Cardinals returned to Busch Stadium yesterday in St. Louis after a weekend in Detroit where he won his record seventh straight series game.

More than one letter started: "Dear Nigger:"

Gibson happens to be a black man and since he's in the public eye, he is subjected to racist hate mail.

"It's not just me. Brock and Flood and some of the other Negro players get it, too," he said.

But that doesn't make it any easier for Gibson to take.

As he opened his mail and passed some of the worst examples around to reporters to read, he said, "We're supposed to be above all this but the mayor of Chicago says a policeman can take only so much harassment and he has to retaliate. Well, I can only take so much and it starts getting to me.

"Then people wonder why I'm grouchy some times. People think I should be in a jolly mood all the time but it's tough to take at times."

He added "Once you leave the field, you're just like everybody else, you have the same wants and desires. Sure, on the field you're doing something different but off the field, you're the same."

Gibson admitted he also gets a lot of nice mail, mainly from kids asking for autographs or from people congratulating him.

"If the world was made up just of kids, it'd be a lot better world, it's the grownups who are nasty," he said.

Saturday night before he pitched in Detroit, people were banging at his hotel door at 3 a.m. And at 4 a.m., he got a phone call from someone who said he had a telegram from Denny McLain.

Gibson, who is 32, has made no definite plans for the day when he is no longer pitching.

When somebody suggested that Gibson, who sometimes is critical of sports writers, go into sports writing, he laughed and replied:

"They don't make enough money."

Sore Arm Day On Tap At Kezar

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers and the Baltimore Colts, featuring a pair of doubtful quarterbacks and one sensational substitute, tangle in Kezar Stadium Sunday in a National Football League contest.

The Colts have been established as eight-point favorites by oddsmakers, apparently based on the present health of quarterbacks.

San Francisco's John Brodie suffered an injured right arm in the loss to the Los Angeles Rams last weekend, but says he will be ready to go against the Colts.

Baltimore's Johnny Unitas tore an arm muscle during the exhibition season — and may have to earn his job back when he is ready for action.

Former 49er Earl Morrall has led the Colts to four straight victories, completing 60 of 101 passes for 968 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Tarkenton Takes Over As Top QB

NEW YORK (AP) — Fran Tarkenton of New York and Bill Munson of Detroit have knocked Dallas' Don Meredith out of the lead as the National Football League's top passer.

Tarkenton, who has completed 46 of 80 tosses for 803 yards and eight touchdowns, took over first in the standings based on percentage of completions, touchdowns, percentage of interceptions and average gain.

Race Tracks Merge With Gulf Western

CHICAGO (UPI)—For the $2 bettor the 1969 racing season at Arlington Park and Washington Park will be the same—but there'll be a different name on mutuel clerks' pay checks.

As of yesterday one of the nation's largest track operations merged with conglomerate Gulf and Western Industries, Inc.

The merger of the 460-acre thoroughbred track at jarlington and the 380-acre harness racing enterprise at Washington Park with the billion-dollar eastern firm was jointly announced by Mrs. Majorie L. Everett, owner of the race tracks and David N. Judelson, president of the Gulf and Western.

Stanley: Infielders Deserve More Pay

By MURRAY CHASS

ST. LOUIS (AP) — When Mickey Stanley switched from center field to shortstop, he also switched his thinking. Now he believes infielders deserve higher pay than outfielders.

"Maybe other people"—outfielders, perhaps?—"don't agree, but after playing shortstop, I believe it," Stanley said as the Detroit Tigers prepardd to try and even the Series at three games each today.

Stanley is recognized as one of the best defensive outfielders in the American League, but Manager Mayo Smith asked him to play short against St. Louis so the Tigers could have the benefit of Al Kaline's potent bat.

"Playing shortstop is more work," said the 26-year-old blond who played the position in only eight games before the Series. "Playing the outfield is like taking a vacation. It really is.

"There's a lot more mental strain for an infielder. Ball games depend on him more.

"You can get a bad jump on a ball hit to the outfield and still catch it, and people won't notice it. But if you don't get a ground ball hit a few feet in front of you, everyone sees it.

"An infielder who has a comparable year with the bat should make more money than an outfielder. He's worth more."

Neverthless, Stanley says he'd rather play the outfield—"unless there's a difference in the money I'd make."

Smith intends to put Stanley back in center field next spring, but he's completely satisfied with the way his gamble has turned out.

"He's been real good," Smith said. "Naturally I'm very pleased because he's helped get Kaline in the line-up, and Al's done a great job for us."

Stanley also has been satisfied with his play.

"All Mayo expected me to do was an adequate job, and I think I've been adequate," he commented. "I had one error, and I don't think it was an arror. I know a lot of people agree.

In making the conversion, Stanley has been helped by second baseman Dick McAuliffe. But besides getting help from him, Mickey has gotten the needle.

"I call him Dummy," McAuliffe said. "He tells me what he thinks about certain situations and I tell him, 'Dummy, you can't do that.'"

Stanley's outfielding mates may call him worse names than that.

Seals Open New Season With Hope, Little Else

OAKLAND—Shortly after the first of the year, an aging hockey player arrived five minutes late to the site where the Oakland Seals' team bus was about to depart to one place or another.

His apology not being properly contrite in the view of the team leader, this capable athlete was instantly shuttled to the minor leagues. A fine, if even that, would have been of more benefit to the team than the banishment. (Actually, the Seals management could have used 50 bucks from time to time in their first National Hockey League season.)

YET THAT'S the kind of club the Seals had a year ago. It was poorly managed in terms of business, poorly directed on the ice. This might lead one to believe the Oaklands finished last in their expansion division. Good guess.

Hope must abound for this year, what with new owners, a new coach, mostly new playing personnel, an exhibition season that saw the Seals lose not once in eight games. When the team opens its 1968-69 NHL season at the Coliseum Arena on Friday night, hope — and perhaps little else — will fill the frigid air.

FOR ALTHOUGH we're told this is a good hockey team, we hearken back to 12 months ago — when we also were being told this was a good hockey team, coached to fever pitch by a grim, firm fellow named Olmstead.

Promises, promises.

Hockey, when played properly, is the finest spectator sport in the world. As played by the Olmstead Seals, it was a crashing bore. They lacked speed, and not just on offense.

THEY WERE ragged and, because of Olmstead's perpetual taunting, uncaring. This browbeaten Oakland team reached such a desultory low it was almost never able to score on the basic power play — brought about when the opponents are playing short-handed because of a penalty.

Of all their bad habits, this lack of advantaged scoring most upset the few fans who bothered coming to the Arena.

NOW, WE'RE told, all this will change. New coach Fred Glover is a pleasant man, radiating charm and enthusiasm to his charges. Those performers who felt as if they had the overnight shift in a mortuary last year are now tickled to death to be on the ice — or so comes the word from training camp.

Only 10 skaters return from last season's team, and one of those is goalie Charlie Hodge, the most abused human being of the year. With another club, Hodge would probably have emerged asthe league's finest goalkeeper. With the Seals, he was like a guy walking through Central Park after dark — constantly under assault. Of all the Seals, Hodge alone merited inspection last year.

BUT GOALIES don't score, goalies don't forecheck the charging enemy wingers. This business of checking the enemy offense at the foe's end of the ice was not a Seal tactic in the first year. We were told the lack of team speed was the reason forthis elimination of aggressiveness.

Nonsense.

HOCKEY IS aggression. The fans want to see it; the players must offer it. A clean exhibition slate and joy in the clubhouse won't mean a thing unless these new Seals play the game as it was intended.

Otherwise, boarding a bus will offer the only excitement of the year here.

Brundage May Run Again; Swimmers Make The Scene

29 girls. From this group the United States expects to win at least 20 of the 29 gold medals in an expanded competition, and pick up plenty of silver and bronze, as well.

How much golds will the powerful women's team win?

"A lot," said Coach Sherman Chavoor. "Most of it. We'd better"..

The girls are headed by Debbie Meyers, world record holder in the 200, 400 and 800-meter freestyle from Sacramento, Catie Ball, the 100 and 200-meter record holder from Jacksonville, Fla., Claudie Kolb, the 200 and 400-meter individual medley record holder from Santa Clara, and Sue Pedersen, 15-year-old marvel from Sacramento who has a shot at five medals.

RECORD HOLDER

The men are headed by Mark Spitz, Santa Clara, who may shoot for six medals. He holds the world record in the 100 and 200-meter butterfly events, and also will swim in the 100-meter freestyle, the 400-meter freestyle the 400-meter medley relay events, and possibly in the 800-meter freestyle relay.

The U.S. track team, which expects to draw its biggest challenge—as usual—from the Russians, pulled a mild surprise with the announcement of a change in the running order of the 400-meter relay team.

Coach Payton Jordan said he will lead off with Charlie Greene, followed by Mel Pender, Ronnie Ray Smith and Jimmy Hines as anchor. The surprise was Greene as the starter.

"We know Pender has the best start of the four," Jordan said, "but Greene has little experience in relay running. I decided it would be best to let Charlie run first to eliminate one baton exchange for him."

In more political events, the International Olympic Committee, through Lord Killanin, a member of the executive board, announced after a lengthy meeting that:

"It was agreed that the present members of the executive board will remain in office until the end of these Games even if they are not re-elected."

THE VOTE

He said nominations for the presidency, vice presidency and membership of board will be voted on Thursday. Brundage, president since 1952, is expected to be re-elected. There are rumors, however, that he will accept only a two-year term.

The IOC also decided to let North Korea compete in these Games under that name, but that in future games will carry the designation "DPRK" (Democratic People's Republic of Korea). The South Koreans protested.

Striking students, meanwhile, continued their movement—within legal channels—seeking political change in the country, the cause of last week's bloody battles in the city.

They said they plan to continue the operation throughout the country of roving political bands, seeking support from farmers and factory workers.

Government officials, however, said the city has been calm for almost a week since last week's carnage, which prompted the callup of crack army units now circling the Olympic

Raiders Going For Record 15th Triumph

OAKLAND (UPI) — The powerful Oakland Raiders will be shooting for an American Football League record when they go into action at the Coliseum Sunday--but they'll also be fighting for first place.

The Raiders will tangle with the San Diego Chargers in their search for a 15th consecutive league victory over a period of two years. Ironically, the Chargers hold the current record of 15 and scored four of those victories at the expense of the Raiders.

Oakland has been plagued by injuries, and four Chargers face calls to active duty in the National Guard. The oddsmakers call it Oakland by nine.

Women Reach Golf Finals At Indian Valley

Mrs. Don Roberts and Mrs. Lawrence Gapinski earned spots in the championship flight finals of the San Geronimo Women's Golf Club championship tourney yesterday.

Raiders Dominate Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — The powerful Oakland Raiders are off and running toward their second straight American Football championship, and statistics show the reason why.

The Raiders, 4-0, lead in total offense with 1,709 yards, an average of 427.3 yards a game, and rank second in total defense with 1,010 yards, just two more yards than San Diego has allowed, league statistics released today revealed.

Oakland also has turned its high-powered running and passing into the most points, 160, and has allowed the fewest points, 52. San Diego has given up 60 points.

Writer Picks Ohio Staters To Upset Powerful Purdue

By DICK COUCH

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A football coach doesn't believe in turning the other cheek . . . particularly if his name happens to be Woody Hayes.

The Ohio State pilot has been laying for Purdue ever since his Buckeyes took a 41-6 thrashing from the Boilermakers last fall.

Saturday at Columbus, Hayes gets his rematch in a game that could swing the Big Ten championship to the survivor.

Purdue goes in with an unblemished record and the top spot in the national rankings. But the brawny Bucks are unbeaten, too, and Hayes has enough talent at his disposal to avenge Ohio's darkest day in 1967.

Last week's picks came out on top in 47 of 56 games, giving this corner a season mark of 140-37-7 . . . a .761 pace.

Penn State over UCLA: The Bruins' offensive shortcomings were evident in last week's loss to Syracuse. Penn State's rugged defense should compound the problem.

Mississippi over Georgia: The Rebs are flexing their muscles after knocking off Alabama for the first time since 1910.

Kansas over Nebraska: One vote for Jayhawk quarterback Bob Douglass in this Big Eight archrivalry.

Oklahoma over Texas: The Sooners have a score to settle too . . . Texas handed them their only regular season setback in 1967.

Michigan State over Michigan: Duffy Daugherty has something going again at East Lansing.

Texas A&M over Texas Tech: The Aggies have had their usual early troubles . . . but they're going to make plenty of late trouble in the Southwest Conference.

Elsewhere:

EAST—Syracuse over Pittsburgh; Rutgers over Lehigh; Dartmouth over Princeton; Cornell over Penn; Harvard over Columbia; Holy Cross over Colgate; Buffalo over Delaware; Yale over Brown; Boston College over Villanova; California over Army.

SOUTH—Alabama over Vanderbilt; Auburn over Clemson; Duke over Virginia; Florida over Tulane; Tennessee over Georgia Tech; Oregon State over Kentucky; Tulsa over Louisville; North Carolina over Maryland; West Texas State over Memphis State; Southern Mississippi over Mississippi State; North Carolina State over South Carolina; Ohio University over William & Mary; Wake Forest over Virginia Tech; West Virginia over VMI; Citadel over Richmond; Connecticut over Davidson.

MIDWEST—Air Force over Navy at Chicago; Colorado over Missouri; Minnesota over Illinois; Indiana over Iowa; Kansas State over Iowa State; Notre Dame over Northwestern; Utah State over Wisconsin; Miami, Ohio, over Marshall; Western Michigan over Kent State; Colorado State over Wichita State; Cincinnati over Tampa; Toledo over Bowling Green.

SOUTHWEST—Arkansas over Baylor; Houston over Oklahoma State; North Texas State over Northern Michigan; Texas Christian over Southrn Methodist.

FAR WEST—Southern California over Stanford; Pacific over Santa Clara; Wyoming over Brigham Young; Utah over New Mexico; Arizona State over Washington State; Washington over Oregon.

Willsey True To His Word

He did yesterday.

At tackle, John Phillips worked out ahead of sophomore Bob Richards a..d Tom Demler replaced Mike Meers on the first team.

At tight end, Jim Brady moved in for George Harris but developed a strep throat and missed practice.

Two ailing linebackers, Travis Tatum and Jerry Woods were doubtful for Saturday's game at Army.

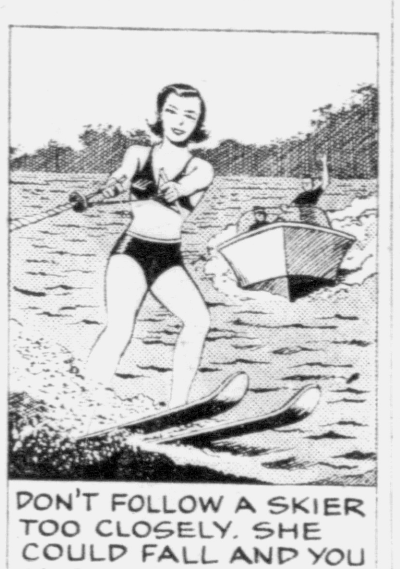
BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Good Will And Courtesy Vital On The Waterways

The need for greater understanding and consideration between the various—and divergent—groups which use our waterways increases every day. Every authority interested in water activities warns that failure of one group to defer to another and respect its interests can lead only to restrictive legislation.

The boater, already the target of many restrictive rules and regulations, has most to lose and, thus, should lead the way in demonstrating good will, and courtesy to others.



DON'T FOLLOW A SKIER TOO CLOSELY. SHE COULD FALL AND YOU MIGHT HIT HER.

HERE ARE some of the areas in which courtesy should be, yet often is not, shown:

All boats should scrupulously respect any swimming area. Keep a sharp lookout even when close, in case some swimmers have strayed from a buoyed area.

The same goes for divers. Every boatman should be familiar with the scuba diver's flag (red with diagonal white stripe) and should stay at least 100 feet away. This is already backed by law in some states.

NEVER FOLLOW too closely behind a water skier. He might fall and you may not be able to avoid him.

Pass an anchored angler with as little wake as possible and as far away as possible. He'll really appreciate that.

If you are a sailboat skipper, signal, as often as you can, your intentions to power boat skippers nearby. Some sail men are aggressively conscious of the fact that motorboats must stay clear of them, and it's not unusual to see a sailboat beating into a harbor or narrow channel against the wind tacking back and forth so as to practically immobilize power boats in the vicinity.

And, finally, avoid polluting or fouling the water. Boats are being penalized unjustly for the nation's water pollution problem, and many agencies are just looking for excuses to blame the boaters.

SHARING THE waters is a topic of wide interest as many questions we've been asked indicate:

Q. Is there any law about how long you can use a launching ramp?

A. There may be rules in individual parks or at municipal launching sites, but as a universal thing there is no law. If you are held up by some greenhorn ahead of you, I'd suggest you diplomatically give him a hand to get him out of the ramp as fast as possible.

Q. Do sailboats in a race have the right to hog the entire area of the course?

A. Never. Regatta regulations in some jurisdictions often give sailboats in a race some privileges they may not have otherwise, but they are few. However, wouldn't it be the courteous thing to avoid an area where a race was obviously in progress?

Q. If you see a beautiful sailboat with sails billowing, can you photograph it without asking permission?

A. Yes. But what you do with the picture might cause you trouble. In a case this summer in Europe, a photographer took a picture of a nude French model on the deck of a boat at a French resort without asking the owner's permission. The picture appeared in a slick British magazine called Mayfair. The boatowner, a staid Englishmen, sued and collected a bundle. It could happen here.

A. I don't think you can do a thing about it . . . legally.

Q. I'm in favor of keeping our waters clean for swimming. When should I install a sewage holding tank?

A. We're all in favor of clean water, and the law requires a sewage treatment unit in New York state by March 1, 1969. However, don't do anything until winter. By then legislators and manufacturers will have arrived at a decision as to precisely what is required. This goes for boaters in other states where sewage legislation is pending. Don't do anything until you know exactly what is required or you might waste money.

San Marin J.V. Gridders Win

San Marin High School's fledgling football team topped the Redwood jayvees 19-7 at Novato Saturday as Urbano Boscieguez gained 52 yards in just five carries.

Quarterback Ken Gnoss scored twice on sneaks and Phil Adams returned an interception for a touchdown to round out the San Marin scoring.

The San Rafael High School frosh gridders downed the Terra Linda frosh, 21-20 Friday. Scott Duncan's 25-yard burst provided the winning margin.

The Bulldogs also scored on a safety and on touchdowns by Dirk Ganslosser and Jim Erwin.

O. J. Remains Top Rusher

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—O. J. Simpson of Southern California maintained his lead in Pacific-8 rushing last week, according to figures released by the conference today.

In three games Simpson has carried the ball 111 times for a net of 588 yards, 5.3 yards per carry. Simpson is also tied for ninth among conference receivers with eight catches for 67 yards.

Washington State quarterback Jerry Henderson leads in passing with 38 completions in 60 tosses for 515 yards. Stanford's Jim Plunkett is second with 36 completions in 67 attempts for 696 yards.

Wayne Stewart of California leads the receivers with 19 catches for 216 yards and Zenon Andrusyshyn of UCLA tops the league's punters with an average of 41.6 yards in 14 kicks.

Barry Scores 29 In Oaks Victory

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—The Oakland Oaks beat the Kentucky Colonels 132-102 in an American Basketball Association exhibition game last night.

Rick Barry of Oakland led all scorers with 29 points.

Merchants Tournament In Novato

The second annual Merchants Golf Tournament, sponsored by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held on the Indian Valley course in Novato Wednesday, Oct. 30.

The tournament is open to all golfers, regardless of handicap. Jaycee chairman Ray Owens said his group is estimating that 50 trophies will be donated by Novato merchants for the tourney.

Cost is $10 for golf and dinner, $6 for golf only, and $5 for dinner only. Proceeds go to help the Novato Junior Miss Pageant which provides a chance at a college scholarship for some Novato High School senior girl.

AL WALTON was playoff winner last Sunday at the Mill Valley Golf Club's Secretary's Day tournament. Walton was tied with Oscar D' Antonio and Ernie Brymer after each had shot 59 net the previous week.

In the co-featured Professional's Day tourney, Carl Erickson took top honors with 69-13—56, followed by Gene Quinn, 76-19—57, Chet Howlett, 67-9—58, Mario Polacchi, 72-14—58, Bill Hogan, 66-7—59, Sam Dave Schmidt, 76-16—59. Sam Cook won the junior division title, 79-15—64.

KEN VENTURI will hold a clinic at the Petaluma Boys Club annual golf tournament Oct. 25 at the Petaluma Golf and Country Club. Venturi will also be guest speaker at the tournament dinner later that day.

CLIFFORD H. ABRAMS, 86, father of Lloyd G. Abrams of Corte Madera, made his second hole-in-one within a four-week period when he scored an ace at the Golden Seniors Tournament in Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2.

Abrams was invited to the tournament after scoring a hole-in-one on the Eastmoreland Golf Course in Portland, Ore., which established him as the oldest ace shooter in the United States.

His tourney ace came on the 165-yard eighth hole on the Edgewood Country Club Course. It was the second ace in a month after 44 years of golf for Abrams.

SOMEWHERE IN THAT PILE

One of the reasons Purdue is ranked number one college football team in the country is its stout defense, clearly visible here as a swarm of Boilermakers crushes Northwestern quarterback Dave Shelbourne behind the goal for a safety. Purdue walloped the Wildcats, 43-6 last Saturday.

Driver Hopes For Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California's Mickey Thompson, who has yearned to be the world automobile speed king since he was a kid, will take another shot at the land-speed record in a few weeks at Utah's Bonneville Salt Flats.

The 39-year-old Long Beach driver today prepared his newest piston-driven, blue and gold bullet for an assault on the world mark of 409 miles an hour set in 1965 by two racing friends, brothers Bill and Bob Summers.

The 30-foot, extremely narrow car was shown publicly for the first time at a news conference for scores of visiting writers yesterday.

The slender car, less than three feet wide, is powered by two 427-cubic inch Ford engines —the front capable of generating 810 horsepower, the supercharged rear 1,260 horsepower.

In 1960 Thompson drove his longer, heavier Challenger I at 406 m.p.h. at Bonneville on the northern run over the 10-mile straightaway. But the required return run ended in failure with a broken driveshaft.

Thompson said he plans to ferry the car — styled the Ford Autolite Special — to Utah next week and hopes to shoot for the record about Oct. 27.

Indians Worried About Pass-Rush

On the defensive side, Ralston had freshman Jackie Brown of Yakima, Wash., impersonate Trojan star O. J. Simpson yesterday and expressed satisfaction with the way the defense reacted to Southern California running patterns.

The workout was closed and Ralston said the Tribe will continue to drill in privacy all week.

by Lou Concilio

NICE ODDS ON THE MORNING LINE

Some of the boys are making book and they're due for a fall. Not from the police—but from backing the wrong horse. Or, betting against the house. Or, whatever else is not playing it cool or smart. These are the boys who are smirking and waiting for Concilio to falter in the stretch.

Fortunately, and with pardonable gratification, I am told the bettors are not finding too many takers, and to those few takers I can merely suggest they demand and get terrific odds. And, then, bet only what they can safely afford to lose, like the nickel plungers at Vegas, 'cause I have no intention of going down the tube.

Those of my friends who are blessed with long memories and total recall will remember my rather dramatic (and probably pathetic) vow to return in a dealership of my own, with my own money on the line, and my own opportunity to make my own mistakes and savor my own accomplishments and victories. It was the familiar wail of a frustrated second banana who is convinced top billing has been too elusive too long. In that swan song column of late 1964, I correctly predicted most everything but the make of car. It's Dodge instead of Ford, but the name of the game is still very much the same.

The game to me is a game with one set of rules and without a referee, because it has to be played straight. On a straight deal, who needs a guy to call signals and blow the penalty whistle? And, like the cornball I am, I always play the game to win.

It is always a source of amazement to me that I am taken for a fool or an idiot by some of my brethren. No guy would enjoy that role in any case, but to wear the mantle for admitting to normal feelings of compassion and a real liking of people is hardly fair. To enjoy your work and your day with customers and your people does not prevent you from making an honest buck or two in the process.

I didn't return to Marin County, and sink my savings into a faltering dealership, to sit by and watch it falter more and completely. I didn't agree and I don't now agree with the gloomsters who said the whole deal was put in the wrong spot, and that no one could turn it on. I invite these doubters to check our fully-staffed and busy service department and body shop and take a look at our daily sales action board. They might still have time to hedge on those bets.

What is happening at my dealership, Marin Dodge, is not strange. It is actually the natural evolution of results—predictable results—from a very commonsense application of proper management principles. People are still basically the same. They will respond to a firm which offers honest values in service and product and delivers exactly that. Good people have always sought other good people who will communicate on a par level instead of a down-nose path. You'll get the full eyeball contact with any of our people.

I have the ultimate weapon, and it's definitely no secret. I am surrounded by managers of unique talent who read me. I second guess none of them, and they enjoy a latitude of individual expression rarely extended by the old-school dealer. If a manager is worth his salt, and mine are Morton's all the way, he doesn't have to be manipulated by puppet strings. I have been second-guessed to distraction and almost self-destruction in my time, and I won't do the same to anyone.

So, you see, those bets don't look so sure, anymore, do they? You should have asked any of our employees, first. Or, you could have asked me. I have always been with a winner, and I'm afraid I'm too old to change now.

LEADS KING

West opened the king of diamonds, and South won with the ace. He led out the ace and king of hearts, but the queen did not drop.

Now South had to get rid of his two losing diamonds in a hurry. He tried to run three rounds of clubs, but West ruffed the third club and cashed a diamond to defeat the slam.

Did South have a right to complain about his hard luck, or did he play the hand badly? Since we can see all of the cards we know that South could have made the slam by playing four rounds of spades first.

Was it reasonable for South to try to run three clubs first rather than four rounds of spades? Or was there a way for South to guess how the black suits would break?

HOW TO FIND OUT

South could not make the slam if West had only one or two spades. Since he had to rely on finding at least three spades in the West hand, South should have tried three rounds of spades first. If the six missing spades were divided 3-3, South would then switch to clubs, intending to lead dummy's last spade if he could safely cash three club tricks.

FOUR SPADES

Actually, South would discover that West had four spades, so that it was safe to cash the fourth spade at once. After discarding one diamond on the fourth spade South would run the three clubs to discard his other diamond. West would ruff the third club, but by that time South would be out of danger.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner deals and opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ K Q 8 4
♥ J 7 5 4
♣ K Q 6

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

The hand is too strong for a raise to two hearts but not strong enough for a jump to three hearts. Bid your own suit and raise hearts at your next turn. (If your partner opens with one heart in third or fourth position, after you have passed, you can then jump to three hearts since your original pass limits your strength.)

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 9, the 283rd day of 1968 with 83 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1701, Yale College, now Yale University, was founded.

In 1910, forest fires in Northern Minnesota destroyed six towns with a loss of 400 lives and damage estimated at $100 million.

In 1939, a Nazi sub seized the U.S. merchant vessel, City of Flint, and escorted it into the Soviet port of Murmansk. It was released 12 days later.

In 1958, Pope Pius XII died at the Vatican. He was the 261st pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church.

A thought for the day—American naturalist John Burroughs once said: "Time does not become sacred to us until we have lived it."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The location is next to Loch Lomond Yacht Sales, but eventually Chris Craft will occupy a permanent office and 12 slips on Pier B, now under construction. A service staff will then be added.

Owners Howard Duncan and his son Gary have been at the Redwood City Marina in Redwood City since 1961. Salesman Gary Garrison, who will continue with them, is also moving to Marin. The Duncans have been selling out much of their inventory on the peninsula but expect to bring about nine Chris Craft models with them to Loch Lomond.

With two Garys at Chris Craft and Gary Muggenthaler at Loch Lomond Yacht Sales, things are likely to be a little confusing at this location — but anyone of them will sell you a boat.

THE 12-STORY Tamalpais retirement residence long under construction in Greenbrae will reach its full height tomorrow and "topping out" ceremonies will be held.

Topping out usually consists of hoisting the last steel girder into place but the Tamalpais is built of reinforced concrete, so the highlight of the ceremony in this case will be the hoisting and pouring of the last bucket of cement. Completion of the building is scheduled for early next year.

A NEW VENTURE of three Terra Linda women, Mrs. Blanche Ayers, Mrs. Carol Dunham and Mrs. Betti Walser, is Terra Linda Art Gallery, opened at 4166 Redwood Highway.

They rent wall space to local artists for a nominal fee in lieu of commission charges. The gallery features a variety of paintings and sculpture and is open Mondays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Acton

GEORGE E. KROETZ of San Rafael has been appointed vice president of international operations at Bank of America's head office in San Francisco. He has been in charge of operational matters for the overseas branch system for the past 10 years. He joined the bank in 1927 and has been an officer of the bank since 1938.

H. WADE ACTON of San Rafael has been appointed assistant vice president, insurance services, at California State Automobile Association. He joined CSAA at the San Francisco sales department in 1946, became assistant underwriting manager in 1951, manager in 1957 and was made assistant manager of the inter-insurance bureau in 1967.

RICHARD H. COLBERT of San Rafael has been appointed vice president and manager for Four Star Entertainment Corp. He has been with the company six years, most recently as vice president of western sales. Before joining Four Star he was midwest sales chief for Screen Gems and for 18 years was with Universal Pictures as manager in Seattle and Portland.

IF YOU SHOULD SEE Ronald C. Horne of San Rafael crossing the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge these days in a gold Cadillac, it was well earned in a nationwide contest.

During recent competition among 12,000 dealers in the United States for Olivetti-Underwood Corp., Horne's company, Kinshella's Office Supply in Richmond, sold 714 portable typewriters and adding machines to walk off (or rather, ride off) with the grand prize — which turned out to be something more useful than a gold medal.

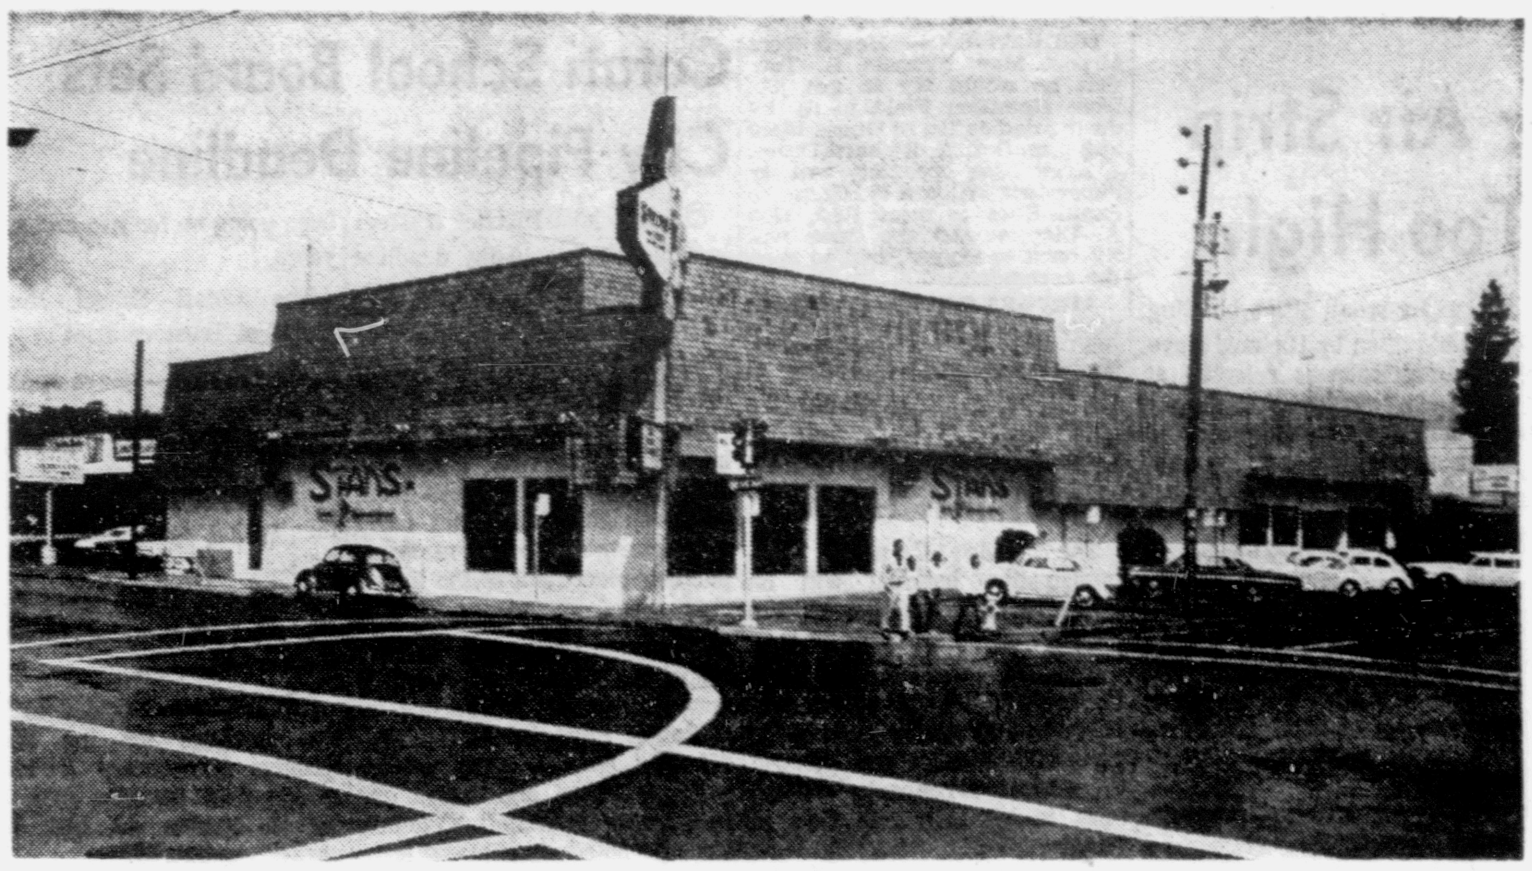
SAN RAFAEL marine surveyor Jim Marmaduke has been elected to membership in the National Association of Marine Surveyors. He is one of 12 members of the association in California. There are 148 members throughout the United States and Canada.

MARIN RESIDENTS elected officers of the Commodity Club of San Francisco include Robert H. Stanley of Sausalito, secretary, and Robert M. Adams of Marinwood, treasurer. Marvin Wood of Tiburon has been named a director. Stanley is with Stanley Brokerage Co.; Adams with First Western Bank, and Wood with the Marwood Co.

MARTIN (MARTY) FLYNN of Corte Madera is leaving the Cala Market to enter the retail liquor business in Carmichael. He is a director of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council and has been an employee of Cala and its predecessor, Littleman, for 17 years. His new business is Jayne's Bottle shop at 6445 Fair Oaks Boulevard, Carmichael.



REDESIGNED SAN RAFAEL STORE

New mansard roof and exterior stucco refinishing for Stan's for Sports store at Third Street and Grand Avenue, San Rafael, has been completed. The remodeling was planned by Sausalito architect Donald Keith Olsen and constructed by Al Villa. The building now architecturally matches Stan's stores in Strawberry and Novato which were also designed by Olsen.

Economy Continues To Roar Despite Slowdown Forecast

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Somehow an economic slowdown has been lost. Most analysts still feel it has only been delayed en route. Others aren't sure. Maybe it will never come, they say.

In this age of computers you'd think it couldn't happen, but it has. The American economy was supposed to be turning sluggish by now, the result of spending cutbacks and an income tax surcharge. But it's roaring.

CHART STUDIES

"I don't know what's happened," said an economist looking at his charts. "Industrial production is high and capital spending plans look good. Lots of jobs and little unemployment. Lots of houses being built, retail sales strong, cars selling like candybars."

"What bothers me," said his partner, "is that the government takes 10 per cent more taxes from people and the people just don't seem to mind. They're spending like mad. And when people don't complain about taxes something's wrong."

"Search me," said the other. "When I forecast a slowdown I was as certain it would appear by now as the movie projectionist is certain his picture will reach the screen. What could have happened?"

NOTE QUESTION

A lot of people are asking that question. The Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis headlined an article in its September issue, "Excessive Demand Slowing?" Note the question mark.

Business Week magazine in a mid-September editorial said, "These are times that try decision makers' souls. A large majority of economists is warning of a business slowdown. But the economy itself continues to point upward."

Several consultants and economic advisers to business continue to tell their clients to look for a strong 1969, and some of them have all but ruled out fears of a recession during midwinter.

Arthur Okun, the president's chief economic adviser, said last week that he still expects the slowdown to develop but conceded that so far the signs of it haven't been so pronounced as he had expected.

Walter Heller, who was chief economic adviser in the Kennedy administration, is one of a shrinking number who feel the slowdown already has begun, that it will continue for months and that the nation must guard against too much cooling.

Argus Research, which provides economic and investment research to business, is among those which earlier warned of a possible recession this winter. Now it is suspicious of the government's anti-inflation statements.

"The publication of the economic data for August has widened the 'credibility gap' concerning the effectiveness of the government's widely heralded disinflationary policies," it said.

"The August data," it continued, "have given added substance to the feeling that the government disinflationary policies are not producing the expected results." Politics, it suspects, might be compromising economics.

SOME EFFECTS

A few definite effects of the tax increase have appeared, but not in a pattern. The signs have been isolated here and there. American Telephone & Telegraph earnings, for example, fell in the most recent quarter to 93 cents a share from 97 cents three months ago.

But stocks, including even AT&T, have displayed strength. The market is not an infallible barometer of future business activity and it could be wrong now, but for what it is worth, it has been pointing upward.

Two explanations seem prominent in explanations of why the slowdown hasn't arrived on schedule. One, consumers are dipping into their savings to continue spending for cars, houses and luxuries. Two, some corporations feel the only way to overcome higher wages is to spend money for expansion and greater efficiency.

NOT ON SCHEDULE

Whatever the reasons, the slowdown hasn't arrived on schedule. The economists are almost unanimous still in forecasting slower expansion by late fall or winter. But that's what they said before.

The search for the slowdown continues and some economists are asking questions now instead of issuing forecasts.

To those who claim they've seen signs of the slowdown's onset the cynics argue that some people will always see signs and portents in the sky.

The slowdown, they say, is lost and they're wondering if it ever will be found.

Building Increase In Mill Valley

Seventeen building permits with a total construction value of $220.520 were issued by the Mill Valley Community Development Department last month, Building Inspector Loren K. Rohde has reported.

Although the number of permits issued decreased from the 22 permits issued in September 1967, the total construction value increased $125.275.

Permits were issued for six residences, one carport, nine alterations-additions and one retaining wall.

A total of $1,164.75 in building permit fees was collected last month, Rohde said.

Merger Reports Hit Record For Quarter

CHICAGO (BW) — Merger announcements during the third quarter of 1968 increased 64 per cent over the third quarter of 1967, rising to a total of 1,455 from 888, according to the research department of W. T. Grimm & Co., a financial consulting firm specializing in mergers and acquisitions.

For the nine months ended Sept. 30 the Grimm study revealed a record 3,158 consolidations, up 37 per cent over the comparable 1967 period. For all of 1967 the firm recorded 2,975 mergers.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

12 Holdings Good Enough For Estate

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have enclosed a list of my stocks which took 60 years to accumulate. Are these suitable for my wife if she survives me? I am 90. — H. C.

A. You have built a fine portfolio which in the main will be suitable for your wife.

Sale of Allied Chemical and El Paso Natural Gas — both suffering from lower earnings — will upgrade your list. The money freed should be used to build up your position in Virginia Electric and Chemical Bank New York Trust.

Your five utilities provide a generous yield and should be held. The expected recovery in earnings for DuPont and General Motors may result in more generous year-end payments. Both should be retained. Eastman Kodak and Standard Oil of New Jersey should also be held for their long-term potential. General Electric and North American Rockwell have been experiencing earnings weakness but I recommend holding since their long-range outlook remains good.

These 12 issues, in my opinion, are fully as many as your wife should be required to follow in the event she survives you.

Q. Would you advise holding Santa Fe Industries and Hammond Corp? — A. C.

A. Yes, I would, since in each case annual earnings should exceed fiscal 1967-68's depressed results.

Santa Fe Industries — formerly Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway — is a new holding company with interests in oil and gas, lumber, real estate and mining, as well as in the operation of a major transcontinental rail system.

Hammond reported a 20 per cent increase in June quarter volume, reflecting a strong and continuing upsurge in demand for keyboard instruments. Hammond sells organs, pianos, "reverb" devices, defense products and a line of gloves.

The venture into soft goods has created a broader operating base to compensate for any possible reduction in spending for durable goods.

State's Economy Up In September

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — California's economic activity advance again in September, with total spending reaching $96.03 billion, according to figures just released by the Bank of California.

The state's economy finished the end of the third quarter with a 3.34 per cent advance over January 1968.

Wage and salary compensation totaled $53.37 billion in September, a gain of 1.15 per cent in the month and 7.4 per cent in a year.

The bank's October economic outlook for California calls for another billion dollar increase in total spending to $97.35 billion, with personal spending rising to $59.77 billion and business spending advancing to $13.21 billion.

The '69 Ford is the car that's creating all the talk. You ought to know the reasons.

The '69 Ford hugs the road with a track as wide as Cadillac . . . smooths your ride with a longer wheelbase than Chevrolet. This '69 LTD is designed to ride quieter than the LTD that was quieter than Rolls-Royce. It has more front headroom, legroom and trunk space than cars costing hundreds of dollars more. Even with a longer wheelbase, it's easier to handle, easier to park.

Southern California: Cloudy today with chance of sprinkles to isolated light showers over coastal area mountains and northern deserts. Variable cloudiness tonight becoming mostly sunny Thursday. A little warmer along the lower coast but slightly cooler mountains and deserts today.

Civic Center Air Strip Costs Held Too High

A first-rate heliport and a short takeoff and landing strip (STOL) near the Civic Center would cost anywhere from $160,000 to $530,000, the Marin County Aviation Commission was informed last night.

Mario Balestrieri, deputy director of the department of public works, presented the cost estimates, which he described as "rough figures," on four proposed sites just north of the Civic Center.

Balestrieri envisaged a site about three acres in size, with taxiway, loading and fueling space, a 75-car parking lot, a concrete helicopter pad, lighting, and a small office building.

On a motion by Richard Nave, the commissioners rejected all proposals because of high cost and asked the county department of public works to make further studies on less heliport facilities.

Commissioner Benjamin R. Ostlind wanted the county to begin using an old air strip on Smith Brothers Ranch on an interim basis immediately, but he was out-voted by the three other commissioners—Chairman Tris Coffin, Nave, and Melville Dixon.

The Marin Aviation Commissioners also:

DEDICATION — Heard from airport Mgr. Francis E. Torr that he would try to get jets from Hamilton Field to fly by during dedication of Gnoss Field at 3 p.m. Oct. 25. Richard Duste, a fixed base operator, will fly Supervisor William A. Gnoss to Santa Rosa to meet Rep. Don A. Clausen and the three will fly back to Gnoss Field to open the ceremonies.

AIRPORT RULES—Decided to make more changes before a final draft of the rules governing the airport operation is adopted.

Civic Center To Close For Utilities Hookup

The Civic Center administration building will be closed, even to visitors, all day Sunday.

Assistant Administrator John F. Barrows said all power will be turned off in the building to permit Pacific Gas and Electric Co. workers to connect electrical lines to the adjoining Hall of Justice.

Cotati School Board Sets City Pipeline Deadline

Cotati School District trustees last night set a 10-day deadline to meet with Cotati city officials to solve water problems at the Thomas Page Elementary School now under construction.

The city council last week agreed to assume costs for oversizing of water lines from four to eight inches, but could not determine the termination point or placement of the line.

Supt. Duncan A. Coleman said construction progress at the school on Richardson Lane is now at the point where line installation must be determined. "If city council can't decide, we'll go ahead and install our own water system," Coleman said. He noted negotiations have been going on for two and a half years.

The Cotati School District Board of Trustees also:

APPROVED — Gave approval to sixth grade classes at Waldo Rohnert Elementary School to spend a week at Camp Cazadero in the Russian River resort area this spring for outdoor education.

HIRED — Hired Mary Sharrott as a teacher, but made no class assignment.

DECIDED — Decided to hire two teachers for the Waldo Rohnert Elementary School rather than combine first and second grades as had been earlier considered.

Apparent Victory To Lead March

Second Lt. Hugh F. Smith apparently has won half his battle to lead a "GI and Vets March for Peace" Saturday in San Francisco.

Smith's suit to prevent his transfer from Hamilton Air Force Base to Formosa has been put on the November calendar of the U. S. District Court of Appeals in San Francisco, which means a stay issued by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas will keep Smith at Hamilton until then.

Meantime, attorneys filed suit Monday in the U. S. District Court to prevent Bay Area military commanders from scheduling make-work duties Saturday to prevent Smith and other servicemen from taking part in the march.

A decision in that suit is expected before Saturday's march, attorney Norman Leonard said.

Smith, 26, has said he will lead the march in full uniform from the Golden Gate Park panhandle to San Francisco Civic Center.

He is assigned to an engineering unit at Hamilton pending a court decision.

Smith's contention is that the Air Force planned his transfer to Formosa to prevent him from leading the peace march.

Radio Stolen

A radio valued at $90 was stolen yesterday from the car of Alice Ann Cole of 40 Rancheria Road, Kentfield, while it was parked in the city lot at Third Street and Lootens Place, San Rafael police reported.

Planning Session In Marin City

The Marin City Council will consider immediate and a long range planning goals for Marin City at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Manzanita Center.

Discussion will cover planning an immediate program, reported Emory Curtis, a representative of Plan of Action for Challenging Times, a non-profit organization from San Francisco.

Curtis said the immediate planning would cover programs that could be achieved while the long range plan is still developing.

Hanoi Calls On LBJ For Viet Peace Act

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador Xuan Thuy said today President Johnson "still has enough time and power" to open the way to a Vietnamese peace by halting attacks on North Vietnam.

Hanoi's chief delegate spoke at the 25th session of the peace conference. But the meeting ended with U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman telling newsmen the American position has in no way been changed and that today "we made no progress at all."

Harriman told Thuy the United States is willing "to move far and fast" toward peace the minute "your government gives us reason to believe it is also prepared to act."

The American professed growing concern over what he called "Hanoi's intransigence" in the conference—an attitude he suggested that arises from "a misguided belief it can gain its ends in South Vietnam through military force."

Harriman said he is worried too by Hanoi's failure to accept America's assurances that its aims in Southeast Asia are strictly limited.

"We know that Hanoi is being provided with misinformation from its commanders on the battlefields of South Vietnam," he went on. "It would be tragic if Hanoi's strategic estimate were not based on fact."

The American presented a catalogue of recent Communist command victory claims in the South and compared them with what he said were the realities.

Thuy, who spoke first, said "many American senators, politicians and other personalities" recently had called for an unconditional bomb halt.

"If President Johnson really wants peacefully to solve the Vietnam problem he still has enough time and power now to do so, so as to open the way to a just settlement of the Vietnam problem, a settlement that would be beneficial to the Vietnamese people, the American people and world peace," he said.

Before going into the meeting, Harriman in talks with reporters had called on North Vietnam to show some sign of a serious wish to scale down the war and begin "fruitful peace talks."

U.S. Adding More Troops To Western Saigon Flank

SAIGON (AP) — Paratroopers of the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division have moved into the Saigon military district to protect the city's western flank against enemy attack.

The announcement today followed an order from the South Vietnamese government alerting all government army and air force units in and around Saigon, apparently because of political uneasiness.

The 3rd Brigade of the 82nd, about 4,000 men, is replacing the 25th Division brigade. The infantrymen are moving farther out along the jungled approaches northwest of Saigon in the outer ring of defense around Saigon.

The paratroopers, from Fort Bragg, N.C., arrived in South Vietnam last February and have been operating in the northernmost area below the demilitarized zone.

An Information Ministry spokesman, Nguyen Van Noan, said the alert had been ordered because of intelligence reports concerning possible action by "troublemakers."

Elsewhere, waves of U.S. B52 Stratofortresses roared over the southern fringes of North Vietnam yesterday to lay protective shields of bombs around American Marines sweeping through the demilitarized zone.

Thirty of the eight-jet planes dropped 1,000 tons of bombs in support of Marines from the 26th Regiment.

Any Polar Bears In Marinwood?

If enough Marinwood residents want winter swimming, the parks and recreation commission will consider a program called "operation polar bear."

The commissioners Monday night asked residents of Lucas Valley and Marinwood to express their views on winter swimming.

Ralph E. Tischbern, who had been temporary chairman of the commission since the resignation of William H. Stewart last June, was elected chairman by unanimous vote.

The Marinwood Parks and Recreation Commission also:

TENNIS COURTS — Recommended to the Marinwood Community Services District resurfacing of the two tennis courts in Marinwood Park. The commissioners also adopted an updated set of rules for tennis court use.

Parents Nights At Edna Maguire

Meet-the-teacher night will be held at Edna Maguire School next week with parents of south school students meeting Monday night, central school parents Wednesday night and north school parents Thursday night.

South and north school parents will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the school annex for a general discussion of the school program.

Central school parents will meet at 7:30 p.m., follow the daily class schedule in 10 minute segments and then, at 8:30 p.m., gather in the annex.

Larkspur Fill Request Granted

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night approved a land fill request by Alice B. Copeland on a 20-acre site between Magnolia Avenue and Larkspur Creek near Bon Air Road.

Developers said the site may be used for a yet undetermined small commercial venture. The permit grants 25,000 yards of dirt fill in addition to 45,000 yards placed there last February.

The commission also approved the architecture of a warehouse construction by Niven Co. on Marsh Road and the architecture of an entrance wall to Greenbrae Marina at Doherty Drive and Riviera Circle.

POWER POLE CRASH KNOCKS OUT ELECTRICITY

Electricity to parts of San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax was cut off at 10:25 last night when a car driven by Jane C. Pierard, 50, of 26 Belle Avenue, San Anselmo, severed a San Rafael power pole carrying 12,000-volt lines. She was not injured. San Rafael policemen Charles Brobeck and Ronald M. Averiette (left), inspect the tangled wires. A Pacific Gas and Electric Co. crew worked this morning (right) to remove the pole and restring its lines on a new pole. Most service was restored by midnight, PG&E said, but a few customers were to be without electricity until mid-afternoon today.

Detroit Ties Series With 13-1 Win In Delayed Game

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The aroused Detroit Tigers clobbered St. Louis pitching for a record-tying 10 runs in the third inning today and squared the World Series at three games each with a 13-1 victory behind Denny McLain, a two-time loser.

Jim Northrup's grand slam homer off relief pitcher Larry Jaster was the big blow in the third when the Tigers sent 15 men to the plate against loser Ray Washburn and three others.

It was the biggest Series inning since Hack Wilson misjudged a fly ball at Philadelphia in 1929 and opened the gates for 10 runs by the Philadelphia A's against the Chicago Cubs. The A's, trailing 8-0 at the time, also sent 15 men to bat.

The final score didn't quite match the New York Yankees' 18-4 rout of the New York Giants in 1936.

Julian Javier's single with two out and two on in the ninth saved the Cards from suffering the most lopsided shut out in series history.

Tigers first, 0

The lights were turned on. McAuliff struck out on three pitches. Stanley flied to Maris on the first pitch. Kaline struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals first, 0

McLain threw out Brock. Flood lined to Stanley. Wert reached high to glove Maris' bouncer and threw him out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Tigers second, 2

Cash walked. Horton lined a double to the wall in left center, scoring Cash. Northrup struck out. Freehan singled to left, scoring Horton, and went all the way to third when the ball skipped past Brock for a two-base error. It was Freehan's first hit in 71 trips to the plate in the series. Wert walked on a full count. With a 1-0 count on McLain, Cardinals' pitching coach Billy Muffett visited Washburn at the mound. McLain grounded into a double play, Maxvill to Javier to Cepeda.

Two runs, two hits, one error, one left.

Cepeda drilled a single to left. Kaline made a running catch of McCarver's looping fly to short right. Shannon bounced into a double play, Stanley to McAuliffe to Cash.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Tigers third (10)

McAuliffe walked on four pitches. Stanley singled to left, McAuliffe stopping at second. Kaline lined a singled to center, scoring McAuliffe and sending Stanley to third. Larry Jaster, a left-hander, replaced Washburn. Cash singled to center on Jaster's first pitch, scoring Stanley and sending Kaline to third. Horton walked on a full count, filling the bases.

Northrup hit a grand slam homer into the upper deck in right field, scoring Kaline, Cash and Horton ahead of him to put the Tigers ahead 8-0. It was the eleventh grand slam in Series history. Joe Pepitone of the New York Yankees it the last one in 1964 against the Cardinals.

Ron Willis came in to pitch for St. Louis. Freehan walked on four pitches. Wert was hit by a pitch. McClain sacrificed, and was out Shannon to Javier, who covered first. McAuliffe drew an intentional walk, filling the bases. Stanley bounced to Cepeda, who threw to McCarver, forcing Freehan at the plate.

Kaline singled to left center for his second hit in the inning, scoring Wert and McAuliffe with Stanley taking third. Dick Hughes replaced Willis on the mound for the Cardinals. Cash bounced a single over Cepeda's head down the right field line, Stanley scoring and Kaline moving to third. It was Cash's second hit in the inning. Horton hit a liner that deflected off Hughes' glove and beat it out for a single, Kaline scoring and Cash taking second. Northrup flied to Brock.

Ten runs, seven hits, no errors, two left. (The 10 runs tied the all-time Series record for one inning set by the Philadelphia Athletics against the Chicago Cubs in the 7th inning on Oct. 12th, 1929.)

Cards third (0)

Javier flied to Kaline. Maxvill flied to Northrup, Dave Ricketts batted for Hughes and lined a single to center. Brock flied to Kaline.

No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

RENE CASSIN
United Nations work

Peace Prize Goes To France's Cassin

OSLO (UPI)—The 1968 Nobel Peace Prize was awarded today to French legal expert Rene Cassin.

Cassin was awarded the prize for his work in writing the United Nations Declaration on Human Rights.

It was the first peace prize since 1965 and carried a monetary award of $70,000. The Nobel Peace Prize Committee decided not to award a prize for the years 1966 and 1967, and the $64,000 for those years will be added to the general Nobel fund.

The last person to receive the prestigious award was the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. He was selected in 1964. The prize went to the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) in 1965.

Cassin, 81, who was born in Bayonne in Southern France, was a member of the committee which in 1946 formulated the Human Rights Declaration together with the late Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

According to the Norwegian Nobel Committee, he has used the last 20 years of his life to work for the realization of the declaration, both on a universal and a European scale.

Norwegian observers said the decision to give Cassin the prize for his work in human rights emphasized the committee's concern over that subject——whether he is a Biafran starving, an American Negro seeking civil rights of a Czechoslovak Communist deprived of his rights by invasion.

Johnson Orders Negotiations With Israel On War Planes

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — Responding to a congressional call for sales of U.S. jets to Israel, President Johnson told Secretary of State Dean Rusk today to start negotiations with the Israel government.

Both Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey and Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon have advocated providing supersonic war planes to the Israelis.

Congress has passed an aid bill provision for such action if deemed necessary for Israel's defense.

Israel has long sought 50 F4 supersonic Phantom jets in the aftermath of the 1967 Arab-Israeli conflict while the Arab states were receiving war equipment from the Soviets.

Johnson made his action known in a statement upon his signing of the foreign aid authorization bill.

"I have taken note of section 651 concerning the sale of planes to Israel," Johnson said in referring to the legislative provision saying Congress favors steps to negotiate sales of aircraft to Israel.

Johnson's move will probably touch off more debate in the United Nations over the Mideast crisis.

Presently Arab leaders are giving the silent treatment to Israel's nine-point plan for peace presented yesterday.

Any of the 13 Arab League nations were entitled to the "right to reply" but none did.

The Israeli plan detailed in Assembly debate by Foreign Minister Abba Eban would give Israeli diplomatic recognition by Arab nations, something the Arabs have always refused.

Board Opposed To Oil, Gas Drilling

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County supervisors want no part of the oil and gas drilling operations in San Pablo Bay, even if the drilling platforms are camouflaged with shrubbery, live or plastic.

On a motion by Supervisor Peter H. Behr and a second by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, the five-man board yesterday unanimously asked the California Lands Commission either to (1) reject the drilling operations or (2) hold a public hearing in Marin to get the public's reaction. (Other supervisors' stories, pages 12 and 14.)

Members of commission are Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy and Finance Director Caspar W. Weinberger.

Behr said he is concerned about the effect of 8,000-square-foot platforms on the esthetics of the bay. "I do believe that it is important to have Mr. Finch and Mr. Flournoy exposed to our public here. Let them come down into our area and hold a little old hearing."

Supervisor John F. McInnis wanted the county to let the lands panel know "we oppose this development."

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said he opposes the drilling operations from the standpoint of pollution. "As long as they're putting up platforms and people are working, there will be litter."

The action followed a briefing by D. J. Everitts, assistant executive officer of the commission.

Everitts assured the supervisors that the platforms will be low over the water, about 15 feet high at most. "All operating sites will be landscaped and screened with srubbery."

"Now how are you going to water all of the landscaping on the platforms?'' asked Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Everitts replied that imitation and plastic trees could be used.

"Are you serious?" asked Kettenhofen.

"They've used plastic palm trees in Southern California," Behr broke in.

"I was just thinking about that," said Everitts. "Personally

Coup Against Thieu Regime Is Thwarted

SAIGON (AP) — A coup aimed against President Nguyen Van Thieu's government was thwarted last night, the government said today.

(In Washington the State Department had no immediate comment on reports today of an attempted coup against the Saigon government.

Officials who were closely following the reports advised caution in evaluating any effort to upset the government of President Nguyen Van Thieu at the present time.)

The report of the attempted uprising followed by hours a government announcement that South Vietnam's armed forces were on full alert. The official spokesmen claimed no knowledge of a coup attempt.

But one spokesman said: "You can expect a lot of people to be arrested in the next few days, all as a result of the coup attempt that failed."

Other sources said several high ranking Vietnamese Marine officers—majors and colonels—had already been arrested. A source close to Marine commandant, Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, said he knew of no such arrests.

The president's office said Thieu was in the palace and also denied any knowledge about a coup attempt.

The government source who told of the coup said details still were fuzzy and that it was not yet known who was behind it or how widespread it was. From all indications did not get far.

Terra Linda Branded Seedbed For Anarchy

"Terra Linda is a breeding ground for anarchism,'' according to Gary Peter Davis, who conducted a summer program for teen agers at the Terra Linda Recreation Center.

His warning was contained in a report to the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District Board last month, which was received by the San Rafael Board of Education last night.

Davis, a student at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, noted that one of his self-imposed duties during the summer was talking to teenagers "about anything and everything."

"In these conversations one recurring theme appeared which frightens and chills me . . . anarchism," he reported.

"Terra Linda is a breeding ground for anarchism," he said. "I did not believe it until teens told me seriously that they had often thought about blowing up water towers on the hills or burning down stores in the shopping center or using the rec buildings for bonfires.

"They were not kidding. They would do it given the right circumstances," Davis reported.

Breeding grounds for anarchism have been societies which were repressive, impersonal and strictly and unjustly legalistic, he contended.

"Anarchism is in the minds of

DIRTY WORDS DEBATE

College Students Warned Not To Peril Freedoms

By MARY LEYDECKER

"You're threatening academic freedom," Marin Junior College District board president, Theodore C. Wellman last night told College of Marin students who defended the use of obscenities in the college newspaper.

Although the students had earlier charged that adults who objected to the words were more "hung up" with semantics than with the war in Vietnam and oppression in the ghettoes, Wellman told the students that a "backlash" could do them a great deal of harm.

Speaking at a workshop held by the college board of trustees to discuss matters of interest with students, Wellman said, "Don't push the community too far."

Referring to discussion by the students about raising more money for the college in the community, Wellman told the students that if they provoke the community, the chances of getting more money are slim.

"You've discovered the shock value of four-letter words," Wellman said, "but you don't want irate citizens to end academic freedom."

The students, who had vehemently defended their point of view during a two-hour discussion which has held without formal rules or a

many young people in America not as the result of liberal teachers, fuzzy court decisions or Communism, but reather because of the ideas and actions of such men as the late Joe McCarthy, (Sen. Joseph McCarthy), George Wallace, the late Chief Parker, (Police Chief William Parker of Los Angeles), Richard Daley (Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago) and the man next door with a tin badge and undefined authority."

Davis also reported that the Terra Linda Recreation Center has "a bad reputation with teens throughout Terra Linda because it is known as a hangout for "greasers' or hoods."

Much of the substances of these charges have been cleared in the past year or two, but "still, the stigma of a bad reputation lingers and it will take a long time to erase it," he said.

He noted that most of those who participated in the program were from the vicinity of the center, and few from the area surrounding the Northgate Shopping Center.

The reasons, he explained, were first the distance from the shopping center to the recreation center and secondly that the teens "who frequent the shopping center and Oleander Park don't like to go to the recreation center for simple activities." These youths "want excitements and freedom, not a friendly basketball game."

Davis also asserted that teenagers were users of marijuana, LSD and opium. (The Independent-Journal reported his comments on drugs Sept. 12 after his report was submitted to the Recreation and Parks Board.)

Davis said the highlight of the summer was the realization that there was at least someplace for the teen-agers to go. "They appreciated this small thing greatly," he said.

He recommended that the summer teen-age program be included in the overall recreation program, and that the board explore the idea of having a coffee house during the winter.

Board members said Davis raised questions that should be considered by the San Rafael Recreation Department, and possibly there could be a meeting on the subject, involving young people in the discussions.

The report was forwarded to the San Rafael Board of Education because the San Rafael High School District contributed $400 toward the summer program.

Steve Carlton pitching for the Cardinals, batting 9th. The attendance was announced at 54,692. Shannon threw out Freehan. Wert popped to Maxvill. McLain struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals fourth (0)

McAuliffe made a one-hand catch of Flood's pop fly down the right field line. Maris grounded a single off McAuliffe's glove and into right. Cepeda popped to Stanley. McCarver was called out on strikes.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Cardinals fifth (0)

Shannon struck out. Javier lined to Wert. Kaline made a running one-hand grab of Maxvill's high fly in the right field corner.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Tigers sixth (0)

Northrup singled to center. Freehan flied to Maris in short right. Carlton picked Northrup off first and in the ensuing rundown Northrup was hit in the back by Maxvill's throw and ruled out for interference. The play went, Carlton to Cepeda to Maxvill to Carlton, who received credit for the putout. Wert fouled to Cepeda.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Cardinals sixth (0)

Bob Tolan batted for Carlton and struck out. Brock's grounder took a high bounce over McAuliffe's head and went into right center for a single. Flood struck out. Maris popped to McAuliffe in short right.

Tigers seventh (0)

Wayne Granger came in to pitch for the Cardinals, batting 9th. McLain struck out. McAuliffe walked. Stanley bounced into a double play, Maxvill to Javier to Cepeda.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Cardinals seventh (0)

It started to rain. Cepeda flied to Kaline. McCarver looped a single to right. Stanley back-handed Shannon's infield single but threw wild past second for an error, allowing McCarver to take third and Shannon second. Wert threw out Javier, the runners holding. Maxvill flied to Kaline.

No runs, no hits, one error, two left.

Kaline was hit on the left elbow by a pitch. Cash bounced out, Cepeda unassisted, Kaline taking second. Horton was hit by a pitch. Northrup hit into a double play, Granger to Maxvill to Cepda.

Cardinals eighth

Oyler now playing shortstop for the Tigers, batting 5th. Stanley moves to center field and Northrup to left field. Edwards batted for Granger and struck out. The rain was falling harder. With the count of one strike on Brock, the umpires called time and ordered the field covered.

The game was delayed 49 minutes. Play was resumed at 4:10 EDT. Brock struck out. Flood flied to Kaline.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Tigers ninth (0)

chairman, applauded Wellman when he finished.

The subject of the dirty words was raised by a woman who identified herself as mother of two College of Marin students. Waving the most recent issue of the College of Marin Times, the woman said that "unless a stop is put to such things, I'll fight every bond issue proposed."

She then asked college president Louis H. Herkenhoff to read aloud the letter to the editor in the college paper which contained the Jordan. obscenities.

As the students evidenced their delight in this proposal by laughs and snickers, Herkenhoff began to read. Before he got to the offensive passage, however, he was interrupted by Director of Athletics Harry J. Pieper.

Pieper adamantly stated that no decent person should have to read the letter or listen to it.

"Define decency," a student shouted.

A discussion followed in which Pieper attempted through many interruptions to strike a blow for decency, and students defended obscenities as being necessary to gain attention, as part of the conversation of black students and as only words.

As the words in question had originally been used in a campus political speech and reported in the letter to the editor, the original speaker, Edward Schemberg last night said that he had used them in the college center "because you couldn't get those people to listen otherwise."

The premise that such words are the ordinary vocabulary of black students was also raised, but a woman present said she thought it "is insulting to black people to say these are the only words they understand."

"Does Vietnam affect you? Does black oppression affect you?" a student asked Pieper. After Pieper had agreed that indeed these matters did concern him, another student shouted, "My morality does not concern itself with words."

Before the dirty-word issue was raised, Students for Academic Freedom leader Michael McGinn had started the discussion with a statement of aims of his group. Dissatisfaction with the college's building program was expressed again, and McGinn decried the college's need to follow state building standards to be eligible for state funds.

McGinn, who said that only about $1 million of state funds was to be used for the ultimate $29 million building projects of the college, was corrected by college officials who said it will be about $17 million.

State space regulations are being considered by a junior college committee, the students were told.

McGinn also said that the college must raise more money from the community, with the board informing the community about the needs of the students.

Students want to be autonomous, McGinn maintained, and control student matters themselves. The recent move by student leaders to reduce funds appropriated for athletics provided money for a draft counsellor and a proposed tutorial program, McGinn said.

"We follow two philosophers," he later stated. "Sartre — man becoming man — and John Dewey, the pragmatist," he explained. "What we have done has worked," McGann concluded. "We have gained your attention," he told the trustees.

At the conclusion of the meeting Herkenhoff told the students that other such meetings will be held in the future.

Road Will Close For Freeway Job

Los Ranchitos Road at Puerto Suello Hill, between Highway 101 and Red Rock Way, will be closed next week, Marin Public Works Director Donald R. Frost announced today.

Frost said the road will be shut down for about a month to permit relocation of water lines in preparation for the highway widening at Puerto Suello Hill.

Residents on Red Rock Way will have the drive north on Los Ranchitos Road to North San Pedro Road to get access to Highway 101.

Tiburon's proposed downtown plan, street lights and traffic control will be discussed at the Tiburon Property Owners Association meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon.

20-Hour Fight To Get Debate Bill To Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House fought an muddled its way through almost 20 hours of delaying tactics before taking up today a bill to facilitate a Hubert H. Humphrey-Richard M. Nixon- George C. Wallace television debate.

Records and precedents fell like tenpins during the continuous day-and-night struggle between Democrats bent on passing the bill and Republicans staging the House equivalent of a filibuster. (See other political stories, page 38.)

For the last two and one-half hours of preliminaries, members were physically locked in the House chamber by majority vote —the first such instance, veteran members said, in more than 50 years.

The idea was to block the favorite Republican delaying tactis— to partly empty the chamber and then force one time—consuming roll call after another to establish a quorum.

Before the motion to consider the bill could be called up there were 36 roll calls—by a wide margin a record for one continuous session. Thereafter Republicans continued to find ways to force roll calls, each consuming about half an hour.

The Democrats had charged filibustering Republicans with trying to prevent the presidential debate and at the same time shield their candidate from blame for ducking the encounter.

The bill Democrats support would allow networks to arrange the debate without giving equal time to numerous minor candidates.

At a midmorning news conference, Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford denied a Democratic charge he had been in contact with Nixon while the House was in session.

Reps. Donald Rumsfeld of Illinois and Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio, leaders in the delaying tactics, also said they had not talked to Nixon.

Rumsfeld reiterated what he said was the reason behind the filibuster: To get the House to act on election reform and congressional reorganization measures.

I don't think they're unattractive."

The lands commission is conservation oriented and people oriented, said Everitts. He said all safeguards are takken to prevent pollution of the waters or shoreline with oil, tar or other debris.

Even if the whole 77,000 acres of San Pablo Bay were productive, there would be at most 24 platforms in the entire bay, Everitts reported. However, to find the whole bay productive is impossible, and a more realistic figure would be about one-tenth productivity, he declared.

Everitts produced a sketch of a drilling platform prepared by the Standard Oil Co., showing platform about 60 feet wide and 120 feet long.

Kettenhofen took one look and shook his head. He said he has sometimes been accused of being anticonservation. "But even I don't like it."

With advances in technology, Kettenhofen wondered if one platform could not serve the entire San Pablo Bay. Everitts replied this was economically unfeasible because lines would have to stretch too far.

"A platform that lies low in the water . . . I don't see how it would affect the scenic value," Everitts maintained. And at night, said Everitts, some people prefer to see lights in the bay from the drilling platforms rather than stare into black darkness.

Besides, the county would gain revenue from gas and oil royalties, he added.

Larkspur Chamber Sets Pre-Yule Event

The Larkspur Chamber of Commerce board yesterday scheduled the annual open house for downtown merchants for 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Nov. 3.

The occasion will launch the city's Christmas shopping season, members said, and most merchants will serve refreshments. Mrs. Bette Wallace, trustee of the Tamalpais High School District attended the chamber meeting to inform members about the $10.9 million district bond election Nov. 5 for the construction of two new high schools and additions to existing schools.

OBITUARIES

Helen B. Ketchum Dies At 60

There will be no funeral for Helen Butler Ketchum, 60, noted artist who died Monday at her home at 1636 Hill Road, Novato.

Born in Madison, Wis., she achieved a reputation as an artist there before moving to southern California 22 years ago. She was known for her murals on buildings and for her miniatures on ivory.

She had lived in Novato for the past four years.

Mrs. Ketchum had been ill for the past three weeks. Mrs. Floyd Bradley of 707 Bradley Avenue, Novato, and Mrs. Boyd Lindsey of Sonoma, friends of hers, were with her at the time of her death, according to the Marin County Coroner's office.

Her husband, the late Dean Ketchum had been head of the photoengraving department at the Independent-Journal for several years.

SHe was a member of the Christian Science Church.

There are no survivors.

Following creamation, her ashes will be scattered over the ocean, according to the Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato which is in charge of the arrangements.

WALTER BEALEY

Private funeral for Walter D. Bealey, retired Larkspur real estate agent who died Sunday, was held today at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Inurnment followed at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Bealey, who was 75, died at his home at 12 Baltimore Avenue after a long illness.

A native of Washington, D. C., he had lived in Marin County 10 years. Before retiring he worked for Frank Howard Allen real estate firm in Mill Valley. Prior to that he was with the Federal Housing Authority in San Francisco.

A highly decorated flier, Bealey saw much action during World War I. He first enlisted in the British infantry in London at the outbreak of the war and was wounded in Belgium.

After recovery from his injuries, he joined the Royal Air Force and flew numerous missons over Germany. He rose to the rank of major in the RAF and was decorated many times by both France and England before being shot down in Germany in 1918.

After recovering from wounds suffered at this time, he toured the United States speaking of America's involvement in the war and telling of his experiences.

He is survived by his wife, Audrey, and a son, Radcliff Bealey of Los Angeles.

The family prefers memorial gifts to Holy Innocents Episcopal Church in Corte Madera.

FRED A. STRAUSS

Fred Adolph Strauss, San Francisco motel manager, died, apparently of a heart attack, aboard his yacht in the San Rafael Yacht Harbor yesterday, according to the Marin County coroner's office.

Strauss, 53, went out on his boat yesterday with his wife, Dorothy, but they returned when he became ill. Mrs. Strauss told the coroner that her husband went to bed on the boat and later had trouble breathing.

He was pronounced dead at Marin General Hospital at 9:50 p.m.

Strauss was co-owner and manager of the Fisherman's Wharf Travelodge. He was born in Chicago, Ill.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

GEORGE GOETZE

Private funeral for George S. Goetze, a San Francisco beverage distributor who lived in Tiburon, was held yesterday at Carew and English Funeral Chapel in San Francisco.

Goetze, of 3200 Paradise Drive, died Monday in a San Francisco for 25 years and had illness.

He had his own beverage distributing business in San Francisco for 25 yearas and had lived in Marin for 18 years, moving here from his native San Francisco.

He was an amateur gardener and cared for the two acres of land surrounding his Marin home.

SWEN O. PETERSON

Swen O. Peterson, 63, a cook at the San Rafael Military Academy, died in his quarters there yesterday.

Peterson had been seen by a doctor yesterday morning because he thought he had flu or pneumonia, according to the Marin County coroner's office. A school nurse checked at 2 p.m. and found him dead, the coroner said.

Cause of death has not been determined.

Peterson, a native of Denmark, had worked as a cook in various places for many years. He had been at the academy five years. He served with the Army in World War II.

He is survived by his wife, Meluina, at their Santa Rosa home, and a sister in Denmark.

Funeral will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Private inurnment will follow.

Memorial services will be held at the military academy at 8 a.m. tomorrow.

Survey Of Commuters Is Proposed

Seymour Kashin, manager of the Marin County Transit District, disclosed his staff's proposal for the survey at a meeting of the committee at the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District Administration Building. The committee is composed of representatives of Marin and San Francisco boards of supervisors, and the bridge district.

Kashin said he would present his proposal to the transit district board when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Civic Center.

Kashin explained that the survey would be made by distributing mailable cards to commuters at the bridge by toll takers and aboard Greyhound buses by the drivers. He estimated 25,000 questionaires would be sufficient but bridge district Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring suggested that at least 40,000 would be needed.

The cost of return postage would be borne by the transit district, Kashin said.

The committee also voted to invite representatives of the state Department of Public Works and of the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission to appear before it Nov. 13 to discuss proposals to reserve a lane on Highway 101 for buses.

An attorney for the Department of Public Works advised in August that special legislation and amendment of the state constitution would be necessary before a freeway lane could be reserved for buses.

Legislative Counsel George H. Murphy, however, advised in December, 1967, that only minor legislative changes would be required.

Hobby Show Slated At Hamilton Chapel

A 433-year-old Bible and 2,000-year-old clay jar handle are among the items to be displayed tomorrow at the third annual public hobby show in Chapel One at Hamilton Air Force Base, sponsored by the Protestant women of the chapel.

The exhibit will be on display from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Included will be a Bible collection of 350 volumes in more than 50 languages. Chaplain Lt. Col. and Mrs. Lewie H. Miller Jr. have collected the volumes over the past 16 years.

More than half a million college students borrowed $425 million in 1967-68 to finance educations.

Lots Split Gets Denial In Tiburon

The Tiburon Planning Commission Monday night denied a request to create two substandard lots on 1.75 acres of land at 15 Tanfield Drive, Development Administrator Phil V. Scott reported.

Scott said the commission suggested that applicant Nicolas Pedersen ask for a variance from the minimum lot size requirements instead of a lot split.

Pedersen's property is in a single family residential zone with a one acre minimum lot size requirement. He had asked to create two lots of .82 acres each, Scott said.

The Tiburon Planning Commission also:

HEARING — Set a public hearing for 8 p.m. Nov 4 to zone two parcels at Mar West Street and Tiburoin Boulevard, owned by Fred Zelinsky, which are in the process of being annexed to the city.

SETBACK — heard that planning consultant George Gatter is studying new setback requirements for the waterfront area along Mar West Street from the Caprice restaurant to the city limits to permit residential construction on some tideland lots.

RECRUITMENT — Established recruitment procedures for a new planning director.

STUDY — Approved a job description for a feasibility study of the commercial square footage in the city's proposed downtown plan. The description will be submitted to several planning consultants to bid on the job.

HOUSING PLAN — Heard that Gatter is compiling statistics on type and quality of housing in Tiburon and the income spectrum of the city to meet a state requirement that a housing plan be included in the city's master plan.

MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Nov. 4 at city hall.

New Air Guard Chief Of Staff

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Brig. Gen. George W. Edmonds, deputy adjutant general for the California Air National Guard the past two years, was appointed yesterday as chief of staff of the Air Guard.

Edmons, who has served more than 20 years in the Air Guard, will fill a vacancy left by the death of Maj. Gen. Clarence A. Shoop.

Maj. Gen. Glenn C. Ames, state adjutant general, also announced the appointment of Brig. Gen. Raymond J. Kopecky as deputy chief of staff under Edmonds. Kopecky is commander of the Air Guard's 146th military airlift wing based at Van Nuys.

Hub Corporation Aims To Rejuvenate Stores

A group of San Anselmo citizens, determined to lift a lagging downtown business section by its own bootstraps, have joined to form the San Anselmo Business and Economic Redevelopment Corp.

Composed of 13 members, the committee — in cooperation with the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce — has declared in a letter that the shopping habits of the city's residents have changed, but the shopping area has not.

"Downtown San Anselmo has failed to progress because some property owners have not been willing to modernize, and many tenants have been forced either to leave, or fall behind, as their facilities were not able to provide the environment people want to shop in," the letter says.

It adds that if the business district were owned in part by local citizens and in part by private owners willing to meet their obligations, the situation could be corrected.

With the Small Business Administration willing to loan $80,000 on every $20,000 raised locally, according to the letter, the local development company could acquire and improve selected downtown properties for "progressive tenants."

Stock in the company can be purchased by individuals, with no person or small group controlling the company, the group has determined. The citizen investor, however, should realize a return on his investment as the improved buildings in the corporation's ownership become more valuable, according to plans.

An organizational meeting for the proposed corporation will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the multi-purpose room of the Wade Thomas School at 115 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Drug Abuse Consultant Is Approved

The Marin County Board of Education Monday night hired James F. T. Bugental, research associate at Stanford Research Institute, as consultant for a two-day teacher workshop on drug abuse education in Marin.

The workshop, for teachers who also attended the "inundation" workshop last June, will be at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday in a classroom to be later designated at Sir Francis Drake High School. Bugental will receive $100 for his work.

The Marin County Board of Education also:

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Pauline Bradley, teacher of educatable mentally retarded children, for $7,837 annually; Theodore Dudek, audio-visual distributor, $474 monthly; Ann Hermstad, teacher assistant, $2.80 an hour; Natalie Lenn, teacher of deaf and hard-of-hearing pupils, $4,751 for half-time work annually; Ann Nadel, also a teacher for the deaf and hard-of-hearing, $3,918 for half-time work; Ross McDaniel, teacher assistant, $2.42 an hour, and Shirley McHale, secretary, $523 a month.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of John Campbell, custodian; Mary Reis, bus driver, and Gwen Kennedy, secretary.

CERTIFICATES — Approved 48 temporary teaching certificates.

DIPLOMAS — Approved 11 life teaching diplomas.

CREDENTIALS — Approved issuing Merrill Hoover of Oakland a teaching credential for a person of outstanding eminence to teach Afro-American music at College of Marin.

DELEGATES — Elected board member L. C. Richardson Jr. and William Burke, member of the Alameda County Board of Education, as delegates to the California school boards delegate assembly.

Driver's Injuries Minor In Accident

Robert G. Alcayaga, 22, of 404 Wellesley Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was treated for cuts and scrapes at Marin General Hospital Monday after his pickup truck struck a van and overturned on Highway 101 in Alto, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Alcayaga told them he dozed off while driving south at 3:15 a.m. and awoke just as his truck hit the rear of a southbound van driven by Harold Coate, 44, of 315 K Street, Petaluma.

Deputies Report Vehicles Taken

Marin sheriff's deputies yesterday reported two vehicle thefts from the unincorporated areas of the county. They were.

Theft of a 1961 Chevrolet, belonging to Fred Davidson of 12 East LeVerne Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, Saturday or Sunday from the Almonte intersection.

The theft, over the weekend, of Eric I. Anderson's 1964 Honda motorcycle from his driveway at 121 Morningsun Drive, Tamalpais Valley.

San Anselmo Drafts Larger-Lot Ordinance

The San Anselmo City Council last night introduced an ordinance amendment to require an increase in minimum lot sizes in new subdivisions from the existing 5,000-square feet to at least 7,500-square feet.

Recommended by the planning commission after a long study, the amendment to the zoning ordinance affects all residential zones. It also changes the average lot width for new construction in single and two-family residences from 50 to 60 feet, and neighborhood apartment areas from 50 to 75 feet minimum.

The council adopted an ordinance amendment making the property owners dedicate street right-of-way before a building permit can be obtained.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

MEETING — Changed the scheduled meeting next Tuesday with the park and recreation commission to 8 p.m. Oct. 29 in council chambers to discuss planned uses of the Robson-Harrington Park.

HEARING — Denied the request of Cecil B. Norton to rezone property at 1437 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from single-family residence to two-family residence.

SIGN — Approved an application by Eilene H. Casady for a free-standing sign advertising her business, "Sewing Circle," at 705 San Anselmo Avenue.

RAMP — Gave notice to Houston Alexander that he must complete repair of a ramp at 745 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by Oct. 31 or condemnation proceedings as a hazard will be taken.

RETAINING WALL — Passed a resolution to initiate abatement proceedings against Andrew Clem if a wooden retaining wall at 60 Calumet Avenue isn't removed or replaced with one meeting city requirements.

PERMITS — Granted Merz Brothers, San Anselmo excavating firm, permission to blast in a road and construction project at Sunny Hills, 910 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

CLAIM — Denied and referred to its insurance carrier a $50,000 claim for damages by Hortencia V. Sanchet of 1382 San Anselmo Avenue for injuries she allegedly suffered Aug. 23 on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Sais Avenue.

APPOINTMENT — Postponed an appointment to replace Irene Busch on the parks and recreation commission until the 8 p.m. meeting Oct. 22 of the council. Mrs. Busch has resigned.

REPRESENTATIVES — Named Col. Reuben Smith Jr. as delegate from San Anselmo to Fair-Marin. He previously had been named an alternate delegate.

AMBULANCE — Directed that a letter be written to the county board of supervisors requesting that good ambulance service be required in the board's consideration of signing an emergency ambulance contract for the county.

POOL — Tabled until the Oct. 29 meeting with the parks and recreation commission a suggestion by Councilman Robert M. Scott, that a swimming pool and teen-center complex be again considered.

MARKERS — Agreed to hire the civil engineering firm of Rhodes and Burton, of Mill Valley, to install street markers at the uncompleted White subdivision near the 500 block of Redwood Road, then bill the project's bonding company for the cost.

PENALTY — Refused a request by Ghilotti Brothers, contractors, for return of $1,859 kept by the city as a penalty for failure to complete the widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard within the specified time limit.

RETIREMENT — Adopted an ordinance amendment increasing former employees' retirement benefits from 2 to 12 per cent, depending on how long they worked for the city.

ORDINANCE — Adopted an ordinance amendment permitting the city to charge property owners for trimming tree limbs which are obstructions.

DUST CONTROL — Held first reading of an ordinance amendment which would prevent property owners from parking anywhere on their lots other than approved driving areas.

ROOFING — Awarded to the lowest of two bidders, McLeran Roofing Co., Inc., Corte Madera, a $785 contract to do roof repair on portions of city hall.

About 90 per cent of the cars made and sold in the U.S. are equipped with automatic transmissions.

Columbus Day Broadcast Set

A Columbus Day program will be presented at noon Saturday over Radio Station KTIM, presented by Our Lady of Loretto Council 3950 of Novato.

The program will commemorate the 86th anniversary of the Knights of Columbus. It will include a background of the fraternal society and some of its charitable work.

The winning essay in the annual Columbus Day essary contest held at Our Lady of Loretto School in Novato will be read. The theme of this year's contest is "The modern day Columbus."

The program will be directed by M/Sgt. Joseph Tannerome Sr., a member of Our Lady of Loretto Council, who is assigned to the community relations branch of the information office at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Del Mar Meeting

The Reed School District's citizens committee on finances and programs will meet at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School, not Granada School as previously announced.

Permit System Voted For City's Hub Parking Lot

A city-owned lot near the Hub will be developed to provide free two-hour parking and monthly half-day and all-day pay parking, the San Anselmo City Council decided last night.

On motion of Councilman James R. Reed, the council unanimously agreed to have an ordinance drawn up that would charge $2.50 a month for persons wishing to park four consecutive hours, and $5 a month for all-day parking.

Hours requiring the pay permits, to be issued at city hall, will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. The near-acre parcel, located behind Kaufman's department store at 540 San Anselmo Avenue and known as the creekside parking lot, has heretofore been used for free, uncontrolled parking.

Councilman Robert M. Scott said the fees for persons using the lot beyond the two-hour free period may eventually pay for developing the lot.

At present, the council agreed, it will leave the partially-paved lot as it is, with City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani, and William A. Trewhella, chamber of commerce manager, requested to make a study of the lot's development needs.

The council also asked the three to make a study of which nearby streets not already restricted in parking time should be limited and marked to two-hour maximum free parking.

Fuller paving, water and electrical installations, and other development of the lot will be considered at next year's budget sessions, the council said.

Recommendation of the permit-purchase system was made to the council by the chamber of commerce after a lengthy study. Trewhella said the lot, properly developed and marked, could hold up to 120 cars.

Date of beginning the pay system will depend on when the ordinance is adopted and effective, councilmen said.

Notary Issued

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced issuance of a notary public commission to Kathryn L. Barksdale of 5 Upper Oak Drive, San Rafael.

Clausen Ballot Leaders Named

Robert B. Lagle of Novato has been named Marin County chairman of the Committee to Re-Elect Congressman Don Clausen.

A. J. Bianchi of Point Reyes Station and William F. Nave Sr. of Novato were named finance committee chairmen of the campaign.

The appointments were announced by Gerald Misner of San Anselmo, general chairman of the districtwide committee. Clausen, a Republican, represents the First Congressional District.

Campaign headquarters at 802 Fourth Street, Santa Rosa, is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Juvenile Authorities Get Muir Woods Case

Howard Lee Handy, 19, of 341 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was referred to juvenile authorities from Marin Municipal Court yesterday for possible trial in Juvenile Court on charges of burglary and possession of stolen property.

Handy allegedly stole purses from a car in Muir Woods July 31 and had stolen merchandise in his car when it was searched by sheriff's deputies. His case was continued until Oct. 22.

Charges Secret In Deputy Firing

Formal charges were filed last night in the case of Weldon C. Travis, the Marin deputy sheriff fired because he once helped work his way through college by posing nude as a photographer's model.

The charges, which will remain secret until Travis seeks an open hearing, were filed with Robert D. Elliott, county personnel director, by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

Travis, fired Friday when someone showed Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos a copy of a "figure study" magazine containing a photograph of his deputy, has 10 days in which to appeal his dismissal.

After his appeal is filed, the county personnel commission must hear his case within 20 days and decide on his appeal within 15 days after the hearing, Maloney said. Either Travis or the sheriff could appeal the commission's decision to the board of supervisors.

Travis said that, before the reason for his firing was announced, he received 34 telephone calls from well-wishers in the San Geronimo Valley, his beat before his dismissal.

After the cause of the firing was known yesterday, he was on the telephone with persons offering support from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m., he said.

The deputy said his callers included deputies, neighbors and perfect strangers. A Fresno man called this morning to offer support, he said.

"They all say they support me and urge me to contest the firing," Travis said.

Sheriff Mountanos has refused comment on the dismissal on the advice of county counsel.

Hospital Patient Jailed On Drugs

Arthur Hatter Jr., 19, of 1049 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, was jailed last night after a doctor at Marin General Hospital said the youth was under the influence of methamphetamine.

Hatter was left at the hospital by an unknown young man, the doctor told deputies. Hatter did not have "full and rational use of his mental and physical faculties," according to the doctor.

Deputies booked the youth on suspicion of being under the influence of drugs and bail was set at $35. He was still incarcerated this morning.

Marin Flier Eludes Injury In Smashup

Richard Alexander Baldwin, 23, of 16 Galleon Way, Terra Linda, escaped injury Monday at 5 p.m. when his airplane crashed at the Schellville Airport on Highway 121, near Sonoma.

Sheriff's deputies said Baldwin had been practicing take offs and landings at the strip when the engine stalled as he started to climb and the plane tipped over into a plowed field.

Official's Daughter Treated For Overdose

Lorraine K. Colin, 18-year-old daughter of Petaluma Vice Mayor Kenneth J. Colin was treated yesterday afternoon at Hillcrest Hospital for an overdose of aspirin.

Police reported Miss Colin, 2139 Curtis Drive, was treated for taking 15 to 20 aspirins.

College Picks Citizen Unit For Advice

The Marin Junior College District board, plagued by financial problems and student protests at College of Marin, has named a citizens' committee to review the district's finances and make recommendations for the college's future.

Both operating costs and capital outlay programs will be covered by the committee, according to board president Theodore C. Wellman. The first meeting will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Bank of Marin in San Rafael.

Dr. William K. Ramstad, last year's college president who resigned under faculty pressure but who is still under contract to the district, was named as executive secretary for the committee.

Rex T. Silvernale, San Rafael civic leader who has served as San Rafael Board of Education president, United Crusade chairman and on the Juvenile Justice Commission as well as in other activities, was named chairman of the new committee.

The students, some of whom have demanded that the college stop work on a new football field and build a library instead, will have one liaison member on the committee. The student executive council planned to make the student appointment today.

Wellman said that two faculty representatives, James D. Donlon Jr. and James Raynes, had been named but that one will have to be an alternate because the board only wants one faculty liaison member on the committee.

Other committee members are Jack Craemer, Harrison Dibblee Jr., Mrs. Jean Enemark, Francis T. Fogarty, Fred B. Galbreath, S. K. Herzog Jr., Henry L. Hicks, Fred D. Kerr, Dr. George M. Landrock, Byron W. Leydecker, Stephen McNamara, Robert L. Parish, Leo Souza, Edward P. Ward.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy will act as liaison for the board, and Wellman will be an ex-officio member.

Burglars Get $100 In Doctor's Office

Burglars took $100 in cash and several narcotics prescription blanks from the office of Dr. John R. Lee, 270 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, sometime Monday night, police reported.

Police said Dr. Lee discovered the burglary when he opened his office at 8:20 a.m. yesterday.

HELEN HELP US!

'Three Grown Children' Letter Brings Answer From Non-Writer

DEAR HELEN:

I'm the mother of "Three Grown Children" who told of their father having an affair with "Marilyn." They didn't write that letter. Marilyn did, to justify herself because she feels guilty for finding a young man and throwing over my husband. Naturally she wants me to take him back, so she won't be blamed. And she wants everyone to see it was all my fault because I was a cold wife.

Here's the real story.

He spent his time and money on Marilyn, leaving his loving wife at home alone. The letter said Marilyn had been more of a real wife than the wife. My children wouldn't say that! They know how I suffered.

Now I have found out that there were at least two other women. Confronted with facts, my husband says he'll reform. He repeats he has always loved me and none of the others — didn't want to marry them because "they weren't nice girls." Was he any better? Or considerably worse?

The writer asked you to persuade the wife to "take half a loaf" and accept her husband back, so that she can continue with her country club and posh living. I'm glad you put up an argument.

Even though my husband begs me to let him make it up to me and prove his love, I'm not having any, thank you. I now neither admire nor respect him and I'm a lot younger than he is. So I shall make a new life of my own. And I hope Marilyn's conscience never quits!

— MOTHER OF THREE GROWN CHILDREN

DEAR MOTHER:

Any similarity between you and the real "Mother of Three Grown Children" is purely coincidental. You two come from different parts of the country. Moreover, I changed the letter from "T. G. C." so much that the principals wouldn't recognize themselves.

Now for your problem. If you're determined to toss a third of your life down the drain, I can't stop you. But I can't believe a "loving wife" would be so sure. Perhaps "Marilyn" offered the excuse you've been looking for — a way out, minus guilt, for the "poor wronged little wife." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I often wonder why, when people talk of immorality, we assume "sex." There are so many other things which are far more immoral. Like cruelty, dishonesty, meanness. — SOL.

DEAR SOL:

Good question. Everyone should ask it. Perhaps then we'd see that illicit sex usually isn't as immoral as it is unwise, hurtful, and in the long run, often sad. Only when it is mixed up with those others — cruelty, dishonesty, meanness — can sex be called "immoral" — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Whyohwhy, again. My head grows bald. The hair in my ears increases. Also my eyebrows grow bushy. Why didn't nature let hair keep growing where it is supposed to grow?

— SENIOR SIR

DEAR SIR:

Some will say it's because you wear a hat on your head and not over your ears, but I prefer to think Nature is a tricky old dame who enjoys scrambling up our features. Why else would she turn a man's hair gray while his moustache stays black? — H.

Court Unit Has A New President

"The Marin County Juvenile Court Auxiliary was established to aid and abet the work of the Marin County Juvenile Court in the rehabilitation of delinquent and disturbed youths by providing volunteer services and funds," said says the auxiliary's newly elected president , Mrs. Gordon Henry Dohemann.

MRS. GORDON H. DOHEMANN

Karen Dohemann has been a member of the auxiliary for three years. She served as recording secretary for the organization, which is open to anyone interested in working with the children.

Projects and activities planned by the auxiliary include a Christmas program, a foster home program and a resource library program.

The Dohemanns have lived in Marin for eight years. They have four children: Jesse, 13, Linda, 12, Russell, 11, and Erik, 9-year-old. Karen attended school in San Francisco at Katherine Delmar Burke and also attended the University of California. She is a member of the Junior League of San Francisco, San Pedro Parent-Teacher Association, Davidson P-TA, the Country Club Guild of Sunny Hills, Marin Country Day School Parents Group and is a court hostess on Monday afternoons at the San Rafael Courthouse.

Party Advice 'Never Seat A Frenchman By His Wife's Lover'

By ELLEN BESWICK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Most hostesses can remember with searing shame at least one major misstep in their entertaining careers.

They can take heart.

They probably have never: seated a Frenchman next to his wife's lover; served pork (forbidden by the Moslem religion) to Arab visitors; or been called on the carpet the morning after by the President of the United States.

"Until a social secretary has almost single-handedly stopped traffic in the Suez Canal, she has not sinned effectively," reminisces Letitia Baldrige in her autobiography "Of Diamonds and Diplomats" (published by Houghton Mifflin Co.)

MISS BALDRIGE never does explain about the traffic problem in the Suez Canal, but she does present an extremely witty and fast-paced collection of anecdotes on her career through the halls of the great.

Her experiences as a social secretary in the U.S. Embassy in Paris, under Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce in Italy and to Jacqueline Kennedy in the White House give a special insight into the machinations and crisis-coping attendant on their public activities.

The life of a social secretary is far more hazardous on the entertaining side than that of most American homemakers, particularly where protocol and foreign guests are concerned.

Miss Baldrige recalls one of her first gaffes in the U.S. Embassy in Paris. She seated an important French official next to his wife's lover. It apparently caused quite a flurry since the affair was well known to everyone at the party except the social secretary.

AT THE U.S. Embassy in Rome, Miss Baldrige managed to feature Florentine beef at the Indian ambassador's dinner, an item which is forbidden by the Hindu religion, and serve a pork dish to a group of visiting Arabs.

Miss Baldrige notes that one in such positions must learn not to take their errors too seriously. The more experienced you become, the more grievous grow your mistakes.

To kick off her days with the Kennedy admnistration Miss Baldrige managed to schedule the first official party on a Sunday. Cocktails were served from bars placed strategically around the first floor of the White House. It was the first time liquor had been served at an official party with the press present.

The social secretary faced a tirade from President Kennedy the next day. It seems that Kennedy had already heard from three delegations of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and gotten calls from every congressman in the Baptist Belt.

MISS BALDRIGE once remarked to a White House cohort, "Don't worry, as long as we're not responsible for the start of World War III, we're all right."

Miss Baldrige's reminiscences, which she describes as "The Autobiography of a Happy Life" also includes some success stories.

She discusses the state dinner which the Kennedys gave for General Ayub Khan, the president of Pakistan, at Mount Vernon, an undertaking which one of the White House military aides remarked required planning similar to a full-scale military engagement.

The social secretary had in her command an augmented White House staff, units of the Army, Navy and Marines and the National Symphony Orchestra. Despite several preparty crises, involving mosquitos and poison ivy, the evening went off without a hitch.

The guests were ferried out from Washington in Navy yachts and a PT boat, complete with drinks, hors d'oeuvres and musicians. They were treated to a tour of George Washington's home and a military drill by the Army's Colonial Fife and Drum Corps in Revolutionary period costumes before dinner was served under a candlelit marquee overlooking the Potomac.

THE AFTERDINNER concert by the National Symphony Orchestra was also held out of doors and featured a program of American classics.

The author describes it as "a magic night, an unforgettable state dinner", and notes that she would never again, in her own entertaining, refer to anything as "a complicated party."

Miss Baldrige credits much of her expertise on party planning to her first boss, Mrs. David Bruce, wife of the U.S. ambassador to France, for whom she worked in Paris shortly after World War II.

"Mix the guests is the best rule," she finds. "Have at least one stimulating conversationalist. Have people who do not know each other. Have some handsome faces shining around, regardless of their lack of importance, and above all have someone on the same wavelength as the guest of honor."

Mrs. Joseph E. Foster Of San Rafael To Head Young Ladies' Institute 98

St. Anselm's Young Ladies' Institute 98 has elected Mrs. Joseph Edward Foster of San Rafael president.

A five-year-member of the institute, Florence Foster describes its purpose as assisting people spiritually and materially. Members are sending clothes and toys to the Indian children at St. Michel's Mission.

The organization is open to Catholic women over the age of 16. Members assist the pastor of St. Anselm's and also plan social events, which this year will include a Halloween party, birthday party, potluck dinner and a Christmas party.

Mrs. Foster has lived in Marin County for 35 years. She and her husband, who is retired, have three children: Joseph E. Foster Jr. of San Rafael, John W. Foster of Petaluma and Mrs. George Grubb of Klamath Falls, Ore.

The new president enjoys sewing, pettipoint, reading and her work as a sales clerk, but her greatest delight is her seven grandchildren.

Mrs Emanuel Mula is the past president of St. Anselm's Young Ladies' Institute. Other officers are Mesdames William Bergin, first vice president; Adelaide Tedrick, second vice president; Jack Benz, recording secretary; Bernard DeBisschop, financial secretary; Walter Milani, treasurer; Richard Bettencourt, marshall.

Miss Maryana Bettencourt will serve as inside sentinal, Mrs. Paul Neese, outside sentinal. Organist is Mrs. John Eggisti, and the trustees include Mesdames Ralph Herold, Lawrence Antolini, Kenneth Wilson, Frank Wilson and Miss Loretto O'Rourke.

Women Told Stay Out Of White House

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shirley Temple Black, back from a confrontation with Soviet tanks in Czechoslovakia, believes women should stay out of the White House.

After speaking to some 500 persons at the Commonwealth Club on the subject, "I Saw Soviet Tanks in Prague," the former child movie star was asked when she thought a woman would be named a candidate for vice president.

"I don't know," she said, "But if they ever name one to be president, I'm going to move."

As for the tanks, Mrs. Black said she had never seen so many — nor had she seen them move so fast.

She said one car in the motorcade that took her and other Americans from Prague to West Germany was draped with an American Flag.

Czechs lining the streets waved and shouted when they saw the flag-draped car, she said. One even kissed the flag.

"It's not without irony," Mrs. Black said, "that those Communists kissed the American flag while here at home some Americans choose to desecrate it."

Pipes' Merits Argued Before Novato Council

Ordinances adopting the state unform building and mechanical and plumbing codes were introduced by the Novato City Council at its regular meeting last night, but not before considerable discussion on the use of plastic pipe in the plumbing code.

The council set 8 p.m., Nov. 12 for a public hearing before the final passage of the ordinances adopting the codes. The vote was 4-0 with Mayor Harley McAskill absent.

The city's building code committee had approved the use of plastic pipe for drains, waste and vent pipes, according to Carl S. Brown, chairman of the committee.

"No jurisdiction should shut the door on new materials," Brown said.

John P. Gorman, district manager for the Cast Iron Pipe Institute during the council meeting put on a demonstration and showed how certain substances could eat a hole in plastic pipe in 10 minutes.

William A. Smith of the Plastics Pipe Institute, countered by telling the council that the main enemies of the plastic pipes were the cast iron, copper and clay pipe manufacturers, but that many of them were now starting to manufacture plastic pipes.

Smith pointed out that 17 per cent of the houses nationally and 50 per cent in California constructed in the past year are now using plastic pipe.

The Novato City Council also:

UNDERGROUND — Introduced an ordinance setting up procedures for council to designate areas where overhead wires shall be placed underground, financed by a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. fund, set up by state law, for this purpose.

PAINTING — Awarded a $2,267 contract to Ove Hansen of Novato to paint the exterior of the Novato City Hall. This was the lowest of six bidders. The building department estimate on the job was $3,500.

COMMISSIONERS — Passed an ordinance limiting the terms of members of the Parks and Recreation advisory commission to two years. The vote was 3-1 with Councilman Douglas M. Merrill against. Merrill has constantly opposed the council action in cutting the terms from four to two years.

SCOTTSDALE — Approved plans for Glendale Homes to construct 51 fourplex structures in the Scottsdale development west of Highway 101 and south of Redwood Boulevard.

SIGNS — Introduced an ordinance starting proceedings to abate a sign of Sunset Petroleum Corp. on the west side of Highway 101 south of San Marin Drive and another sign of American Savings and Loan on the west side of Highway 101 at Novato Creek. The council set Nov. 12 for a public hearing.

REZONING — Passed ordinances rezoning from single to multiple family two and a half acres for Fabian Bobo and the northeast corner of South Novato Boulevard and Yukon Way and from agriculture to light industrial for three acres at 496 Olive Avenue for Fernando Clemintino and approved a site improvement agreement with Clementino.

ANNEXATION — Authorized the city staff to proceed with the annexation of 30 acres belonging to Paul Goldstone where the Los Robles mobile home park will be constructed and to see if adjoining lands such as the Marin County Humane Society and Soiland Co. would also annex to the city at the same time.

TRAVEL — Approved travel expenses for Councilmen J. Wayne Womack, Joseph Gargiulo and M. E. (Babe) Silva, and planning commissioners Robert Lagle and Lee Wise to attend the convention of the League of California Cities Oct. 13 to 16 in Los Angeles.

PROJECT — Heard a report from Clifford Temps, acting public works director, that the Diablo Avenue improvement project should be completed in about three weeks if the weather permits.

APPOINTMENTS —After a 20-minute closed meeting named Charles Thompson, 48, of 616 Plum Street and Marlin Kentapp, 26, of 1616 Novato Boulevard as maintenance men at $551 per month. The city had 51 applications for the two positions.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to Oct. 22 and also set a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 23 at the main fire station to meet with the Novato Fire District board to discuss ambulance service.

Round House Owner Asks Council Help

A Novato landmark, the round revolving house of Sam A. Harkleroad at 17 Harkle Road, may disappear in a freeway bypass construction scheduled for 1972.

Harkleroad last night appealed to the Novato City Council to help him delay the destruction. The state Division of Highways has started condemnation proceedings.

"We have had more than 4,000 people tour the house since it was completed five years ago, but it is among the first to be condemned for the bypass," he told the council.

He asked the council to write the state asking for a two-year delay. The council asked the public works department staff to investigate and report back.

Harkleroad said that he has five houses which will be removed by the bypass. The price set for the rotating house was $35,000.

Radiators Stolen

Thirsty used auto radiators valued at $300 were stolen sometime since Friday from Santa Brothers Garage, 45 Vivian Way, San Rafael police reported today.

Another Marinite On KQED Show

Robert O. (Bob) Bastian of Belvedere, San Francisco Chronicle political cartoonist for the past 14 years, has joined KQED's "Newsroom" staff as resident cartoonist.

A graduate of the California School of Fine Arts, Bastian has won many awards for his political cartoons.

On Newsroom, Bastian joins Mel Wax of Sausalito, KQED public affairs director, and Edward Radenzel of Mill Valley, San Francisco Chronicle foreign news editor for the past 28 years.

Burglars Invade Students' Cars

Four burglaries, including three in the College of Marin parking lot Monday night, were reported by sheriff's officers today.

Paul Chourre of 31 Ichabod Court, Sleepy Hollow, Michael McCarthy of 711A San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, and Bonnie Umberger of 10 La Brea Way, Santa Venetia, each reported stereophonic tape decks were stolen from their cars parket at the college.

Gil Pierson of 921 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, reported that someone stole $560 worth of clothes from his home sometime Monday, deputies said.

New Northgate Park Building Approved; Objections Puzzling

San Rafael planning commissioners, more puzzled than deterred by objections raised, last night approved an office building for construction at the entrance to Northgate Industrial Park.

Building designer Edward Hageman Jr. — speaking for San Rafael builder Ronald F. Antonioli — told the planning commission that the proposed 29,000-square-foot office building at 25-35 Mitchell Boulevard was identical in every respect to a structure already built by Antonioli on adjoining property.

San Rafael Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner, whose staff recommended approval of a use permit and design for the new office building, then read the objections raised by the Northgate Industrial Park's Architectural Review Committee.

The committee — in a letter signed by Gordon H. Dohemann, whose firm represents the industrial park developers — said that plans "were not complete enough for us to make an intelligent judgment," that "site layout does not conform to covenants and restrictions" of the park and that it had "not been given an adequate list of materials to be used."

Questioning by Commissioners Thomas R. O'Toole and Jorgen V. Lunding elicited from Hotchner the fact that the same committee had previously approved the similar design of Antonioli's existing building next door.

Hotchner, noting the contradiction of past approval and present disapproval, commented that the industrial park group "seems to be changing the ground rules."

O'Toole objected to viewing the matter in that light, but joined other commissioners in expressing puzzlement at the committee's objections to the one-story structure, which Antonioli later estimated to be an $850,000 project, including land cost.

The commissioners approved 4-0 the use permit and the architectural design and, on Lunding's suggestion, instructed Hotchner to advise the committee that if it intended to oppose future projects it "will have to come up with specific objections," spelling out such matters as covenants and restrictions being violated.

Commissioner Pat Hetherton was elected chairman pro tem at last night's session, Chairman Joseph J. Garbarino having been hospitalized earlier in the day for loss of two right fingers in the moving blades of his garbage truck. Vice Chairman Carl S. Brown and Commissioner Fred C. Robbins Jr. were absent.

San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

STREET NAMES — Approved and recommended for adoption by the city council a policy on naming of streets, aimed largely at avoiding similar sounding names and at designating as lanes, roads, boulevards, etc., those streets of appropriate size.

SETBACK — Approved for Anthony Montani a variance for an existing garage roof extension at his home at 50 Mary Street.

DUMP SIGNS — Approved three signs requested by Maggiora-Ghilotti for the Marin Disposal site at 1500 Block of Jacoby Street, two onsite signs unconditionally, one other sign at the Jacoby-Bellam intersection as a convenience to the public for a period not to exceed one year.

FILL — Put over to Oct. 22, a request by Glen Wirtz of Kerner-Bellam Realty for a use permit for fill which would not make him responsible for actions of those hauling small amounts of fill to his 110 acres of undeveloped land east of Kerner and Francisco boulevards. Commissioners wanted city counsel's opinion on control by existing ordinance of fill in excess of 1,000 yards.

ANTENNA — Continued to Oct. 22, a request of Maurice Picard to retain an existing 40-foot-high antenna at his home at 110 Ridgewood Drive, in order to give him time to win approval of neighbors presently objecting to it.

MEDICAL BUILDING — Approved conversion of existing medical building at 4 Frances Street into Group Care facility at request of Drs. John Manwaring and Warren Bostick.

HOME OCCUPATIONS — Adopted a policy statement liberalizing interpretation of home occupations permitted without a use permit under the zoning ordinance by noting such occupations are not limited the specific examples listed in the ordinance.

Shakespeare Fete Adds Directors

Nine new directors have been added to the Marin Shakespeare Festival board, according to John Brebner, executive director.

They are Richard V. Godino, Mrs. June Weden, Theodore B. Craig, Mrs. Sherm Bazell, Dr. Mary Wills, Arthur Knutson, Lucille Lecount, John W. Fearn and Rose Paul.

The board will now meet at the old Dollar mansion in San Rafael at 8 p.m. on the second Tuesday of each month, Brebner said.

Sonoma Philharmonic Planning Concerts

The Sonoma State College philharmonic has started rehearsals for its first series of concerts tentatively set for Dec. 6 and 7 at the center for performing arts.

Under the direction of David R. Sprung, works by Beethoven, Shostakovich and Sowerby will be presented. Sprung said openings still exist in violas, double basses, bassoons and trombones. Persons interested in joining should call the center for performing arts.

Shell Plant Faces Petaluma Lawsuit

Petaluma City Council threatened a court suit yesterday as they gave the Pioneer Shell Co. 90 days in which to curb its contribution to local air and water pollution.

City Atty. Edouard E. Robert was authorized to declare the company a public nuisance and bring suit if it doesn't comply within the given time. City officials said neighbors of the plant at 100 D Street, have been complaining for years about the dust problem. "We have housewives who say they must vacuum three times a day because of Pioneer Shell," City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer said.

City Engineer David Young said the company—which grinds oyster shells for calcium-fortified chicken feed—has installed a springler system to keep down dust emission, but uses it only occasionally. He said no steps have been taken to stop pollution on the Petaluma River.

"We shouldn't let them get off the hook after 90 days," Councilman Phillip Joerger said, noting other ultimates had been largely ignored in the past.

An agreement with the Atlantic Pacific Corp. was approved in which the city will pay costs for oversizing of sanitary sewer lines in South McDowell Boulevard by the Monarch Pacific development.

The city will refund $2,579 to the developers as the difference in cost between the installation of ten and eight-inch lines rather than six-inch lines. Young said this oversizing is part of the city master sewer plan.

Sewers for the Lakeville Highway area were discussed, led by Councilman Joerger who said when residents annexed to the city four and a half years ago, the city promised to install sanitary sewers. Some $18,000 has been budgeted in the 1968 budget for the project. He also noted the county health department has declared a health hazard exists with some overflowing septic tanks in the area.

Young noted that the plans are almost complete, but the holdup has been a matter of workload in his department. He said planning will continue through November with construction possible by spring.

The Petaluma City Council Also:

PAVING — Approved repaving of the Mary Street parking lot adjacent to the Bank of America building under construction. The center Island will be removed and wooden light standards replaced with steel poles at a cost of $750.

PREZONED — Prezoned proposed annexation area bordered by Ely and McDowell Boulevards as single family residential. A public hearing will be scheduled.

AGREEMENT — Entered into an agreement with the county of Sonoma to connect new county-installed sewer lines on Sunnyslope Avenue into the city sewer lines.

INSPECTIONS — Gave consideration to moving the Building Inspection Department out of the planning office into the Department of Public Works to better distribute workload. Will be discussed further at the Oct. 21 meeting.

COMMISSIONER — Named George De Long to fill vacancy on the water commission.

DENIED — Denied appeal of W. J. Peterson, 775 Cherry Street, of city engineer's decision to take ten feet of his property for future street widening.

Death Car Driver Not Intoxicated

I-J Special Report

SUSANVILLE — The driver of the car in which five high school girls were killed Sept. 28 was not intoxicated, the California Highway Patrol in this Shasta County town reported today.

Warren Martineau, an 18-year-old Shasta College student, had been drinking but blood samples showed he was not drunk, officers said.

Martineau died in the crash, as well as former San Anselman Shelly Jane Roberts and four other 17-year-old high school girls, when his car rounded a curve at 70 miles an hour and rammed a logging truck.

Plea Due Tuesday In Joyriding Case

Robert Charles Drolla, 22, of Strawberry, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a misdemeanor charge of joyriding Saturday in the car of Anselmo P. Pellolio of San Rafael.

His case was continued until Tuesday for entry of plea.

Schoolrooms Job Awarded In Petaluma

A near half-million-dollar contract for an addition to the Rancho Cotate High School was awarded last night by the Petaluma Board of Education.

Entering the lowest bid and receiving the contract was the Rapp Construction Co. of Santa Rosa with a bid of $450,400. Included in the project will be four classrooms, an auto shop, an arts and crafts complex, science complex of three rooms and a faculty dining room. Some built-in furniture and equipment was included in the cost estimate.

A contract for paving of play areas at Cherry Valley, Grant and McDowell elementary schools was awarded to the Don Dowd Co. which entered the low bid of $43,680. Most of the work will be done at the new McDowell school.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

RETAINED — Retained Reynolds and Chamberlain, architects, to do preliminary planning for additions to Kenilworth and Rohnert Park junior high schools, and Petaluma Senior High School.

PROPOSITION 9 — Resolved to oppose passage of proposition 9 on the Nov. 5 ballot as a threat to the economics of education in California.

BONDS — Announced the sale of high school bonds yesterday totaling $1,235,000 to Crocker Citizens National Bank at an average interest rate of 4.24028.

COMMENDED — Commended the Petaluma Senior High School state championship dairy judging team and wished them well at the national finals in Kansas City, Mo., this fall.

CHANGED — Changed scheduled Dec. 7 and Dec. 24 meeting dates to one meeting on Dec. 17 on account of Christmas holidays and a joint conference of the California School Boards Association in Anaheim, Dec. 7-10.

CLOSED — Went behind closed doors to discuss the case of a teacher who wants a leave of absence for a shorter time than is convenient for the school administration.

Film Figures In Draft Card Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Films which the FBI said show Lincoln Adams Robbins burning his draft card were considered by a federal judge in convicting Robbins, a 37-year-old Army veteran.

Wesley G. Grapp, FBI agent in charge, said Robbin was arrested after he appeared at a public gathering which was videotaped. The tape was enlarged. Grapp said it showed Robbins burning his draft card.

Sentencing of Robbins, believed the first Californian convicted of such a charge, was set for Nov. 4.

Bobcats may hunt for food in an area up to 15 square miles.

Novato Spotlighted In Cities Magazine

An article on citizen participation in civic affairs by Mrs. Carolyn Crabtree of Novato appeared in the September issue of Western City magazine, a publication distributed to city officials in 11 western states.

Mrs. Crabtree's article dealt with community work on the rehabilitation of the Novato Community House and Alfred W. Bowman constructing and donating the huge weathervane on top of city hall. The story gives a brief description and history of the city hall complex and the article has pictures of the city hall and community house with it.

Are Public Bodies Aiding Local Buying?

Do Marin's public bodies support "Buy in Marin" with the taxpayers' dollars as well as with resolutions?

Apparently they do, to some extent.

On Aug. 27, the Marin County Board of Supervisors adopted a resolution supporting the "Buy in Marin" campaign. On Sept. 3, the San Rafael City Council adopted a similar resolution.

Both were aimed primarily at cutting down spending in San Francisco, as an answer to imposition by that city of a 1 per cent tax on the earnings of commuters.

Marin County's payments to San Francisco suppliers dropped from $33,338 in August to $26,356 in September.

San Rafael's payments to San Francisco suppliers made a sharper decline —from $9,611.49 in August to $4,856.36 in September.

Meantime, San Rafael payments to Marin firms rose from $43,792.13 in August to $64,756.88 in September. No similar comparison was available for buying in Marin by the county.

In neither case, however, was the decline in San Francisco purchases necessarily a result of the resolutions. It may have been, according to County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell and San Rafael City Clerk W. C. Cornwell, that it was largely a matter of normal fluctuation in the bills presented for payment.

The San Francisco purchase figures of the county were extracted by Mitchell from 50 pages of county purchases for the two months.

The figures for San Rafael were drawn from warrant duplicates in the city clerk's files. Payroll and utility payments were not included.

Said Mitchell of the county figures: "This drop is probably coincidental; in other words, next month the payments to San Francisco may go up. . . . In most cases, where purchases are made in San Francisco, Marin does not have the type of industry that can produce the product."

Cornwell gave similar explanation of San Rafael's city purchases in San Francisco. The city makes a practice of buying locally where possible, he said.

O'Leary Names Aides

Donald J. O'Leary, candidate for Marin supervisor in the Third District, today appointed the following precinct captains in Tiburon: Rodney Friedman of 40 Juno Road, John Hoffmire of 583 Virginia Drive, Alan Thompson of 18 Southridge, Donald Loomis of 7 Venus Court, Henry Zimmerman of 55 Spring Lane, W. J. Washburn of 65-H Red Hill Circle, and Fennimore Cady of 3370 Paradise Drive.

Resignation Of Siemens Is Accepted

The immediately effective resignation of Dr. John C. Siemens as president of the Tamalpais Union High School District board has been accepted by the board.

Dr. Siemens is recovering from a heart attack suffered Sept. 5 and informed the board by letter Monday night that the illness "has made it mandatory to curtail some of my activities."

Gloria W. Melbostad, acting president, siad deadline for receiving applications for filling Dr. Siemens' post will be 5 p.m. on Nov. 7. The appointment by the board must be made by Dec. 7, district officials said. The term expires in April of 1971.

The Tamalpais Union School District board also:

FEES — Authorized without further comment the controversial payment of $3,406 to the San Rafael architectural firm of Gromme and Priestley for work done on high school portable classroom projects and survey of building needs of the existing three high schools. Controversy arose over alleged excessive architectural charges for the firm's services on a proposed San Geronimo High School site.

COMMITTEE — Named Arthur Carpenter of Bolinas and Jess Janssen of Lagunitas as additional members to the citizen's architectural advisory committee.

SCHOOL PLANS — Accepted the schematic plans for a proposed Tiburon High School and directed architects to proceed with preliminary drawings.

DANCES — Approved the holding by senior classes of dances in San Francisco again this school year.

HIRED —Employed Gordon S. Millar as a science and mathematics teacher at Tamalpais High. The salary is yet undetermined.

Gets 90 Days

Daniel Lee Lewis, 22, of Alameda, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and placed on three years of probation in Marin Superior Court Monday for threatening Maurice H. Wells of Mill Valley unless he paid $200.

Herrera Witness Sentence Shorter By Three Months

Joe Henderson, the Marin County jail inmate who testified that killer Joaquin Antonio Herrera told him he was trying to beat a murder charge by feigning insanity, won an early release from jail yesterday.

Judge Thomas F. Keating, acting on the recommendation of Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino, released Henderson from the remaining three months he had to serve on a one year sentence for cashing a bad check.

Testimony at Herrera's trial showed Henderson to have also secured for the district attorney a statement by accused rapist Jerry S. Borst of Novato.

Zunino, who prosecuted Herrera, said yesterday that he recommended Henderson's release because other prisoners were harassing him by keeping him awake at night and by having friends on the outside pour sugar in the gas tank of his car while he was out on work furlough.

Drath Coffee Today

Bank Permitted To Use Trailer

Sierra Natioinal Bank will be allowed to operate its Kentfield branch out of a temporary trailer at the northwest corner of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Terrace Avenue, County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill ruled yesterday.

He granted a variance for the trailer in a multiple family residential area, with the understanding that the variance will be reviewed at the end of the year.

The bank plans to build a new structure at the corner as soon as the widening of Sir Francis Drake is completed.

TODAY'S NEW LAMB

Impress a guest, delight your family with the delicately different flavor of the lamb you'll find in your market today. It's young and tender, the best lamb you ever tasted. And it costs no more than other meats!

Scandinavian Pre-Carved Lamb Shoulder Roast
(makes 4 to 6 servings)

¼ cup butter
1 pre-carved lamb shoulder
1½ cups stock or bouillon
¼ cup sifted, unbleached flour
¼ cup vinegar
⅓ cup chopped fresh dill (or 1 teaspoon dry dill weed)
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Fresh dill for garnish

Melt butter in Dutch oven or kettle; add pre-carved lamb shoulder and brown on all sides. Cover and cook slowly 3 hours or until tender, turning occasionally. Drain off drippings. Slowly stir stock or bouillon into flour; blend well. Add vinegar, dill, salt and pepper; mix well. Pour dill mixture over the pre-carved lamb shoulder. Cover and cook over low heat about 30 minutes. Arrange pre-carved lamb shoulder on serving platter; garnish with fresh dill, if available.

Fairfax, County Drop Deer Park Regional Proposal

Objections Over 'Outsiders,' Lack Of Access Kill Project

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Deer Park adjoining Fairfax will not be developed as a regional park.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors and Fairfax City Council killed the proposal after a three and one-half hour joint meeting last night in the Fairfax Women's Club.

The first board of supervisors' turndown, on a motion by Supervisor John F. McInnis, left the door open for reconsideration by Fairfax. But the city council closed the door by unanimous vote to oppose the development and hold no further discussion. The supervisors then voted to ask the county parks and recreation department for recommendation on use of the money elsewhere.

Present were all five councilmen, four of the five supervisors (William A. Gnoss was absent) and a large audience of Fairfax residents, predominantly from Porteous Avenue, which had been proposed as access route to the park.

The county had planned to spend $150,000, of which about half would be state park bond funds, on developing a 53-acre regional park on Marin Municipal Water District lands adjoining the City of Fairfax and embracing the Deer Park School site.

It was the matter of access via Porteous Avenue that killed the plan. It had previously brought a 4-1 turndown by the city council, and no vote was changed last night. After the supervisors' action, the lone holdout for the park, Councilan Adelaide P. Wilson, joined in voting to abandon further discussion.

There was much groping for compromise during the session. But, as McInnis and Supervisor Peter H. Behr pointed out, every suggestion for compromise involved leaving the park for purely local use with no increase in the number of visitors.

"You're trying to havs your cake and eat it too," McInnis told Fairfax residents.

"We're teasing everybody," said Behr. "Either we have access or we must put the park in another area of the county where the money could be spent with more good will on the part of the community."

As a parade of Deer Park residents walked to the microphone to oppose the development, council members inquired whether another access could be provided.

Pierre W. Joske, county parks and recreation director, said three alternatives had been considered. All three called for much road building through water district lands and would run the cost far beyond the $150,000 set aside, he said.

Most of the objections were directed specifically to routing more traffic via narrow, winding, sub-standard Porteous Avenue. And many of them included objections that developing the park would bring in "outisders."

Councilman Francis J. O'Connell, when the council vote on the proposal was finally called, commented: "Nobody except the park and recreation people of the city and county has come up actually in favor of it. . . . It's not only Porteous; it's people in the whole area. . . . My objection is you've got to get through the whole town to get to the park."

After the 4-1 council turndown, chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen of the board of supervisors said wishfully, "If we could possibly find a scaled-down park to be operated either by city or county or both — before we lose it. . . ."

This brought attempts, principally by Mayor Robert R. Souza and Councilman Frank J. Eggers, to find some formula for a smaller development which would still involve county funds — and would not create a traffic problem.

"I suggest you're on a very qestionable line if you're anticipating a joint venture with the county on the basis of a local park," said McInnis, pointing out that 10 other cities would then want the same thing. Supervisor Thomas T. Storer agreed.

Councilman Wilson, after several proposals died in discussion and voting, said there appeared to be no workable compromise. Mayor Sousa moved the city oppose the park with access road, finding "no alternative for further discussion." This passed by unanimous council vote.

The supervisors' vote to ask the parks and recreation department for recommendation on where else to use the money then passed 3-1, with Behr this time opposing.

Fairfax Takes No Stand On Tam Bond Proposition

The Fairfax City Council last night decided to take no action for or against the proposed Tamalpais High School District $10,900,000 bond issue, because of division of council opinion.

The matter came up preceding a joint meeting of city council and county board of supervisors last night on the Deer Park regional park proposal.

Council endorsement had been requested by the high school district.

Mayor Robert R. Souza agreed, but said he personally endorses the issue. Councilman Cornelis van Vliet put in that he is "against any bond issue unless the state comes up with real . relief for the property owner."

Waterfront Plan

The central waterfront plan will be the subject of a special meeting of the Sausalito City Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall. The planning commission will join the council in discussing the proposed plan for the downtown area, according to City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

LADY EXAMINER—Mrs. Nedra Bolton, one of the six women drivers license examiners in the state, explains test points to a young driver at the Corte Madera office of the Department of Motor Vehicles. The applicant was more disturbed by Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean's strobe flashes than by the woman examiner.

TESTS DRIVERS

Woman Joins Club Dominated By Men

By JOANNE GRANT

A woman who took a job in a once exclusively male domain recently is a little disappointed people aren't more surprised.

"They act like 'so?'," said Mrs. Nedra Bolton, one of the first six women drivers licence examiners in the state.

Mrs. Bolton of 177 Canal Street, San Rafael, has been stationed at the Corte Madera office of the state Department of Motor Vehicles since May, after she completed a month of intensive training in Oakland.

She gives driving tests and works in the registration department — wherever she is needed most.

Mrs. Bolton said both men and women have been courteous to her. "The public acceptance is a little amazing," she said.

The male examiners in the Corte Madera office have also accepted her well. "I couldn't ask for better treatment," she said.

No one has refused to have her as an examiner, she said, though the thought of it worried her at first. "I asked what I should do if soeone said no," she recalled. "They said 'then it's just no'," and she would have to get someone else.

People don't realize she is a rarity, Mrs. Bolton said. Most persons who take driving tests are either from out of state or are renewing their license and haven't been to the motor vehicle office in years, she explained.

Mrs. Bolton was not new to the business when she took the job. She had been with the department at Sacramento headquarters for 15 years. "I had a real head start," she said.

And her husband, N. J. Bolton, has been with the department for 20 years, most of that time as a drivers license examiner. He is now a driver improvement analyst in the Oakland office.

He didn't say much about her new job, Mrs. Bolton said.

Their son, Michael, an architectural major at the University of California at Berkeley, "thought it was great" she said.

Mrs. Bolton has learned a lot about drivers since she began giving exams. "It's a far cry from sitting in an office," she said.

"You can normally tell before you ever leave if a person is going to pass," she said.

And, if someone doesn't pass, he doesn't complain. "I think most people know immediately when they do something that's going to fail them," she said.

Mrs. Bolton has also found that teens are "really excellent drivers." She said they know the rules of the road and drive well, probably a result of driver training.

Most people are rather nervous, she reported. "You can tell by the way they act — they haven't got any saliva," she said.

California drivers license examiners — all men — have been testing since 1927, according to Verne Orr, director of the state department. The six women are on an experimental basis for now.

The reasoning ran that men had the necessary muscle to grab the steering wheel from a panicky applicant and that women examiners would encounter men who had other things on their minds besides proving they could drive, Orr said.

So far, Mrs. Bolton hasn't had a single close call.

And the men drivers? "I get the feeling they're more afraid of me than I am of them," she said.

Arrigoni Opposes Oil Well Drilling On Marin Shores

Supervisor-elect Peter R. Arrigoni has called on Marin County to "take a firm stand against commercial drilling for oil and gas in San Pablo Bay."

Arrigoni, who will join the board in January, wrote the board of supervisors:

"San Pablo Bay is a critical and necessary open space area. . . . The thought of 234 drilling platforms is beyond comprehension!"

Arrigoni also wrote the board to protest granting George Kappas a permit to place $1,100 cubic yards of fill in Richardson Bay.

"It is noted that the fill will be placed in an area which was previously filled to its present elevation without an approved permit," he wrote.

"To approve this current request would only compound the mess that has evolved in this area. This is a Kappas creation, and results are shockingly visible."

The supervisors yesterday approved the fill application, but said the width of the area to be filled in could not exceed 24 feet on the levee.

Truck's Occupant Denies Car Theft

Rex Ellis Barnett, 32, of no fixed address, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of car theft. Deputies reportedly found him Sunday on Mount Tamalpais, living in a truck stolen in San Francisco.

Preliminary hearing for Barnett was scheduled for Friday in Municipal Court.

Jury Trial Slated

William Paul Ferral, 20, of San Rafael and David P. Smith, 20, of San Anselmo, were told in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to appear Jan. 30 for a jury trial on charges they possessed alcohol and a device for smoking narcotics Sept. 15 in San Rafael.

Car-Truck Collision Hurts Santa Rosan

Dorothy Jane Irvin, 36, of Santa Rosa, was treated at Novato General Hospital yesterday for a back injury received in a car-truck collision on Highway 101 in Novato, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The highway patrol said Mrs. Irvin was almost stopped at 7:10 a.m. in heavy southbound traffic near the Olive Street crossing when her car was hit from the rear by a pickup truck driven by John Paul Muenzer, 76, of San Francisco.

Mill Valley Balks At Project 17 Plan

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The Mill Valley City Council, which last Wednesday appeared ready to exchange its Project 17 lands for an 11-acre Mill Valley School District site — the key to the district's "middle school" — early today balked at making the exchange.

Three of the councilmen were ready to sign the deed making the exchange, but, apparently hoping to pick up a fourth vote, gave in to Councilman George E. Wickham's request that the school officials first be asked if they could get along with 11 acres of city land now, with the remaining six to be deeded the district "as needed for joint recreational development with the city."

A special council meeting was set for 8 a.m. Friday in the City Hall to take another run at signing the deed, and City Mgr. Bert Balmer was asked to get an answer to Wickham's question.

During the 19 months that the city and district have been dickering over the joint prroject, the district consistently has maintained it needed all 17 acres to begin to meet state guidelines on the ratio of acreage to the number of students. The school is to have 1,200 students in sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

"I don't understand this eleventh-hour hemming and hawing," said Nan Hepp from the audience. Mrs. Hepp, an advocate of the school project, urged the council "to move ahead despite the bumps in the road.

"You can be assured that the citizens are watching the school trustees, and the council, and I am speaking for quite a few people," she said. She was the only person among the seven in the audience who spoke in favor of the exchange during the two-hour debate. No representatives of the school district were present.

The council's delay, however, was criticized this morning by the chairman of the school board, Joseph E. Bodovitz. The school district has been "proceeding in accordance with the agreement between the council and school board signed last April, and any delays in construction will be highly costly to the taxpayers," he told the Independent-Journal.

Wickham, noting the council's objections center around the inability of the district to spell out now just what recreational facilities it can afford to build, said "we need to put this on a basis that will stand up five, 10 and 100 years from now."

Mayor Dean N. Meyer and councilmen Rodric L. Robinson and Jerome C. Hauke were the three ready to vote to sign the deed, but each emphasized he was going to vote extremely reluctantly for the exchange.

"They're not committing themselves to anything," said Robinson of the school district, "and we're giving everything and receiving nothing in return."

Councilman Robert H. Andresen argued strongly against the exchange on the ground that the district had not honored its agreement to spell out recreational plans before the exchange was made. "I very much resent this council being cast in the role of the bad guy in this whole thing," he declared.

A member of the audience, Mercer Smith of 11 Sunrise Avenue, summed up the council's objections as "doing what you really feels is not right." Smith objected to the city's agreement to split the $40,000 cost of relocating the Community and Youth Center, arguing the cost should be paid from the district's $3.5 million bond measure passed June, 1967, to build the new school.

The council agreed that the deed exchange, if signed Friday, should include a provision that the Project 17 lands be returned to the city if the district cannot build the school for some unforeseen reason.

Hauke, however, commented that returning the land to the city would serve no useful purpose because the city cannot afford to develop the land anyway.

"Any attempt to hold up the project," he cautioned, "will lose us any good will that may exist between the two boards."

Council Issues Ultimatum To Developer Of Harbor

The Mill Valley City Council last night issued an ultimatum to the prospective developer of the city's harbor — sign a lease within four weeks, or the city will terminate negotiations with him.

The city and the developer, Paul B. Fischer of Los Angeles, have been negotiating for nearly three years, and Fischer has had a copy of the proposed lease since May without telling the city what he intends to do.

The council agreed with Councilman Robert H. Andresen's suggestion to have City Atty. Leland H. Jordan advise Fischer of the deadline "to show we mean business."

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

ENCHANTED KNOLLS — Deferred to Nov. 4 a proposed increase in density on the Enchanted Knolls ridgelands at the request of the developers and of a homeowners association. Also deferred to Nov. 4 was a proposal that some low cost housing be required in the development.

EMERGENCY POWER — Asked Balmer to study expansion of the emergency power system at City Hall, most of which was blacked out Monday night by a power failure.

BULKHEAD — Declared Ghilotti Brothers Inc. of San Rafael lowest of six bidders on a retaining wall at 397 Rose Avenue, with a bid of $6,769. City Eng. Stanley M. Bala had estimated the cost at $6,700.

NUISANCE — Ordered tearing down of a house at 329 Vista Linda Drive within three weeks unless the owner, American Savings and Loan Association, begins repairs of the house, severely damaged by a slide 20 months ago.

MINIBOARDS — Asked interested persons to submit their names for appointment to a regional "miniboard" proposed by the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

GOLF PRO — Signed an agreement with golf pro Malcolm Brown paying him $500 a month.

ALMONTE — Signed an agreement with the Almonte-Sanitary District to base the cost of trunk line maintenance and operation on the area served.

Petaluma Joint Talk Set On Park Plans

The Petaluma Planning Commission will discuss parks and school planning at 7:30 p.m. today at city hall.

Participating will be the Petaluma Parks and Recreation Commission and Petaluma School district, Old Adobe School District and Cinnabar School District officials.

Two Watches Gone

Mrs. Reitta Rosenblum reported to Sausalito police that two watches worth $250 were stolen from her home at 15 Atwood Avenue between 2:30 to 5:45 p.m. yesterday. The thief entered by breaking a rear kitchen window.

Supervisors Decide On Kappas Levees

Kappas Yacht Harbor levees, extending into Richardson Bay, may be raised by fill to keep out high tides, but the filling must not be wider than 24 feet, the Marin County Board of Supervisors decided yesterday.

The 24-foot limitation was recommended by the Richardson Bay Fill Committee, composed of the county public works director, county counsel and the planning director.

George Kappas, who won a court ruling on Aug. 6, allowing him to "maintain existing facilities," wanted to add fill to a width of up to 50 feet in some locations.

Attorney E. L. Regalia, representing Kappas, and Mrs. Helen Woolf, Kappas' daughter, argued that the 24 feet would be too narrow to permit tenants to park or turn their cars around.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr moved for approval of the fill with a width limit of 24 feet. Supervisor Thomas T. Storer seconded the motion, which passed unanimously.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

AIRPORT RENTAL — Approved the rental of office space for the county airport manager from Marin Aviation Inc. for $100 per month at Gnoss Field.

BRIDGE — Endorsed a resolution of the Redwood Empire Association, asking that the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and its assets be kept intact so that bridge funds can be used to help solve Marin-San Francisco transportation needs.

HALL OF JUSTICE — Awarded a $32,330 contract to Floortrends Inc. of San Francisco to provide carpeting in the court area, and a $25,816 contract to Heywood Wakefield of Michigan to provide 587 courtroom seats.

PROPOSITION 9 — Asked Administrator Alan Bruce to place on a future agenda discussion of Proposition 9 and 1-A, two November election proposals for property tax relief.

SCHOOL BOND — Authorized the sale of $15,000 worth of Lagunitas School bonds to Bank of America at a 4.9 per cent interest.

PATROL RADIO — Approved an $800 outlay to install radio equipment in the patrol car of a newly authorized resident deputy in West Marin.

HOUSEBOATS — Asked for weekly staff reports on the progress of health and building code enforcement at houseboats in Richardson Bay.

FAIR — Asked Marcelle B. McCoy, manager of the Marin Art and Garden Fair, for a report in six weeks on facilities needed for transfer of the fair to the Civic Center in 1970. Mrs. McCoy asked for tree planting on the Civic Center grounds.

AUCTION — Learned that Saturday's auction of county equipment netted $13,000 for the county's vehicle and road equipment payment reserve.

APPOINTMENT — Learned of the appointment of Cliff Den-Otter to replace James A. Holmes on the San Rafael Meadows Flood Control Zone Advisory Board.

YOUTH CORPS — Learned the U.S. Department of Labor has approved extension of the in-school phase of the Neighborhood Youth Corps, allowing young persons to work 12 hours per week while continuing their education. The board approved $9,220 as its share of the $33,950 project.

RAILROAD — Asked the California Public Utilities Commission to intervene before the Interstate Commerce Commission in opposition to the application by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad to abandon its Sausalito branch. The Marin County Transit District, representatives of four cities and affected shippers also have opposed the abandonment.

HEALTH — Named Frank E. Kirby as an administrative analyst in the public health department at $809 monthly.

BOLINAS — Set a hearing for 9 a.m. Nov. 5 on dissolution of the Bolinas Harbor District.

WEST MARIN — Set a hearing for Oct. 22 on extension of the interim West Marin ordinance to allow continued master planning and creation of zoning restrictions.

Dominican Displays Alumni Art Works

The works of six former Dominican College students are on display now through Oct. 28 in San Marco Gallery on the college's San Rafael campus, according to college officials. Hours for the exhibit are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

The show includes paintings, etchings, prints and ceramics by Sallee Stewart Field, Eugenia Gabel, Emily Burns Guttman, Sister Mary Joanne, Elizabeth Stetson and Cecile Grandjean Volin.

At a point near New Orleans, the Mississippi River reaches a depth of 214 feet.

21-Year-Old Ordered To Find A Job

The young man, a hippie-type living on Gate 5 Road, Sausalito, will be paid general relief at the rate of $38 a week until he obtains his first pay check, the supervisors said.

The young man's identity was withheld by the county public social services (welfare) department in accordance with its practice to spare embarrassment to welfare recipients.

William Pryor, a work training counselor in the social services department, told supervisors that the young man "has an aversion to working every day to support himself, but he does believe he can support himself with part-time work."

There were guffaws from the audience, but Supervisor Peter H. Behr said it was all right with him if the young man believed he could live on part-time work.

Supervisor John F. McInnis said the supervisors, who hold the power to grant general relief, would be doing the applicant a "terrible disfavor" if he were granted welfare without instructions to obtain work.

School Night

A "meet the teacher" night for the middle primary grades will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. today at Old Mill School in Mill Valley. The fall program will be outlined by principal David Erskine in the auditorium and an open house in the individual classrooms will follow.

Marin To Share Costs Of Drake Boulevard Sidewalk

The county will pay 26 per cent of the anticipated $23,500 cost of making Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae safer for pedestrians, a majority of supervisors decided yesterday.

Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Supervisor Thomas T. Storer described the heavily-traveled Drake as a county thoroughfare of "extraordinary concern" and were willing to have the county share half the cost. But Supervisors Peter H. Behr, and William A. Gnoss and John F. McInnis held out for a 26 per cent share.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost presented three plans to make Drake Boulevard safer between Eliseo Drive and Wolfe Grade: improvements within Greenbrae itself at a cost of $20,000 so that residents would not walk along Drake Boulevard; walkway improvements along Drake at a cost of $23,500, and walkway improvements on Drake with a wider separation from the road at a cost of $51,750.

Frost insisted that improvements within Greenbrae itself would be the wisest because this would discourage pedestrians on Drake.

Attorney William G. Fleckles, representing residents of Greenbrae, insisted that a safer pedestrian walkway be provided along Drake. He warned that the county would be exposed to damage liability if the condition is not corrected.

Supervisors finally agreed on plan 2, calling for a sidewalk along Drake between Eliseo Drive and the large retaining wall between El Portal and Bon Air Road; a walk protected by a chain link fence behind the retaining wall, and a raised sidewalk from the retaining wall to the pedestrian ramp near the end of Almenar Drive.

Astronaut Aid Treaty Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A treaty providing for rescue and return of astronauts and their spacecraft downed on foreign soil by accident or emergency has been unanimously approved by the Senate.

The 66-0 approval yesterday came just three days before the first orbital flight in the Apollo moonshot program, an 11-day earth orbit by three astronauts in Apollo 7 to begin Friday.

Russia earlier had ratified the treaty which was approved by the United Nations General Assembly last December and signed by 75 nations.

Elevators For BART Stations Recommended

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Bay Area Rapid Transit District's engineering committee is recommending elevators for all its stations.

The action yesterday was a step toward complying with a state law which effective Nov. 13 which calls for elevators, or suitable substitutes, to serve the handicapped in all public buildings.

Including elevators would cost BART about $7 million in addition to its present $143 million deficit.

Harring Lang, BART board member, told the Alameda County Board of Supervisors in Oakland, meanwhile, that he and other officials expect to meet with Gov. Ronald Reagan about the deficit within a week.

Corte Madera Firemen Ready Annual Dance

The 14th annual Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department ball will be held from 9 p.m. Saturday to 1 a.m. at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Awarded Bronze Star

Bronze Star For Service In Vietnam

T/Sgt. Danny K. Dunlap, now assigned to the 1902nd Comminications Squadrom at Hamilton Air Force Base, has been awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in Vietnam.

Sergeant Dunlap who lives at 348 Sunset Parkway, Novato, won the award while assigned to the 1880th Communications Squadron at Binh Thuy Air Base.

His citation read in part: "From Aug. 5, 1967 to June 5, 1968, while exposed to hostile fire, Sergeant Dunlap's outstanding professional skill, knowledge, initiative and leadership contributed immeasurably to the operational effectiveness of air traffic control facilities used for control of tactical aircraft operating in active missions against an opposing armed forces in the Mekong Delta. The exemplary leadership, personal endeavor and devotion to duty displayed by Sergeant Dunlap in this responsible position reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

He is married to the former Margaret R. Mitchell of Coalburn, Scotland. The have one son, Kevin, 6.

Homeowners To Join In Novato Cleanup Drive

The Loma Verde Homeowners Association voted Monday to cooperate with the City of Novato in its cleanup campaign, according to publicity chairman Mrs. John Tindell.

Association members will clean up Ignacio Boulevard in the campaign this Saturday and Sunday, and Oct. 19 and 20.

The association also voted to sponsor the annual Halloween costume parade and contest at the Loma Verde School, she said.

The $31 left from the preschool program last summer will be used toward the Lois Curtin tot lot which the association is constructing, she said. Contractor Lawrence Thomas has agreed to donate grading for the park which is being constructed on land owned by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints on Calle Arboleda, according to Mrs. Tindell.

Marijuana Denied

Jesse Earl Boykin, 19, of Richmond, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court Monday to a charge that he possessed marijuana in Novato April 8. Preliminary hearing was scheduled for Nov. 4 in Municipal Court.

Will California Have Wide-Open Primaries?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — By the time the 1972 scramble for the White House gets under way, California may have a "free-for-all" presidential primary similar to Oregon's.

A bill to establish such a primary narrowly failed to make the law books this year — because of Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan's veto. But the measure's author promises to keep trying.

Gray-haired State Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, a Democrat from San Jose, said in an interview he believes the bill will pass again next year and Reagan will sign it.

WOULDN'T DARE

"I'm sure he would do so reluctantly. But I'm hoping I can generate enough pressure on him that he wouldn't dare veto it again," Alquist said.

If it happens, and if the national convention system remains basically unchanged, the California primary would gain in importance and Oregon's probably would lose some of the national interest it now enjoys. By 1972, California likely will be sending the nation's largest delegations to the conventions.

Currently, the Oregon primary in late May is the next-to-last before the conventions and California's and South Dakota's are the final ones.

NEITHER ON BALLOT

This year, neither of the ultimate nominees—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon—appeared on the California presidential primary ballot.

Reagan's favorite son candidacy froze out other Republican contenders under the banner of party unity.

Humphrey's California advisers told the vice president that an attempt to win California, where the campaigns of Democratic Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy already were well under way, would risk monumental embarrassment.

Alquist called it "a ridiculous situation."

"The nominee of neither party was on our California ballot. We had no opportunity to vote for either one of them."

REAGAN'S REASONS

When he vetoed Alquist's bill in June, Reagan said an Oregon-type primary "would place prominent political figures in awkward positions.

"The proposed new method forces a man to accept the alternatives of either raising money and campaigning against his will or accepting political defeat."

Alquist replied, "Any candidate for president already has made his decision. The fact he doesn't want to run in a state where he doesn't think he will do well is beside the point.

"The people have a right to determine this decision," Alquist said.

As in Oregon, Alquist's primary would require the secretary of state to put all publicly recognized candidates for president on the primary ballot. They could withdraw by signing a statement that they were not candidates.

CONVENTION CHOICE

The winner, if he got at least 40 per cent of his party's vote, would pick convention delegates early in July. The delegation would be pledged to him for at least two convention ballots, until he released the delegation or until the candidate received less than 35 per cent of the vote on a subsequent ballot.

SEN. ALFRED ALQUIST
Situation 'ridiculous'

If no candidate got 40 per cent of the vote, the state party convention would choose an unpledged delegation.

PRESENT SYSTEM

The present system for making the California primary ballot: a steering committee organizes a proposed slate of delegates — either pledged or unpledged — then gathers petition signatures to make the ballot.

A delegation cannot go on the ballot pledged to a candidate unless the candidate consents.

Rallying behind Reagan, Republicans in the Legislature helped defeat Alquist's primary bill in 1967, when Reagan was beginning to organize his favorite son candidacy. The governor said one of his intentions was to keep out other contenders and thus avoid the type of intraparty fight that split Republicans in 1964 when New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Barry Goldwater battled for California votes.

1968 DIFFERENT

This year, Republicans felt no such commitment to Reagan since the bill couldn't have applied to the 1968 election.

In September, Alquist tried to muster the two-thirds margin required in each house to override Reagan's veto, but failed. He did get 23 votes in the Senate, just four shy of the required two-thirds, as close as the Senate has come to voting to override a Reagan veto.

Democrats and Republicans share a 20-20 split in the Senate. Democrats control the Assembly 43-38.

Reagan said, "The proposed legislation will tend to divide and splinter our major political parties. The strong, stable two-party system we have developed in our country is one of the cornerstones of American democracy. Legislation that weakens this system should be avoided."

But a statewide poll showed early this year that many California Republicans were unhappy they had no choice in the Republican primary.

Alquist commented, "Reagan would have been in a much stronger position if he had competition here and he had won a contested primary — which I'm sure he would have done — and gone to Miami with a much stronger hand than he did."

Reagan went to the GOP convention in Miami Beach as a technical noncandidate, then made an unsuccessful bid for the nomination.

Junior Horsemen Playday Sunday In Novato Arena

An open playday will be held starting at 10 a.m. Sunday by the Novato Junior Horsemen's Association at the horsemen's arena on Bugeia Lane in Novato, according to Mr. and Mrs. James Kimbell, advisors to the junior club.

There will be trophies for high point seniors of 18 years of age and over; juniors 18 to 10 years of age and pee wee under 10 years of age. There is an entry fee.

Events in the competition include: keyhole, pole bending, peewee pole bending, barrel race, novelty barrel race, quadrangle stake race, pickup race, two-man relay and ribbon race, according to the Kimbells.

There is no admission charge and refreshments will be available.

$500,000 Is Sought In GI's Death

Parents of a 19-year-old Novato soldier, killed last Dec. 22, by a shot from the gun of a San Francisco policeman who was struggling with another youth, have filed suit against the City of San Francisco for $500,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Smiley of 833 Wilmac Avenue, Novato, have asked the sum of money plus court costs for "wrongful" death to their son, SP/4 Harry James Smiley and have named Officer Norbert Gutierrez as negligent.

Gutierrez, a member of the San Francisco Tactical Squad, was responsible for Smiley's death because he and Officer B. John McKay, approached Smiley and two companions with drawn guns, according to Attorney Lois Prentice of San Francisco, representing the Smileys.

Charged with involuntary manslaughter in the case is Floyd Richard, 28, who, police officers say, was struggling with Gutierrez when his gun went off, killing Smiley.

Officers testified at a coroner's inquest that Richard threw away a marijuana cigarette and a matchbox, containing marijuana when Officer Gutierrez questioned him.

Police further testified that they had stopped Richard, Smiley and a third man, Herbert J. Fraser, 26, of San Francisco for questioning after Smiley had approached the other two. The officers said they suspected a sale of marijuana was taking place.

Tiburon Cocktail Fete To Aid Wornum

A public cocktail party to promote the candidacy of Michael Wornum for Marin Coguntу supervisor in the Third District will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parnell, 8 Felipa Court, Tiburon.

Mrs. Parnell, former Tiburon city councilman, supported Margaret Azevedo during the primary election.

Children's Drama School Approved

A use permit to conduct a children's school of drama and dance from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays at 176 Tunstead Avenue was granted Tuesday night by the San Anselmo Planning Commission.

Applicants were Joanne Coffrini, Rose Marie Codoni and Gerrie Kreeiger.

The commission unanimously denied the application by David Lavelle to rezone property at 29 Magnolia Avenue from central business to neighborhood apartment because, commissioners said, the change would be inconsistent with the city's master plan.

Dishes From A New Cookbook

Everything from hors d'oeuvres to dessert will be featured in a cookbook being prepared for the Greenbrae Relief Society's bazaar.

The society, which is affiliated with the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints, will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Greenbrae church.

An unusual feature of the cookbooks is the wooden covers being made by the women of the church. The covers are made of redwood, which the women have cut, stained and sealed.

The next step is to put the design on the cover, which is done in a five step silk screening process. The result is a brightly colored cover with corresponding color index pages.

In the meantime, the recipes are being printed, on one side of the page only, allowing space for notes and additional recipes. When the printing is finished the books will be laced together with leather strips, which can be removed so additional recipes can be added to the book.

In addition to the "Greenbrae Gourmet" cookbooks, the women will sell handmade wreaths, linens, decorated boxes, sewing kits, quilts, knitted booties, aprons, bulletin boards, wooden fruit plaques and Christmas stockings at the bazaar. They will also have works of art, numerous homemade foods and a special feature, quiet books, for sale.

The recipes in the cookbook are all favorites of the members of the Greenbrae Relief Society.

HERB BREAD

Soften 2 yeast cakes in ½ cup lukewarm water.

Pour 1¼ cup scalded milk over 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt and ½ cup shortening.

Beat in 2½ cups flour and 2 beaten eggs. Stir in softened yeast, also:

¼ teaspoon sage
½ teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon celery salt
½ cup grated Tillamook cheese
1½ cup rolled oats.

Add enough more flour (4½ to 5 cups in all) to make stiff dough. Turn on lightly floured board and knead smooth and satiny, about 10 minutes. Round into a ball, place in greased bowl and let rise in a warm place until double in size (about an hour). Punch dough down, cover and let rest 10 minutes. Place in two 8 inch greased pans. Brush lightly with melted shortening and sprinkle with caraway seeds. Cover, let rise double in bulk. Bake 375° about 35 minutes.

HALLOWEEN POPCORN BALLS

3 tablespoons of butter
3 cups of small marshmallows (or 36 large ones)
½ teaspoon of orange coloring
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 drop of peppermint flavoring
4 cups of popcorn popped

In a large sauce pan melt butter and marshmallows on low heat. Stir constantly. Then add coloring and flavoring. Stir in popcorn, butter hands, then shape into ball, place on waxpaper.

GUACAMOLE DIP

Blend:

5 avocados

2 tomatoes

1 small onion

Juice of 1 lemon

Part of one green chili cut up
Salt and pepper to taste
Serve with crackers or tortilla chips.

FRUIT DIP

2 tablespoons apricot jam
1 cup sour cream
¼ cup flaked coconut
½ cup chopped walnuts

Mix well, let stand in refrigerator to meld flavors.

Serve with fruit to dip into this mixture. (Bananas, pineapple, or melon balls.)

WATERCRESS ROLL UPS

Remove crusts from sandwich loaf and slice thin. Spread pimiento cheese spread, then mayonnaise. Sprinkle with chopped watercress. Roll. Anchor with toothpick. To serve, remove picks and tuck sprigs of watercress in ends of sandwiches.

PARTY TORTE

Bring 8 egg whites to room temperature.
Add 1½ teaspoon vanilla and 1 teaspoon vinegar and beat until mixture forms peaks.
Add 2 cups sifted sugar (a tablespoon at a time)
Beat until mixture is stiff and all the sugar is dissolved.

Spread mixture gently into 2 nine-inch cake pans. (Line the pans with brown paper).

Bake in slow oven — 300° or less for an hour. Cool well in pans. Meringues will be delicately crusted on the outside, tender and a little moist inside.

Turn onto serving plate. Fold 1 cup crushed pineapple drained, and ¾ cup maraschino cherries drained and cut into quarters into 2 cups heavy cream whipped. Spread mixture generously over the meringue.

Top with second meringue. Frost with the rest of the whipped cream. Chill for 12 hours. Garnish with more cherries.

Pear, Blue Cheese Classic In A Different Salad Dish

Everyone's certain to like this quick and easy fruit salad. It's a new way to serve that classic dessert combination, fresh Bartlett pears and Danish blue cheese.

You toss the pears (sliced, of course) with crumbled cheese, onion rings, shredded lettuce, diced cucumber and rye croutons. Then you make a simple oil and vinegar dressing with a pinch of garlic powder, pour this over the salad and toss again.

The salad would be ideal with barbecued chicken.

PEAR SALAD DAMSK

3 fresh California Bartlett pears
1 small onion
1½ quarts shredded lettuce
1 cup diced cucumber
1 cup rye croutons
3 tablespoons crumbled Danish Blue Cheese
⅜ tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Pinch garlic powder

Halve and core pears; cut into slices. Slice onion crosswise; separate into rings. Place pears, onion, lettuce, cucumber, croutons and th cheese in salad bowl. Combine all remaining ingredients in jar with cover; shake well to blend. Pour over salad mixture; toss lightly and serve at once.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Flank Steak Is Dieter's Answer

For diet-conscious people who also happen to like the taste of steak, try beef kabobs for a delicious main course. Cut round steak into cubes, place on a skewer with onions, green pepper pieces, and mushrooms. Round steak has very little waste and is considered an economical cut. Because it has little fat it is perfect for dieters. Top round steak can be broiled and still be relatively tender if you buy the top grades — prime

Fragrant homemade raisin bread makes the breakfast scene. You can quickly stir it up while fixing dinner and bake it when the oven's free.

In fact, it's almost a complete breakfast, since it is made with a generous amount of seedless raisins, whole wheat flour and eggs. Bake it in empty No. 2½ cans and it will cut into toaster size slices.

Would-be teen-age breakfast skippers love it since it is just the right size to pop into the toaster and spread with peanut butter when it comes out.

RAISIN BREAD IN THE ROUND

1½ cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon soda
1½ cups graham flour
1 cup seedless raisins
1 egg
½ cup brown sugar (packed)
1½ cups buttermilk
¼ cup melted shortening

Resift flour with baking powder, salt and soda. Add graham flour and raisins. Beat eggs with brown sugar. Add buttermilk and shortening. Stir in dry mixture, mixing just enough to moisten flour. Spoon into 2 greased No. 2½ cans.* Bake in moderate over (350 degrees F.) 45 to 50 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes, then turn out onto cooling rack. Makes 2 round loaves. *Or spoon into greased 9½x5x3 inch loaf pan. Bake as above.

IN EAST AFRICA

Mombasa—City Of Mixtures

Second of a series on a return trip to East Africa.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Pop!

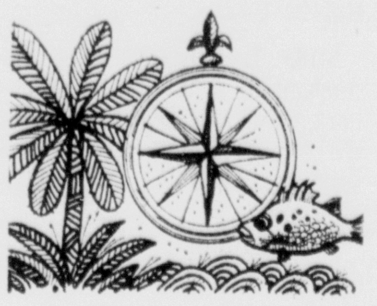
Rich laughter greeted the near-miss as the dart punctured the cork target and another dark arm cocked to throw at the dart board. A British pub game — but that's nearly all that's left as the traces of white colonialism fade from a formerly British-run hotel near Mombasa. Now it's Indian owned and caters largely to Africans.

The small knot of young men and a few women nudged each other in glee as they scored the barrage on the dart board and ordered another quart of the Kenya-brewed Tusker beer. Motown sounds and Swahili pop music bounced from the jukebox, setting shoulders to swaying. Outside a warm tropical deluge poured down, carpeting the ground with splashing water.

The dart board, the hotels' custom of tea and the signs "Club—members only" are among the few visible reminders of the former "boy—sahib" colonial life on the Kenya coast. Less tangible colonial vestiges, though muted, are entertained in the heads of the few Europeans who still have permanent homes in East Africa. Often recalling the past, they are dubious about their futures, admitting sadly that someday they may have to leave their beloved Kenya to live in Canada, South Africa or Australia, as their farms and businesses are bought out and Africanized.

THE HISTORY OF a region is written in its people, and white faces are few in the busy streets of Mombasa, where a mixture of Asians, Arabs and Africans mingle during the business day. Porters move crates containing the bounty of East African produce—wheat, maize, coffee and tea, fruits and cotton—in and out of the seaport's warehouses, called go-downs, readying it to be loaded into the holds of ships anchored in the channel. Columns of smoke in the otherwise clean air mark factories near the city which produce cement, containers, tires and other products. Freight is unloaded in the form of coffee picked from the slopes of Mt. Kilimanjaro and Kenya and Uganda's beautiful hill country, coming off the railroad built along the old caravan routes that once brought slaves from inland to Mombasa to be sent by Arab traders to Persia, Arabia, Egypt or to the coast to work the clove plantations. The British built the railroad from Mombasa to Lake Victoria in 1895 to assist in suppression of the slave trade and give access to the navigable lake and headwaters of the Victoria Nile.

Laborers from India were brought over to construct the railroad which rises from sea level to 3,000 feet before dropping to the 3,700 foot high lake, and it is their descendants who make up the part of the large Indian population of East Africa. Now tradesmen and artisans, many of the Indians live in teeming compounds along Mombasa's streets, and the women can be seen hanging from the balconies of their two and three story concrete apartments watching their men play cards in the doorways by lantern light at dusk while the pungence of curries emanates from cooking pots in the dark interior. The crowding of the many contrasts with the well-to-do-Indians' homes surrounded by well-kept gardens in the tree-lined suburban streets. Today Indian merchants are among the wealthiest East Africans.



Both Indians and Arabs were regular traders to the East African coast for centuries, and the Hindus were the first to use the monsoon winds to steer their ships laden with coconut, wheat, rice, cotton cloth, sugar and ghee to East Africa. The Hindus came to trade and stayed, some exploring and charting the interior as well. And they shipped spices, incense and ivory home to India.

BUT THE ARABS, who sailed their dhows in lively trade, have had the most permanent influence on the Kenya and Tanzania coast, as the myriad dark women in Moslem black veils on today's city streets attest. While the religion of Islam is found throughout East Africa, the coast is a stronghold of Moslem society. Throughout the Arab business section Moslems garbed in robes and caps squat at their shop fronts having afternoon coffee, filling tiny cups with thick dark brew from conical brass samovars set on the sidewalks. And while black-robed barefoot women perform their daily housework among the shambles of tin-roofed single-story houses separated by narrow dirt alleys, it is strange to realize that it was the Arabs who first built stone houses in place of mud and straw African huts.

The veiled Moslem women—black Africans, Arabs or mixtures—mingle on the streets with sari-clad Indians as they do their daily marketing at open stands and small all-purpose dukas along the streets. Each shop is marked with the name of the owner along side a heavy, richly carved door which is slid across the shop at closing time. In the shallow darkness inside, shoppers examine the goods which line three walls to the ceiling and are reached eagerly by the owner and his family scurrying up ladders.

Outside, motorscooters and bicycles carrying purchases and produce clog the streets. Mombasa, the commercial port city, is as lively as any in East Africa. Built on an island, it draws a colorful stream of people into it by bridge and barge ferry from the green farming environs.

THE OPEN AIR African market at the city center is a blazing circus of pots and pans, plastic shoes and clothing, wood furniture and utensils all stacked on wooden tables several hundred feet long and covered on top with corrugated iron roofing to ward off sudden squalls.

You watch as a proprietor and two men seriously discuss merits and price of a white cotton bra being tried on by a woman over her brilliant yellow and green garments. The tiny dark face of the baby tied on her back eyes the whole with a polished brass plate batch of bras dangling from a wooden post like some strange white fruit on a dead tree. More talk, but no sale.

Across the dirt aisle vast piles of printed cotton yardage dazzle the eyes with their bright hot pinks, banana greens, deep earth reds, and blues. The rectangular pieces are stamped in a wild variety of designs, from the bold "African" to more subtle paisley, and form the wardrobe of nearly every African woman in Kenya, who wears one wrapped around as a dress, another as a shawl which holds the newest baby firmly on the back, and a smaller contrasting piece wound around the head. Each is of differing hue and pattern, creating a sumptuous feast of color against the deep brown skin as the owner walks with a stately air, balancing purchases unsteadied on her head.

"MOMBASA IS JUST a hot, commercial, not too attractive place," a Kenyan told us later while we sat having tea on the club veranda above the blue-water channel and crows cleaned up the biscuit crumbs.

But to the visitor the 2,000-year history of the coast is written here in the Arabic signs, the spicy air, the hooting of the ships' horns, the bare black feet of the chai-man bringing hot milk in a silvered pitcher for tea, and the monsoon winds moving a dhow out on the horizon.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Southern Marinites Staying On The Move

By MOLLY MARIN

The charm of ancient things, friendliness of the people and cleanliness of the countries they visited were highlights of the European trip the J. Paul Hurds of Mill Valley began on Aug. 31.

They flew to London, then bought an automobile in Hanover and drove 2,600 miles through Central Europe visiting Germany, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Luxemburg, Belgium and Holland. At Bremen they had the car shipped to this country and flew to Paris for three days before coming home.

Of special interest to Mrs. Hurd, who is noted for her floral arranging talents, was taking a cog train from Interlachen into the Alps to visit a wild flower garden containing 500 varieties.

In Heidelberg the Hurds joined the John R. Georges of Mill Valley and took a trip with them up the Neckar River in Germany and attended the annual wine and sausage festival at Baddurkheim.

BEING EXTENSIVELY entertained are the William B. MacLanes, who have sold their home in Mill Valley and will be moving to Portland, Ore., next week.

Mrs. MacLane is a retired Mill Valley school teacher, and Mr. MacLane is a musician and artist. His daughter, Mrs. George Kahler Jr., also lives in Mill Valley.

Musical evenings honoring the MacLanes are being planned for tonight by Mrs. Robert L. Schultz at the Schultzes' home in Mill Valley and for Saturday at their home in Larkspur by the Peter Altmanns; Sunday the Vernon Rowns of Corte Madera will be hosts at a dinner party for the MacLanes.

The couple were guests for dinner Saturday at the Mill Valley home of the Leonard Downings, and Sunday a farewell family dinner was given by Mr. MacLane's son, Alan MacLane, in Lafayette.

A reception will be held for the MacLanes Sunday following the 11 a.m. service at the Mill Valley Community Church.

LAILA FECKAY Sargis of Mill Valley has recently returned after a six week trip to the Middle East. She visited Lebanon, Syria, Egypt, Jordan and Saudi Arabia. She visited members of the Feckay family in Lebanon. A founder of the recently orgaized Action Committee on American-Arab Relations in the Bay Area, Mrs. Sargis contacted people of all walks of life during her trip. She said she was constantly impressed by the warm-hearted hospitality she encountered throughout the Islamic world.

MR. AND MRS. Edgar M. Giles of Fairfax recently sailed from San Francisco aboard the liner, SS President Roosevelt, for a two week's trip to Honolulu.

MR. AND MRS. Donald Marek of Incline Village, Nev., formerly of Lucas Valley, became parents for the fifth time. The baby, Donald Harper Marek, was born Sept. 10. He is the brother of Randy, Jeff, Jennifer and Allison.

HOME IN Sausalito after a year in London are Mrs. Robert M. Rosenberg and the Rosenbergs' three children Robin, 10, Terry Lynn, 9, and Kenneth, 8. House guest of the Rosenbergs is Mr. Rosenberg's mother, Mrs. Michael Rosenberg of Chicago, Ill.

Bicycle Registration Set For Kentfield Youngsters

Bicycle registration at Adaline Kent School in Kentfield will be held on Friday from 3 to 5 p.m. and Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. A fee of $1 covers a two year period and entitles each owner to a duplicate form, an owner's card, basic safety rules and instructions on reporting a missing or found bicycle.

Students at Wolfe Grade School in Kentfield will register their bicycles on Oct. 18 from 3:05 to 5 p.m. and on Oct. 19 from 10 to 1 p.m.

The Peter Pan Chapter of Children's Home Society, maintains a current file and a 24 hour answering service is available to all local police departments with a view to establishing a central identification station and a clearing house for missing registered bicycles. For proper registration each bicycle must be brought, since all are listed by frame number, color, make and size.

Country Look Fascinates Male

The country look continues to fascinate the American male, no matter what part of the country, or city, he lives in.

The features which characterize this look are a preference for brown and other earth tones; husky fabrics, especially tweeds; and strong pattern, with emphasis on windowpane checks. Special tailoring details include leather buttons, buttoned flap pockets, bi-swing and belted backs, front and back yokes, lapel tabs. The September issue of "Gentlemen's Quarterly" says so and shows it in pictures.

The magazine's fashion seers feel this country squire look will find its way into many offices—if the boss isn't dead set against it.

Nurse First To Win Combat Decoration

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A Stockton, Air Force nurse is the first women to receive a combat decoration in the Vietnam war.

Lt. Jane A. Lombardi, 25, was honored Monday for showing "extraordinary and outstanding professional skill and personal calm" while helping to evacuate wounded from the base hospital at Da Nang while under heavy fire last Jan. 30.

She received the Bronze Star, the Air Medal and the Commendation Medal from General Bruce K. Holloway, commander in-chief of the Strategic Air Command.

Lt. Lombardi and other medical personnel helped remove 38 wounded troops, 26 of them unable to walk, to a hospital plane.

"They like to hit the wounded and the medics," she said. "It's their favorite target."

The lieutenant was assigned to Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha last April after serving 18 months as an air evacuation nurse.

Middle Age

Time appears to be a good remedy for middle aged depression, Swiss psychiatrists say. Among 555 patients hospitalized at least once for depressive disorders before age 65, some 80 per cent were either entirely recovered or only mildly depressed on re-examination after age 65, Medical Tribune reports.

School Buses Leased To Ease Pupil Jam-Up

Charles L. Condrotte, business manager, reported that San Rafael City Schools is now operating 19 buses over 49 different runs twice daily for a total of 98 trips transporting 2,300 students each day.

As a result, some of the students, including educable mentally retarded, must ride as long as 90 minutes, he reported. Some students arrive at school as much as an hour and a quarter before their class time, and some wait as long as 30 minutes before boarding a bus after school, Condrotte noted.

Board members authorized a contract with Martinez Bus Lines Inc. of Contra Costa County, to furnish the two buses at a cost of $24 each per day for four months, with the contract renewable until the end of the school year. The four-month cost was estimated at about $4,000, reimbursable by state funds.

Condrotte noted that the district had a additional busing load this year because it is operating its own program for educable mentally pupils. Previously Marin County conducted the program and furnished the transportation. Supt. John F. Plank noted that the educable mentally retarded program was more expensive to the district under the county program "even with the additional costs" for buses.

Condrotte also reported there was an additional busing load this year because of the busing of students from the Terra Linda High School area to San Rafael High School.

Board members urged administrators to seek changes in bus scheduling so that students won't have long waits before and after their school day.

Condrotte said the board also faces the long range problem of replacing five buses that are 15 to 16 years old, and considered by the California Highway Patrol as no longer serviceable.

Board Member John C. Pfeiffer suggested that administrators check with Greyhound Bus Co. to see it if will provide school busing under contract.

At the close of their session, board members reviewed preliminary plans for a new six-classroom building at the Short School site to replace the old building, which did not meet the state's earthquake-resistant standards.

Architect Chester Bowles Jr. of Marshall and Bowles of San Francisco, displayed the plans which would accommodate an open space concept suitable for non-graded classes.

Bowles said the open space also could be closed off to provide the traditional, separate rooms.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

PROPOSITION 9 — Received notice that a debate on Proposition 9 will be held at Olney Hall, College of Marin, at 8 p.m., Oct. 24 with Jeremy Ets-Hokin, San Francisco businessman, for the proposition, and M. O. Hill of San Rafael, an oil company executive, opposing it.

DELEGATES — Vcted for Dorothy C. Brown of the Dixie School District Board, Lauress Wise of the Redwood City School District, David Carr of the Burlingame School District, and William Jow of the San Mateo City School District as delegates to California School Boards Association from Region 5.

EVALUATION — Postponed until Oct. 22 first hearing on revision of board policies regarding teacher evaluation, after Mrs. Alice B. Gately, president of the San Rafael Teachers Association, requested more time for teachers to evaluate the proposed revisions.

HIRING — Approved the hiring of Ada Fitzsimmons, teacher, social studies, high school district at $9,683 a year; Mrs. Margaret McConnell, cooperative nursery school teacher, $2,400 a year; Mrs. Virginia Cochran, shorthand teacher, adult education, $6.50 per hour; and Mrs. LeDean Varner, bus driver, $2,013 a year.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Gail Pepper, first grade teacher, MacPhail School, and Phyllis Temple, bus driver.

LEAVE — Granted Alforetta Bain, school secretary at San Pedro School, leave from Oct. 1 to Nov. 15.

STORAGE SPACE — Asked that administrators further review their proposal that the board authorize leasing a warehouse for school supplies, such as papers, pencils, erasers and custodial materials, at a cost of $6,000 a year. Board members suggested that administrators consider other ways to get storage space.

GIFTS — Accepted as gifts $130 from the Coleman School Parent-Teacher Association for library books at Coleman School and $50 from West End Parent-Teacher Association for library books at West End School.

STUDENT FUNDS — Received reports that the Terra Linda High School Student Association fund totaled $12,769 and the San Rafael High School Student Association fund totaled $4,716, as of Aug. 31, 1968.

JOURNALISM — Received a letter from Robert M. Strebeigh, city editor of the Independent-Journal, on the use of stories written by high school journalism students and suggested that those involved strengthen liaison with the newspaper.

RAFFERTY LETTER — Received a letter from state Supt. of Public Instruction Max Rafferty that any school administrator or teacher responsible for the presence of pupils at talks by Eldridge Cleaver would jeopardize his credentials and the school district would risk loss of state school aid based upon average daily attendance. Board Members asked for an opinion from the county counsel's office whether Rafferty has the power to lift credentials.

INNOVATIONS — Took under study a report from the Council for conomic Development on "Innovation In Education: New Directions for the American School."

Board member Herman L. Childress was absent.

Ross Library's Future Is Topic

A preliminary discussion of whether the Town of Ross should continue in the county library system or go in with San Anselmo on a new library will be held by the Ross Town Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the town hall.

A public hearing on this matter will be held later this fall, according to Councilman Natalie G. Lewis.

Also on the agenda is the introduction of an ordinance requiring underground of utilities in any future subdivisions in Ross.

Sentence Set On Marijuana

Andre Brezeau, 27, of no fixed address, will be sentenced Oct. 28 for conspiring to sell marijuana Nov. 30 on Throckmorton Ridge.

Brezeau was convicted by a jury Friday of that charge, but the jury was unable to reach a decision on a second charge that the man sold the marijuana. Judge Thomas F. Keating dismissed that charge.

Brezeau's codefendant, Francis Mitchell Orella, is scheduled for jury trial in the week of Dec. 2.

Annexation Asked For Three Parcels

The Tiburon Sanitary District board has asked the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission to approve the annexation by the district of three parcels on Tiburon Boulevard near San Rafael Avenue.

The parcels, part of the Weeks subdivision, will contain three home sites which are to be served by the district, Edward P. Ward, board secretary, reported. The board met Tuesday night.

Touring Teacher Reports Russia, Asia Far Behind

Russia isn't even No. 2 to the United States, according to Albert Gautraud, chairman of the Social Science Department at Terra Linda High School.

Gautraud, who visited Asia, the Soviet Union, Middle East and Africa during a 1967-68 sabbatical leave, reported on the trip last night before the San Rafael Board of Education.

He described the Soviet Union as "a society in which the entire population must conform."

"The United States is so far ahead of all countries, including the Soviet Union, that we are in a world of our own," he noted in his written report.

As for life in Russia, it's miserable, he said.

He found in countries in Southeast Asia and the Middle East that people "are too weak to pull themselves up." Most of the people "in most of the world are not living, they are just surviving," he said.

He said that it is a myth that Ghandi's philosophy prevails in India. "All I spoke to advocated the theory that violence brings action faster," he said.

Young people in India are always ready to revolt, and their protests have resulted in the closing of universities, he said. Teachers strike and students strike and set fire to school buildings, Gaustraud said.

"The plight of the millions of poor people is inhumane, degrading, pitiful and hopeless," he contended. India, Indonesia and much of the Middle East will never catch up to the West, he said.

Lands formerly held by European powers were pitiful to see, Gauteaud said. "The years of systematic, deliberate, economic and social exploitation have left nothing but chaos and ruin."

Cadets Honored

Cadets Thomas Jobson, William Morris and Michael Thomas have received certificates of commendation from the National Merit Scholarships Awards Association, according to officials of San Rafael Military Academy, where they are students.

Johnson Thanks Pentagon Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, saying "you are very special people to me," has thanked the defense establishment's military and civilian personnel for their support in what may be his farewell address to them.

"You have been with me in sunshine and sorrow and you have given me strength when I need it most," Johnson told some 5,000 defense people at the Pentagon yesterday.

Johnson appeared for what he said might be his last appearance at the Pentagon as commander-in-chief for a ceremony honoring those responsible for defense economy measures.

Larkspur Trustees Due Library Report

A report on school library services will be given by librarian Barbara Dillon, at 8 p.m. tomorrow before the Larkspur School District board at the district offices, 20 Magnolia Avenue.

Kay Gillis, district nurse, will report on the scope of nursing services for the schools.

Interschool Visits Urged By Student

A bid for better communication between high schools was presented to the San Rafael Board of Education last night by Rick Mulhaupt, president of the Terra Linda High School student body.

Mulhaupt suggested that there be day-long visits by students of one high school to the other, first within the district and later to other districts.

He also supported expansion of vocational education curriculum to provide students who are not bound for college. A lot of the noncollege students are potential dropouts and a better vocational program would provide incentive for them, particularly training which would lead to employment upon graduation, he said.

He also asked the board have benches in the amphitheater area at the school repaired as soon as possible. The benches are splintered and in bad condition, he said.

The board heard a report from Jeff Godwin, San Rafael High School student body president, at its Sept. 24 session.

Two Burglaries In Rural Marin

Marin sheriff's officers yesterday reported two burglaries occurred Friday in the unincorporated area of the county.

Stanley Long of 325 Las Colindas, Terra Linda, said someone broke into his house through a window that night and stole $6 in change, some beer and cookies.

Hub Library Board Votes For New Books

The San Anselmo library board Monday night voted to purchase about $500 worth of new books, mostly fiction, this month and next month.

Col. Reuben Smith Jr., board member, said it also was determined to add snow skiing magazines to the library.

Marinwood Fireman May Earn Overtime

Marinwood fire commissioners last night recommended overtime pay for firemen who work beyond their shift or who are called out specifically for a fire or emergency when they are off duty.

"But all this is contingent on whether funds are available," said commission chairman Larry D. Newman. The recommendation will go to the Marinwood Community Services District.

Fire Chief Albert F. Anderson also asked for a 10 per cent wage increase for his men. The commissioners took no action but referred the request to the salary and benefit committee, composed or representatives of the fire commission, park and recreation commission and the services district.

The commissioners asked Chief Anderson to review the fire department's $70,000 budget to see if any extra funds are available for overtime pay and for pay increase

The commissioners recommended to the services district a $171 outlay for purchase of a new refrigerator for the firehouse.

Redwoods Park Funds Bill Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee approved today the administration's $92 million supplemental budget request for purchase of private land for the Redwood National Park in California.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., said the committee also approved the full $290,000 requested by the National Park Service for administration and operation of the Redwood Park.

The House Appropriations Committee earlier this week cut $39 million from the $92 million total land acquisition authorization for the Redwood park land on the ground that the cash outlay requirement might be reduced through exchange of government owned timberland.

Apollo 8 Creeps Onto Launch Pad

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —A mammoth Saturn 5 rocket rolled slowly to a launch pad today as the three-man Apollo 8 crew that may ride it into orbit about the moon in December watched.

At the same time preparations moved flawlessly toward Friday's launching of the three-man Apollo 7 crew on a marathon earth orbit flight.

"The Apollo 7 prelaunch activity is going as smooth as we've ever seen for a manned space flight," commented an official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The two events—rollout and preparation—demonstrate that after 20 months this nation's man-in-space program has recovered from the tragic fire that killed three astronauts and once again is on the course to the moon.

The 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 lumbered at a snail's pace out of a cavernous assembly building. With the Apollo 8 spaceship perched on top, it rode upright on the back of a diesel-powered transporter that resembles a giant mechanical turtle.

The Apollo 8 crew—Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders —observed the rollout and posed for news photographers with the gigantic rocket in the background.

The astronauts' hopes of flying Apollo 8 into orbit around the moon depend on the results of Apollo 7, which is scheduled to ride a smaller Saturn 1B rocket into earth orbit at 8 a.m. (PDT) Friday.

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham are to check out all spacecraft systems as they race around the globe for 11 days in the Apollo 7 ship.

If they demonstrate conclusively that the Apollo craft can safely carry men a quarter-of-a-million miles to the moon and bring them back, the Borman crew plans to take off Dec. 20 on an eight-day trip in which they are to orbit the moon 10 times during a 24-hour period.

Armed Gunman Loots Market Of About $200

A lone bandit armed with a black automatic pistol last night robbed the Tamalpais Market at second and D streets of approximately $200, San Rafael police reported today.

Police said market co-owner Lester Mason was on duty at 9:15 p.m. last night when the robber walked in and asked for a paper bag. When Mason handed him the bag, the man pulled a pistol and ordered him to dump the money in the bag.

Mason complied and the robber fled on foot, jumping two fences to disappear through a parking lot.

Police and sheriff's department patrol cars searched the area but could not find the robber, who was described as a white man about 30 years old, five feet nine inches tall and weighing 155 pounds.

San Francisco Bay was discovered in October, 1769, by the Spanish explorer Gaspar de Portola.

School Board Hires Leader Of Hiring Screening Board

In a surprise move, the new Shoreline Unified School District board last night bypassed its five finalist applicants for the post of superintendent and instead chose the chairman of the screening board.

Unanimously selected was Charles E. McCully, 30, who is deputy superintendent of the Marin County Schools office and who has been acting superintendent and screening chairman for the Shoreline district.

Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county schools superintendent, said today that the surprise appointment came about because the board could not reach a unanimous or near-unanimous decision on any of the five finalists despite their excellence.

He said that because unanimous backing is highly desirable, the board president, Roy A. Parks, called him after a Saturday screening session, disclosed how well regarded McCully was by the board and asked if Hollis would consider releasing him from his county school's job to take the new post.

Hollis, who last June named McCully as acting superintendent and screening chairman with the understanding McCully was not a candidate, said he considered the request, talked with members of the county board of education, then last night in closed session with the Shoreline board agreed to release McCully from the stipulation that he couldn't be a candidate.

He termed McCully as a man the entire Shoreline board could and would lend "instant support," and cited this as essential in a newly-formed district. "It's somewhat embarrassing to be in charge of the screening committee and then be chosen," he said, "but in this case the circumstances overrode that."

The screening committee had 57 applicants. The field was narrowed to the five. McCully was named superintendent in open session following a closed session. His salary was set at $21,500 a year. He begins Jan. 1.

Hollis said he will now search for a replacement for McCully in his own office, that the new deputy will be hired by or before Jan. 1.

McCully received his early education in Ohio, graduated from Ohio University in 1960, took his master's degree at San Francisco State College in 1965, taught in Canton, Ohio, and Sebastopol, was principal at Kenwood Elementary School in Sonoma County from 1964 to 1966, when he moved to his present post.

He, his wife, Sonja Sue, and their three children live in Santa Rosa.

The Shoreline district becomes effective July 1 of next year.

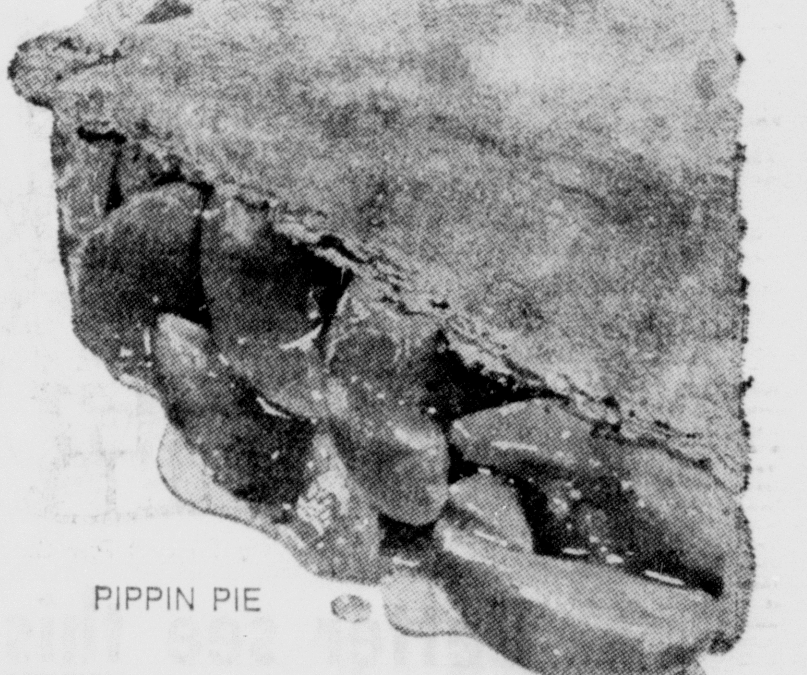
HOW TO MAKE
"Ugly apple"



PIPPIN PIE

If you like apple pie,
it's quite possible that you'll go completely insane
over "Ugly Apple" Pippin Pie.
The "Ugly" California Pippin Apple
with the beautiful flavor is the secret ingredient.
Apple lovers love our California apples because they're
so firm and full of juice. Perfect for pie.
And that's exactly why people
who know their apples call ours "Ugly."
How else can you be sure they'll be in the market when you want them?

"Ugly apple" pippin pie

Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie
6 cups thinly sliced, pared tart California cooking apples
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup light flavored honey
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

On a lightly floured surface, roll out pastry into an 11-inch circle. Use to line a 9-inch pie plate. Refrigerate with balance of pastry while preparing apples. Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Slice pared apples into bowl; toss with lemon juice. Combine cornstarch with spices and salt. Blend into apples then fold in honey. Turn into pastry shell, mound high in center, dot with butter. Roll out remaining pastry. Make several slits for steam vents. Adjust top crust over apples. Trim and seal tightly. Place pie on foil or cookie sheet. Bake at 425 degrees (hot) 15 minutes, reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 40 to 45 minutes or until apples are tender and crust is brown. Makes 6 servings.

Now that the youngsters have paid back their father for the duplicating machine they use, they are looking forward to profits. (Independent-Journal photo).

Twenty-two Greenbrae families get a special chance every week to find out the latest — who went to whose party, which dog chased what deer and even who's romancing whom.

Called frankly "The Greenbrae Gossip Weekly," a little newspaper which is the work of a 13-year-old boy assisted by his 12-year-old sister has been appearing faithfully every week since the beginning of summer.

John and Betsy Bauer of 100 Via Navarro say they started the paper "for something to do" during the summer. Although John admits it's more difficult to get it out now that homework has re-entered the scene, he is definitely committed both editorially and in a business way.

Saturdays he and Betsy call around their neighborhood to find out "the gossip," John said. Their gleanings range from the fact that the furniture of some new neighbors has finally arrived to a romance which John reported was probably "not serious."

John, who does all the writing, editorializes frequently but not unkindly. A neighbor, Mr. Geissberger, who, John wrote, came in 10th in a golf tournament, probably had fun anyway, he concluded.

The young editor could not restrain his joy when the Stone family removed a fence from their lawn — "For almost the first time this entire summer, you can actually walk on it. Isn't that neet?"

Such misspellings are not too common in the Gossip Weekly, because older sister Polly, 15, proof reads. "When she doesn't do it, you can really tell," laughed John.

Not only a creative enterprise, the Gossip Weekly has also served as a business venture for John and Betsy. They print it on an old duplicating machine which their father, Robert, a J. C. Penney Co. executive, found for them.

"We just finished paying for the machine," Betsy said. The nickels they charge for each paper have faithfully been put into a fund to pay for the machine, which cost them $7, and for paper and duplicating liquid.

Now that their initial capital outlay has been paid for, the youngsters, foresee some profits.

"Of course, my subscribers and my family think it's just fine, but I don't," John wrote to the Independent-Journal about his paper. He would like to find a way to transfer photographs on his duplicating machine, he said.

Upon being informed that this process is not possible with his kind of machine, John decided he would stick with the two-color line drawings which he now uses to enliven the paper.

As John wrote in one of his recent issues, "A year ago I couldn't spell 'printer,' but now I am one."

Novato High Sets Homecoming Events

Three days of activities for homecoming at Novato High School were announced today by Diane Halpenny, commissioner of public relations.

Activities start tomorrow with auction of football players at 9:40 a.m., the money to go to the student body activity fund. Football players will be slaves for a day to the girls who buy them.

Friday, there will be a pep rally at the sixth period at 11:30 a.m. and in the afternoon the powderpuff football game between the junior and senior girls.

Voting for the homecoming queen will be Friday from among seven candidates selected by the football squad: Pam Alverson, Penny Alverson, Tommie Holt, Wendy Kanoff, Debbie Links, Eileen Reusche, Penny Alverson and Deedee Jones.

Saturday at 11 a.m. the homecoming parade of decorated cars will go from South Novato Boulevard and Diablo Avenue, down South Novato Boulevard to Arthur Street and then to the high school.

The junior varisity game will start at 11:45 a.m. with the varsity game scheduled for 2 p.m., both with Redwood High School.

The queen will be crowned at halftime while the decorated cars parade around the field.

The queen will reign at the coronation ball from 9 p.m. to midnight in the old gymnasium, she said.

Free Trash Pickup Slated In Sausalito

The Bay Cities Refuse Co. will collect free of charge three cubic yards, or 21 regular garbage cans of trash, from each of its Sausalito customers next week as part of the city's annual fall clean up week, City Mgr. George M. Patterson has announced.

The collection will be made the same day as the regular garbage pickup and the extra trash should be out on the curb by 5 a.m. bundled or in disposable boxes. Patterson said. No dirt, rocks nor cement should be included.

Judged Insane

Harold B. Patterson, 23-year-old San Quentin inmate, was sent to Atascadero State Hospital yesterday on the basis of a jury finding that he was insane July 12, 1967, when he stabbed a prison guard.

Marinites Help Heart Transplant

Thirteen residents of Marin County gave blood for the most recent heart transplant at Stanford University Hospital, where 54-year-old Georgette Larson received a new heart last weekend.

Officials of the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank reported yesterday that they received a special request for fresh Group O, Rh positive blood for the heart recipient and relayed the request to the bank's Marin Blood Center.

San Marin Improvement Association has as its president F. Wayne Sartain.

Marin Disease Rate Declines For Week

Marin County residents were apparently healthier than normal last week with a relatively low number of communicable diseases reported to the Marin County public health department.

There were 17 cases of stretoccocus infections, one of mumps; two, tuberculosis; two, salmonella; four, infectious hepatitis, and four, shigella.

Ireland is about the size of West Virginia.

"I read 250 words per minute and I got through college. If that was good enough for me, it's good enough for my kid."

Sure, you can still get through college if you're a "normal" student reading at the average rate of 250 to 400 words per minute. It just means that throughout your college career you'll spend over 5,000 hours doing just your required reading! And that's a shame, because you could save at least 3,700 of those hours. How? By learning to read at least three times faster.

For five years now the Reading Dynamics Institute has guaranteed to at least triple your reading speed or refund your entire tuition. Thousands of people throughout the Bay Area have taken up this offer and are now reading 3 to 10 times faster. Results? Hundreds, even thousands, of irreplaceable hours saved for them to invest as they choose. Businessmen and professional people now spend more time in productive work. High school and college students have time for campus activities and taking "want to" courses, raising their grade point average, or holding down a part-time job. Imagine, if a student could cut 3,700 hours of his required reading time and invested only 2,500 of those hours in a job that paid $1.75 an hour, he could earn $4,375.00.

Reading Dynamics is an incredible education breakthrough. It is the definitive rapid reading method in the world today because their graduates consistently surpass the 450 to 600 words per minute rates aspired to by conventional reading courses. Most Reading Dynamics graduates can read between 1,000 and 3,000 words per minute. Many go higher, and all understand and appreciate what they read at these staggering speeds.

FREE READING DYNAMICS MINI-LESSON

Does Reading Dynamics really work? Well there is one way to find out. Come to one of the free Reading Dynamics Mini-Lessons listed below. Whether you are out of school or in, you'll find the Mini-Lesson an exciting hour well spent. You'll learn what Reading Dynamics is all about and all of your questions will be answered. And since the Mini-Lesson is a miniature version of a Reading Dynamics class, you will probably leave reading a little faster than when you came in. Of course, if you want to read a lot faster for the rest of your life you will have to sign up for the course.

Decline To Back Boycott Of Grapes

Marin supervisors declined, 4-1, yesterday to endorse the growing boycott of California table grapes.

The majority generally agreed that action on the boycott was not within the purview of the board.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, lone dissenter, said the board had taken stands previously on state and national issues — "We're the only board in the country that I know of that has a peace resolution on Vietnam" — and that grape pickers were not receiving "their fair share."

After the vote, on a resolution offered by A. Miguel Rodriguez, coordinator of the Marin boycott, Storer said he thought the board should be aware that the California State Chamber of Commerce, to which Marin annually contributes $500 in tax funds, was opposing the boycott in a statewide mailing campaign.

The board expressed surprise at this and asked staff to invite a representative of the chamber to the supervisors' next meeting Tuesday to explain the chamber's action.

Rodriguez, of Point Reyes Station, asked for support of the boycott in behalf of the Unitef Farm Workers Organizing Committee and the Marin County Labor Council, which recently sanctioned informational picketing of Marin grocery stores continuing to sell grapes.

A motion to table Rodriguez' request, endorsed by Behr, John E. McInnis, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and William A. Gnoss, said that "this board believes that it should not, except in very rare occasions, go beyond matters of local concern."

Automobile Stolen Near Base Theater

A 1953 blue Chevrolet was stolen from in front of the base theater between 8:30 and 10:30 p.m. yesterday, according to officials at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The car belonged to A/1C James R. Kelly who lives in base barracks. The car had New Jersey license MNO-125.

Elderly Housing Plan Wins Conditional Nod

Smith and Haley Construction Co. of Berkeley plans to build the project on three acres of land at thee northwest corner of Carmel Drive and Fourth Street, Novato.

Known as a Turn-Key project, the housing units would be built by the developer, then turned over to the Marin Housing Authority.

Cordill said he granted the use permit for one year, during which time all arrangements must be completed for eventual take-over by the housing authority. "It will not be valid unless the developers work out arrangements for acquisition by the housing authority," said Cordill.

The zoning administrator denied a request for a restaurant on the east side of intersection in a building formerly used as the Eugene McCarthy for president headquarters."

Cordill ruled that a restaurant there would be detrimental to the residential character of the neighborhood. Joseph A. Alber of San Rafael planned a restaurant, mostly for take-out service.

Manpower Report

A report on the manpower training program will be presented to the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council at 8 p.m. today at the multi-service center, 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

Baar Challenges County's Vacations, Cites Survey

A private survey of all 67 Marin firms employing 50 or more persons found none which gives three weeks of vacation after only one hear of service, Louis H. Baar, candidate for Marin supervisor in the Fourth District, said today.

Baar, critical of the supervisors since they voted in July for the new vacation policy, noted that his opponent, incumbent Thomas T. Storer, voted for the benefit.

The supervisors' action "angered many long-time county employees," said Baar, adding that the benefit "is just poor business practice."

All of the companies surveyed grant either one or two weeks of vacation after one year of employment, he said, and most granted three weeks only after five years.

The supervisors who voted for the benefit, he said, "have done the taxpaying public a great disservice. I think that this kind of disregard for the feelings of loyal county employees and lack of financial responsibility with the taxpayers is an absolute disgrace," said Baar, "and if elected I will do everything I possibly can to correct this error at the earliest possible time."

(The three weeks of vacation has been incorporated into contracts between the county and unions representing county employees.)

Marin City Youth To Superior Court

Marshall Ewin Craig, 19, of Marin City, was held to answer in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge he possessed marijuana Aug. 23 in Sausalito.

Judge Hadden W. Roth ordered the youth to appear in Marin Superior Court Oct. 21 to answer the charge.

Woman Is Injured In Three-Car Crash

Gloria Martinez, 24, of 119 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a bruised forehead received in a three-car collision in northbound traffic on Highway 101.

The California Highway Patrol said a car driven by Betsy Rae Sherman, 23, of San Francisco, slowed in traffic near the San Pedro Road exit and was hit from the rear by a car driven by Barbara Jean Finnigan, 21, of 625 Adrienne Street, Novato. The Finnigan car, the patrol said, was then hit by a car driven by Mrs. Martinez' husband, Luis Francisco Martinez, 27.

Few Worms Spoil Plan For Revising Constitution

The California Constitution Revision Committee has done a mostly commendable job in the second "package" of its updating of the state's old and cumbersome constitution, which will be presented to the voters on Nov. 5 as Proposition 1.

Unfortunately, a couple of worms got into the package.

The omnibus measure revises seven sections of the constitution.

Most of the public attention has been given to revision of Article IX, which covers the setup of the state school system. Among other things, this provides that the state board of education shall be elective and leaves to the Legislature the method of choosing the state superintendent of public instruction. This would make possible a state superintendent appointed by the elected board whom he would serve as administrative officer — a reform which the Independent-Journal has long advocated.

THE WORMS, however, are in another part — that which revises Article XI, covering county and city governments.

The present Section 5 of this article would be deleted. It says: "The Legislature . . . shall provide for the election or appointment in the several counties of boards of supervisors, sheriffs, county clerks, district attorneys. . . . It shall regulate the compensation of boards of supervisors, district attorneys and auditors. . . . The compensation of any county, township or municipal officer shall not be increased after his election or during his term of office."

In place of this, a new section would be included which reads:

"The Legislature shall provide for county powers and an elected governing body in each county and prescribe compensation for its members. The Legislature or the governing body may provide for other officers whose compensation shall be prescribed by the governing body."

MUCH SIMPLER, isn't it? But maybe it's too simple.

This revision specifies only that a county have a board of supervisors (governing body). What other officials it has would be up to that board of supervisors — or likely, in the growing tendency of elected officials to delegate their powers, to the county administrative officer.

Auditor, clerk, sheriff, district attorney would no longer be required. Moreover, the board of supervisors could make any of these it retained appointive, without asking the voters.

Further, the restriction on raising the pay of elected officials during their terms of office would be removed, The Legislature could raise the pay of supervisors while they are in office, and the supervisors could raise the pay of every other elected official (if any was left) every year if they so desired.

Judging from the raises given non-elective officials, an increase every year is far from an idle dream. In our own county, the ceiling on pay of a district attorney during his term of office has served on several occasions as the only deterrent to greater pay raises for some non-elective officials.

IT IS TOO BAD to have a couple of worms spoil an otherwise excellent product. But that appears to be the case with Proposition 1.

Because of those worms, the Independent-Journal cannot advocate a "yes" vote on this proposition.

Ever-Present Ant

Unless they invade our homes, most Marinites are seldom aware that their gardens and woods are accommodating thousands, perhaps even millions, of ants.

With the first big rains of fall, however, some poorly located nests are flooded and ants seek safety by the thousands in our homes. Then, suddenly, we are aware of this tiny species of busy life which constantly surrounds us.

One British entomologist reported a wood ant colony of half a million members. Marin's common household invaders, the Argentine ant and the Pharaoh's ant, probably do not have such large colonies. But they are certainly numerous enough to make a big impression if they find a dish of food that appeals to them.

Rafferty Warning To Schools And One Reason Behind It

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — At least one educator in California does not consider that listening to Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver constitutes "academic freedom."

This is Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction and candidate for United States senator on the Republican ticket.

Rafferty, in a letter to all city, county and district school superintendents in California, said in no uncertain terms that the furor over the Black Panther speeches that has rocked the University of California is not expected to be extended to the elementary and secondary schools.

"I DEEM that any school administrator, or other certificated employee, responsible for the presence of pupils at such an assembly, is guilty of unprofessional conduct, jeopardizing his credential, and that the school district risks loss of credit for average daily attendance," Rafferty wrote.

The state superintendent said his office had made a tape recording of a speech given by Cleaver at Sacramento State College.

"This is notice to you," the letter said, "that he advocated violent overthrow of the government to the extent that legislators be 'dragged out by the scruffs of their necks and thrown into the gutter'; that he grossly maligned, by name, the state's legislative and executive officers that he advocated disregard of law and the disobeyance of police regulation; that he extolled the teaching of Karl Marx; that he constantly uttered unspeakable obscenities.

"It is inconceivable that any rational person could consider attendance at such a demonstration by elementary or secondary students to come within the scope of academic requirement, or that such instruction in obscenity comes within the definition of free speech or academic freedom."

IN SACRAMENTO, high school students who had written permission from their parents were permitted to attend a Cleaver appearance.

Such attendance had severe repercusisions at the John F. Kennedy High School here for a couple of days after the Cleaver appearance. Students returning from the Black Panther hearing started demonstrating in the halls with Cleaver signs, which touched off a riot threatening to grow into major proportions before police took a hand.

The following day, more trouble started, some students and school employees were injured, classroom doors were locked, and a tight cordon of police surrounded the school, only recently opened in one of the better Sacramento areas. In addition, many students remained away from the school, fearful they would get caught in the rioting, and phone lines were busy all day seeking assurance from school officials that it was safe for the young people to attend classes.

Words For Driver Who Killed Dog

On Oct. 1, at 6:30 a.m., someone ran over "Sam" on Madrone Avenue in Larkspur. Sam was a large, shaggy, affectionate, good natured dog.

The guilty party knows who they are and has to live with their conscience. However, I would like to direct a few questions to the culprit.

Would you have stopped if it had been a human rather than a dog or would you have driven away even faster? Do you have any feelings at all or are you a robot? Is getting to work on time so important that it means leaving a dog dying in the street? I don't like the idea that a creep like you lives in my neighborhood. You are a disgrace to mankind!

University Faculty Shirks Responsibility

While the (University of) California regents are being criticized for abridging "academic freedom," there has not been the same outpouring of criticism for university faculty members who are abridging "academic responsibility."

It certainly is not a responsible use of university authority to dignify as an instructor a convicted felon whose language is strictly from the gutter.

As an object of study, Cleaver and his views may hold some interest but these can be quite adequately studied while the subject remains where the courts have decided he belongs — in jail.

Grape Boycott Not Legitimate

A few comments in regard to the "informational" pickets which are being mentioned by the Marin Labor Council, regarding grapes.

I hope that the people realize that secondary boycotts are illegal under the Talf-Hartley Law. Certainly the labor leaders of this and all other counties realize that if Chavez had a legitimate cause, he wouldn't have to resort to coercion of shoppers and pickers and their families. If Chavez had the required pledge cards signed by the pickers, the National Mediation Board would require a union election for representation in bargaining.

Did the people of Marin know that of the 5,000 pickers involved in the Delano area Chavez has less than 500 supporters? The other 4,500 are forming groups AGAINST Chavez. Their main problem is money to fight him off. Chavez has grants and pledges from established unions and draws from their treasuries (and mostly without the knowledge or consent of the rank and file.) . . .

The truth of the matter is that the pickers want no part of Chavez and his goon squads. They are happy with their piece-work, knowing that they can earn more this way than on an hourly basis.

If we allow these boycotts to become successful, it will be a powerful union organizing tool against the grower, the processor, and the housewife who is caught in the web and has no defense against it. Imagine the consequence if a handful of powerful labor union leaders, or any grouup, gains control of the nation's food supply!

Hospital Volunteers Merit Recognition

The board of directors, the medical staff and the employees of Marin General Hospital join me in expressing appreciation for the much deserved recognition given our Volunteers in the Marin Magazine of the Independent-Journal on Saturday, Sept. 28.

Not only do these wonderful ladies donate time and money, but most importantly, they are an inspiration to all of us — patient and staff member alike — offering that extra something which cannot be purchased or evaluated. They are truly examples of selfless dedication toward helping others, and they make us realize that any problem, overwhelming as it may be, can be solved if only people care enough.

Thank you for saying so well in word and picture what we at Marin General Hospital feel in our hearts.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

WHEN Benjamin Franklin visited London, he sought a meeting with Edward Gibbon whose "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" he had read and admired. Gibbon, however, was either too busy or too snooty to devote any time to an upstart from the colonies England just had lost. Mr. Franklin, understandably miffed, told Gibbon's secretary, "Tell Mr. Gibbon, please, that when he gets around to writing 'The Decline and Fall of the British Empire,' I'll be glad to head any appeal he makes to me for help."

MARQUIS CHILDS

It's Good Campaign For One Candidate—Edmund S. Muskie

LOS ANGELES. — Crisscrossing back and forth across the country, Sen. and Mrs. Edmund S. Muskie are having a ball Grim as Democratic prospects are and demanding as the schedule is, the candidate for vice president readily concedes that never before has he had such a facinating and rewarding experience.

His relaxed and friendly manner is reflected in the ever-increasing crowds that come out to see this hitherto unknown senator from Maine.

Again and again this reporter has heard both Democrats and Republicans say, "Of all four candidates I like him best." Recognizing that Muskie is one of the few pluses in his rugged uphill campaign, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has given him a free hand to direct his own course with a minimum of official coordination.

EARLY IN the game Muskie acquired a gentle but effective way with hecklers. First he listened. Then, as he began to do at Washington, Pa., where students of Washington and Jefferson College were booing aid to education, he got a leader to come up to the platform. What, you're booing aid to education? You, who are college students? With his mild irony he reduced them to silence.

Granted, of course, that his hecklers are nothing like as noisy and persistent as the young who disrupt Humphrey's meetings. Muskie carries far less of the burden of blame, as the young see it, for the administration's Vietnam policy. His, is a new face in a year when the two principals are old faces out of a past that the obstreperous young have completely rejected.

In what has become his standard speech, Muskie talks about the 40 million people who at the turn of the century streamed into this country. They came in search of freedom and, he says with quiet and yet moving dignity, they learned how to be free and how to use freedom. There are forces, he goes on, seeking to exploit the tensions and fears in society today, to build walls between peoples, and that can only lead to the destruction of the democratic system.

ONE OF THE flood of immigrants who came to the land of promise in the early years of the century was Muskie's father, a tailor in his native Poland. The father's last name was originally Marciszewski. But when he arrived at Ellis Island in 1903, knowning no English, the immigration officials followed a common practice and wrote him down as Muskie. The candidate's mother was a native of Buffalo, N.Y., where many Poles had settled.

The Muskie success story follows a familiar American pattern. He worked his way through Bates College in Maine, made Phi Beta Kappa and went to Cornell Law School. Because clients were scarce in Waterville, Me., when he started to practice law he went into politics. For a Democrat his rise in Republican Maine was spectacular. After the legislature he served two terms as governor. Following a nonpartisan course he achieved with a Republican legislature a number of educational and economic programs. In 1958 he became the first popularly elected Democratic senator in the history of the state.

He shows no signs today — a candidate for the second highest office in the land — of pride or pomposity. He and his wife the former Jane Gray, laugh over the fact that in one day they occupied, however briefly, three presidential suites in hotels in three cities. But as he moves in and out of his chartered jet with official parties and flag-waving crowds out to greet him at each stop, back of the shock of surprise still evident (you mean all this is for me?) is a shrewd awareness of what he adds to the beleaguered Democratic ticket.

MUSKIE KNOWS how telling is the contrast with Spiro Agnew, the Republican vice presidential candidate. While Agnew is at odds with his traveling press over Agnewisms that have made headlines, Muskie has established a friendly rapport with the reporters who follow him.

Entertained at the governor's mansion in Topeka, Kan., he noticed carved in the stone of the fireplace in the dining room the following inscription in Latin: Dom spiro spero. He translated it from his parochial school Latin as, "While I breathe there is hope." I haven't dared to use that yet, he says with an impish grin.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Local Polls Surprise With Wallace Showing

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON —Some local polls and surveys, conducted in communities across the nation, provide additional evidence that the presidential candidacy of George Wallace of Alabama is for real.

That is certainly the strong implication of opinion sampling by newspapers in Ypsilanti, Mich.; Houston, Tex., and at the Kansas State Fair. More heavily than the national polls, these local surveys underline the challenge of Wallace's independent candidacy.

Sponsors of the local polls stress their limitations. However, read in context they can be meaningful and, in these instances, they certainly show surprising Wallace strength.

KANSAS STATE FAIR — The Wichita Eagle and Beacon polled 3,387 fair-goers by voting machine in the week ending Sept. 21. The tally showed the Republican Nixon-Agnew ticket with nearly 49 per cent of the vote, Wallace with about 32 per cent, and the Democratic, Humphrey-Muskie, ticket with only 19 per cent.

The Eagle's voting machine did not tally voters who consider themselves "undecided" at this point in the campaign. However, the Eagle also reported on a 1,400-vote state fair survey conducted by the Hutchinson News. The News, published at the site of the fair, did count undecided voters.

The News survey showed Nixon-Agnew with nearly 50 per cent of the vote, Wallace with 21 per cent, and Humphrey with about 16 per cent. The undecided vote amounted to nearly 13 per cent.

YPSILANTI, MICH. — In a survey of political leaders, the Ypsilanti Press concluded that Wallace is a "formidable" local candidate. Bill Hubert, of the Press staff, who conducted the survey, suggested that Wallace also may be "a real and viable candidate nationwide, and he could hurt seriously both the Democratic and Republican parties."

Of the strong Wallace support, the Press survey reports that it is "as elusive as Ahab's great white whale.

"You know is exists; you can see and feel its presence. But to lay hands on it is another matter."

HOUSTON, TEX. — Of particular interest to Republicans is a poll conducted by the conservative Houston Tribune. The weekly Tribune is just four years old, and its subscribers were drawn originally from supporters of GOP candidate Barry Goldwater in 1964.

The Tribune carried a front-page ballot listing candidates alphabetically in its issues of September 12 and 19. Tallying the results in the Sept. 26 issue, with a total of 1,226 votes, the Tribuen reported Wallace leading Nixon by a margin of nearly four to one.

The Inevitable Finally Happens: Campus Unrest In Lower Grades

College activists are stirring up campuses to the extent that high school students are beginning to follow suit and it won't be long before elementary pupils get the knack.

Signs are "blowing in the wind," as the song goes, that the revolutionary movement has already gained momentum from the "Hot Dog Days" uprising.

"WHY CAN'T WE have tacos?," a second grader asked one day on the playground, and the discontent spread.

"How about peanut butter and jelly sandwiches?" cried an equally wild-eyed companion, and his following grew.

Within days, the protests began and up went the picket signs: "Hamburgers Si, Hot Dogs No."

Unfortunately, some of the younger pupils misspelled "hamburger," thereby losing the support of the intellectual wing.

Pamphlets mysteriously began to flood the playground urging pupils to "Take the Mustard and Leave the Hot Dog," "Sink the Orange Drink," "Don't Scream for Ice Cream."

When this failed to get the hot dogs off the list, the pupils started a brown bag campaign, carrying their lunches to school and leaving 4,567 uneaten hot dogs.

FLUSHED WITH this success, the pupils struck again by threatening to boycott the annual cupcake day sale. They demanded a say in what kinds of cupcakes should be sold and how many should have jelly beans on top.

School administrators, fearing a show of force at recess, agreed that 50 per cent of the cupcakes should be baked by pupils. Pupils hailed this as a victory, but it was short-lived because they ate all the pupil-baked cupcakes before the sale.

During the confrontation, Wild Willie, a legendary guerrilla fighter, gained famed when he tripped up six mothers carrying cupcakes to the school.

GATHERING STRENGTH, the pupils decided to move to loftier goals and ban Back to School nights.

"Why should parents go poking their noses into what we do at school?" said Willie. "We don't pay any attention to them at home."

"It's an infringement of our academic freedom," said Chunky Clyde, one of the more astute rebels, who had received an offer to lecture at the University of California at Berkeley.

The campaign spread underground, with small groups in the tanbark area, clusters of pupils at bus stops, and the recess rebels passing the word along.

The Back to School ban was successful beyond all hopes when none of the parents showed up, and Max Rafferty threatened to fire all teachers and administrators involved.

WHEN PUPILS returned to school the next day, the principal interrogated the revolutionary leaders, but none of them divulged the secret tactic.

It wasn't revealed until Wild Willie wrote his manual for elementary school revolution, "Why Johnny Won't Read." The secret to eliminating Back to School nights, he said, is not to take the notices home to parents.

The pupils haven't fully moved into the academic field yet, but there is a movement under way for pupil participation in sex education, as soon as they find out what it is.

ART BUCHWALD

Have You Childish Fear Of Bomb? Just Think Of It As Bowie Knife

WASHINGTON —One of the things that Gen. Curtis LeMay said at his press conference last week was that Americans seem to have a phobia about nuclear weapons. This struck home because I have to admit I've had such a phobia for some time. But only after General LeMay brought it up did I decide to do something about it. I went to see Dr. Adolph Strainedluff, a psychiatrist who specializes in nuclear weapon phobias.

"On the couch," he said. "Vat seems to be the trouble?"

"Doctor," I said, staring at the ceiling, "I have this fear of nuclear weapons. I know it's silly, but to me it's very real."

"AHA, VERY hinterasting. Ven did you first become aware of such a phobia?"

"I think it was around the time of Hiroshima or Nagasaki, I'm not sure which. I saw these photos of all these people killed and miles and miles of rubble, and suddenly I got this thing about atomic weapons."

Dr. Strainedluff tapped a pencil against his knee. "So tell me, how does this phobia manifest itself?"

"In peculiar ways, boctor. I get the feeling if I ever see a mushroom cloud, I'm going to die."

"Very hinterasting, very hinterasting. You know it's all in the mind, don't you?"

"Of course. That's why I came to you. I don't want to do anything stupid."

DR. STRAINEDLUFF said, "You are a very sick man. You think that just because an atomic bomb killed a few thousand people 23 years ago, you are threatened. You are amnifesting infantile repressed hostility toward the weapons of war. In psychiatry we call this a military-industrial inferiority complex."

"I know I'm sick. You've got to help me," I begged.

"All right. First you haff to get over this absurd fear of nuclear bombs. You must think of them as just another weapon in our vast defensive arsenal. Ve haff bowie knives and H-bombs, and in war, one is just as good as another. You're not afraid of a knife, are you?"

"Well, I don't think about it a lot."

"So vhy should you be afraid of an H-bomb? It's another form of a knife."

"I never thought of it like that."

"OKAY, so now let's look at some facts straight in the eye. In Bikini we blew up 20 bombs in an experiment. So ve thought everything vould be destroyed; that's how stupid ve were. Do you know that now after all the boom boom, the place is flourishing and the rats are fatter than they ever vas before?"

"It's good to hear."

"The coconuts are hanging from the trees, the fish are svimming in the lagoon and the voice of the turtle can be heard in the land. The only things that don't seem to be doing so good are the land crabs."

"I don't like land crabs," I said.

"So, then you don't haff anything to vorry about."

DR. STRAINEDLUFF started playing with the hand grenade which was attached to his watch fob. "If you're going to be a happy, normal human being," he shouted, "you're going to haff to stop with all these guilty peace feelings."

He was stomping around the room. "So get out of here vith your lousy phobias, and all this stuff about being afraid to die. If you're not villing to take a little fallout for the good of the country, then go back vhere you came from!"

In spite of Dr. Strainedluff's final outburst, he did cure me of my phobia. I'm no longer afraid of nuclear weapons. Now I'm afraid of him.

Dixie Trustees To Talk Salaries

Dixie School District trustees will discuss teachers' salaries with the Dixie Teachers Association negotiating council today at 8 p.m. in the administration office at 35 Trellis Drive, Terra Linda.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis will propose a change in the teachers salary schedule to insure that the district's intern teachers will be paid the minimum salary now required by the state.

Other items on tonight's agenda include the appointment of the 1968-69 finance study group, a citizens committee; and leasing of portable classrooms, one each at Miller Creek School and at Bernard Hoffman School.

Phosphorus matches were invented in France.

Nixon Back In California After Making A Pitch For Young Vote

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Richard M. Nixon held out a Republican welcome to the young yesterday, saying the Democratic party has rejected youth.

Before flying to California last night, Nixon addressed a packed house in the 8,500-seat Minneapolis Auditorium in the adopted home state of his Democratic rival for the presidency, Hubert H. Humphrey.

The campaign crowd was overwhelmingly friendly but included a small and vocal group of "we want peace" chanters. They interrupted Nixon several times but quickly were drowned out by cries of "We Want Nixon."

One young man, who left the hall under his own steam at the request of police, stopped the GOP candidate at the outset by announcing from the balcony, over a battery-powered megaphone, that "I have a few questions I want to put to you."

Many ofthe Nixon partisans were young people, too, and the campaigner had a special word for them.

He said Minnesota's Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy deserved much of the credit for their interest in politics and, referring to McCarthy's defeat for the Democratic presidential nomination, added: "Now that you've been rejected by the other party, we'll welcome you in ours."

NIXON'S THE ONE!

JOINS BROTHER — The famous Nixon nose is apparent in Ed Nixon, 38-year-old brother of the Republican presidential candidate, as he speaks to a gathering in New York. He said in his talk yesterday he would stick around for a while if his brother is elected and then return to his telephone company job in Seattle. (AP Wirephoto)

With three rallies scheduled today in California, Nixon begins intensive concentration on the big-vote states—declaring he's not taking victory for granted.

In a speech prepared for a campaign meeting at Santa Monica, Nixon proposed a "children's antiobscenity act" that would make it a federal criminal offense to knowingly mail obscene matter to those under 16.

The GOP candidate plans to gradually increase his voting-seeking efforts in the most populous states until—in the week or so before the Nov. 5 balloting —they claim his exclusive attention.

For Nixon, these target states are California, Illinois, Texas, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. This week finds he visits all of them but Pennsylvania.

WALLACE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — George C. Wallace has a knack of turning to his own use the heckling that has become a fixture of the 1968 presidential campaign.

"Well, my goodness," said Wallace after a particularly noisy rally on the Boston Common yesterday, "I ought to know how to handle those folks, I've put up with them for 5 and one-half years."

Between paragraphs in his speech, Wallace, aided by powerful sound equipment, exchanged taunts with a chanting group of dissenters interspersed among the largest crowd he has drawn so far in his campaign.

"Why don't you hire the hall tomorrow and see how many folks you can get here?" jibed Wallace early in his speech, obviously pleased with the vast sea of faces spread before him.

Police estimates of the crowd ranged as high as 20,000, but in the imprecise art of guessing crowd sizes, other opinions went from 40,000 to Wallace's own judgment of 75,000.

"If you put all those people in Legion Field in Birmingham, they would have filled it," said Wallace. "And it seats 70,000."

Today, the third-party candidate was to speak in Scranton, Pa., and Albany, N.Y. He then is to fly to Evansville, Ind., where he addresses a rally tomorrow. Appearances at Peoria, Ill., and Duluth, Minn., are also scheduled tomorrow.

MUSKIE

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, campaigning in Florida, has condemned the policies of third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace.

The Democratic vice presidential nominee said yesterday that Wallace's philosophy is "an illusion which runs counter to all decent instincts."

"It would make the policeman a member of an occupation force among a hostile people," Muskie said.

Muskie was to campaign today in Philadelphia with two rallies, two speeches, a television interview and a ground-breaking.

In a day of speeches up and down Florida yesterday Muskie alternated between denouncing Wallace as a man with "the philosophy of violence and overkill," and criticizing Richard M. Nixon's economic and labor record.

WALLACE HECKLER
On Boston Common

Nixon carried Florida in 1960 against the late President John F. Kennedy while conservative Republican Barry Goldwater took 48.9 per cent of the vote in 1964.

AGNEW

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Despite his continuing attack on federal antipoverty programs established by the Democratic administration, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew indicates from his remarks that he probably would permit much of the program to continue in operation.

The Republican vice presidential candidate has made the programs targets of innumerable attacks during a two-day campaign swing through the South.

To make his point, he has repeatedly used the example of an antipoverty employee in New York City whom, he said, had never held a job more than 12 months, had worked under six different aliases, was hired under the antipoverty program for $19,000 per year and then was accused of embezzling $22,000.

When reminded the antipoverty program in New York City was administered by agencies under Mayor John V. Lindsay, a Republican, the Maryland governor replied that it really wasn't the fault of Lindsay's administration because "I've seen some of these community action programs almost be dictated through the Washington representatives of the War on Poverty."

LeMAY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay says he keeps abreast of developments in Vietnam "through friends in the Pentagon who give me defense information."

The retired Air Force general did not elaborate on the statement as he met newsmen yesterday. He told them that one reason he joined George C. Wallace on the third-party ticket was that Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon planned to stack his cabinet with left-wingers if elected.

He said he had seen press reports of the proposed Republican cabinet "in which every left-wing member of the Republican party was listed."

LeMay was to meet with his campaign advisers today before a speaking trip to Florida. He tomorrow at Orlando, Fla., and Friday at Raleigh, N.C.

McCARTHY

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has again rejected overtures that he support Democratic nominee Hubert H. Humphrey's presidential campaign and close ranks in the party.

The Minnesota senator, in his first major political speech since he lost the nomination to Humphrey in August, said last night the call for party unity was no more acceptable to him now than when he entered the presidential race a year ago.

But he left the door open for Humphrey to possibly obtain his support before the November election. McCarthy listed three positions he said were crucial to him and his supporters, and indicated he hoped the vice president would adopt them.

McCarthy spoke at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner for New York Democratic senatorial nominee Paul O'Dwyer, a Vietnam War critic who has refused to endorse Humphrey.

A three-minute standing ovation greeted McCarthy when he mounted the dais before the 1,400 persons packing the grand ballroom of the New York Hilton. Then later, as he rose to speak, chants of "We want Gene, we want Gene" interrupted him.

In his speech McCarthy listed these conditions he thought should be met to change the direction of the Democratic party: a shift in Vietnam War policy, a restructuring of the draft system and of the party machinery.

RAFFERTY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Republican Senate candidate Max Rafferty may be running behind in the polls but he says he is not running scared.

With less than a month to go in his campaign with Democrat Alan Cranston, Rafferty does not foresee any change of emphasis in his drive.

"I run sort of a funny campaign," Rafferty said yesterday in an interview at his office here. "I really don't have anything to do with it."

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in his first bid for partisan office, said he trusts the judgment of his campaign managers.

"I have nothing to do with it," he said, "The only thing I do is tell people what I think about the issues."

"The purpose of a campaign is to develop techniques and devices to get the candidate's message across to the largest possible number of potential voters and our campaign from the very beginning has been gauged to this particular goal."

Moving-In Days Set For Hall Of Justice

An enlarged cafeteria is scheduled to open in the new Hall of Justice in December, but the rest of the building will not be occupied until January and February, according to tentative target dates announced by the county administrator.

Administrative analyst Michael A. Chrystal said the target dates were set after a discussion with the architect and with the prime contractor of the new building and are subject to change in case of bad weather or other unforeseen circumstances.

Here is the tentative schedule:

Dec. 16 — New cafeteria will open at the south end of the Hall of Justice, on the same level as the present cafeteria.

Jan. 13 — Department of Public Social Services will begin moving into the top two levels of the hall. (The various elevations in the new building have not been numbered as yet.)

Feb. 8 through 18 — The Hall of Justice will be fully occupied, except for the west side of the top floor, which will remain unfinished.

March 24 — Repartitioning of the present administration building will be completed.

The present second floor, where the cafeteria is now located, will correspond to the top level of the new Hall of Justice, which will house the new cafeteria, a part of the Department of Public Social Services, the county jail and exercise yard at the north end.

The second floor from the top will contain part of the public social services and the sheriff's office.

The courts will be located on the third floor from the top.

Below that will come several other levels for equipment and machinery space, entrance to the main lobby, and a receiving and storage area at the very bottom level.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Glaucoma Test Easy, Vital To Preserve One's Eyesight

VAN DELLEN

The tonometer is a quick and painless device used to test for glaucoma. Local anesthetic is dropped into each eye, and the instrument is placed on the orbits to measure pressure. We recommend that this test be done along with regular checkups even when there are no ocular symptoms.

Tonometry is a must for relatives of glaucoma suffers because these people are six times more likely to develop the ailment.

IN THIS over-40 disorder, pressure within the eye is so great that the nerves or sight are in danger of being crushed.

Blindness may occur unless the condition is detected and treated. Diagnosis is not difficult when glaucoma is at the acute and painful stage. The eyeballs become hard as stone and emergency care is needed.

CHRONIC GLAUCOMA, the common form, develops more slowly and is difficult to recognize because the tension may build up without warning signals.

It is suspected whenever vision is fuzzy or blurred or the individual finds it troublesome adjusting to the dark when watching a movie or TV. Other signs are loss of side vision and seeing colored halos around lights. Everyone with these manifestations should have the tonometer test.

The pressure can be reduced with special drops that unblock the drainage system of the eye which is holding back the outflow of eye fluid. Another method involves the use of diuretics that decrease the inflow of fluid into orbit.

Should these measures fail, a new drainage outlet can be formed via surgery.

CONTROLING glaucoma may be a lifelong project. Never forget to take the medicine when busy, sick, or on vacation. Avoid dark rooms as when watching TV. Also minimize stress and cut down on the intake of coffee, tea, tobacco, and alcohol.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

CAUSES FOR DIZZINESS

E. P. writes: Why does a person become dizzy when lying flat in bed? After a few minutes, he must turn his head to the left or right to clear the head. This also happens when standing, sitting, or looking at an object. Sometimes he feels as though he will pass out. Is this a common sensation?

REPLY

It is a common manifestation, but you should be examined because there are many causes for dizziness, including an ear disturbance, arthritis of the neck, or a circulatory disorder.

HAIR AND CHILDBIRTH

A reader writes: Why should a woman lose a lot of hair after she has had a baby?

REPLY

This condition is not uncommon for two to six months after delivery. It usually is worse in women whose hair already was thin. During pregnancy there is an overabundance of female sex hormones but after childbirth a temporary shortage develops and causes loss of hair.

AGE AND MAN POWER

A reader writes: At what age do men lose the power to breed?

REPLY

This is a moot question but nonagenarians and centenarians have made claims of this power.

PERIL IN DENTAL X-RAYS?

L. A. A. writes: At check-up time, our dentist X-rays the teeth. Is this a dangerous technic?

REPLY

Not if the equipment is good and is used properly.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
(Advertisement)

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for construction of a connecting covered walk, interior and exterior finish work, plumbing, landscaping, and the necessary appurtenant work, at the Student Personnel Center, College of Marin, Kentfield, Marin County, California.
2. Each bid to be in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file with CORWIN BOOTH & ASSOCIATED ARCHITECTS, 101 Howard Street, San Francisco, California 94105, where same may be examined and copies obtained.
3. Each bid shall be made on a form to be obtained at the office of CORWIN BOOTH & ASSOCIATED ARCHITECTS, 101 Howard Street, San Francisco, California 94105, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or a bid bond for ten percent of the amount bid, made payable to the order of the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District, and shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board on or before the 17th day of October 1968 at 2:00 o'clock P.M. and will be opened in public at or about 2:00 o'clock P.M. of that day in Room 25, Harlan Hall, College of Marin, Kentfield, California.
4. The above-mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District.
5. The successful bidder will be required to furnished a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District.
6. The general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, has been ascertained by the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District to be as follows:

Class of Work	Wage Pr. Hr.	H&W	Pension	Vaca.	Holi.	Appr. Tr.
Carpenters-Journeyman*	$5.71	.30	.40	.15	.35	.01

Sounding Board Topic Will Be Proposition 9

The pros and cons of Proposition 9 (the Watson Amendment) will be discussed from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow on the KTIM Sounding Board, according to Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator.

Speaking against the proposition will be Dr. Elmer A. Weden, a San Anselmo School District trustee, and Edward Ward, Marin County real estate agent. John Winter, a member of the United Organization of Property Tax Initiative, will tell why he is in favor of the proposal.

Questions are invited for the program, which will be rebroadcast at 10:05 Sunday.

On Oct. 17 the Sounding Board speakers will be candidates for two seats on the Marin Hospital District Board, Dr. Gwendolyn M. Campion and George E. Croke, incumbents, and James R. Kilty and Jack H. Feller Jr.

TV REVIEW

CBS Holds Top Place On Mondays

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The season's first national television ratings in which the three networks' new shows competed head-on indicates CBS-TV's Monday lineup is still video's top powerhouse.

That lineup consists of "Gunsmoke," Lucille Ball, "Mayberry R.F.D.," "Family Affair" and Carol Burnett.

Covered by the national rankings is the week of Sept. 23-29, in which NBC-TV was broadcasting its second episodes, and CBS-TV and ABC-TV were offering premieres.

And although the ratings for the following week—in which there were no premieres—will perhaps be more indicative of viewer reaction, there seems little doubt CBS-TV's Monday series have held rather firmly against NBC-TV's attempt to unseat them nationally.

There is no question that NBC-TV's new Monday lineup—"I Dream of Jeannie," "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" and a movie—is doing much better than the network's original series of last season. And some observers feel this will help NBC-TV greatly in its effort to unseat CBS-TV as the perennial ratings leader.

But Monday on CBS-TV is still that network's cornerstone of ratings success. The top three shows in the national ranking were "Mayberry R.F.D.," Miss Ball's series and "Family Affair." Whether "Mayberry R.F.D." holds up is the only question. It is the successor to Andy Griffith's show, and since his fictional marriage was featured on the debut, it certainly accounted for the episode's great success.

Miss Burnett's series, meanwhile, finished in a tie for seventh and "Gunsmoke" was 20th. Every one of CBS-TV's Monday series finished in the top 20, a spectacular showing—and consistent with last season.

Brundage On The Spot On Eve Of IOC Elections

Brundage, 81-year-old president of the International Olympic Committee, agreed yesterday to remain in that capacity—whether or not he is re-elected tomorrow—through the course of the strife-torn Games.

SEX TESTS

Additional controversy cropped up when it was announced that the International Swimming Federation has objected to girls taking sex tests, already passed by more than 500 girls.

Prince Alexandre de Merode of Belgium, president of the International Olympic Committee's medical commission, said late last night that every federation except swimming has agreed to voluntary tests, with 540 of the 962 girls here already passing them.

The blood or chromoscone tests, to determine the femininity of the girls, have been called shocking and degrading by Berge Phillips, Australian president of the Swimming Federation.

"We are still talking with the Swimming Federation about it, and we hope that finally they will agree," De Merode said.

The tests are not now obligatory, he said, but his comments stirred speculation that refusal to take the tests could lead to disqualification from the Games.

De Merode also said that if any athlete took dope he would be barred, and his team would lose all points gained in the event involved.

The athletes appeared unconcerned generally about the strife in Mexico City that has threatened the holding of the Games and last week produced a bloody battle about a week ago involving students that left more than 30 dead.

COMMENTS

Their comments all were in the athletic vien, though that of basketball Coach Henry Iba was vaguely pessimistic.

"I think we have an even chance," he observed. But this is from a coach whose country has never lost in Olympic competition. The biggest challenge this year is from Russia and Yugoslavia.

And the United States is lacking two of its top eligible players—Elvin Hayes of Houston, who turned pro, and Lew Alcindor of UCLA, who chose not to compete.

"This is the strongest Olympic field yet', Iba said.

The arrival of the powerful swimmers completed the U.S. team of nearly 400 and the swimmers are expected to reap the largest harvest of medals.

Although He's Small, Kevin Shows 'Em How

TINY TAR—College of Marin quarterback Kevin Wilson is so small that after a recent game a spectator approached Kevin's dad, Charley Wilson, and quipped: "Hey, you sure that kid's old enough to play college ball?"

Kevin always has been one of those little Giants in sports. I remember him when he looked too small to play Little League baseball, but he showed the bigger kids a few things.

ANSWERING SOME QUESTIONS:

Yes, there will be Marin County drivers competing in the Monterey Grand Prix auto races at Laguna Seca this weekend, including Bill Eve of Sausalito and Tony Settember of Mill Valley, according to publicist Jerry Diamond.

No, there are no Marin ticket agencies for the Grand Prix, except for military personnel at Hamilton Air Force Base. But you can get ducats at British Motors in S.F.

Three In World Series

Yes, there are three Marin County residents who have played in a World Series—Joe DeMaestri of Novato, Art Schallock of San Rafael and Charley Wensloff of Mill Valley, all with the Yankees. Also, Marin native but San Francisco resident Walter Mails played in the 1920 Series for Cleveland.

No, Sam Chapman of Greenbrae and Jack Wilson of San Rafael, both former big leaguers, never played in a Series.

No, the Cardinals' great Bob Gibson is not as unbeatable as his records suggest. The Giants whupped him thrice this year—3-1 on May 28, 3-2 on Sept. 6 and 1-0 on Sept. 17 when Gaylord Perry pitched his no-hitter. Gibson beat the Giants only once this year, 3-0 on July 6.

Yes, in 18-game series competition throughout the 162-game schedule, the Giants beat or tied their nine National League rivals—11-7 over Pittsburgh, 11-7 over New York, 10-8 over St. Louis, 10-8 over Cincinnati, 10-8 over Houston and 9-9 each with Chicago, Atlanta, Los Angeles and Philadelphia. The Giants were a respectable 46-35 on the road but a putrid 42-39 at home where charity is supposed to begin.

Not A Record . . . Yet

No, the Raiders' 14-game victory streak is not an American Football League record. The San Diego Chargers streaked through 15 games in 1960-61 and will be out to block Oakland's shot at their record this Sunday in Oakland.

No, Marin County hunters are not better shots than they were a year ago. Department of Fish and Game statistics show 514 deer killed locally during the 1968 season as compared to 535 in 1967. Local archers are getting better, however. They killed 3 this year and only 1 the previous season. No statistics available on how many the Robin Hoods wounded or maimed.

And finally, no, wise guys, the Mills team that Tamalpais High plays in non-league football Friday afternoon is NOT Mills College for Women. It's Mills High, located between Burlingame and Millbrae.

Charles Finley Lists 13 Of 15 'Untouchables'

OAKLAND (AP) — Charles O. Finley, owner of the Oakland Athletics, revealed yesterday the players he will protect from the major-league expansion draft later this month.

The Oakland Tribune reported that Finley has decided on 13 of the 15 players he will protect and will choose between three more to fill the remaining two spots.

THE LIST

The Tribune said Finley, now at the World Series in St. Louis, will protect:

Pitchers John Odom, Jim Nash, Jim "Catfish" Hunter, Chuck Dobson and Lew Krausse; infielders Danny Cater, Dick Green, Bert Campaneris, Sal Bando and Ted Kubiak; outfielders Reggie Jackson and Rick Monday, and catcher Dave Duncan.

The two remaining spots will be filled by minor league pitcher Rolly Fingers, infielder John Donaldson or outfielder Mike Hershberger.

FOR GRABS

Thus, all the other players on the Athletics' major-league and minor-league rosters could be chosen by the new Kansas City or Seattle teams that will field clubs for the first time next season.

Among those are relief pitcher Jack Aker, Paul Lindblad, Diego Segui and Ed Sprague; outfielders Jim Gosger, Joe Keough, Joe Rudi and Allen Lewis; infielder Ramon Webster, and catchers Jim Pagliaroni and Phil Roof.

BREAKS TRADITION

Finley and new manager Hank Bauer had been working on the list two evenings last week during the World series, the paper said.

Names of players protected in expansion drafts are traditionally not made public, either in baseball, football or basketball.

Hunter Safety Class Sign-Ups Monday

Registration for the San Rafael Rifle and Pistol Club's Hunter Safety Course will be held Monday at 7 p.m. at the San Rafael Pistol Range.

Cost of registration is $5. The course is for youngsters ages 12-18 and is a requirement for obtaining a hunting license.

Spitz Could Be Golden Boy

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mark Spitz, a lean 18-year-old marvel with swimming speed to match his confidence, could be the Golden Boy of the 1968 Olympics.

Don Schollander, his teammate on the Santa Clara Swim Club, was the outstanding aquatic star of the 1964 Games in Tokyo when he won four gold medals.

The handsome, dark-haired Spitz has a solid chance to win five and possibly six gold medals here because of the expanded swimming program.

The 6-foot, 160-pound kid with hands like shovels, will swim in the 100 and 200 butterfly events, the 100-meter freestyle, the 400-meter freestyle and medley relays and possibly in the 800-meter freestyle relay.

He holds the world record in the two butterfly events and is one of the best in the world in the freestyle.

Spitz qualified for the 800-meter relay team but Coach George Haines said he would have to wait and see before deciding whether his protege at Santa Clara will swim a 200 meter leg in that relay.

"He has the 100 butterfly final the same night and we'll wait and see whether he should try a double," said Haines.

Mark would like to give it a try.

"We all came down here to win," said Spitz, who arrived with the full swimming squad yesterday.

Spitz said he had a little cold during the high altitude training at Colorado Springs, Colo., but feels fine now.

"I've become acclimated to the altitude," he said. "I'm swimming faster now than I ever have."

Mark feels he has as good a chance as any for the gold medal in the 100-mter freestyle although he finished third in the U.S. Olympic trials with a time of 53.3 seconds.

Zach Zorn of Long Beach, won the event in the world record-tying time of 52.6. Ken Walsh, also of Long Beach, who had set that record at the Pan-American Games at Winnipeg in 1967, was second in 53.1.

Schollander, who broke his own world record for the 200 meters in the trials, was fifth in the 100 and thus didn't qualify to defend his 1964 title in the century.

"The 100 freestyle is like Russian roulette," said Spitz. "Anyone with a time of a second within the world record has a chance to take it.

"It's a power swim and if someone gets off just right he can take it. World records don't mean a thing. I'll have to prove I'm the best in the fly (butterfly) even though I hold the world records."

Seals Ready For Friday Opener

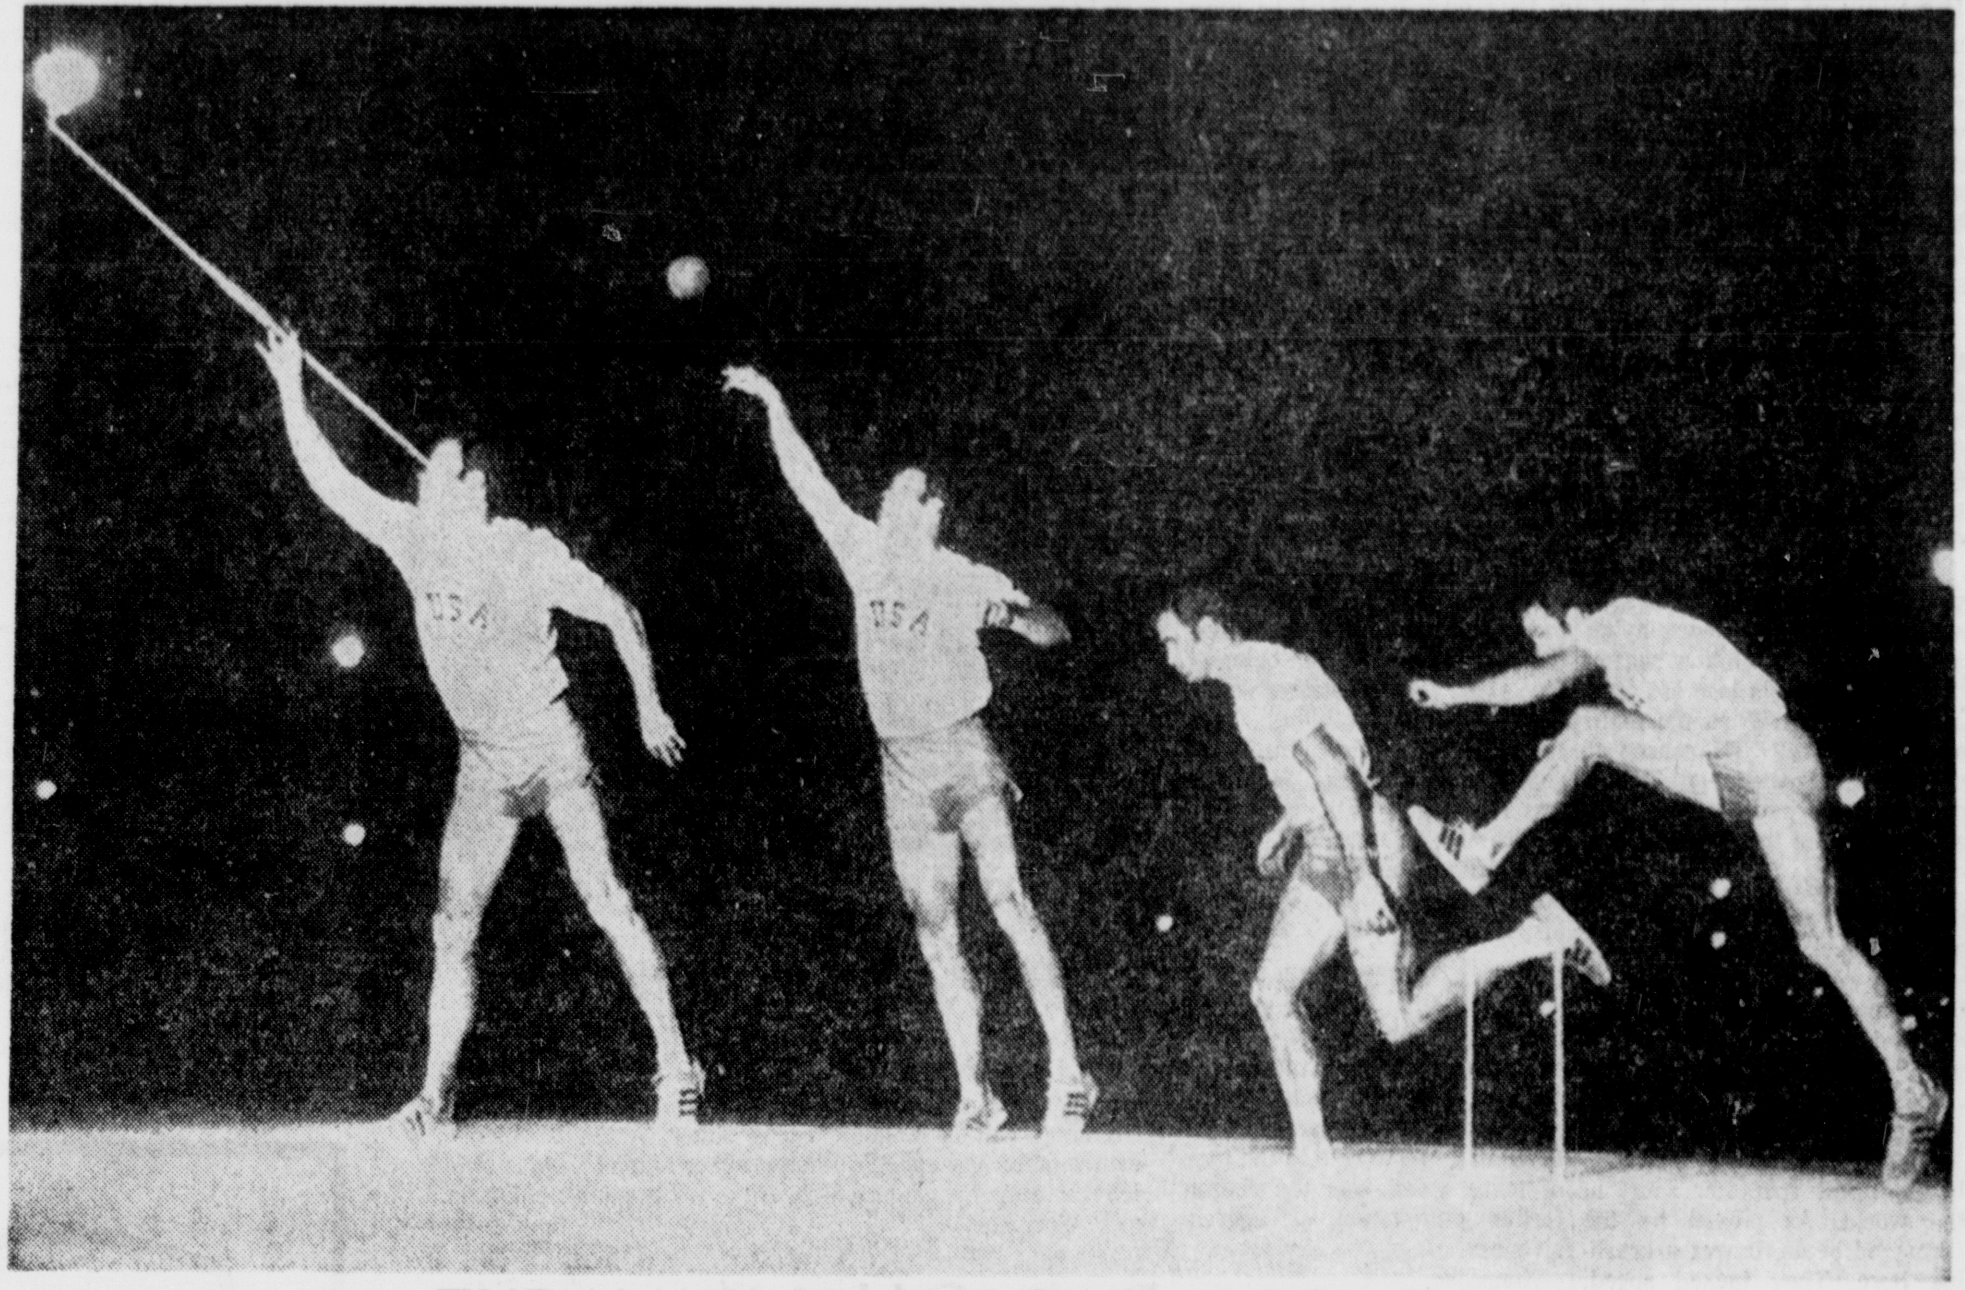
Undefeated, uninjured and all signed was a coach's description of the National Hockey League club awaiting Friday's season opener at home against Minnesota.

The Seals were entirely free of injuries after a successful series of exhibition games in which they won six and tied two in eight contests. They finished their initial season last year in the West Division cellar.

Basketball Triumph

Marin Catholic High School's Class C basketball team opened Marin County Athletic League play yesterday by beating Redwood a 43-23 behind Brian Little's 11 points, at Marin Catholic. The loss evened Redwood's league mark at 1-1.



THE MANY-SPLENDORED TOOMEY

UGLY LETTERS

Gibson's Life Not All That Rosey

By VITO STELLINO

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Bob Gibson, World Series hero, seems to be one of the luckiest men alive.

But Bob Gibson, man on the street, knows his life isn't as golden as it looks to many outsiders.

The pitching star of the St. Louis Cardinals returned to Busch Stadium yesterday in St. Louis after a weekend in Detroit where he won his record seventh straight series game.

More than one letter started: "Dear Nigger:"

Gibson happens to be a black man and since he's in the public eye, he is subjected to racist hate mail.

"It's not just me. Brock and Flood and some of the other Negro players get it, too," he said.

But that doesn't make it any easier for Gibson to take.

As he opened his mail and passed some of the worst examples around to reporters to read, he said, "We're supposed to be above all this but the mayor of Chicago says a policeman can take only so much harassment and he has to retaliate. Well, I can only take so much and it starts getting to me.

"Then people wonder why I'm grouchy some times. People think I should be in a jolly mood all the time but it's tough to take at times."

He added "Once you leave the field, you're just like everybody else, you have the same wants and desires. Sure, on the field you're doing something different but off the field, you're the same."

Gibson admitted he also gets a lot of nice mail, mainly from kids asking for autographs or from people congratulating him.

"If the world was made up just of kids, it'd be a lot better world, it's the grownups who are nasty," he said.

Saturday night before he pitched in Detroit, people were banging at his hotel door at 3 a.m. And at 4 a.m., he got a phone call from someone who said he had a telegram from Denny McLain.

Gibson, who is 32, has made no definite plans for the day when he is no longer pitching.

When somebody suggested that Gibson, who sometimes is critical of sports writers, go into sports writing, he laughed and replied:

"They don't make enough money."

Sore Arm Day On Tap At Kezar

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers and the Baltimore Colts, featuring a pair of doubtful quarterbacks and one sensational substitute, tangle in Kezar Stadium Sunday in a National Football League contest.

The Colts have been established as eight-point favorites by oddsmakers, apparently based on the present health of quarterbacks.

San Francisco's John Brodie suffered an injured right arm in the loss to the Los Angeles Rams last weekend, but says he will be ready to go against the Colts.

Baltimore's Johnny Unitas tore an arm muscle during the exhibition season — and may have to earn his job back when he is ready for action.

Former 49er Earl Morrall has led the Colts to four straight victories, completing 60 of 101 passes for 968 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Tarkenton Takes Over As Top QB

NEW YORK (AP) — Fran Tarkenton of New York and Bill Munson of Detroit have knocked Dallas' Don Meredith out of the lead as the National Football League's top passer.

Tarkenton, who has completed 46 of 80 tosses for 803 yards and eight touchdowns, took over first in the standings based on percentage of completions, touchdowns, percentage of interceptions and average gain.

Race Tracks Merge With Gulf Western

CHICAGO (UPI)—For the $2 bettor the 1969 racing season at Arlington Park and Washington Park will be the same—but there'll be a different name on mutuel clerks' pay checks.

As of yesterday one of the nation's largest track operations merged with conglomerate Gulf and Western Industries, Inc.

The merger of the 460-acre thoroughbred track at jarlington and the 380-acre harness racing enterprise at Washington Park with the billion-dollar eastern firm was jointly announced by Mrs. Majorie L. Everett, owner of the race tracks and David N. Judelson, president of the Gulf and Western.

Stanley: Infielders Deserve More Pay

By MURRAY CHASS

ST. LOUIS (AP) — When Mickey Stanley switched from center field to shortstop, he also switched his thinking. Now he believes infielders deserve higher pay than outfielders.

"Maybe other people"—outfielders, perhaps?—"don't agree, but after playing shortstop, I believe it." Stanley said as the Detroit Tigers prepardd to try and even the Series at three games each today.

Stanley is recognized as one of the best defensive outfielders in the American League, but Manager Mayo Smith asked him to play short against St. Louis so the Tigers could have the benefit of Al Kaline's potent bat.

"Playing shortstop is more work," said the 26-year-old blond who played the position in only eight games before the Series. "Playing the outfield is like taking a vacation. It really is.

"There's a lot more mental strain for an infielder. Ball games depend on him more.

"You can get a bad jump on a ball hit to the outfield and still catch it, and people won't notice it. But if you don't get a ground ball hit a few feet in front of you, everyone sees it.

"An infielder who has a comparable year with the bat should make more money than an outfielder. He's worth more."

Neverthless, Stanley says he'd rather play the outfield—"unless there's a difference in the money I'd make."

Smith intends to put Stanley back in center field next spring, but he's completely satisfied with the way his gamble has turned out.

"He's been real good," Smith said. "Naturally I'm very pleased because he's helped get Kaline in the line-up, and Al's done a great job for us."

Stanley also has been satisfied with his play.

"All Mayo expected me to do was an adequate job, and I think I've been adequate," he commented. "I had one error, and I don't think it was an arror. I know a lot of people agree.

In making the conversion, Stanley has been helped by second baseman Dick McAuliffe. But besides getting help from him, Mickey has gotten the needle.

"I call him Dummy," McAuliffe said. "He tells me what he thinks about certain situations and I tell him, 'Dummy, you can't do that.'"

Stanley's outfielding mates may call him worse names than that.

Seals Open New Season With Hope, Little Else

OAKLAND—Shortly after the first of the year, an aging hockey player arrived five minutes late to the site where the Oakland Seals' team bus was about to depart to one place or another.

His apology not being properly contrite in the view of the team leader, this capable athlete was instantly shuttled to the minor leagues. A fine, if even that, would have been of more benefit to the team than the banishment. (Actually, the Seals management could have used 50 bucks from time to time in their first National Hockey League season.)

YET THAT'S the kind of club the Seals had a year ago. It was poorly managed in terms of business, poorly directed on the ice. This might lead one to believe the Oaklands finished last in their expansion division. Good guess.

Hope must abound for this year, what with new owners, a new coach, mostly new playing personnel, an exhibition season that saw the Seals lose not once in eight games. When the team opens its 1968-69 NHL season at the Coliseum Arena on Friday night, hope — and perhaps little else — will fill the frigid air.

FOR ALTHOUGH we're told this is a good hockey team, we hearken back to 12 months ago — when we also were being told this was a good hockey team, coached to fever pitch by a grim, firm fellow named Olmstead.

Promises, promises.

Hockey, when played properly, is the finest spectator sport in the world. As played by the Olmstead Seals, it was a crashing bore. They lacked speed, and not just on offense.

THEY WERE ragged and, because of Olmstead's perpetual taunting, uncaring. This browbeaten Oakland team reached such a desultory low it was almost never able to score on the basic power play — brought about when the opponents are playing short-handed because of a penalty.

Of all their bad habits, this lack of advantaged scoring most upset the few fans who bothered coming to the Arena.

NOW, WE'RE told, all this will change. New coach Fred Glover is a pleasant man, radiating charm and enthusiasm to his charges. Those performers who felt as if they had the overnight shift in a mortuary last year are now tickled to death to be on the ice — or so comes the word from training camp.

Only 10 skaters return from last season's team, and one of those is goalie Charlie Hodge, the most abused human being of the year. With another club, Hodge would probably have emerged asthe league's finest goalkeeper. With the Seals, he was like a guy walking through Central Park after dark — constantly under assault. Of all the Seals, Hodge alone merited inspection last year.

BUT GOALIES don't score, goalies don't forecheck the charging enemy wingers. This business of checking the enemy offense at the foe's end of the ice was not a Seal tactic in the first year. We were told the lack of team speed was the reason forthis elimination of aggressiveness.

Nonsense.

HOCKEY IS aggression. The fans want to see it; the players must offer it. A clean exhibition slate and joy in the clubhouse won't mean a thing unless these new Seals play the game as it was intended.

Otherwise, boarding a bus will offer the only excitement of the year here.

Raiders Going For Record 15th Triumph

OAKLAND (UPI) — The powerful Oakland Raiders will be shooting for an American Football League record when they go into action at the Coliseum Sunday--but they'll also be fighting for first place.

The Raiders will tangle with the San Diego Chargers in their search for a 15th consecutive league victory over a period of two years. Ironically, the Chargers hold the current record of 15 and scored four of those victories at the expense of the Raiders.

Oakland has been plagued by injuries, and four Chargers face calls to active duty in the National Guard. The oddsmakers call it Oakland by nine.

Brundage May Run Again; Swimmers Make The Scene

29 girls. From this group the United States expects to win at least 20 of the 29 gold medals in an expanded competition, and pick up plenty of silver and bronze, as well.

How much golds will the powerful women's team win?

"A lot," said Coach Sherman Chavoor. "Most of it. We'd better".

The girls are headed by Debbie Meyers, world record holder in the 200, 400 and 800-meter freestyle from Sacramento, Catie Ball, the 100 and 200-meter record holder from Jacksonville, Fla., Claudie Kolb, the 200 and 400-meter individual medley record holder from Santa Clara, and Sue Pedersen, 15-year-old marvel from Sacramento who has a shot at five medals.

RECORD HOLDER

The men are headed by Mark Spitz, Santa Clara, who may shoot for six medals. He holds the world record in the 100 and 200-meter butterfly events, and also will swim in the 100-meter freestyle, the 400-meter freestyle the 400-meter medley relay events, and possibly in the 800-meter freestyle relay.

The U.S. track team, which expects to draw its biggest challenge—as usual—from the Russians, pulled a mild surprise with the announcement of a change in the running order of the 400-meter relay team.

Coach Payton Jordan said he will lead off with Charlie Greene, followed by Mel Pender, Ronnie Ray Smith and Jimmy Hines as anchor. The surprise was Greene as the starter.

"We know Pender has the best start of the four," Jordan said, "but Greene has little experience in relay running. I decided it would be best to let Charlie run first to eliminate one baton exchange for him."

In more political events, the International Olympic Committee, through Lord Killanin, a member of the executive board, announced after a lengthy meeting that:

"It was agreed that the present members of the executive board will remain in office until the end of these Games even if they are not re-elected."

THE VOTE

He said nominations for the presidency, vice presidency and membership of board will be voted on Thursday. Brundage, president since 1952, is expected to be re-elected. There are rumors, however, that he will accept only a two-year term.

The IOC also decided to let North Korea compete in these Games under that name, but that in future games will carry the designation "DPRK" (Democratic People's Republic of Korea). The South Koreans protested.

Striking students, meanwhile, continued their movement—within legal channels—seeking political change in the country, the cause of last week's bloody battles in the city.

They said they plan to continue the operation throughout the country of roving political bands, seeking support from farmers and factory workers.

Government officials, however, said the city has been calm for almost a week since last week's carnage, which prompted the callup of crack army units now circling the Olympic

Raiders Dominate Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — The powerful Oakland Raiders are off and running toward their second straight American Football championship, and statistics show the reason why.

The Raiders, 4-0, lead in total offense with 1,709 yards, an average of 427.3 yards a game, and rank second in total defense with 1,010 yards, just two more yards than San Diego has allowed, league statistics released today revealed.

Oakland also has turned its high-powered running and passing into the most points, 160, and has allowed the fewest points, 52. San Diego has given up 60 points.

Writer Picks Ohio Staters To Upset Powerful Purdue

By DICK COUCH

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A football coach doesn't believe in turning the other cheek . . . particularly if his name happens to be Woody Hayes.

The Ohio State pilot has been laying for Purdue ever since his Buckeyes took a 41-6 thrashing from the Boilermakers last fall.

Saturday at Columbus, Hayes gets his rematch in a game that could swing the Big Ten championship to the survivor.

Purdue goes in with an unblemished record and the top spot in the national rankings. But the brawny Bucks are unbeaten, too, and Hayes has enough talent at his disposal to avenge Ohio's darkest day in 1967.

We're betting he'll do just that . . . despite Leroy Keyes.

Last week's picks came out on top in 47 of 56 games, giving this corner a season mark of 140-37-7 . . . a .761 pace.

Penn State over UCLA: The Bruins' offensive shortcomings were evident in last week's loss to Syracuse. Penn State's rugged defense should compound the problem.

Mississippi over Georgia: The Rebs are flexing their muscles after knocking off Alabama for the first time since 1910.

Kansas over Nebraska: One vote for Jayhawk quarterback Bob Douglass in this Big Eight archrivalry.

Oklahoma over Texas: The Sooners have a score to settle too . . . Texas handed them their only regular season setback in 1967.

Michigan State over Michigan: Duffy Daugherty has something going again at East Lansing.

Texas A&M over Texas Tech: The Aggies have had their usual early troubles . . . but they're going to make plenty of late trouble in the Southwest Conference.

Elsewhere:

EAST—Syracuse over Pittsburgh; Rutgers over Lehigh; Dartmouth over Princeton; Cornell over Penn; Harvard over Columbia; Holy Cross over Colgate; Buffalo over Delaware; Yale over Brown; Boston College over Villanova; California over Army.

SOUTH—Alabama over Vanderbilt; Auburn over Clemson; Duke over Virginia; Florida over Tulane; Tennessee over Georgia Tech; Oregon State over Kentucky; Tulsa over Louisville; North Carolina over Maryland; West Texas State over Memphis State; Southern Mississippi over Mississippi State; North Carolina State over South Carolina; Ohio University over William & Mary; Wake Forest over Virginia Tech; West Virginia over VMI; Citadel over Richmond; Connecticut over Davidson.

MIDWEST—Air Force over Navy at Chicago; Colorado over Missouri; Minnesota over Illinois; Indiana over Iowa; Kansas State over Iowa State; Notre Dame over Northwestern; Utah State over Wisconsin; Miami, Ohio, over Marshall; Western Michigan over Kent State; Colorado State over Wichita State; Cincinnati over Tampa; Toledo over Bowling Green.

SOUTHWEST—Arkansas over Baylor; Houston over Oklahoma State; North Texas State over Northern Michigan; Texas Christian over Southrn Methodist.

FAR WEST—Southern California over Stanford; Pacific over Santa Clara; Wyoming over Brigham Young; Utah over New Mexico; Arizona State over Washington State; Washington over Oregon.

Willsey True To His Word

BERKELEY (AP) — Coach Ray Willsey warned that he was going to reshuffle his California Bears' offensive line.

He did yesterday.

At tackle, John Phillips worked out ahead of sophomore Bob Richards and Tom Demler replaced Mike Meers on the first team.

At tight end, Jim Brady moved in for George Harris but developed a strep throat and missed practice.

Two ailing linebackers, Travis Tatum and Jerry Woods were doubtful for Saturday's game at Army.

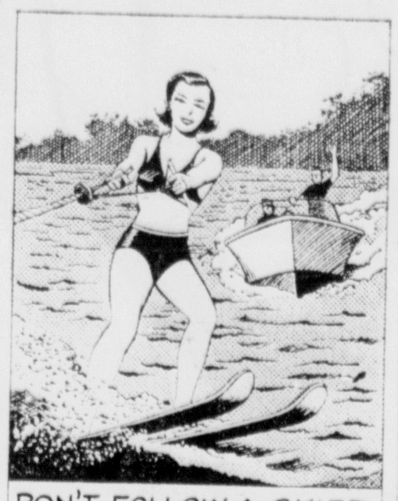
BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Good Will And Courtesy Vital On The Waterways

The need for greater understanding and consideration between the various—and divergent—groups which use our waterways increases every day. Every authority interested in water activities warns that failure of one group to defer to another and respect its interests can lead only to restrictive legislation.

The boater, already the target of many restrictive rules and regulations, has most to lose and, thus, should lead the way in demonstrating good will, and courtesy to others.



DON'T FOLLOW A SKIER TOO CLOSELY. SHE COULD FALL AND YOU MIGHT HIT HER.

HERE ARE some of the areas in which courtesy should be, yet often is not, shown:

All boats should scrupulously respect any swimming area. Keep a sharp lookout even when close, in case some swimmers have strayed from a buoyed area.

The same goes for divers. Every boatman should be familiar with the scuba diver's flag (red with diagonal white stripe) and should stay at least 100 feet away. This is already backed by law in some states.

NEVER FOLLOW too closely behind a water skier. He might fall and you may not be able to avoid him.

Pass an anchored angler with as little wake as possible and as far away as possible. He'll really appreciate that.

If you are a sailboat skipper, signal, as often as you can, your intentions to power boat skippers nearby. Some sail men are aggressively conscious of the fact that motorboats must stay clear of them, and it's not unusual to see a sailboat beating into a harbor or narrow channel against the wind tacking back and forth so as to practically immobilize power boats in the vicinity.

And, finally, avoid polluting or fouling the water. Boats are being penalized unjustly for the nation's water pollution problem, and many agencies are just looking for excuses to blame the boaters.

SHARING THE waters is a topic of wide interest as many questions we've been asked indicate:

Q. Is there any law about how long you can use a launching ramp?

A. There may be rules in individual parks or at municipal launching sites, but as a universal thing there is no law. If you are held up by some greenhorn ahead of you, I'd suggest you diplomatically give him a hand to get him out of the ramp as fast as possible.

Q. Do sailboats in a race have the right to hog the entire area of the course?

A. Never. Regatta regulations in some jurisdictions often give sailboats in a race some privileges they may not have otherwise, but they are few. However, wouldn't it be the courteous thing to avoid an area where a race was obviously in progress?

Q. If you see a beautiful sailboat with sails billowing, can you photograph it without asking permission?

A. Yes. But what you do with the picture might cause you trouble. In a case this summer in Europe, a photographer took a picture of a nude French model on the deck of a boat at a French resort without asking the owner's permission. The picture appeared in a slick British magazine called Mayfair. The boatowner, a staid Englishmen, sued and collected a bundle. It could happen here.

Q. This guy cruises quietly around and, from a high tower on his boat, peers through binoculars at the girls sunbathing. We think he takes pictures with a telephoto lens. . . .

A. I don't think you can do a thing about it . . . legally.

Q. I'm in favor of keeping our waters clean for swimming. When should I install a sewage holding tank?

A. We're all in favor of clean water, and the law requires a sewage treatment unit in New York state by March 1, 1969. However, don't do anything until winter. By then legislators and manufacturers will have arrived at a decision as to precisely what is required. This goes for boaters in other states where sewage legislation is pending. Don't do anything until you know exactly what is required or you might waste money.

San Marin J.V. Gridders Win

San Marin High School's fledgling football team topped the Redwood jayvees 19-7 at Novato Saturday as Urbano Bosciegeuz gained 52 yards in just five carries.

Quarterback Ken Gnoss scored twice on sneaks and Phil Adams returned an interception for a touchdown to round out the San Marin scoring.

The San Rafael High School frosh gridders downed the Terra Linda frosh, 21-20 Friday. Scott Duncan's 25-yard burst provided the winning margin.

The Bulldogs also scored on a safety and on touchdowns by Dirk Ganslosser and Jim Erwin.

O. J. Remains Top Rusher

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—O. J. Simpson of Southern California maintained his lead in Pacific-8 rushing last week, according to figures released by the conference today.

In three games Simpson has carried the ball 111 times for a net of 588 yards, 5.3 yards per carry. Simpson is also tied for ninth among conference receivers with eight catches for 67 yards.

Washington State quarterback Jerry Henderson leads in passing with 38 completions in 60 tosses for 515 yards. Stanford's Jim Plunkett is second with 36 completions in 67 attempts for 696 yards.

Wayne Stewart of California leads the receivers with 19 catches for 216 yards and Zenon Andrusyshyn of UCLA tops the league's punters with an average of 41.6 yards in 14 kicks.

Merchants Tournament In Novato

The second annual Merchants Golf Tournament, sponsored by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held on the Indian Valley course in Novato Wednesday, Oct. 30.

The tournament is open to all golfers, regardless of handicap. Jaycee chairman Ray Owens said his group is estimating that 50 trophies will be donated by Novato merchants for the tourney.

Cost is $10 for golf and dinner, $6 for golf only, and $5 for dinner only. Proceeds go to help the Novato Junior Miss Pageant which provides a chance at a college scholarship for some Novato High School senior girl.

Entry blanks are available at the pro shop at Indian Valley golf course, and deadline for entry is Oct. 28.

AL WALTON was playoff winner last Sunday at the Mill Valley Golf Club's Secretary's Day tournament. Walton was tied with Oscar D' Antonio and Ernie Brymer after each had shot 59 net the previous week.

In the co-featured Professional's Day tourney, Carl Erickson took top honors with 69-13—56, followed by Gene Quinn, 76-19—57, Chet Howlett, 67-9—58, Mario Polacchi, 72-14—58, Bill Hogan, 66-7—59, Sam Dave Schmidt, 76-16—59. Sam Cook won the junior division title, 79-15—64.

KEN VENTURI will hold a clinic at the Petaluma Boys Club annual golf tournament Oct. 25 at the Petaluma Golf and Country Club. Venturi will also be guest speaker at the tournament dinner later that day.

CLIFFORD H. ABRAMS, 86, father of Lloyd G. Abrams of Corte Madera, made his second hole-in-one within a four-week period when he scored an ace at the Golden Seniors Tournament in Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2.

Abrams was invited to the tournament after scoring a hole-in-one on the Eastmoreland Golf Course in Portland, Ore., which established him as the oldest ace shooter in the United States.

His tourney ace came on the 165-yard eighth hole on the Edgewood Country Club Course. It was the second ace in a month after 44 years of golf for Abrams.

SOMEWHERE IN THAT PILE

One of the reasons Purdue is ranked number one college football team in the country is its stout defense, clearly visible here as a swarm of Boilermakers crushes Northwestern quarterback Dave Shelbourne behind the goal for a safety. Purdue walloped the Wildcats, 43-6 last Saturday.

Driver Hopes For Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California's Mickey Thompson, who has yearned to be the world automobile speed king since he was a kid, will take another shot at the land-speed record in a few weeks at Utah's Bonneville Salt Flats.

The 39-year-old Long Beach driver today prepared his newest piston-driven, blue and gold bullet for an assault on the world mark of 409 miles an hour set in 1965 by two racing friends, brothers Bill and Bob Summers.

The 30-foot, extremely narrow car was shown publicly for the first time at a news conference for scores of visiting writers yesterday.

The slender car, less than three feet wide, is powered by two 427-cubic inch Ford engines —the front capable of generating 810 horsepower, the supercharged rear 1,260 horsepower.

In 1960 Thompson drove his longer, heavier Challenger I at 406 m.p.h. at Bonneville on the northern run over the 10-mile straightaway. But the required return run ended in failure with a broken driveshaft.

Thompson said he plans to ferry the car — styled the Ford Autolite Special — to Utah next week and hopes to shoot for the record about Oct. 27.

Indians Worried About Pass-Rush

On the defensive side, Ralston had freshman Jackie Brown of Yakima, Wash., impersonate Trojan star O. J. Simpson yesterday and expressed satisfaction with the way the defense reacted to Southern California running patterns.

The workout was closed and Ralston said the Tribe will continue to drill in privacy all week.

It seems to me . . .

by Lou Concilio

NICE ODDS ON THE MORNING LINE

Some of the boys are making book and they're due for a fall. Not from the police—but from backing the wrong horse. Or, betting against the house. Or, whatever else is not playing it cool or smart. These are the boys who are smirking and waiting for Concilio to falter in the stretch.

Fortunately, and with pardonable gratification, I am told the bettors are not finding too many takers, and to those few takers I can merely suggest they demand and get terrific odds. And, then, bet only what they can safely afford to lose, like the nickel plungers at Vegas, 'cause I have no intention of going down the tube.

Those of my friends who are blessed with long memories and total recall will remember my rather dramatic (and probably pathetic) vow to return in a dealership of my own, with my own money on the line, and my own opportunity to make my own mistakes and savor my own accomplishments and victories. It was the familiar wail of a frustrated second banana who is convinced top billing has been too elusive too long. In that swan song column of late 1964, I correctly predicted most everything but the make of car. It's Dodge instead of Ford, but the name of the game is still very much the same.

The game to me is a game with one set of rules and without a referee, because it has to be played straight. On a straight deal, who needs a guy to call signals and blow the penalty whistle? And, like the cornball I am, I always play the game to win.

It is always a source of amazement to me that I am taken for a fool or an idiot by some of my brethren. No guy would enjoy that role in any case, but to wear the mantle for admitting to normal feelings of compassion and a real liking of people is hardly fair. To enjoy your work and your day with customers and your people does not prevent you from making an honest buck or two in the process.

I didn't return to Marin County, and sink my savings into a faltering dealership, to sit by and watch it falter more and completely. I didn't agree and I don't now agree with the gloomsters who said the whole deal was put in the wrong spot, and that no one could turn it on. I invite these doubters to check our fully-staffed and busy service department and body shop and take a look at our daily sales action board. They might still have time to hedge on those bets.

What is happening at my dealership, Marin Dodge, is not strange. It is actually the natural evolution of results—predictable results—from a very commonsense application of proper management principles. People are still basically the same. They will respond to a firm which offers honest values in service and product and delivers exactly that. Good people have always sought other good people who will communicate on a par level instead of a down-nose path. You'll get the full eyeball contact with any of our people.

I have the ultimate weapon, and it's definitely no secret. I am surrounded by managers of unique talent who read me. I second guess none of them, and they enjoy a latitude of individual expression rarely extended by the old-school dealer. If a manager is worth his salt, and mine are Morton's all the way, he doesn't have to be manipulated by puppet strings. I have been second-guessed to distraction and almost self-destruction in my time, and I won't do the same to anyone.

So, you see, those bets don't look so sure, anymore, do they? You should have asked any of our employees, first. Or, you could have asked me. I have always been with a winner, and I'm afraid I'm too old to change now.

"The kind of people I like best are the ones that don't kiss you too much."

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 9, the 283rd day of 1968 with 83 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1701, Yale College, now Yale University, was founded.

In 1910, forest fires in Northern Minnesota destroyed six towns with a loss of 400 lives and damage estimated at $100 million.

In 1939, a Nazi sub seized the U.S. merchant vessel, City of Flint, and escorted it into the Soviet port of Murmansk. It was released 12 days later.

In 1958, Pope Pius XII died at the Vatican. He was the 261st pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church.

A thought for the day—American naturalist John Burroughs once said: "Time does not become sacred to us until we have lived it."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

One Of Those Days, Slam Is Just Not A Workable Feat

"Some days it doesn't pay to get out of bed," South complained after losing the slam on today's hand. "On a good day the queen of hearts would drop or the clubs would break normally. I might even get a more favorable opening lead."

LEADS KING

West opened the king of diamonds, and South won with the ace. He led out the ace and king of hearts, but the queen did not drop.

Now South had to get rid of his two losing diamonds in a hurry. He tried to run three rounds of clubs, but West ruffed the third club and cashed a diamond to defeat the slam.

Did South have a right to complain about his hard luck, or did he play the hand badly? Since we can see all of the cards we know that South could have made the slam by playing four rounds of spades first.

Was it reasonable for South to try to run three clubs first rather than four rounds of spades? Or was there a way for South to guess how the black suits would break?

HOW TO FIND OUT

South could not make the slam if West had only one or two spades. Since he had to rely on finding at least three spades in the West hand, South should have tried three rounds of spades first. If the six missing spades were divided 3-3, South would then switch to clubs, intending to lead dummy's last spade if he could safely cash three club tricks.

FOUR SPADES

Actually, South would discover that West had four spades, so that it was safe to cash the fourth spade at once. After discarding one diamond on the fourth spade South would run the three clubs to discard his other diamond. West would ruff the third club, but by that time South would be out of danger.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner deals and opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ K Q 8 4
♥ J 7 5 4
♦ 6 5
♣ K Q 6

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

The hand is too strong for a raise to two hearts but not strong enough for a jump to three hearts. Bid your own suit and raise hearts at your next turn. (If your partner opens with one heart in third or fourth position, after you have passed, you can then jump to three hearts since your original pass limits your strength.)

Chris Craft Sales Takes Over Temporary San Rafael Quarters

A temporary office has been taken at Loch Lomond Yacht Harbor by the new Chris Craft Sales of San Rafael — formerly Chris Craft Sales of Redwood City.

The location is next to Loch Lomond Yacht Sales, but eventually Chris Craft will occupy a permanent office and 12 slips on Pier B, now under construction. A service staff will then be added.

Owners Howard Duncan and his son Gary have been at the Redwood City Marina in Redwood City since 1961. Salesman Gary Garrison, who will continue with them, is also moving to Marin. The Duncans have been selling out much of their inventory on the peninsula but expect to bring about nine Chris Craft models with them to Loch Lomond.

With two Garys at Chris Craft and Gary Muggenthaler at Loch Lomond Yacht Sales, things are likely to be a little confusing at this location — but anyone of them will sell you a boat.

THE 12-STORY Tamalpais retirement residence long under construction in Greenbrae will reach its full height tomorrow and "topping out" ceremonies will be held.

Topping out usually consists of hoisting the last steel girder into place but the Tamalpais is built of reinforced concrete, so the highlight of the ceremony in this case will be the hoisting and pouring of the last bucket of cement. Completion of the building is scheduled for early next year.

A NEW VENTURE of three Terra Linda women, Mrs. Blanche Ayers, Mrs. Carol Dunham and Mrs. Betti Walser, is Terra Linda Art Gallery, opened at 4166 Redwood Highway.

They rent wall space to local artists for a nominal fee in lieu of commission charges. The gallery features a variety of paintings and sculpture and is open Mondays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Kroetz

Acton

GEORGE E. KROETZ of San Rafael has been appointed vice president of international operations at Bank of America's head office in San Francisco. He has been in charge of operational matters for the overseas branch system for the past 10 years. He joined the bank in 1927 and has been an officer of the bank since 1938.

H. WADE ACTON of San Rafael has been appointed assistant vice president, insurance services, at California State Automobile Association. He joined CSAA at the San Francisco sales department in 1946, became assistant underwriting manager in 1951, manager in 1957 and was made assistant manager of the inter-insurance bureau in 1967.

RICHARD H. COLBERT of San Rafael has been appointed vice president and manager for Four Star Entertainment Corp. He has been with the company six years, most recently as vice president of western sales. Before joining Four Star he was midwest sales chief for Screen Gems and for 18 years was with Universal Pictures as manager in Seattle and Portland.

IF YOU SHOULD SEE Ronald C. Horne of San Rafael crossing the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge these days in a gold Cadillac, it was well earned in a nationwide contest.

During recent competition among 12,000 dealers in the United States for Olivetti-Underwood Corp., Horne's company, Kinshella's Office Supply in Richmond, sold 714 portable typewriters and adding machines to walk off (or rather, ride off) with the grand prize — which turned out to be something more useful than a gold medal.

NEWLY APPOINTED DIRECTOR of quality control for the cosmetic lines of Synergistic Industries, San Rafael is John Mengel, a chemist and resident of Berkeley.

SAN RAFAEL marine surveyor Jim Marmaduke has been elected to membership in the National Association of Marine Surveyors. He is one of 12 members of the association in California. There are 148 members throughout the United States and Canada.

MARIN RESIDENTS elected officers of the Commodity Club of San Francisco include Robert H. Stanley of Sausalito, secretary, and Robert M. Adams of Marinwood, treasurer. Marvin Wood of Tiburon has been named a director. Stanley is with Stanley Brokerage Co.; Adams with First Western Bank, and Wood with the Marwood Co.

MARTIN (MARTY) FLYNN of Corte Madera is leaving the Cala Market to enter the retail liquor business in Carmichael. He is a director of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council and has been an employee of Cala and its predecessor, Littleman, for 17 years. His new business is Jayne's Bottle shop at 6445 Fair Oaks Boulevard, Carmichael.

REDESIGNED SAN RAFAEL STORE

New mansard roof and exterior stucco refinishing for Stan's for Sports store at Third Street and Grand Avenue, San Rafael, has been completed. The remodeling was planned by Sausalito architect Donald Keith Olsen and constructed by Al Villa. The building now architecturally matches Stan's stores in Strawberry and Novato which were also designed by Olsen.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Economy Continues To Roar Despite Slowdown Forecast

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Somehow an economic slowdown has been lost. Most analysts still feel it has only been delayed en route. Others aren't sure. Maybe it will never come, they say.

In this age of computers you'd think it couldn't happen, but it has. The American economy was supposed to be turning sluggish by now, the result of spending cutbacks and an income tax surcharge. But it's roaring.

CHART STUDIES

"I don't know what's happened," said an economist looking at his charts. "Industrial production is high and capital spending plans look good. Lots of jobs and little unemployment. Lots of houses being built, retail sales strong, cars selling like candybars."

"What bothers me," said his partner, "is that the government takes 10 per cent more taxes from people and the people just don't seem to mind. They're spending like mad. And when people don't complain about taxes something's wrong."

"Search me," said the other. "When I forecast a slowdown I was as certain it would appear by now as the movie projectionist is certain his picture will reach the screen. What could have happened?"

NOTE QUESTION

A lot of people are asking that question. The Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis headlined an article in its September issue, "Excessive Demand Slowing?" Note the question mark.

Business Week magazine in a mid-September editorial said. "These are times that try decision makers' souls. A large majority of economists is warning of a business slowdown. But the economy itself continues to point upward."

Several consultants and economic advisers to business continue to tell their clients to look for a strong 1969, and some of them have all but ruled out fears of a recession during midwinter.

Arthur Okun, the president's chief economic adviser, said last week that he still expects the slowdown to develop but conceded that so far the signs of it haven't been so pronounced as he had expected.

Walter Heller, who was chief economic adviser in the Kennedy administration, is one of a shrinking number who feel the slowdown already has begun, that it will continue for months and that the nation must guard against too much cooling.

Argus Research, which provides economic and investment research to business, is among those which earlier warned of a possible recession this winter. Now it is suspicious of the government's anti-inflation statements.

"The publication of the economic data for August has widened the 'credibility gap' concerning the effectiveness of the government's widely heralded disinflationary policies," it said.

"The August data," it continued, "have given added substance to the feeling that the government disinflationary policies are not producing the expected results." Politics, it suspects, might be compromising economics.

SOME EFFECTS

A few definite effects of the tax increase have appeared, but not in a pattern. The signs have been isolated here and there. American Telephone & Telegraph earnings, for example, fell in the most recent quarter to 93 cents a share from 97 cents three months ago.

But stocks, including even AT&T, have displayed strength. The market is not an infallible barometer of future business activity and it could be wrong now, but for what it is worth, it has been pointing upward.

Two explanations seem prominent in explanations of why the slowdown hasn't arrived on schedule. One, consumers are dipping into their savings to continue spending for cars, houses and luxuries. Two, some corporations feel the only way to overcome higher wages is to spend money for expansion and greater efficiency.

NOT ON SCHEDULE

Whatever the reasons, the slowdown hasn't arrived on schedule. The economists are almost unanimous still in forecasting slower expansion by late fall or winter. But that's what they said before.

The search for the slowdown continues and some economists are asking questions now instead of issuing forecasts.

To those who claim they've seen signs of the slowdown's onset the cynics argue that some people will always see signs and portents in the sky.

The slowdown, they say, is lost and they're wondering if it ever will be found.

Building Increase In Mill Valley

Seventeen building permits with a total construction value of $220,520 were issued by the Mill Valley Community Development Department last month, Building Inspector Loren K. Rohde has reported.

Although the number of permits issued decreased from the 22 permits issued in September 1967, the total construction value increased $125,275.

Permits were issued for six residences, one carport, nine alterations-additions and one retaining wall.

A total of $1,164.75 in building permit fees was collected last month, Rohde said.

Merger Reports Hit Record For Quarter

CHICAGO (BW) — Merger announcements during the third quarter of 1968 increased 64 per cent over the third quarter of 1967, rising to a total of 1,455 from 888, according to the research department of W. T. Grimm & Co., a financial consulting firm specializing in mergers and acquisitions.

For the nine months ended Sept. 30 the Grimm study revealed a record 3,158 consolidations, up 37 per cent over the comparable 1967 period. For all of 1967 the firm recorded 2,975 mergers.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

12 Holdings Good Enough For Estate

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have enclosed a list of my stocks which took 60 years to accumulate. Are these suitable for my wife if she survives me? I am 90. — H. C.

A. You have built a fine portfolio which in the main will be suitable for your wife.

Sale of Allied Chemical and El Paso Natural Gas — both suffering from lower earnings — will upgrade your list. The money freed should be used to build up your position in Virginia Electric and Chemical Bank New York Trust.

Your five utilities provide a generous yield and should be held. The expected recovery in earnings for DuPont and General Motors may result in more generous year-end payments. Both should be retained. Eastman Kodak and Standard Oil of New Jersey should also be held for their long-term potential. General Electric and North American Rockwell have been experiencing earnings weakness but I recommend holding since their long-range outlook remains good.

These 12 issues, in my opinion, are fully as many as your wife should be required to follow in the event she survives you.

Q. Would you advise holding Santa Fe Industries and Hammond Corp? — A. C.

A. Yes, I would, since in each case annual earnings should exceed fiscal 1967-68's depressed results.

Santa Fe Industries — formerly Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway — is a new holding company with interests in oil and gas, lumber, real estate and mining, as well as in the operation of a major transcontinental rail system.

The recent rail rate increases on a higher volume of freight together with further possible diversification strengthen Santa Fe's outlook.

Hammond reported a 20 per cent increase in June quarter volume, reflecting a strong and continuing upsurge in demand for keyboard instruments. Hammond sells organs, pianos, "reverb" devices, defense products and a line of gloves.

The venture into soft goods has created a broader operating base to compensate for any possible reduction in spending for durable goods.

State's Economy Up In September

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — California's economic activity advance again in September, with total spending reaching $96.03 billion, according to figures just released by the Bank of California.

The state's economy finished the end of the third quarter with a 3.34 per cent advance over January 1968.

Wage and salary compensation totaled $53.37 billion in September, a gain of 1.15 per cent in the month and 7.4 per cent in a year.

The bank's October economic outlook for California calls for another billion dollar increase in total spending to $97.35 billion, with personal spending rising to $59.77 billion and business spending advancing to $13.21 billion.

Protein Factory

LIMA, Peru (UPI)—A factory introducing protein concentrate made from fish and fit for human consumption will go into production in 1969. The factory is scheduled to produce 35,000 tons of the concentrate in the first year of operation.

If you haven't driven a Ford lately, you're one of the reasons we built this one!

The '69 Ford is the car that's creating all the talk. You ought to know the reasons.

The '69 Ford hugs the road with a track as wide as Cadillac . . . smooths your ride with a longer wheelbase than Chevrolet. This '69 LTD is designed to ride quieter than the LTD that was quieter than Rolls-Royce. It has more front headroom, legroom and trunk space than cars costing hundreds of dollars more. Even with a longer wheelbase, it's easier to handle, easier to park.

This is a new luxury-size Ford at a very popular price. Big. Strong. Quiet. A great road car. Drive one at your Ford Dealer's now.

Planning Session In Marin City

The Marin City Council will consider immediate and a long range planning goals for Marin City at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Manzanita Center.

Discussion will cover planning an immediate program, reported Emory Curtis, a representative of Plan of Action for Challenging Times, a non-profit organization from San Francisco.

Curtis said the immediate planning would cover programs that could be achieved while the long range plan is still developing.

Civic Center Air Strip Costs Held Too High

A first-rate heliport and a short takeoff and landing strip (STOL) near the Civic Center would cost anywhere from $160,000 to $530,000, the Marin County Aviation Commission was informed last night.

Mario Balestrieri, deputy director of the department of public works, presented the cost estimates, which he described as "rough figures," on four proposed sites just north of the Civic Center.

Balestrieri envisaged a site about three acres in size, with taxiway, loading and fueling space, a 75-car parking lot, a concrete helicopter pad, lighting, and a small office building.

On a motion by Richard Nave, the commissioners rejected all proposals because of high cost and asked the county department of public works to make further studies on less heliport facilities.

Commissioner Benjamin R. Ostlind wanted the county to begin using an old air strip on Smith Brothers Ranch on an interim basis immediately, but he was out-voted by the three other commissioners—Chairman Tris Coffin, Nave, and Melville Dixon.

The Marin Aviation Commissioners also:

DEDICATION — Heard from airport Mgr. Francis E. Torr that he would try to get jets from Hamilton Field to fly by during dedication of Gnoss Field at 3 p.m. Oct. 25. Richard Duste, a fixed base operator, will fly Supervisor William A. Gnoss to Santa Rosa to meet Rep. Don A. Clausen and the three will fly back to Gnoss Field to open the ceremonies.

AIRPORT RULES—Decided to make more changes before a final draft of the rules governing the airport operation is adopted.

Civic Center To Close For Utilities Hookup

The Civic Center administration building will be closed, even to visitors, all day Sunday.

Assistant Administrator John F. Barrows said all power will be turned off in the building to permit Pacific Gas and Electric Co. workers to connect electrical lines to the adjoining Hall of Justice.

Cotati School Board Sets City Pipeline Deadline

Cotati School District trustees last night set a 10-day deadline to meet with Cotati city officials to solve water problems at the Thomas Page Elementary School now under construction.

The city council last week agreed to assume costs for oversizing of water lines from four to eight inches, but could not determine the termination point or placement of the line.

Supt. Duncan A. Coleman said construction progress at the school on Richardson Lane is now at the point where line installation must be determined. "If city council can't decide, we'll go ahead and install our own water system," Coleman said. He noted negotiations have been going on for two and a half years.

The Cotati School District Board of Trustees also:

APPROVED — Gave approval to sixth grade classes at Waldo Rohnert Elementary School to spend a week at Camp Cazadero in the Russian River resort area this spring for outdoor education.

HIRED — Hired Mary Sharrott as a teacher, but made no class assignment.

DECIDED — Decided to hire two teachers for the Waldo Rohnert Elementary School rather than combine first and second grades as had been earlier considered.

Apparent Victory To Lead March

Second Lt. Hugh F. Smith apparently has won half his battle to lead a "GI and Vets March for Peace" Saturday in San Francisco.

Smith's suit to prevent his transfer from Hamilton Air Force Base to Formosa has been put on the November calendar of the U. S. District Court of Appeals in San Francisco, which means a stay issued by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas will keep Smith at Hamilton until then.

Meantime, attorneys filed suit Monday in the U. S. District Court to prevent Bay Area military commanders from scheduling make-work duties Saturday to prevent Smith and other servicemen from taking part in the march.

A decision in that suit is expected before Saturday's march, attorney Norman Leonard said.

Smith, 26, has said he will lead the march in full uniform from the Golden Gate Park panhandle to San Francisco Civic Center.

He is assigned to an engineering unit at Hamilton pending a court decision.

Smith's contention is that the Air Force planned his transfer to Formosa to prevent him from leading the peace march.

Hanoi Calls On LBJ For Viet Peace Act

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador Xuan Thuy said today President Johnson "still has enough time and power" to open the way to a Vietnamese peace by halting attacks on North Vietnam.

Hanoi's chief delegate spoke at the 25th session of the peace conference. But the meeting ended with U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman telling newsmen the American position has in no way been changed and that today "we made no progress at all."

Harriman told Thuy the United States is willing "to move far and fast" toward peace the minute "your government gives us reason to believe it is also prepared to act."

The American professed growing concern over what he called "Hanoi's intransigence" in the conference—an attitude he suggested that arises from "a misguided belief it can gain its ends in South Vietnam through military force."

Harriman said he is worried too by Hanoi's failure to accept America's assurances that its aims in Southeast Asia are strictly limited.

"We know that Hanoi is being provided with misinformation from its commanders on the battlefields of South Vietnam," he went on. "It would be tragic if Hanoi's strategic estimate were not based on fact."

The American presented a catalogue of recent Communist command victory claims in the South and compared them with what he said were the realities.

Thuy, who spoke first, said "many American senators, politicians and other personalities" recently had called for an unconditional bomb halt.

"If President Johnson really wants peacefully to solve the Vietnam problem he still has enough time and power now to do so, so as to open the way to a just settlement of the Vietnam problem, a settlement that would be beneficial to the Vietnamese people, the American people and world peace," he said.

Before going into the meeting, Harriman in talks with reporters had called on North Vietnam to show some sign of a serious wish to scale down the war and begin "fruitful peace talks."

U.S. Adding More Troops To Western Saigon Flank

SAIGON (AP) — Paratroopers of the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division have moved into the Saigon military district to protect the city's western flank against enemy attack.

The announcement today followed an order from the South Vietnamese government alerting all government army and air force units in and around Saigon, apparently because of political uneasiness.

The 3rd Brigade of the 82nd, about 4,000 men, is replacing the 25th Division brigade. The infantrymen are moving farther out along the jungled approaches northwest of Saigon in the outer ring of defense around Saigon.

The paratroopers, from Fort Bragg, N.C., arrived in South Vietnam last February and have been operating in the northernmost area below the demilitarized zone.

An Information Ministry spokesman, Nguyen Van Noan, said the alert had been ordered because of intelligence reports concerning possible action by "troublemakers."

Elsewhere, waves of U.S. B52 Stratofortresses roared over the southern fringes of North Vietnam yesterday to lay protective shields of bombs around American Marines sweeping through the demilitarized zone.

Thirty of the eight-jet planes dropped 1,000 tons of bombs in support of Marines from the 26th Regiment.

Any Polar Bears In Marinwood?

If enough Marinwood residents want winter swimming, the parks and recreation commission will consider a program called "operation polar bear."

The commissioners Monday night asked residents of Lucas Valley and Marinwood to express their views on winter swimming.

Ralph E. Tischbern, who had been temporary chairman of the commission since the resignation of William H. Stewart last June, was elected chairman by unanimous vote.

The Marinwood Parks and Recreation Commission also:

TENNIS COURTS — Recommended to the Marinwood Community Services District resurfacing of the two tennis courts in Marinwood Park. The commissioners also adopted an updated set of rules for tennis court use.

HORSES — Reminded residents that no horses are allowed in Marinwood Park.

GIFT — Accepted a gift of a 100-cup coffee urn from the Marin Ballet Aquacade.

Parents Nights At Edna Maguire

Meet-the-teacher night will be held at Edna Maguire School next week with parents of south school students meeting Monday night, central school parents Wednesday night and north school parents Thursday night.

South and north school parents will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the school annex for a general discussion of the school program.

Central school parents will meet at 7:30 p.m., follow the daily class schedule in 10 minute segments and then, at 8:30 p.m., gather in the annex.

Larkspur Fill Request Granted

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night approved a land fill request by Alice B. Copeland on a 20-acre site between Magnolia Avenue and Larkspur Creek near Bon Air Road.

Developers said the site may be used for a yet undetermined small commercial venture. The permit grants 25,000 yards of dirt fill in addition to 45,000 yards placed there last February.

The commission also approved the architecture of a warehouse construction by Niven Co. on Marsh Road and the architecture of an entrance wall to Greenbrae Marina at Doherty Drive and Riviera Circle.
